1. Please list all program enhancements, technical adjustments, and reductions included within the FY 2017 budget. Please break down these costs by program. Additionally, please provide a narrative description and rationale for each, along with associated dollar amounts and FTEs (if applicable). Please also include in your response the following:
   - Please explain the increase in the Division/Program and Activity "(5000) Administration; (5010) Legislative and Grants Management," and provide a breakdown detailing for what the funding will be used.
   - Please explain the increase in the Division/Program and Activity "(1000) Agency Management; (1090) Performance Management," and provide a breakdown detailing for what the funding will be used.
   - You note the addition of 1.0 FTE for establishing a General Counsel position to meet an increased legal services volume. In what are you seeing an increase? What has changed from previous years?

Program Enhancements

- 1000/1060 - Legal Services
  - The agency does not have a General Counsel position and is receiving legal counsel support through the Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel (MOLC). However, it appears MOLC does not have the capacity to continue provide full support services to CAH as the agency's legal request volume increases. The agency is reclassifying a current FTE position to cover these duties in FY16.
- 2000/2010 - Arts Building Communities
  - The agency makes Grant Awards from this budget line item ("Arts Building Communities" - subsides and transfers) and, due to a reduction to the MARC, would have less funding available to provide grants to the Arts community. The enhancement increased this budget line from $2,994,591 to $3,509,770.

Technical Adjustments

Currently there are no technical adjustments identified in the FY17 budget for the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH).

Reductions

- 2000/2010 - Arts Building Communities
  - The reduction is from program "Arts Building Communities" - object class 40, other services and charges. This budget line item is used to pay for professional services, printing and other office support services. The budget request submitted for this line item was $629,900 and it is now $455,900; after the reduction.

- 2000/2010 - Arts Building Communities
  - The reduction is from program "Arts Building Communities" - object class 20, supplies and materials. This budget line item is used to pay for office supplies. The budget request submitted for this line item was $15,000 and it is now $10,000; after the reduction
- 3000/3010 - Neighborhood Public Arts
  - The reduction comes from program "Neighborhood Public Art" - object class 0041, contractual services. This is budgeted for art conservation services (maintenance of public art or fine art assets) and art framing - art is installed with special hardware on the framing to prevent theft or damage. The remaining budget in FY17 is $790,000.

Additional Explanations

- 5000 Administration; 5010 Legislative and Grants Management
  - 5000 (5010) The increase of $52K in PS is due to a proper allocation of FTE's to specific program/activities (5010). Also, there is an increase of $200K in contractual service due to proper allocation of this service from grants.
- 1000 Agency Management; 1090 Performance Management
  - 1000 (1090) the increase is due to proper allocation of FTE's (Executive Director and Deputy Director) in specific program/activities (1090). Previously, the Executive Director position was allocated across program/activities.
- 1.0 FTE for establishing a General Counsel Position
  - The Agency does not currently have a General Council position and is receiving legal counsel support through the Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel (MOLC) and pro bono services outside of government. MOLC does not have the capacity to continue to provide legal support to the Agency. Therefore, to ensure that DCCAH adheres to District best practices and remain compliant to District standards, the Agency has reclassified a vacant FTE position to accommodate this new position.

2. Please provide a list of all projects for which your agency currently has capital funds available. Please include in this list a description of each project, the remaining amount of capital funds available for each project, a status report on each project, and planned remaining spending on each project.

The DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH) currently has no projects supported by capital funds. DCCAH has not initiated or executed any capital funded projects since FY 2014.

3. Please explain on what the funding in the Special Purpose Revenue Fund will be spent on in FY 2017.

The DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH) has oversight and monitoring authority of the artistic activities of the historic Lincoln Theatre. In addition, DCCAH receives 36 days year fiscal year for government and community programming of the theatre. Funds available in special purpose revenue will be used to support events that expose, engage, enlighten and unite the community through an eclectic concert series and other visual and performing arts offerings. Each event will be made available for District residents to enjoy.

5. Will the proposed FY17 budget allow the agency to meet all statutory mandates? If not, please explain.

The DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH) maintains the core mandated statutory function of providing grant funds to District of Columbia artists, arts organizations and community groups in order to promote the rich cultural offerings of the city and to enhance the quality of life for both District of Columbia residents and visitors. The DCCAH's statutory mandates include taking action, developing and improving the activities in the arts and humanities on behalf of the residents of the District of Columbia. The statute also requires that DCCAH prepare an annual plan of artistic projects and productions in the District of Columbia. The proposed FY 2017 budget will allow the agency to meet all statuary mandates as outlined above.

6. What is new for FY2017? What, if anything, is being discontinued? Please include in your answer an update explaining how, if at all, the proposed budget enables the Commission to execute any elements of your Agency Strategic Plan.

In line with the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities' (DCCAH) direct mission of serving the District's arts community with grant funding opportunities, for FY17, the agency will continue to award competitive general operating support grants. It is important to remain steadfast in addressing the high competition for funding in the general operating support category; as well as the growing needs of artists and arts organizations that require DCCAH funding to generate the arts programming that the District has come to rely on to enhance the quality of life for residents, attract visitors to our city, enhance the vibrancy of the District of Columbia, and support the creative economy.

In response to community requests that were expressed through the Agency's strategic plan process; the DCCAH launched its inaugural DC Heritage Grant Program in January 2016 for FY 17. This grant program recognizes arts, humanities and arts education organizations who have defined DC's cultural fabric through a history of consistent, broad and exemplary programming. Those organizations not fitting the criteria for the DC Heritage Grant Program are encouraged to apply for project-based funding this spring.

In FY17, the DCCAH is committed to solidifying its position as a leader in Public Art across the city by managing and/or partnering with other agencies to execute large-scale iconic public art installations. A number of public art commissioned projects include the Mayor Marion Barry statue project, the SW-Buzzard Point Pepco Substation project (as part of the DC United Soccer Stadium development) and a host of proposed project partnerships with BIDs, WMATA, Main Streets and developers. The launch of a new e-museum during the InnoMAYtion month in FY16 will continue into next fiscal year, providing a technology platform to allow the public to freely access the Commission's visual arts collection, including murals, public art installations and fine artworks on display in government offices.

Art All Night will shift to be a collaboration with DSLBD, providing a deeper connection to the Main Streets. A new signature festival will occur this summer, highlighting the legacy of Chuck Brown and Go-Go music.

The implementation of the Commission's strategic plan is already underway, as is evidenced in the DC Heritage Grant Program and other enhancements to Agency initiatives.

Nothing is being discontinued.

8. What plans do you have in FY 2017 to work with District agencies and entities, including Destination DC and Events DC? Please also comment on any new projects or partnerships planned for FY 2017, as well as any projects or partnerships from FY 2016 to FY 2017 that are being discontinued.

In FY 2016, the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH) partnered with Events DC on the official closing activity for the National Cherry Blossom Festival, Cherry Blast. DCCAH plans to continue this partnership in FY 2017 as a way to highlight arts and culture to a diverse audience of residents and visitors. DCCAH has also worked with Events DC to produce Pulse DC "DC's BIGGEST DANCE PARTY" a free, outdoor, multigenerational dance party on the plaza of Carnegie Library.

For the past several years, DCCAH has partnered with the Office of Asian and Pacific Islander Affairs to produce the annual Asian and Pacific Islander Heritage Month event. The event showcases the artistic and cultural contributions of the Asian and Pacific Islander community. DCCAH has recently worked with the Office of Film Cable Television Music and Entertainment utilizing their sound stage to record DCCAH awards events and is planning additional projects that will take place in FY 2017. In addition to these, DCCAH has also partnered with the Office of Latino Affairs, Office of African Affairs, and the Office of LGBTQ Affairs for various cultural heritage celebrations and anticipates continuing to be a partner in the future.

DCCAH is currently partnering with DSLBD to support an arts street festival produced by registered Main Streets Organizations with plans to continue this partnership in the future.

10. For Fiscal Year 2017, what are the formulas used to determine grant award amounts? Are any changes being contemplated? In your response, please provide a chart/list of grant type name, grant type description or intended awardee criteria, and formula used to evaluate and assess for FY 2017.

The DC Commission on the Art and Humanities (DCCAH) bases grant award amounts based on the results of the peer review panel process that is utilized across the country by state arts agencies. Each member of the peer review panel determines an application's score based on the application's strengths and weaknesses as weighted against published criteria, which include 1) Arts and Humanities Content, 2) Assessed District Impact and Engagement, 3) Financial Capacity, Management and Sustainability. These panelists' scores are averaged together to create a ranking. Applications with higher scores are considered stronger submissions and, in most cases, receive higher percentages of their requested grant amounts. Applications with lower scores are more likely to receive lower percentages of their grant requests. Applications with very low scores may be eliminated from funding consideration by the peer review panel.

Guidelines, program materials and questions are being updated to insure maximum efficacy and that the Agency standards remain in in keeping with national best practices. A concentered effort has been made to insure there is an equal focus on requests for applicants in the humanities throughout all programs.

11. The Committee wishes to receive an update on the amount of Commission artwork on display in the District. Please provide any updates to the list of installations or displays in District government buildings or property, as well as other locations (private, federal, or otherwise). Is there anything we can do to help continue to showcase work in the collection? Are there any new displays, exhibits or partnerships being planned for FY 2017?

The DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH) has a fine art collection of 2,816 artworks with 95% of the collection installed in government and elected officials offices through the District.

DCCAH plans to launch the Washingtonia Collection, a new fine art collection of work that consists of scenes and iconic images of the District's cultural diversity which will celebrate the District of Columbia's 225th Anniversary. Upon acquisition of the Washingtonia Collection, DCCAH intends to launch a series of city-wide traveling exhibits featuring new artwork from the collection.

DCCAH is happy to call upon the Council should the Agency find occasion with regard to helping to showcase the collection.

13. What is planned in FY 2017 for DCCAH creative economy initiatives, as a part of the city's creative economy strategy and/or otherwise?

The Creative Economy Strategy for the District of Columbia is being spearheading by the Office of the Deputy Mayor for Planning and Economic Development (DMPED) in concert with the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH), and other cluster agencies of DMPED.

For FY17, the DCCAH is exploring offering technical assistance classes to creative organizations to assist with key marketing, business, and planning services (initiated in FY16 as ArtistU). The agency is also working with other cluster agencies to activate underutilized spaces in the District and to remedy the dearth of affordable housing and live/work space for artists.

14. Please provide your thoughts on the comprehensive, community-wide cultural plan that is being worked on by the city.

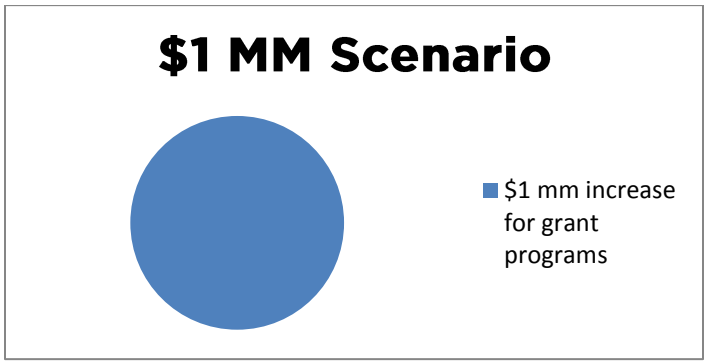
The Cultural Plan for the District of Columbia is being spearheaded by the Office of Planning in consultation with the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH), and in coordination with partner agencies within the Deputy Mayor for Planning and Economic Development (DMPED) cluster. To date, DCCAH reviewed the scope of work, attended the pre-bid conference and has been actively involved in the review of proposals submitted by prospective vendors.

The Cultural Plan is scheduled to be submitted to the Mayor and Council in December 2016. As per the Cultural Plan for the District Act of 2015, a Cultural Planning Steering Committee consisting of three members of the arts community as well as representatives from various agencies (including DCCAH), Council and the BID Council will be formed to assist in implementation of the plan.

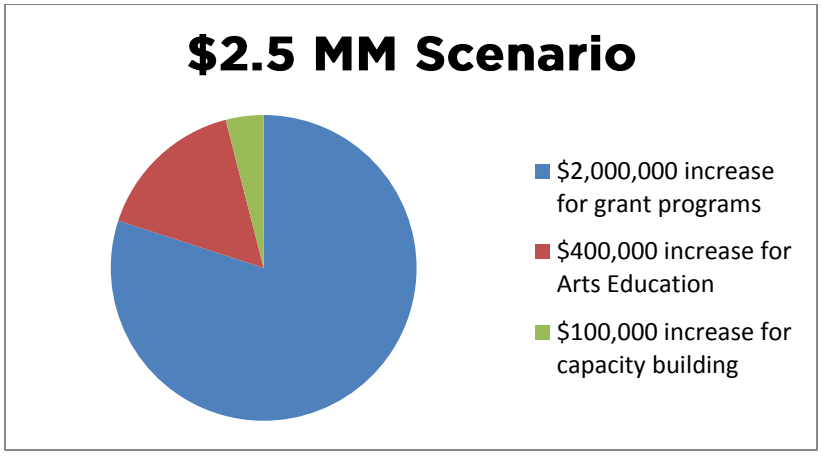
A vendor has been selected and will be announced on Monday, April 18, 2016 as part of the Cultural Plan kick-off activity.

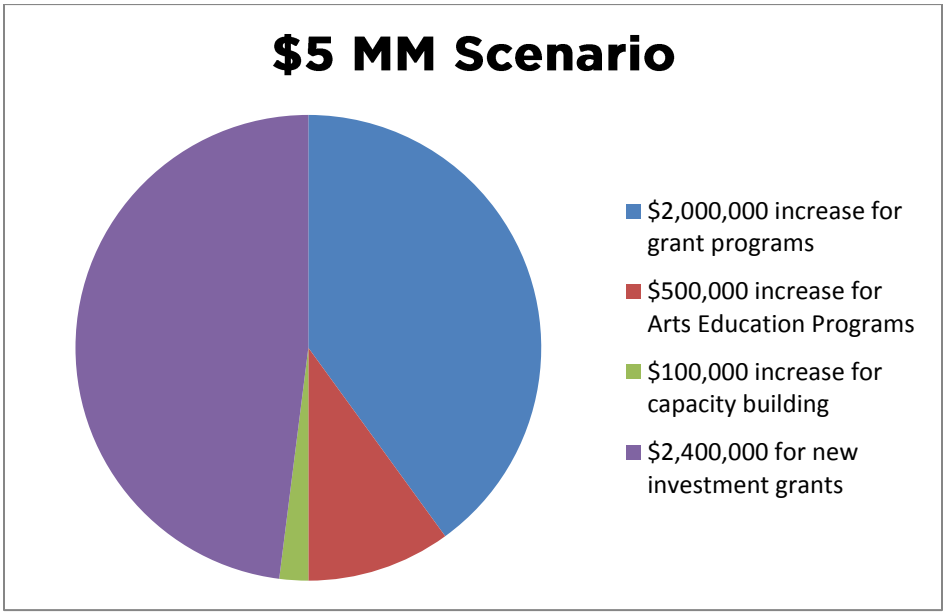
15. The Committee has previously expressed an interest in increasing the amount of funding provided to the Commission—and to the arts at large—for FY 2017. Please provide a detailed explanation of how the Commission would allocate and expend an increase in its budget of the following amounts: $1 million; $2.5 million; and $5 million.

$1 MM Scenario – In the event of a $1 MM increase in the amount of funding provided to the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH), the grants budget would be enhanced to provide core support to local organizations serving the District of Columbia.



$2.5 MM Scenario – In the event of a $2.5 MM increase in the amount of funding provided to the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH), grant programs would continue to receive enhanced support. Additionally, arts education initiatives would provide deeper impact for local children and teachers, and capacity building programs would grow to further assist infrastructure needs of arts and humanities organizations.





$5 MM Scenario – In the event of a $5 MM increase in the amount of funding provided to the DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities (DCCAH), enhancements to grant programs, arts education and capacity building initiatives would occur as previously described. Additionally, the Commission would initiate a new investment grantmaking program that would provide larger grants to local arts and humanities organizations to provide a deeper impact. Potential investment grant opportunities could include infrastructure enhancements, support towards bricks and mortar needs, and programmatic expansions within the District of Columbia.
