ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

FY 2013 - 1/17/2013

Overview of Destination DC Departments

Executive Office:

The Executive Office, led by the President and CEO and supported by the Special Assistant and Executive Assistant, provides strategic direction to the organization.

Finance and Administration:

The Finance and Administration department is responsible for the financial and administrative oversight of the organization. Within Finance and Administration's area of responsibility are Office and IT Services, Human Resources, and Accounting.

Partnerships and Alliances:

The Partnerships and Alliances department provides financial support for Destination DC's marketing efforts by recruiting and retaining members and securing corporate sponsors. The department strives to effectively service each member's account, while offering dynamic tools, events and programs that enhance the overall value of their membership.

Tourism and Visitors Services:

The Tourism Sales department is comprised of two divisions: Tourism Sales and Visitor Services.

The Tourism Sales division builds relationships with tour operators, wholesalers, receptive operators, travel agents, sporting event organizers and travel service providers to increase domestic and international group and individual packaged travel. In addition, the Tourism Department collaborates with the states of Maryland and Virginia on a cooperative marketing partnership called the Capital Region USA (CRUSA) to position DC and its surrounding states as an attractive long-haul destination for international travelers.

The Visitor Services division supports the Marketing department's efforts to generate interest and demand in the destination by serving as a trusted source for visitor and "DC insider" information to encourage new and repeat visitation. The department answers inquiries, provides guidance to individual travelers and encourages on-line hotel bookings and attractions ticket sales at washington.org.

Convention Sales and Services:

The Convention Department is comprised of two primary divisions: Convention Sales and Convention Services.

The Convention Sales department proactively positions and sell Washington, DC as a destination for corporate and association meetings and conventions, creating connections with customers through personal sales calls, trade shows and meaningful client events. The department serves as the primary sales team for the Walter E. Washington Convention Center and also actively pursues in-house hotel business.

The Convention Services division provides support to convention and meeting planners that book groups in Washington, DC by conducting site inspections, providing promotional information and attendance support and distributing service leads to member businesses. The Convention Services department also manages and schedules a team of registration specialists who provide registration, visitor information and office help before and during conventions.

Marketing and Communications:

The Marketing and Communications department positions Washington, DC as a leading leisure and convention destination through targeted and integrated marketing and public relations efforts. The department builds seasonal and cultural promotions that support Destination DC's brand strategy and the organization's overall objectives. The department also oversees the production of Destination DC's official publications, e-newsletters and manages its website, Washington.org and social media channels.

Oversight:

While Destination DC is an independent organization, we have many areas of oversight and we are committed to total transparency in all we do. Destination DC staff reports to its Board of Directors and Executive Committee monthly. Destination DC also receives input from multiple industry committees and the Hospitality Alliance, which is comprised of the Events DC, Hotel Association of Washington, DC, Restaurant Association of Metropolitan Washington, and Destination DC.
