

University of the District of Columbia’s (UDC) Responses to Committee of the Whole (COW)
FY 2022 – 2023 (to date) Performance Oversight Hearing Questions

1. Please provide, as an attachment to your answers, a current organizational chart for your agency with the number of vacant and filled FTEs marked in each box. Include the names of all senior personnel. Also include the effective date on the chart.

Answer: Please see attachment #1.

2. Please provide a Schedule A for your agency which identifies all employees by title/position, current salary, fringe benefits, and program office as of January 31, 2023. Please indicate all vacant positions in the agency and do not include Social Security numbers.

Answer: Please see attachment #2.

3. Please list (through January 31) all employees detailed to or from your agency, if any. For each employee identified, please provide the name of the agency the employee is detailed to or from, the reason for the detail, the date the detail began, and the employee’s actual or projected date of return.

Answer: No UDC employees have been detailed this fiscal year.

4. (a) For fiscal year 2022, please list each employee whose salary was $125,000 or more. For each employee listed provide the name, position title, salary, and amount of any overtime and any bonus pay.

Answer: Please note that the “special pay” category includes a one-time bonus pursuant to D.C. Act 24-513, the “Fiscal Year 2022 and Fiscal Year 2023 District Government employee Pay Schedules Emergency Act of 2022.” Some individuals also received additional bonus pay or awards, which are also included in the “special pay” category.

6. For fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (through January 31), please provide a list of employee bonuses or special award pay granted that identifies the employee receiving the bonus or special pay, the amount received, and the reason for the bonus or special pay.

Answer: The table below includes all the special pay granted during FY 2022. Please note that we had so many more individuals receiving bonuses due to a one-time bonus pursuant to D.C. Act 24-513, the "Fiscal Year 2022 and Fiscal Year 2023 District Government employee Pay Schedules Emergency Act of 2022." Additionally, any special pay is generally paid at the end of the fiscal year and is subject to funds being available at that time. Thus, we do not currently have information on any special pay that will be paid during FY 2023.

8. For fiscal years 2021, 2022, and 2023 (through January 31), please state the total number of employees receiving worker's compensation payments.

Answer:

For FY 2021, the University had 1 employee receiving worker's compensation payments.

For FY 2022, the University had 0 employees receiving worker’s compensation payments. For FY 2023 (through January 31), the University had 0 employees receiving worker’s compensation payments.

9. Please provide the name of each employee who was or is on administrative leave in fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (through January 31). In addition, for each employee identified, please provide: (1) their position; (2) a brief description of the reason they were placed on leave; (3) the dates they were/are on administrative leave; (4) whether the leave was/is paid or unpaid; and (5) their current status (as of January 31, 2023).

Answer: The table below includes all the individuals on administrative leave for FY 2022 and FY 2023 (through January 31).

Name	Position	Reason	Dates on Admin Leave	Paid/Unpaid	Current Status
Nicole Credle	Associate Vice Pres. of HR	Probationary Termination	3/3/22-3/15/22	Paid	Terminated
Luis Herrera	HR Assist.	Probationary Termination	4/19/22- 4/30/22	Paid	Terminated
Naoyo Mori	Systems Librarian	Probationary Termination	8/16/22-8/31/22	Paid	Terminated

10. For fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (through January 31), please list, in chronological order, all intra-District transfers to or from the agency. Give the date, amount, and reason for the transfer.

Answer: With respect to intra-District transfers, UDC traditionally does not participate in the intra-District Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) process in the same manner as other District agencies. UDC only sends or receives funds through the DC Treasury for the entities listed below, because the financial systems that UDC and the District operate are independent of each other. The District operates under the SOAR system, whereas UDC operates under the Banner system. These two systems do not interface with each other. However, UDC does have agreements with other District agencies. The agreements are listed below as well as in the response to question #15.

Grand Total		$135,590,835	$136,370,835	$116,058,658	$20,312,177

For FY 2021, UDC received additional budget authority totaling $1,780,000 for the following:

- $1,500,000 for the Fundraising Match
- $250,000 in federal relief payment funds for gun violence prevention (Building Blocks DC)
- $30,000 for compliance with D.C. Law 23-196, the “Diverse Washingtonians Commemorative Works Amendment Act of 2020.”

UDC also received a MARC reduction in the budget totaling $1,000,000.

The $20,312,177 variance between the Revised Budget and Actual Expenditures was due to reduced revenue collection and strategic reductions in the expenditures of unrestricted funds. $11,436,227 of the $20,312,177 variance is not actually expendable funds but rather is the result of UDC’s projected budget authority for fiscal year 2021 being higher than was realized. Revenue collections were $11,436,227 less than forecasted, primarily attributable to reduced enrollment during the coronavirus public health emergency which resulted in decreased Tuition and Post-Secondary revenue collections.

The remaining variance of $8,875,950 was the result of a strategic effort to engage proactively in forward-thinking fiscal management. The University prioritized the utilization of its federal Higher Education Emergency Relief Funds (HEERF) to alleviate spending pressures and defray revenue loss caused by reductions in enrollment and associated declines in tuition and post-secondary revenue. This was accomplished by shifting $4,195,550 in spending from unrestricted funds to the federal HEERF dollars that were eligible to be used for local revenue loss replacement.

Additionally, the University deliberately reduced costs by only filling essential personnel positions and reducing non-personnel expenditures to ensure spending was managed to reduced revenue levels and to preserve fund balances for future fiscal years after the HEERF federal grant awards have ended. These funds will continue to support the University as it works to rebuild its enrollment levels, allowing the institution to avoid requesting additional funding due to spending pressures.

For FY 2022, UDC received additional budget authority totaling $2,254,509 for the following:

- $76,000 for Institute of Politics Policy and History (IPPH) program
- $678,509 for Workforce Investments Account Allocation – 3.5% Compensation Units 1 & 2 and Non-Union employee bonuses
- $1,500,000 for Fundraising Match

The $17,716,385 variance between the revised budget and actual expenditures was due to reduced revenue collection and strategic reductions in the expenditures of unrestricted funds. The actual net revenue to expenditures surplus was only $656,632. Special Purpose Revenue collections for tuition, fees, and indirect costs were $2,734,218 less than forecasted. The impact of that reduction in revenue was offset by the utilization of federal Higher Education Emergency Relief Funds (HEERF) to alleviate spending pressures and defray local revenue loss. This was accomplished by shifting $4,923,841 in spending from unrestricted funds to the federal HEERF award that was eligible to be used for local revenue loss replacement.

Additionally, the revised budget included $13,525,000 in forecasted use of spendable fund balance and endowment income. However, the University deliberately reduced non-personnel expenditures to preserve the spendable endowment and fund balance for future fiscal years after the HEERF federal grant awards have ended. Ultimately, only $913,602 in spendable endowment and fund balance revenue was required, preserving $12,611,398 in those funds for future use.

16. D.C. Law requires the Mayor and the Chief Financial Officer to submit to the Council, simultaneously with a proposed budget submission, actual copies of all agency budget enhancements requests, such as the “Form B” for all District agencies (See D.C. Code § 47-318.05a). In order to help the Committee understand agency needs, and the cost of those needs for your agency, please provide, as an attachment to your answers, all budget enhancement requests submitted by your agency to the Mayor or Chief Financial Officer as part of the budget process for fiscal years 2021, 2022, and 2023.

Answer: Please see attachment #3.

17. Please list all currently open capital projects for your agency (as of January 31st) including those projects that are managed or overseen by another agency or entity. Include a brief description of each, the total estimated cost, expenditures to date, the start and completion dates, and the current status of the project. Also, indicate which projects are experiencing delays and which require additional funding.

Answer: The table below list all of the University’s currently open capital projects. Please note that UDC (GF0) has an ongoing capital pool project, UG706C, from which several sub-projects have been previously executed. The current FY 2023 – FY 2028 Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) did not fund UG706 but instead established separate new projects in an effort to track project progress and funding allocations better for each independent project. The table below includes the ongoing UG706 subproject status, as well as the newly established projects.

Notably, UDC has requested a budget of $387 million over the next six years (FY 2024- FY 2029). The purpose of that funding is to address the need for capital projects associated with the University’s strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, and continued infrastructure upgrades, as well as new construction and swing space requirements.

Project Title	Description	Total Estimated Cost	Total Expenditure to Date	Construction Dates*	Status
UG712 - Renovate 4250 Connecticut Avenue	Completely renovate the existing 200,000 sf building to convert the former office building into use as academic and administrative uses.	$47M	$0	April 2023 - Sep 2024	FY 2022 - Swing space buildouts completed Levels 3, 6, & 7 under previous pool project UG706. Programming and Design/Build solicitation for complete renovation of 4250. Construction ongoing for infrastructure upgrades for retail spaces under previous pool project UG706. 18. Please list all pending lawsuits that name your agency as a party. Please identify which cases on the list are lawsuits that potentially expose the city to significant liability in terms of money and/or change in practices. The Committee is not asking for your judgment as to the city's liability; rather, we are asking about the extent of the claim. For those claims identified, please include an explanation about the issues for each case.

Answer: The table below details all the proceedings to which the University is a party and includes the relief sought. The District is not exposed to significant liability in terms of money and/or change in practices in any of the listed pending lawsuits. Pursuant to D.C. Official Code § 38-1202.01, the University of the District of Columbia Board of Trustees is the body corporate that governs the affairs of the University. This includes the ability of the Board of Trustees ("Board") to sue and be sued. As such, the Board is sui juris and is subject to claims independent of the District of Columbia.

19. Please list every lawsuit against the agency that was settled or decided by a trial court in FY 2022 and FY 2023 to date. Briefly describe each and the sanction, if any.

Answer: The table below contains every lawsuit brought against UDC that was settled or decided by a trial court in FY 2022 or FY 2023 (to date).

Fiscal Year	Case Name	Description	Outcome
2023	Long vs. UDC	Former police officer alleging wrongful termination.	Settled

20. D.C. Law requires the Mayor to pay certain settlements and judgments from agency operating budgets if the settlement is less than $10,000 or results from an incident within the last two years (see D.C. Code § 2-402(a)(3)). Please itemize each charge-back to your agency for a settlement or judgment pursuant to D.C. Code § 2-402.

Answer: Pursuant to D.C. Official Code § 38-1202.01, the University of the District of Columbia Board of Trustees ("Board") is the body corporate that governs the affairs of the University. This includes the ability of the Board to sue and be sued. As such, the Board is sui juris and is subject to claims independent of the District of Columbia, and as a result, UDC maintains its own contingent liability fund. Accordingly, the University has not operationalized any charge-backs of settlements or judgments.

21. (a) Please list and describe any investigations, studies, audits, or reports on your agency or any employee of your agency that were completed at any time in fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (through January 31).

Answer: None

- (b) Please list and describe any ongoing investigations, audits, or reports of your agency or any employee of your agency.

Answer: The table below includes all ongoing investigations, studies, audits, or reports. Specifically, it includes all: U.S. Department of Education, Office of the Civil Rights (OCR) complaints; U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) charges; D.C. Office of Human Rights (DC OHR) charges; and D.C. Office of Inspector General charges. As indicated below, all investigations were brought by either individual employees or students at the University.

22. How many grievances have been filed by employees or labor unions against agency management? Please list each of them by year for fiscal years 2021, 2022, and 2023 (through January 31). Give a brief description of each grievance, and the outcome (through January 31). Include on the chronological list any earlier grievance that is still pending in any judicial forum.

Answer:

Fiscal Year 2023 (through January 31)
Union	Grievance #	Grievance	Date Filed	Status
AFSCME	PERB Case No. 23-U-05	Union contends that the Contract Specialist position should be in the Union.	1/26/2023	Investigation
Fiscal Year 2022
No grievances to report
Fiscal Year 2021

25. In table format, please provide the following information for fiscal years 2022 and 2023 (through January 31) regarding your agency's authorization of employee travel: (1) each trip outside the region on official business or agency expense; (2) individuals (by name and title/position) who traveled outside the region; (3) total expense for each trip (per person, per trip, etc.); (4) what agency or entity paid for the trips; and (5) justification for the travel (per person and trip).

Answer: The UDC uses two methods for procuring travel:

- Purchase Card – where employees procure travel via credit cards issued by the University. In this method, the only information received by the OCFO is a credit card statement with multiple card charges. Cardholders then identify the accounts to which the expenditures are to be charged. No detailed information is provided by either the credit card company or the procuring department on travel events. The respective department or office authorizing the travel is the repository for detailed travel information. Employee travel procured by purchase card are not included in the table below.
- Travel Authorization/Direct Payment – where employees procure travel with funds that are: advanced by the University, paid directly to third party vendors, provided by the employee and later reimbursed, or any combination of the preceding three methods. Although the accounting system identifies these transactions as travel related, it does not include detailed travel information – such as traveler, purpose, location, or dates of travel. Each respective department or office that authorizes travel is the repository of that information.

The information provided below summarizes authorization and reimbursement requests for employee trips outside the region reviewed and approved by the OCFO through the Travel Authorization/Direct Payment process for which funds were advanced by the University or paid by the employee and later reimbursed. Travel paid directly to third party vendors or via purchase card are not included.

26. What efforts has your agency made in the past year to increase transparency? Explain.

Answer: In the period since UDC resumed in-person operations in the fall of 2021, the University has taken numerous steps to increase transparency and maintain a steady flow of information with and from myriad constituents. The continuing circumstances around COVID-19 mitigation required consistent and clear communication with UDC stakeholders regarding vaccination and mask requirements, as well as keeping the community informed of infection rates and the steadily changing guidance emerging from the District's Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). UDC held semi-monthly COVID-19 town halls and shaped institutional policy through a COVID-19 task force comprised of representatives from a cross-section of institutional units. COVID-19 updates are also available on the UDC RISE \(Responding with Institutional Success and Excellence\) webpage. As of the Spring 2023 semester, UDC no longer requires COVID vaccinations for students or employees and has suspended its mandatory mask requirement. These decisions were made through input provided on an institutional survey circulated during the fall of 2022 to gauge University perspectives and tolerance on these concerns.

The University has also taken several steps over the past year to enhance its communication with its various constituencies. Specifically:

- President Mason hosted a series of one-on-one, 30-minute meetings with various students, faculty, and staff.
- The University's Cabinet members provide reports at each Board of Trustees' meetings and committee meetings on the various activities occurring within their respective divisions.

- The Office of the Chief Academic Officer developed a bi-monthly newsletter, which provides updates on faculty and student achievement, curricular improvements, and announcements regarding new academic initiatives, awards, and recognitions; and
- The Division of Student Development and Success created a calendar and communication plan for the first 51 days of the semester to capture the various opportunities in which students may participate.

Further, UDC has maintained a spirit of transparency, particularly when it comes to important decisions impacting the entire University, such as the strategic planning process and the search for UDC's next president. The University's prior strategic plan, The Equity Imperative, spanned from 2018 – 2022, so UDC is currently in the process of formulating an update. In order to garner input from both internal and external stakeholders, the University has held focus groups; sought feedback from the President's Administrative Council; attended faculty meetings; met with student leaders and alumni; and consulted Advisory Neighborhood Commissioners, the D.C. Council, and other community partners. Moreover, the University conducted a strategic planning survey, which garnered over 1,200 responses, to receive feedback on institutional priorities that ought to be addressed in the next strategic plan. Similarly, since the beginning, the search to identify the next UDC president has been informed by feedback and guidance from a myriad of stakeholders. The feedback received helped shape the presidential search profile and resulted in guidance shared with the search committee as they prepare to vet applicants for the position.

27. What efforts will your agency be making to increase transparency? Explain.

Answer: Looking forward, UDC will continue to strive to increase transparency and communication with all its stakeholders, and one such mechanism for doing so is the University's emerging Office of Marketing and Communications. Currently, this unit consists of only four, full-time employees, all of whom were hired in the past 18 months, but they have already made significant progress towards elevating the University's presence on social media and improving both internal and external communications and messaging. Over the next year, the University plans to assist this department in its continued growth so that it may continue to thrive and keep the UDC community informed of the myriad developments at UDC.

28. Please identify any legislative requirements that your agency lacks sufficient resources to properly implement. Explain.

Answer: Per D.C. Official Code §§38-1202.01 and 38-1202.06, the University and its Board of Trustees are charged with providing a post-secondary education "consisting of, but not limited to, 2 major components, liberal and fine arts and vocational and technical education," as well as "[o]perat[ing] a public law school component". Additionally, pursuant to D.C. Official Code §38-1208.02, the Council "establishes an Office of Vocational Education and Skills Training under the President of the University of the District of Columbia," which "shall be responsible for the oversight and coordination of all government-sponsored vocational education, adult apprenticeship, and workforce skills training performed by UDC and DCPS." Given these charges, the University needs sufficient and adequate funding – both operating and capital – to implement them properly but lacks such funding. Thus, the University needs a consistent infusion of both operating and capital funds each fiscal year throughout the fiscal year 2024-2027 financial plan.

29. Please identify any statutory or regulatory impediments to your agency's operations.

Answer: None.

30. Did your agency receive any FOIA requests in fiscal year 2022? If yes, did the agency file a report of FOIA disclosure activities with the Secretary of the District of Columbia? If available, please provide a copy of that report as an attachment. Also state here the total cost incurred by your agency for each fiscal year 2021, 2022, and 2023 (as of January 31) related to FOIA.

Answer: UDC received Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests in FY 2022 and did file a FOIA report, which is included as Attachment #4.

The total costs incurred by UDC related to FOIA for FY 2021, FY 2022, and FY 2023 (as of January 31st) were greater than $1,000, $2,965, and $176 respectively.

31. For purposes CBE agency compliance purposes, what is your agency's current adjusted expendable budget; how much has been spent with SBEs; and what percent of your agency's expendable budget was spent with SBEs? Further, where SBEs were not available, how much has been spent with CBEs, and what percent of CBE spending, relative to your current expendable budget? How many CBE waivers (including dollar amount) did the agency submit? What efforts has the agency taken to reduce the number of CBE waivers submitted? What is the CBE spending goal for your agency per the DSLBD SBE Opportunities Guide (Green book)? Give this answer for fiscal years 2021, 2022, and 2023 (through January 31).

Answer: Response: The University's Office of Contracting and Procurement is committed to ensuring the success of the Certified Business Enterprise (CBE) program and is continually educating and equipping the University's community with the tools necessary to utilize the CBE Market. The University has implemented a CBE awareness program as part of its professional development training to promote SBE/CBE procurements by contract specialists, end-users, cardholders, and support staff. This awareness program provides instruction on how to identify CBE suppliers – through commodity lookups on the Department of Small and Local Business Development's (DSLBD) CBE database and through the D.C. Supply Schedule – and clarifies the University's sourcing requirements under District law. Moreover, the Office of Contracting and Procurement audits transactions for compliance and implements additional training requirements or corrective action as necessary.

32. Please provide, as an attachment, a copy of your agency’s current annual performance plan as submitted to the Office of the City Administrator.

Answer: Because UDC is an independent agency, we do not submit an annual performance plan using the same template as the Mayor’s subordinate agencies. Instead, we typically submit key performance indicators related to our strategic plan, but since we are currently in the process of drafting an updated strategic plan, we did not submit an annual performance plan to the Office of the City Administrator for this year.

33. (a) What are your agency’s key performance indicators and what has been your agency’s performance (for each of these KPIs) in fiscal year (or calendar year) 2021, 2022, and 2023 (through the first quarter).

Answer: Below are the “big picture” KPIs that UDC consistently measures and tracks each

UDC KPI Targets

	FY2020	FY2021	FY2022	FY 2023
Enrollment	4,679	4,000	3,750	3,500
Completer	849	849	750	750
Workforce Certificates Awarded	1,450	800	500	500

UDC KPI Actuals

	FY2020*	FY2021	FY2022	FY 2023 (Through Q1)
Enrollment	4,456	3,953	3,476	3,577
Completer	839	761	761	910
Workforce Certificates Awarded	517	291	500	TBD

*UDC was greatly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, as all courses were moved to online learning platforms in the middle of fiscal year 2020.

The University continued to experience impacts from the COVID-19 pandemic.

(b) What KPIs have been dropped (or changed) since 2022? List each specifically and explain why it was dropped or changed.

Answer: None

34. What are your top five priorities for the agency? Please provide a detailed explanation for how the agency achieved or worked toward these priorities in fiscal years 2022 and 2023.

Answer: UDC's top five priorities are: 1) Continuing work on our Seamless Pathways; 2) Focusing on strategic alignment with DCPS/DCPC/DC Government agencies; 3) Increasing Enrollment; 4) Increasing UDC Credentials; and 5) Establishing the DAWN Initiative. We briefly discuss each below.

1) Seamless Pathways

The University continued the academic planning and redesign process in FY 2022. The academic redesigning processes included the plan for building and expanding the seamless pathways from workforce, AA/AS and BA/BS programs. This year the university is focused on increasing the number of pathway programs.

2. DCPS/DCPCS/DC Government Partnerships

The University is focusing on its strategic alignment with DC Public Schools (DCPS), DC Public Charter Schools (DCPCS), and DC government Agencies. These partnerships will focus on creating seamless processes so that UDC can effectively and proactively offer educational opportunities for DC residents. As such, during FY 2022 and continuing into FY 2023, President Mason and senior leadership have sought to meet with the principal of each District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) and public charter high schools and to inform them of UDC’s growth and opportunities that await their students if they were to attend the University.

Looking forward to fiscal year 2023 and beyond, the University is continuing its work with DCPS as part of our DAWN initiative, is working with the Deputy Mayor for Education and other stakeholders to determine ways to improve dual enrollment opportunities for our students, and will continue to build stronger relationships within District government, with the Mayor, and the Council.

3. Increase Enrollment

See our responses to questions 43 and 44 for a detailed description of the enrollment-related initiatives that the University undertook in FY 2022 and plan to take in FY 2023 and beyond. The University is proud to have weathered the storm throughout the COVID-19 pandemic and has begun to see an increase in enrollment again – a three percent growth in Fall 2022 and a four percent growth in Spring 2023. As the University continues to better understand its market and student needs, it is focusing on transfer students, part-time students, and generally expanding its efforts beyond the “traditional” first-time in college, full-time students.

4. Increase the Number of UDC Credentials Awarded

This priority speaks to both retention and the number of students who graduate from either the Community College, four-year institution, and law school, as well as the number of individuals who earn a workforce certification. Additionally, this priority refers to intermediate credentials beyond traditional degrees and the University’s goal to create seamless pathways with multiple credentials and multiple on- and off-ramps. For a more detailed description of the University’s work in all these areas, please see our responses to questions 44-48.

5. DAWN Initiatives

In FY 2022 the University continued its DAWN (Developing America’s Workforce Nucleus) initiative. This initiative’s mission is to “create a sustainable pipeline of domestic, diverse, business-ready STEM and entrepreneurship-ready talent, at all levels of the workforce, to propel America’s economic engine into the future”. Looking forward to FY 2023 and beyond, the University seeks to continue this program and to assist the Anacostia community further, both through Anacostia High School and our projects in and around the Anacostia community.

35. Please provide a list of the University’s collective bargaining agreements (CBA), including the name of the union, the total number of employees covered by the CBA, a description of the employees’ duties covered by the CBA (e.g. “maintenance workers” or “faculty”), and the length of the CBA. For each CBA that has expired or will expire in FY 2022 or FY 2023, provide a timeline, including the date for commencement of the bargaining process.

Answer:

American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (ASFCME) District Council 20, Local 2087	Total number of positions covered by the bargaining unit is 192. Local 2087 represents full-time, non-faculty, non-grant funded, continuing employees (i.e. administrative and maintenance positions, special police, educational and career service positions). Length of the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) - There are two components of the ASFCME CBA: 1) compensation; and 2) working conditions. The current compensation CBA between the District and Compensation Units 1 and 2 is effective October 1, 2021-September 30, 2025. The working conditions CBA is negotiated between the University and AFSCME District Council 20, Local 2087. It was effective from October 1, 2016-September 30, 2019. AFSCME bargaining on working conditions will commence this summer.
Faculty Association/NEA - (UDCFA/NEA)	Total number of positions covered by the bargaining unit is 169. UDCFA/NEA represents full-time continuing faculty, excluding faculty at the David A. Clarke School of Law. Length of the CBA: The Eighth (8th) Master Agreement is effective from October 1, 2016 – September 30, 2022. Negotiations between the parties began on January 28, 2022 and continue.
Service Employees International Union (SEIU) Local 500, CtW	Total number of positions covered by the bargaining unit varies each semester and has ranged between 195 to 210 per semester. Local 500 represents adjunct faculty but excludes adjunct faculty who teach at the David A. Clarke School of Law, employees covered by other bargaining units, and full-time staff whose primary responsibility is not teaching. Length of the CBA: The CBA is effective from October 1, 2019 – September 30, 2022. The University's negotiation team has been selected, and the parties are in the process of commencing negotiations. UDC hopes to begin negotiations by the beginning of April.

36. Please describe initiatives UDC implemented within FY 2022 and FY 2023 to improve the internal operation of the University or the interaction of the University with outside parties. Please describe the results, or expected results, of each initiative.

Answer: During FY 2022 and FY 2023, the University undertook the following actions to improve the internal operations of the University or interaction of the University with outside parties:

- Enhanced institutional efficiencies and transparency: The University has completely overhauled the Office of Human Resources with the hire of a new Vice President for Human Resources and six new staff hires. The unit has already improved the responsiveness and time spent on recruitment and talent management and will be aligning the University’s performance management system with the digital process available in PeopleSoft. The office is also reinstating the institutional recognition of the employee service awards, which will be celebrated on April 12, 2023.
- Improved Internal and External Communication: The University’s Office of Marketing and Communications publishes institutional highlights and milestones through the UDC Forward newsletter. Additionally, this unit has standardized the process for requesting mass emails and institutional communication pieces. Looking forward, the University will be updating its website through FY 2023 and will continue building UDC’s presence on social media sites.
- Improved the Institutional Capacity Process: Known as the Institutional Capacity and Readiness Taskforce (ICRT), this inter-campus body routinely hears proposals regarding new initiatives being implemented at the University. The process has been updated to capture the institutional resources that will be required to implement fully and socialize new initiatives, such as the adoption of new software platforms or new business processes. Moreover, a Director for Business Processes has been added to the Office of Planning and Institutional Research and has assisted with mapping out current and projected business processes with the objective of increasing organizational efficiencies. Due to a backlog of project implementation, UDC will take on no new initiatives for the remainder of this fiscal year.
- Improved collaboration with the District’s preK-12 Sector: President Mason and UDC senior leadership have visited every DCPS high school principal and are now visiting public charter high school principals whose schools are predominant feeders for UDC enrollment. These visits have proven very insightful and will inform improvements in UDC’s recruiting and admissions processes.

37. Please provide the enrollment data for the University, beginning with academic year 2022-2023, broken down into the following categories: a) Law School; b) graduate; c) undergraduate; d) Community College; and e) workforce development.

Answer: The two tables below present the requested enrollment data. Please note that our enrollment for undergraduate, graduate, the David A. Clarke School of Law, and the academic portion of the Community College (i.e. the credit-bearing arm) is from the fall semester of that particular academic year. For example, the Fall 2011 data represents the enrollment data from the fall semester of the 2011-2012 Academic Year. However, our Workforce Development enrollment is based on the fiscal year, not the academic year, so that enrollment data is based on the entire fiscal year and not just one semester. Additionally, the University locks enrollment after the sixth week of classes for each semester, so the data reflected below is of that point in time.

38. Please indicate the number of DC Public Schools graduates as well as the number of DC Public Charter School graduates currently enrolled at UDC, disaggregated across: the Law School, the Flagship University (graduate versus undergraduate programs), and non-WDLL programs at the Community College.

Answer: Please see the tables below. Across both sectors, 1,318 students currently enrolled at UDC are graduates of a DCPS or DC public charter school.

39. What steps has the University taken to increase enrollment over the past two academic years? Why have these actions not been more successful?

Answer: As noted in our performance oversight hearing responses last year, universities across the country experienced enrollment declines during the pandemic and immediately after. To combat this decline in enrollment, the University took several steps:

- 1) Expansion of the recruitment team and recruiter coverage – Towards the end of FY 2022/beginning of FY 2023, we added four more recruiters to our recruitment team. This has enabled us to dedicate recruiters to each of: the schools (e.g. College of Arts & Sciences, School of Engineering and Applied Sciences, etc.) within the University; the public high schools in the District (both District of Columbia Public Schools and public charter schools); and the local community college territories.
- 2) Increased accessibility to the University – Since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, the University has worked to make accessibility to the University easier for both potential and current students. Specifically, we have waived our admission application fees, made the SAT and/or ACT optional for bachelor’s degree programs, and provided our students with 365-day student support.
- 3) Removed students’ financial obstacles – Using our federal CARES Act funds, as well as private funding, we have sought to make it easier for a student to choose school by providing as much financial assistance to our students as we possibly could. Such aid included providing tuition funding, paying off outstanding tuition debts, buying books, and giving away free laptops to new, first-time students.
- 4) Targeted outreach -- In June 2021, the University launched a marketing agreement with Blackboard, Inc. to develop targeted marketing through Google, Facebook, and Instagram. Specifically, the University chose to target four groups: 1) career starters; 2) first-time degree seekers; 3) degree completers; and 4) career climbers. Since social media and the Internet are so prevalent in today's society, we are trying to meet our future students where they are rather than waiting for them to come find us.

- 5) Additional enrollment support – The Division of Student Development-Enrollment Services has procured an outbound service agreement with Blackboard Inc. to engage up to 5,000 potential students from prospect to enrollment. Enrollment coaches serve as extension of our enrollment services team and provide personalized support. They will manage the daily influx of prospective and current student inquiries. Additionally, with tailored, just-in-time coaching, students who connect more deeply with our institution will convert at a higher rate and report feeling supported and ready for success. This partnership will support the University in increasing enrollment.

While UDC saw enrollment declines throughout the pandemic, we are pleased to report that our Fall 2022 enrollment trended upward, as we enrolled over a hundred more students than Fall 2021. Moreover, our Spring 2023 enrollment is also higher than last spring's enrollment, a promising sign that the University is on its way to rebounding back to pre-pandemic enrollment levels. Considering that the traditional 18-24 demographic has dramatically declined and will continue to do so for a number of years, the University's growth this year is even more reassuring. Yet, we are fully aware that our work is not done and that we will need to continue to increase enrollment steadily over the next several years.

40. Please detail what steps the University plans to take over the next three academic years to increase enrollment? If they vary, explain the strategies for: a) the flagship, b) the Community College, c) workforce development, and d) the law school.

Answer: In order for UDC to continue to grow and prosper, increasing our enrollment is critically important. Thus, over the past several years, the University has been laser-focused on doing so, despite a global pandemic and a decline in the 18–24-year-old demographic. Prior to the pandemic, our enrollment efforts were producing results and have also been positive for this current academic year (2022-2023) – a three percent increase in Fall 2022 and a four percent increase in Spring 2023. For this reason, we believe that our enrollment will continue to improve post-pandemic if we continue many of the efforts we began pre-pandemic, which we discussed as part of our FY 2021-2022 performance oversight responses, while also supplementing with the following strategies:

- 1) Hiring a new Vice President for Enrollment Management: Over the past several months, the University has been in search of a new Vice President (VP) for Enrollment Management, who will be tasked with developing a new three-to-five-year recruitment plan for UDC. To date, a highly qualified individual, with extensive knowledge of both the District and District agencies (like the Office of the State Superintendent of Education, the District of Columbia Public Schools school system, and the public charter sector), has been identified and is set to begin in March 2023. The new VP will provide even more knowledge and skill to our enrollment team, and we are looking forward to the progress that will occur over the next several years.
- 2) Establish a needs-based scholarship program: Many of the students who attend UDC face financial issues and/or barriers to enrolling or continuing to stay enrolled each semester, and these issues have only intensified since the pandemic. The federal funding that we received due to the pandemic has enabled us to provide much more financial support for our students, and this support has often convinced an unsure prospective student to become an enrolled student, as well as providing our current students with the assistance they need to stay enrolled despite owing funds to the University. Yet, these federal funds expire on June 30, 2023, so we must find a way to continue to provide this vital support to our students. Our primary focus would be supporting high-risk students who are experiencing certain challenges and/or fall into one of the following categories:

- A UDC balance greater than $1,500
- Are undocumented
- Are international
- Ineligible for financial aid due to an academic progress warning or suspension
- Are approaching or who have reached Title IV lifetime limits
- Defaulted on previous student loans
- Graduating senior
- Personal emergencies

3) Continuation of a redesigned registration process: UDC has taken several steps, as discussed in previous performance oversight responses, to improve our customer service experience, and for Academic Year (AY) 2022-2023, the University went one step further by redesigning our registration process. This redesign included the establishment of a registration committee, enhanced communication with both new and current students, and enhanced registration support. These efforts resulted in a yield rate of 40%, as compared to an average rate of 32% for AYs dating back to AY 17-18.

- Registration Committee: The registration committee meets weekly and includes representation from each of the University's colleges/schools. At these meetings, the committee analyzes weekly data reports, such as the number of student holds, numbers of unregistered students, etc. and identifies barriers to registration and solutions to address those barriers.
- Enhanced communication: UDC took the step of having faculty advisors and department chairs reach out to individual students to encourage them to register and/or to identify the reasons why a student had yet to do so. This personalized approach proved extremely beneficial.
- Enhanced registration support: Through this effort, UDC seeks to make it easier for students to register for classes by holding registration labs, providing virtual drop-in support led by our student navigators, and providing 24/7/365 assistance and support through our inbound call center, email, and live chat. Additionally, we assist students in completing the FAFSA, if they have not done so, as this form must be completed in order for students to receive Pell grant funds or qualify for financial aid.

Over the next three years, we will continue to build upon this redesign.

41. (a) Please list all accreditations that the University currently has, including programmatic accreditations.

Answer:

UDC Program Accreditations through February 2023
Accreditor / Program	Last Visit	Upcoming Visits/ Follow-up	Duration	Comments

Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE)	April 2016	Spring 2025	8 years	Mid-Point Peer Review canceled due to MSCHE policy changes. Self-Study process kicked off in Fall 2022 and will last until site visit in Spring 2025.

(b) Please list all accreditations or re-accreditations, including programmatic accreditations or reaccreditations, that the University has failed to obtain over the past three academic years. Provide a detailed explanation as to: (1) why the University did not obtain the accreditation or re-accreditations; (2) what steps the University is taking to rectify the loss or denial of an accreditation or re-accreditation; and (3) the impact of the loss or denial of an accreditation or re-accreditation on students attending the University.

Answer: While the University did have some small accreditation hiccups in the past, UDC has been approved for all of its applicable accreditations or reaccreditations and not failed to obtain any over the past three academic years.

(c) Please list all accreditations or re-accreditations that the University is preparing to obtain between now and the end of academic year 2022-2023. Include in your response a detailed description of the steps that the University is taking to ensure success in each application.

Answer: Below are all the accreditations or re-accreditations that UDC is preparing to obtain between now and the end of Academic Year 2022-2023:

1. Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN): As a follow-up to its focused visit in Fall 2021, ACEN returns for a site visit to UDC (February 21-23) to evaluate the RN-BSN program. Dr. Sharon Beasley, newly hired for Academic Year (AY) 2022-2023 as the Director of Nursing Education at UDC, oversees both the associate and baccalaureate nursing programs. In 2022, ACEN approved UDC combining these two programs under one Nursing Education Unit. Dr. Beasley and the RN-BSN team have prepared the Self-Study in preparation for the February site visit. ACEN will meet in September 2023 to make its determination of accreditation status for UDC and will announce that decision in October 2023.

2. Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) – The School of Business and Public Administration (SBPA) hosted a rigorous on-site evaluation from AACSB in Fall 2022. While the final decision and announcement from AACSB is pending (anticipated in April 2023), the site visit team offered positive feedback in its exit briefing to the SBPA Dean and UDC senior leadership. We will be sure to inform the Council of the outcome as soon as it is public.
3. Accreditation Council Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) – Program is transitioning from BS degree to graduate program in Nutrition and Dietetics. Graduates of the new program will be positioned to become Registered Dietitian Nutritionists (RDN). The BS degree is being phased out. Self-Study for application for initial accreditation of the Graduate Program is due in March/April 2023, and a site visit from ACEND is scheduled for June 2023. ACEND’s decision on initial accreditation of the new graduate program will be made in AY 2023-2024, likely Fall 2023.

42. (a) Please list all capital projects to begin in fiscal years 2022, 2022 and 2023. Include any projects that are managed or overseen by another agency. Include a brief description of each, the total estimated cost for each, whether the project needs additional funding, the projected start and completion dates, and the priority of the project.

Answer: The table below lists all capital projects begun in FY 2022 and scheduled to begin in 2023 or 2024. If one is trying to determine how much additional capital funding UDC needs for a project or the timeline for a specific project, please refer to the table below rather than referencing the table we provided in response to Question 17. Please note that because this question and Question 17 ask for slightly different information, the information provided in our response to these two questions differs.

(b) Please list in order of priority all capital projects that the University needs to undertake but are currently stalled by inadequate funding. Include a brief description of each, the total estimated cost, and the projected start and completion dates. Explain the priority of the project.

Answer: The following projects are the top five capital projects for which the University requires additional capital funding in order to establish, continue, or complete the project.

- 1) UG712 - Renovate 4250 Connecticut Avenue – Renovate the interior spaces of 4250 Connecticut Avenue to convert the building from offices to classrooms and support spaces. The cost estimate for this renovation is currently $47,000,000. An additional $7,000,000 is required to account for the estimated 20% increase in construction costs as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.
- 2) UG719 – CRM Implementation – This is a newly requested project that is needed to identify and implement a CRM for the University System. The total request is $8 million over a four-year period.
- 3) UG718 - Interior Renovations (Classroom & Laboratory Upgrades) – The bulk of the University’s classrooms and laboratories are outdated. Their basic designs, unchanged since the 1970s, are neither conducive to, nor reflective of, modern-day teaching and learning processes. The cost to modernize the University’s teaching and learning spaces is approximately $135,000,000. The University requires an additional $115,000,000 for this project.
- 4) UG720 – Firebird Farm – This project continues to upgrade the 143-acre land grant Firebird Farm, which is operated by the College of Agriculture, Urban Sustainability, and Environmental Sciences (CAUSES). Upgrades and site development will include farm infrastructure (septic, power, IT), renovation and expansion of classrooms and offices, a new restroom facility, and security improvements (fencing, automated gate, & surveillance equipment). The total request is $20 million.
- 5) UG721 – Student Housing – This project will fund student housing at the Van Ness Campus. On campus housing is projected to increase student enrollment and retention. The total request is $35 million.

(c) To understand UDC’s capital needs from a different perspective, please list and briefly describe your most urgent and important capital projects.

Answer: Below is a list and description of the University’s most urgent and important capital projects.

- 1) Renovate 4250 Connecticut Avenue – Renovate the interior spaces of 4250 Connecticut Avenue to convert the building from offices to classrooms and support spaces. The cost estimate for this renovation is currently $47,000,000. This is a high priority project, because the College of Arts and Sciences was required to vacate Building 41 due to failing building systems. Additionally, CAUSES had to move staff out of Building 44 due to overloaded building systems. Thus, both Colleges need new space in which to operate. An additional $7,000,000 is required to account for the estimated 20% increase in construction cost as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The University has committed to completing this project by the end of September 2024.

- 2) CRM Implementation – This is a newly requested project that is needed to identify and implement a CRM for the University System. The total request is $8 million over a four-year period.
- 3) Renovate the Community College at the Bertie Backus site – This project continues renovations to the existing building at the Bertie Backus (“Backus”) site. Originally, Backus was designed to be a middle school, so renovations are necessary to turn the space into a high-quality community college campus. Given that the University has completely moved out of 801 N. Capitol Street, renovating this building and providing the Community College with adequate space is a high priority for the University. Currently, the University has $35,000,000 allocated for this project, and we are trying to determine whether the funds will be used solely for a renovation or whether an additional building will be built on the site. Renovating the existing space and adding a new building may require more than the allocated $35,000,000. If this is the case, the University may need additional funds to construct the additional building.
- 4) Van Ness Campus Roof and Window Replacements – Several buildings on the Van Ness Campus still have their original roofs and windows that were installed about 40 years ago. These original elements are in poor condition, energy inefficient, leak water, and need to be replaced. Replacement roofs will be designed to support the installation of solar panels or green roofs to further our energy conservation and stormwater management efforts. The University currently has adequate funding for the project.
- 5) Mechanical, Electrical, Plumbing, Elevator, and IT Upgrades – The mechanical, electrical, plumbing, elevator, and IT infrastructure systems throughout the Van Ness campus have deteriorated badly. The University currently has one central heating and cooling plant that distributes heating and cooling throughout the Van Ness campus, but UDC intends to install individual heating and cooling systems in each building. This would eliminate the need for the central heating and cooling plant on the Van Ness campus. Additionally, the elevators installed in original Van Ness Campus buildings are in poor condition, unreliable, and need to be replaced. The mechanical, electrical, plumbing, elevator, and IT upgrade process started in October 2020 with the funds that are available. The estimated total cost for required upgrades is about $63,000,000. The University currently has adequate funding for this project.
- 6) Interior Renovations (Classroom & Laboratory Upgrades) – The bulk of the University’s classrooms and laboratories are outdated. Their basic designs, unchanged since the 70’s, are neither conducive to nor reflective of modern-day teaching and learning processes. The cost to modernize the University’s teaching and learning spaces is approximately $135,000,000. The University requires an additional $115,000,000 for this project.
- 7) Plaza Paver Restoration – The plaza paving will be renovated on the Van Ness campus from the Dennard Plaza area to the Athletic Center and around the lower level of the Theater. This restoration will eliminate leaks into adjacent buildings, improve drainage, and provide more green space along with permeable pavers. The design is in progress. In total, the paver restoration project will cost $19,000,000. The University currently has adequate funding for this project.

- 8) Firebird Farm – This project continues to upgrade the 143-acre land grant Firebird Farm, which is operated by the College of Agriculture, Urban Sustainability, and Environmental Sciences (CAUSES). Upgrades and site development will include farm infrastructure (septic, power, IT), renovation and expansion of classrooms and offices, a new restroom facility, and security improvements (fencing, automated gate, & surveillance equipment). The total request is $20 million.
- 9) Student Housing – This project will fund student housing at the Van Ness Campus. On campus housing is projected to increase student enrollment and retention. The total request is $35 million.
43. Please provide a project description, including applicable timetables for the following projects/buildings:
- | | |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|
| (a) 4250 Connecticut Avenue, NW | (e) PR Harris |
| (b) Building 41 | (f) Bertie Backus site |
| (c) Building 44 | |
| (d) Old Congress Heights School | |

Answer:i. 4250 Connecticut Avenue, NW

The University has purchased the building that it was previously leasing. The present intent is to completely renovate the building from an office building to a modern facility for higher education that will house modern classrooms and other learning environments, as well as house the University's College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Agriculture, Urban Sustainability, and Environmental Sciences (CAUSES) and supporting spaces. An additional $7,000,000 is needed to fund this project fully.

ii. Building 41

The University has no projects scheduled to take place in Building #41. Instead, the University is vacating this building, and the project to move the District's Archives into that location is moving forward. All University functions that previously occurred in Building #41 have been relocated to other locations on the Van Ness campus.

iii. Building 44

Plans for renovating Building 44 continue to evolve as the University investigates options.

iv. Old Congress Heights School

There are ongoing short-term projects to accommodate the relocation of the Community College's Workforce Development administration, staff, and classes from our Backus campus to our Old Congress Heights location. The University has received funding to purchase the leasehold rights to the building and plans to do so by FY 2025.

v. PR Harris

The University no longer occupies or manages this building and functions that previously operated at PR Harris, except for a greenhouse, moved to 3100 Martin Luther King, Jr.

Avenue, also known as “Old Congress Heights.” The University continues to work with the Department of General Services to negotiate an agreement for the University’s use of a space outside of PR Harris and a small storage space within the building.

vi. Bertie Backus Site

This site now serves as the location of the University’s Community College, as the University has vacated 801 N. Capitol Street. Two of the three wings of Backus have been upgraded but continue to look like a middle school. Thus, the University is currently deciding how it can most effectively use the $35 million that UDC has allocated for this project – undertake a large renovation of the entire existing building and potentially pursue adding a larger addition at a later time or undertake a smaller renovation and construct a new addition. If the University chooses to pursue the former, additional funding may be needed for the new addition.

44. Please provide a detailed description of the workforce development program offered at UDC. Include in that description:

Answer: The Division of Workforce and Lifelong Learning (WDLL) offers free, fundamental certificated job training courses to DC residents. In 2020, the WDLL unit became a stand-alone division within the Chief Academic Officer's (CAO) portfolio and is headed by a Dean, which reports to the CAO.

WDLL’s mission is to reduce unemployment and underemployment in the District by enhancing the skills of its residents. This mission is achieved by offering courses at no cost to DC residents in industry-recognized, high-demand, high-wage career fields/occupations in the DC Metropolitan region. Moreover, WDLL’s programming targets economically disadvantaged District residents. Currently, the division offers in-person, hybrid, and fully online learning opportunities across all in-demand career training pathways (i.e. Construction, Healthcare, Early Childhood Education, Information Technology, Hospitality, and Lifelong Learning.)

- (a) Outline of the program’s budget, including funding sources and expenditures for fiscal years 2021, 2022, and 2023;

Answer:

FY 2021
Funding Source	Budgeted Funds	Expenditures
Appropriated Funds	5,521,339	4,341,483
Tuition Funds	170,417	124,054
Post-Secondary Education	124,066	86,523

(b) Completion rate for Academic Years 2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022, and 2022-2023;

Answer: Below is the requested completion rate information for the WDLL program. Please note that the number of completions and completion rate was so low in Spring 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic, as 698 students had to end classes early in the semester and could not complete their course. Similarly, because of the COVID-19 pandemic, classes were not held during Summer 2020.

Academic Year	Semester	Total Enrollment	Completions	Completion Rate

(d) List of courses currently offered;

Answer: UDC’s WDLL program offers several program strands that correlate with in-demand career pathways in the District. Specifically, UDC provides the following:

- Construction - The construction pathway includes workers who build and remodel homes or community, recreational, industrial, and office facilities.

- Early Childhood Education - The early childhood development and services pathway includes occupations related to the nurturing or teaching of infants and young children in child care centers, nursery schools, preschools, public schools, and private households.
- Healthcare-Direct Healthcare- Administration –This pathway provides health professionals with the skills and knowledge needed in a rapidly changing career field. Training provides students with a comprehensive suite of administrative and clinical skills.
- Information Technology pathway – This pathway includes occupations related to information technology deployment, including implementing computer systems and software, database management, providing technical assistance, and managing information systems. In addition, the network systems pathway includes occupations related to network analysis, planning, and implementation, including design, installation, maintenance, and management of network systems.
- Hospitality and Tourism – This pathway includes workers who perform a variety of tasks to maintain operations and promote guest services in eating and drinking establishments. The tourism industry offers significant job creation across all regions and has long been an industry with tremendous success for long-term career pathways. Tourism is recognized as an important driver of economic growth and development in the District. Moreover, successful hospitality employees must have practical guest service skills to stay competitive in today’s market, and they must engage and connect with their guests to go above and beyond the call of duty. Students may earn the AHLEI Certified Guest Service Professional (CGSP®) & Hospitality & Tourism Management Year I credential upon completing this class.
- General Education- The General Education program provides the basis for excellence and success in all courses, as well as distribution courses that allow students to explore how learning is integrated across multiple academic studies.

Medical Assistant	The Medical Assistant program is designed to train the student to function in the clinical area of a doctor's office. They will study how to triage a patient, record patient histories, do vital signs and EKGs, prepare and assist the physician with examinations, and basic skills in phlebotomy and injections. Principles of OSHA, handling laboratory specimens, and urinalysis are included in class instruction. Students will be introduced to medical insurance coding, ICD-10, and CPT, which are pertinent to the clinical medical assistant. Vocabulary is emphasized as it is an important tool in learning the language of the medical field. There is emphasis on professionalism in the work place; HIPAA guidelines as they apply to the medical office setting are discussed. Basic concepts of scheduling and office administration are included in the program.	184	Hybrid	Reading - 239 Math - 236

Medical Office Administrative Professional	Program (MOAP) prepares individuals for employment in medical and other health-care related offices. Course work includes medical terminology; information systems; Office management; medical coding; billing and insurance; legal and ethical issues; and formatting and word processing. Pharmacy Technician	Pharmacy Technicians help licensed pharmacists dispense prescription medication. They work under the supervision of the pharmacist, who must review all prescriptions before they are given to patients. They work in retail pharmacies and hospitals. Pharmacy Technicians typically perform the following tasks: take from customers or health professionals the information needed to fill a prescription, count tablets and measure amounts of other medications for prescriptions, compound or mix medications, such as preparing ointments, package and label prescriptions, accept payment for prescriptions and process insurance claims, and do routine pharmacy tasks, such as answering phone calls from customers.	184	Hybrid	Reading - 239 Math - 236

(e) FY 2022 programmatic needs and programmatic needs for FY 2022; and

Answer: WDLL requires increased funding to purchase more industry-recognized certifications associated with the workforce training being offered to students. Since WDLL courses are free to any District resident, the University also provides funding for students to take certification examinations, which students generally need to receive in order to glean the full benefits from the courses they took through WDLL. Without these certifications, students may find it hard to be hired by employers despite having taken the requisite WDLL courses.

(f) Top 3 program priorities for FY 2022 and FY 2023.

Answer: Below are the three top programmatic priorities for the WDLL program:

- 1) Building out the multipurpose room at our Old Congress Heights (OCH) campus, which is where are WDLL courses are offered, in order to expand in-person certification course offerings and to promote Wards 7 & 8 community resident engagement;
- 2) Establish revenue-generating programs and accounts in order to assist the WDLL program since all courses are free to all District residents; and
- 3) Increase student enrollment by integrating much-needed adult literacy and fundamentals education into our certification courses.

45. (a) Please explain how the University determines its retention rate for the flagship and the community college, including the workforce development program.

Answer: We follow the U.S. Department of Education (Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System) IPEDS standard for measuring retention. Therefore, the University uses the following definition:

Retention rate: A measure of the rate at which students persist in their educational program at an institution, expressed as a percentage. For four-year institutions, this is the percentage of first-time Bachelor’s (or equivalent) degree-seeking undergraduates from the previous fall who are again enrolled in the current fall. For all other institutions this is the percentage of first-time degree/certificate-seeking students from the previous fall who either re-enrolled or successfully completed their program by the current fall.

(b) Please provide the retention rates for the flagship and the community college, including workforce development, for Academic Years 2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022, 2022-2023 (to date).

Answer:

		2018-2019	2019-2020	2020-2021	2021-22
Attendance		Cohort of Fall 2018 Returned Next Fall	Cohort of Fall 2019 Returned Next Fall	Cohort of Fall 2020 Returned Next Fall	Cohort of Fall 2021 Returned Next Fall
Flagship	Full-time	68%	71%	53%	54%
	Part-time	39%	40%	31%	19%
UDC- CC	Full-time	53%	57%	43%	64%
	Part-time	42%	50%	39%	57%

(c) Please detail what steps the University plans to take over the next three academic years to increase retention rates? If they vary, explain the strategies for: a) the flagship, b) the Community College, and c) workforce development.

Answer: The University plans to continue to improve the systems and programs that it put in place over the past several years, such as:

Navigate (EAB)

In 2017, the University invested in Navigate (EAB) – a student information platform – to assist academic advisors with better management of their students. The Student Success Center (“Center”) migrated from a general advising system to a case management system where student success advisors were assigned certain majors and encouraged to meet with their advisees three times per semester. While students generally schedule appointments with their advisors, advisors also accommodate students who do not schedule appointments and “walk-in” to the Center. The advisors maintain a strict regimen in managing their caseloads. They are aware of which students are enrolled, the students who are at risk of failing, and those who have not returned.

The Navigate Mobile app has also been launched and is available to students. It serves as a one stop platform from admission to graduation. Student may view all onboarding steps and status, holds on their account, register for classes, receive referrals, schedule appointments etc. Additionally, the University is planning to expand this platform to allow for one click registration beginning in Summer 2023. This will make it much easier for students to reenroll, thereby eliminating one barrier to retention.

Early Alert System

In Fall 2019, UDC piloted the Early Alert system with certain first year classes. This system was launched to identify certain high-risk behaviors displayed by students early in the semester. Once faculty identified the students who were high-risk, students’ names were sent to UDC's academic advisors or tutoring centers for intervention. These students were contacted to identify barriers that impeded their ability to be academically successful.

The classes that were selected reflected a response rate of approximately 72%, meaning approximately 72% of the professors who were notified that their students were displaying high risk behaviors intervened. The University is continuing this initiative and is expanding it each year. Most recently, for the Spring 2023 semester, a new attendance report was implemented beginning at week three and scaled to all classes at the University, excluding the law school and doctoral programs. This report will allow the student success team, as well as faculty, to address a student's absenteeism with the student and how it is impacting the student's success in the individual's classes.

Case Management Model

In the Case Management model, academic advisors are charged with retaining 90% of their caseload. Although the retention rate ranges from 72-80% at the Community College and from 73-99% at the four-year, the University is hopeful that the retention rate will reach the requisite 90% given the increased attention on student retention in the Office of Student Success and Development ("SDS Office"), the implementation of the Case Management model, and the mandatory touch points during the semester.

The SDS Office has taken a more proactive approach to identifying the gaps and barriers to student retention. For AY 2022-2023, a new registration model was designed and implemented to address issues that prevented some students from registering for classes. As part of this revised registration model, a targeted campaign was developed to encourage early class registration and persistence. Moreover, a registration committee was instituted, and weekly meetings were conducted with key stakeholders to discuss those students who either had committed to attend but had not yet registered or current students who had not yet registered for the next semester of classes. Additionally, various weekly data reports were created to make it easier to target specific students who may have needed extra support in registering. Based on the weekly reports and meetings, student navigators were deployed to assist new and continuing students with registration. Further, email and phone campaigns were developed to contact all continuing students, and we hosted a "Transition Day" to ensure new students were not only registered for classes but had the necessary information to prepare them for the first day of college.

Payment Reconciliation Process

Enrollment Services and the Office of Student Accounts has implemented a payment reconciliation process that is designed to identify outstanding balances, as well as students out of compliance with UDC's attendance policy. Previously, if a student had any outstanding balance with the University, the student would have been blocked from registering for the next semester's classes. Since this policy prevented a significant number of students from being able to register for classes, the University has implemented a new balance threshold to allow students to register sooner. If a student can satisfy his or her balance or now pay it down so that s/he owes $1,500 or less, the hold on his or her account will be removed, allowing the student to register for the upcoming semester. Those students who do not meet the criteria – for example, having an outstanding balance that exceeds $1,500 or not complying with the attendance requirements — will have their schedules deleted and be disenrolled from the University. Prior to being disenrolled, students are contacted concerning their balances and encouraged to take the necessary steps to resolve their accounts via the tuition management system, financial aid awards, or any other forms of payment.

Experiential Learning Program

Experiential learning provides a real world understanding that enhances academic success. Students, who are actively involved in the experience, learn through the experience, and apply the lessons learned from the experience to broader areas of the individual’s life. Self-reflection from this process empowers students to take charge of their own learning and make connections to launch their career journey.

As part of this program, a career portfolio is implemented for the new student, and this portfolio will assist the student post-graduation, as it will allow employers to identify the student’s developed employability skills quickly upon resume review. Moreover, as part of the program, the SDS Office will establish a Career Collective, which consists of deans, department chairs, career navigators, faculty, advisors, and program managers, in order to track students’ mastery/proficiency of their career readiness competencies as they progress through the program.

46. (a) Please explain how the University determines the graduation rate for the flagship and the community college.

Answer: Based on the definition on the Department of Education Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS), the university graduation rate (GR) is defined as follows: Graduation rate is percentage of first-time, full-time, degree/certificate-seeking undergraduate students in a particular year (fall term cohort) finishing their degrees within 150 percent of normal time to completion starting from the cohort year, which for a bachelor’s degree is six years. For an Associate degree, it is a three-year graduation rate.

- (b) Please provide the graduation rates for the flagship and the community college for Academic Years 2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022.

Answer:

	2018-2019 Cohort of 2012 Full-time FTIC	2019-2020 Cohort of 2013 Full-time FTIC	2020-2021 Cohort of 2014 Full-time FTIC	2021-22 Cohort of 2015 Full-time FTIC
First Time Full Time in College (FTIC) 6-Year Graduation Rates for Bachelor Level (With 150% normal time):	45%	24%	42%	44%
First Time Full Time in College (FTIC) 3-Year Graduation Rates for Associate (within 150% normal time):	5%	4%	6%	9%
Graduation Rate for all Cohort Students	24%	13%	23%	25%

(c) Please provide the completion rate for the flagship and the community college for Academic Years `2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022.

Answer:

Degree Level	Number of Degree Awarded
	2018 -2019	2019 -2020	2020 -2021	2021 -2022
Associate	195	223	205	200
Undergrad Certificate	0	0	0	8
Baccalaureate	387	378	378	378
Masters	133	160	130	78
Grad. Certificate	2	0	0	1
Juris Doctor	65	78	48	63
Flagship	587	616	556	528
UDC-CC	195	223	205	200
UDC Total	782	839	761	728

(d) Please explain the reason(s) for the difference between the University's completion rate and the graduation rate for each of these entities (the flagship and the community college).

Answer: As noted above, the University uses the IPEDS definition for graduation rate. This definition only speaks to students who are began as first-time, full time students, and it only captures those students who graduate "on time," which is within six years if seeking a bachelor's degree and within three years if seeking an Associate degree. Additionally, IPEDS has begun collecting the completion counts. The University measures its completion count as follows:

- For a bachelor's degree, the completion count pertains to the number of bachelor's degree seeking students that were senior status in Fall of 2020 and completed their degree by Summer 2021; and
- For an Associate degree, the completion count pertains to the number of associate degree seeking students that were sophomore status in Fall 2020 and completed their degree by Summer 2021.

Notably, while IPEDS does not measure a completion rate, it does measure the number of completers at a university/college.

47. What steps is the University taking to increase its graduation rate and completion rate for the flagship?

Answer: To increase our graduation rate and completion rate, the University is continuing with a number of programs that we discussed in our performance oversight responses over the past few years, such as our Student Achievement Center, our grant-funded Peer Advisor Program, peer led registration hotlines and tutorials, call campaigns, placing mandatory advising holds for all students prior to registering to ensure that have met with their professional or faculty advisor, the District of Columbia University Partnership Learning Community, and the grant-funded Firebird Rewards Program. Additionally, the Academic Affairs division continues to do the following each year: review curriculum maps, advising models, time to degree completion, and course audits in order to assist students with timely registration and course sequencing. Moreover, given that the University needs to retain students in order for them to graduate, many of the steps discussed in response to Question 45(c) are also relevant here and are being employed by the University to increase our graduation/completion rate.

Over the last two years, UDC's SDS Office has also focused on the following efforts:

- Pre-Student Advising Sessions (PSA) – The Pre-Student Advising sessions have been developed to address the needs of the UDC student population and to help them register for classes. Each PSA is a live session (face to face and in-person) in which student peer advisors and student success advisors explain the various processes and how to complete them. Doing so assists new students as soon as they are accepted, through registration, and into the first day of class. These sessions, in conjunction with the revised registration process that UDC implemented this AY, is working to keep students engaged and assisting in retaining current students.
- Support Care Network – The UDC Student Success Support Care Network utilizes shared process and technology to ensure that the different offices across campus are mutually committed to meeting students' needs with minimum hassle. UDC knows that our students are juggling a multitude of responsibilities and need streamlined, efficient processes. If students have to run all around campus just to enroll or persist, they are less willing to do so, which translates to a lower retention rate, and ultimately a lower graduation or completion rate. Thus, the Support Care Network solves two key challenges related to the student experience: 1) it ensures the whole campus shares responsibility for student care and; 2) it makes the experience seamless for the student.
- Virtual Transfer Center – UDC is creating a virtual transfer center, which will assist transfer students with the onboarding and registration process so that they have a smooth transfer experience. From filling out the application for admission and searching for transfer scholarships and aid, to transferring credits and registration, the Virtual Transfer Center is a one-stop shop for prospective and accepted transfer students. With UDC's focus on recruiting more transfer students, the University needs such a center and is hopeful that it will assist in increasing enrollment, retention, and degree completion.
- First Year Experience (FYRE) – FYRE supports new UDC students as they begin their journey through the Firebird Experience. Through completion of activities such as freshman book common read, guest speakers, essay contests, and other experiences, this university-wide initiative, and co-curricular program, will help students navigate UDC, transition into college life (both inside and outside of the classroom environment), and establish skills that will benefit their success at UDC, in their chosen career field, and beyond.

48. What steps is the University taking to increase its graduation rate and completion rate for the Community College?

Answer: In addition to the initiatives and strategies outlined in question #47, UDC's Community College (UDC-CC) is doing the following to increase its graduation and completion rate:

- Offering accelerated courses: UDC-CC is currently offering accelerated courses for business and education degree programs. Students who elect the accelerated track enroll full-time (12 or more credits) and take eight-week courses over three semesters to earn their degrees a semester early. This often keeps students motivated to continue and to finish their degree rather than stopping-out.
- Assessing the possibility of reducing the number of credits required for degree completion: A proposal is currently before the Faculty Senate for the Corrections Administrative & Law Enforcement programs to reduce the number of credits needed to complete from 65 to 60. If it is possible for students to learn the requisite knowledge and receive the same high-quality education in a shorter time period, we want to make it easier for our students to succeed.
- Expanding online course offerings: UDC-CC is working to expand online course offerings to support working adults in completing their degrees sooner. While some students prefer to attend classes in person, others need the flexibility that online education offers.

49. Please describe each initiative, if any, that UDC is planning to implement or is currently implementing with District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) or public charter schools in the District.

Answer: UDC continues to collaborate with both the District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) system and the District's public charter schools (DCPCS) on the various initiatives discussed in our performance oversight responses last year, including: dual enrollment and DCPS Persists. We also continue to collaborate with DCPS through our DAWN Initiative (Developing America's Workforce Nucleus), expanding this partnership between UDC, DCPS, the Anacostia community (specifically Anacostia High School School), DC's Department of Energy and the Environment, federal agencies, and PEPCO to include also Kramer and Sousa Middle Schools. DAWN aims to establish community to career pathways, an early college, and various other linkages and supports to enhance enrollment and educational outcomes.

Further, over the last year, UDC has begun to meet with principals and to get to know the various District public high schools better. Specifically, President Mason, Dr. William Latham (Chief Student Success and Development Officer), and Annie Whatley (Assistant Vice President for External Affairs) scheduled meetings with each DCPS principal to establish relationships and to inform them of UDC and the postsecondary opportunities that we can offer their students. Moreover, these visits allow UDC to learn more about each school and the various learning models being offered so that we may better understand our students before they begin at the University. In Spring 2023, we are also scheduling meetings with each of the DCPCS high school principals to build upon the relationships that UDC has with many of the DCPCS schools. After each visit, UDC's SDS Office works to hold either onsite UDC Admission Days at the high school or at our Van Ness campus.

50. The Teacher Preparation Emergency Amendment Act of 2021 requires OSSE to establish, in collaboration with UDC, District university grantees, and the District's LEAs, a dual pathway "Grow Your Own" Teacher Preparation Support Program for the purpose of educating, training, and providing financial support to public high school dual enrollment students, public high school graduates, and paraprofessionals to become licensed teachers at DCPS schools or certified teachers at District public charter schools. Please provide an update to this program.

Answer: The goal of the UDC Pathways to Teaching Program (UDC-PTP) is to identify, recruit, and support at least 50 candidates who will become licensed teachers in either a District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) school or public charter school. To that end, the program seeks to address some of the most pressing issues impacting the District's educational landscape – a dearth of high school students entering the teaching profession, the need for more male educators, and low passage rates on required licensing exams. Addressing these challenges requires a systematic, long-range plan, which UDC seeks to address through UDC-PIP.

UDC-PTP is comprised of three strands:

- Dual-Enrollment High School Pathway: This pathway aims to recruit 10 high school students to participate in dual-enrollment courses at UDC and summer teaching opportunities through a partnership with the DC Office of Youth Programs in the Department of Employment Services.
- Male Educator Initiative Pathway: This pathway aims to recruit ten 10 males to earn a master's degree in education from UDC. Candidates may be current UDC undergraduates or non-certified school personnel currently employed by a DCPS or public charter school.
- Paraprofessional/Aide Pathway: This pathway aims to recruit twenty-five 25 paraprofessional/aides, currently employed by a DCPS or public charter school, to earn either an undergraduate or master's degree from UDC.

In FY 2022, UDC established and launched UDC-PIP using the funds provided to the University through the FY 2022 budget. Additionally, 12 students received funding for either tuition, stipends, funding for supplies or resources, tutoring and/or support to assist in passing the Praxis licensure exam (exam educator must pass in order to become licensed in the District), or some combination thereof. Thus far in FY 2023, the University has continued to grow the number of students, up to 17, who receive funding and support through the program.

51. How many individuals have received scholarship funding under the Higher Education Incentive (HEI) Program? What is the total amount paid out as of January 31, 2023?

Answer: The following table contains information about the Higher Education Incentive Program in FYs 2022 and 2023 (to date). Prior to FY 2023, the University tracked information about the program using two different budget codes, which is why the information is separated into such categories in FY 2022. Beginning with FY 2023, we now use one budget code for funding purposes; however, we continue to track the statistics for both of the two sub-programs that comprise the overall HEI program.

	FY 2022		FY 2023 to 1/31/23

52. Describe the plan and status of developing a Violence Interrupter certificate program at UDC. Please include a description of the program, expected length of the program, number of expected students and anticipated launch date.

Answer: Over the past couple of years, UDC has developed a four-week hybrid certification program for the District's Violence Prevention and Community Wellness initiative (VPCWI), with the goal being to train cohorts of Violence Interrupters. We began to offer the certification in 2022, and as of December 2022, the VPCWI has graduated three Cohorts with 17 completers. Cohort 4 began on January 4, 2023 and concludes with a completion ceremony on February 27, 2023. The projected participant completion will be 25 by February 27th. A fifth cohort is also scheduled to begin soon.

The curriculum's overall design incorporates insights, information, and consideration of theories, strategies, applications, and community practices with inputs from UDC faculty, recommended local experts, and participating District government agencies. Specifically, the certification covers:

- Mindfulness, meditation
- Violence Prevention
- Gang Intervention Partnership
- Cease-Fire
- De-escalation
- Restorative Justice
- Professionalism
- Street Law
- Youth Development

Additionally, participants will be equipped with knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs) such as:

- Adequate knowledge of court-involved systems and other service care systems in the District of Columbia area (i.e., DOES, RSA, DBH, etc.)
- Ability to connect with and provide empathetic, nonjudgmental, culturally, and linguistically competent support to youth, young adults, and families.
- Experience providing life coaching and support in a legally paid capacity, or informally as volunteers.
- Flexible schedules with the ability to work evenings, weekends and on-call
- Computer literacy and the ability to complete required data entry
- Adequate verbal and written communication skills

- Understanding of service systems including education, mental health, child welfare, etc.
- Vast familiarity with District of Columbia communities and resources

53. Please provide a breakdown of how many students have transferred to the flagship, and to the community college from other institutions of higher learning, beginning with academic year 2018-2019. Include in your response:

c) the percentage of transfer students who received DC TAG funds prior to transferring to the University;

Answer: Beginning in Spring 2022, we have added a question on our admissions application that allows students to self-report their prior participation in the DCTAG program. Approximately 21% of applicants self-reported being a DCTAG recipient. However, unless we have a formal data-sharing agreement with the Office of the State Superintendent of Education to obtain this information, we cannot be sure of an accurate percentage. We have pursued a data-sharing agreement but have been unsuccessful in obtaining one at this point.

and d) the average amount of debt students have incurred before transferring to the University.

Answer: The average loan indebtedness for students who transfer into UDC is $13,106.

54. Please provide the number and percentage of faculty tenured, adjunct, and other beginning with academic year 2021-2022, broken down by: a) law school; b) flagship; and c) Community College.

55. (a) Please describe what efforts the University has taken during FY 2021, FY 2022, and FY 2023 (to date) to fundraise. Include the amounts raised and a detailed description of the initiatives both the University and the UDC Foundation have undertaken to increase fundraising. To the extent that donations are given to the law school, or targeted to the flagship or specific program, give that breakdown, too.

Answer: UDC has two main entities that fundraise for the University – the University’s Office of Advancement and the UDC Foundation. These two entities pursue their fundraising objectives through a variety of tools and appeal initiatives each year. We detail each below:

- Annual Campaigns - We conduct three appeals each year with the help of fundraising marketing vendor partner EAB. We work with EAB to develop the deployment timeline, appeal theme, and content for direct mail, e-mail and digital social media ads.
- Calendar Year End Appeal (CYE) – This campaign kicks off on Giving Tuesday, in late November, and runs until December 31. This is our largest campaign with 10,000 direct mail letters, emails to 17,717 unique contacts, and digital social media ads to an audience of 21,268 alumni. Letters and email are customized for seven audience and strategy segments. The 2020 CYE Appeal (which corresponds to FY 2021) yielded 426 gifts totaling $72,412. The 2021 CYE Appeal (which corresponds to FY 2022) yielded 386 gifts totaling $110,777, and the 2022 CYE Appeal (which corresponds to FY 2023) yielded 346 gifts totaling $173,654.
- Annual Week of Giving – This campaign takes place in the fourth week of March and is scheduled as a “last push” for the DC Council Match Challenge. 2021 activities included a direct mail to 700 donors, email blasts to 13,098 unique contacts, and video conference presentations during the week of March 21-27 by the School of Engineering & Applied Sciences (SEAS), the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), the School of Business & Public Administration (SBPA), and the College of Agriculture, Urban Sustainability, and Environmental Sciences (CAUSES). The 2021 “Week of Giving” yielded 244 gifts totaling $42,516. 2022 activities included a direct mail to 700 donors, email blasts to 19,481 unique contacts and video conference presentations during the week of March 20-26 by CAS, CAUSES, SEAS, SBPA, the UDC Community College (UDC-CC) & the David A. Clarke School of Law. The 2022 Week of Giving campaign yielded 198 gifts totaling $39,433. The 2023 “Week of Giving” has not yet occurred.

- Fiscal Year End Appeal (FYE) – This campaign typically closes out the fiscal year and is targeted to past donors who have yet to give in the current fiscal year. The FY 2022 FYE focused on the E.B. Henderson Campaign effort with emails to 14,304 unique alumni contacts. While the 2021 FYE Appeal yielded 157 gifts totaling $41,837, the 2022 FYE appeal only yielded 28 gifts for a total of $2,024.
- Major and Planned Gifts - At UDC, a gift of $10,000 or more is considered a major gift, as gifts of this size or more generally require face to face interaction and cultivation. In FY 2021, we received 33 major gifts for a total of $2,750,000. In FY 2022, due to a $2.3 million leadership gift from an anonymous donor, we received 34 major gifts for a total of $4,486,302.28
- DC Council Match Challenge – The DC Council Match Challenge has been UDC’s most successful fundraising tool, as the University has used the challenge to inspire and leverage private sector giving across all our initiatives. Proceeds from the match have enabled UDC to grow its endowment, expand our scholarship offerings to students, and increase the pool of unrestricted dollars, which are the hardest funds to raise. We experienced an exceptional year of fundraising during the last reporting period. We received our largest gift ever – $2.3 million from an anonymous donor – and the UDC Foundation experienced a 11% increase in the number of gifts received year-to-year. The UDC Foundation continues to shoulder a greater share of the University’s overall fundraising efforts due to increased corporate partnerships and donor engagement from alumni, faculty, board members, staff and friends. A total of $4,505,224 was raised from the private sector from April 2, 2021 to April 1, 2022 enabling the University to meet the match challenge for a fifth consecutive year and receive the full $1,500,000 match for 2022. The charts below summarize the fundraising results from FY 2021 to FY 2023 (to date).

DC Council Match Challenge Results:

(b) Describe what initiatives or programs UDC has been able to support with the fundraising.

Answer: The UDC Foundation manages numerous accounts that represent funding support for scholarships, academic and student success programs, departmental funds, and special initiatives. A notable initiative that has been funded to date is Developing America's Workforce Nucleus (DAWN). DAWN is a program to create a sustainable pipeline of domestic, diverse, business, and entrepreneurship-ready STEM talent at all levels of the workforce and career ladder. The DAWN initiative rethinks public education to produce more talent than it loses by: a) exploring different ways to identify talent besides high stakes standardized assessments (360° Assessment); b) enhancing the ability of middle and high school math teachers and HBCU faculty to support the success of economically disadvantaged, black and brown students (Katherine G. Johnson Math Teacher Training Institute (MTTI)); and c) reimagining the learning process so that it better refines the talents of economically disadvantaged, black and brown students (C2 (Community through Career) Equity Academy).

56. Please provide in table format the year-end balance of the University's endowment from FY 2018 to present.

Answer: Please see the table below:

Fiscal Year	Endowment Fund Ending Balance
As of 12/31/22, FY 2023 Q1	$56,015,991
2022	$53,496,262
2021	$63,745,747
2020	$53,687,450

2019	$49,452,528
2018	$49,118,726

57. If applicable, please explain the impact on UDC of any legislation passed at the federal level during FY 2022 and FY 2023 to date.

Answer: During FYs 2022 and 2023, the University has worked with Congresswoman Eleanor Holmes Norton to obtain federal grant funding for our Katherine G. Johnson Math Training Institute. Through U.S. Public Law No. 117-328, the “Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2023,” the University was provided $1 million for this initiative. The funding will be administered by the U.S. Department of Education.

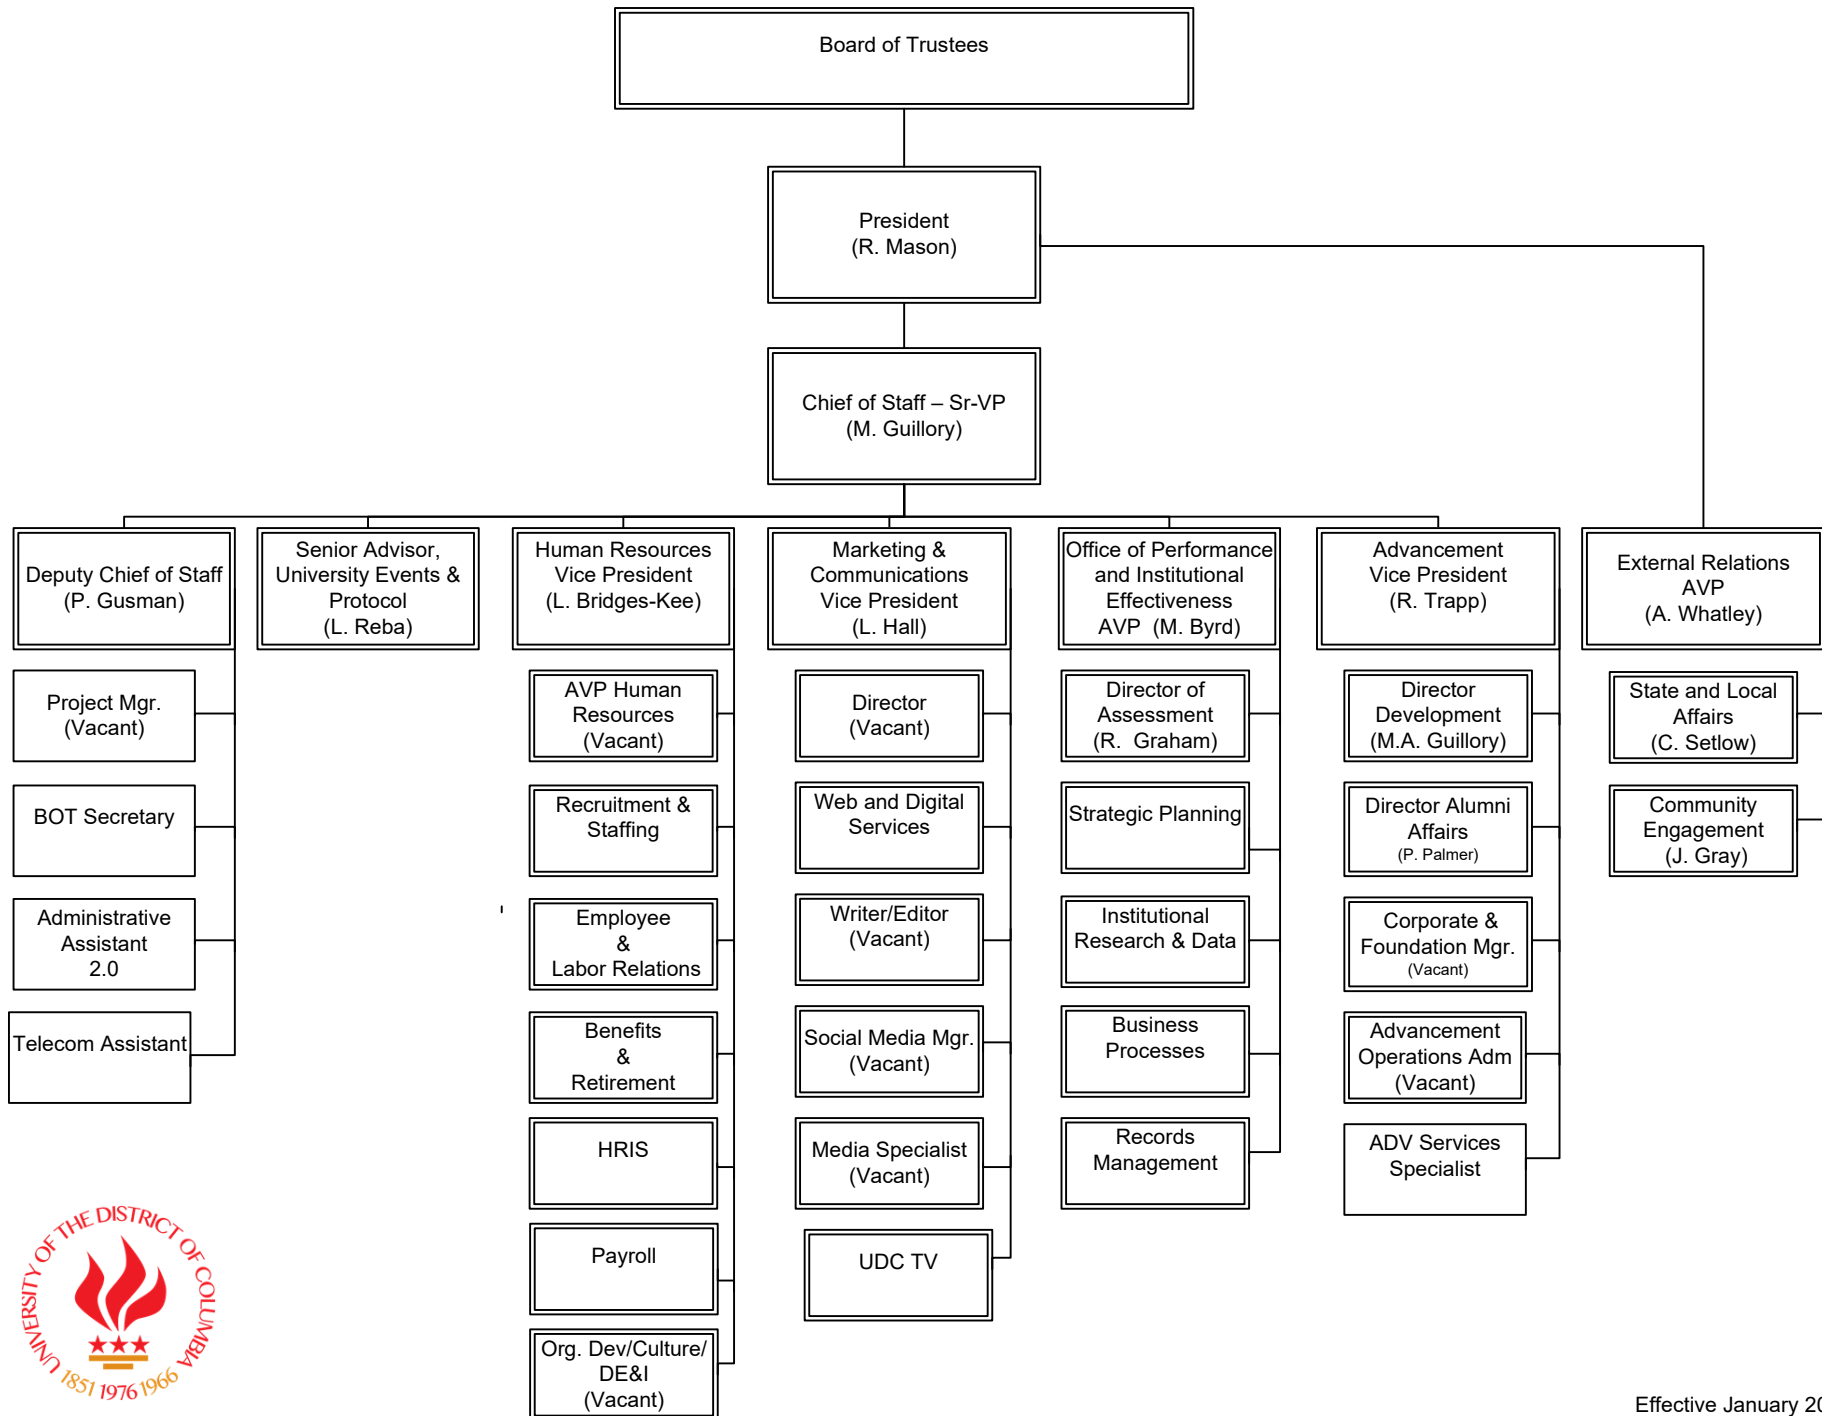

58. Please describe any other successes or challenges experienced by the University during FY 2022 and FY 2023 to date not already discussed.

I. Enhancement Request Snapshot

Agency Name: The University of the District of Columbia

Agency Code: GG0

Enhancement title: Facilities Initiative

This request is priority #_1_ out of _4_ for this agency.

Agency Point of Contact: Troy LeMaile-Stovall

Date:

What is the amount of Local funds requested?

Personal Services (PS) Funds	Non-Personal Services (NPS) Funds	Total Funds
$768,000	$1,732,000	$2,500,000

Number of new FTEs requested: 13

What type of cost will this enhancement be? (select one)

One-time / Partially recurring / Recurring

If it is a recurring, or partially recurring cost, what do you estimate to be the costs in each of the following years?

FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024
$500,000	$500,000	$500,000

Please summarize this enhancement in two sentences, where the first sentence tells us what the enhancement is, and the second sentence tells us what the expected impact of the enhancement would be:

This enhancement will increase the University's facilities operating budget to help meet rising maintenance costs related to our 50-year-old physical plant. The expected impact will provide UDC the ability to attempt to maintain an environment that is minimally conducive for teaching and learning, until the required capital investments are realized.

Please detail here or in an attached spreadsheet what the requested funds would purchase (personnel, equipment, contracts, etc.). For each proposed FTE, list the proposed grade and position type/title.

Superintendent Boiler Operator Grade 7(1-FTE)

Boiler Plant Operator Lead Grade 11 (1-FTE)

Maintenance Mechanic Grade 11 (11-FTE's)

Day-to-Day Service Contracts (janitorial, HVAC, elevator maintenance/repairs, etc.)

II. Rationale

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?

The nation's capital is home to some of the richest Americans, and some of the poorest. In order for the District to guarantee all residents a fair shot in life and better jobs, many more people must be educated and trained. UDC offers the best path to the middle class for many in District. It is the only public source of higher education in the District. It is affordable, accessible, and more times than not, the only place that financially challenged District residents can turn for college degrees and training consistent with the demand of the job market.

The current state of UDC facilities inhibits teaching and learning. Issues with heating and cooling, elevators, water penetration and electrical infrastructure means loss of classroom and teaching time, inaccessible or uncomfortable facilities, and inability to perform certain teaching and research activities, due to environmental and/or electrical issues.

Our facility infrastructure limits UDC's goal of producing citizens with the skills and abilities to fill in-demand jobs in teaching, STEM, and healthcare.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?

Over the last two decades, the District at large has rebuilt itself and recovered from the budgetary crises that ushered in a Control Board. Those efforts, however, were not focused on UDC. As a result, the physical plant, academic offerings, and other operational needs have not kept pace with peer institutions or market demands.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying reasons?

In 2018, UDC launched its strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, comprised of three goals.

- Goal I: UDC aspires to be a public higher education model for urban student success;
- Goal II: Award more degrees and workforce credentials; and
- Goal III: Graduate passionate lifelong learners who will transform urban space.

UDC has been on a journey of renewal during the last four years, becoming stronger, more sharply focused, and wider-reaching, nurturing both resilience and equity in the District. The District government has financially backed UDC during those years with modest hikes in our budgetary funds, helping the University regain its balance in the District's severe financial crises.

Today, UDC is more stable, with clean audits, accreditation reaffirmations, and a permanent footprint in key locations. It is time to start building the public institution of higher learning that the District require. The sooner UDC is able to reach the goals set forth in our strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, the sooner and better prepared we will be to produce transformative leaders, lifelong learners, and business-ready talent.

The University currently lacks the funds to properly maintain its 50+ year-old physical plant to ensure that our teaching and learning spaces are available for use, and comfortable. Over the last year we lost more than two weeks of classroom time due to our inability to properly maintain temperatures. For more than 1,000 hours, our elevators were unavailable, due to their age and the lack of funds to perform regular maintenance. UDC's facility operating costs are funding at $5.50 per square foot. This request will increase the operating cost to $6.75 per square.

The University has received capital investment from the District. With that said, the needs are still outpacing investment. Over the years, the University has not received additional operating funds to address the impact of Capital Projects coming into service. The University's capital budget request will seek a significant investment in the physical plant to help the University maintain an educational facility that reflects the District's values for public education, as evidenced in the DCPS capital improvement, and investment in DC Public Library facilities. Capital investment will begin to stabilize the University's facilities operating budget in future years.

Is this enhancement a change to an existing program/initiative or a completely new program/initiative?

- X - Change to an existing program/initiative (e.g., adding staff or resources, serving more or a different set of residents, making changes to the service model)
- Completely new program/initiative for DC

Cost-Benefit Analysis and/or Return on Investment: How does the amount invested relate to the anticipated/desired outputs and outcomes?

(if relevant, please also submit a supporting Excel sheet)

Please ensure responses address the following:

- Are there external costs that will be incurred by other parts of DC government or non-government entities?
- Have all ongoing operating, maintenance and/or equipment replacement costs been detailed in the analysis, including potential increases to space needs (if adding FTEs or new activities), utility costs, IT equipment, etc.?

UDC has had to close buildings for a total of two weeks, causing students to miss class time. In addition, UDC has closed facilities due to the environmental conditions of the buildings on campus, resulting in a loss week of work time. The current enhancement allows the University to be more productively utilized. The long-term solution for the modernization of the Van Ness campus is described in the University's capital budget request. Continued operation with the current plant will require continued increased investment in facilities operations.

Will legislative support be required? (Yes/No – If Yes, please submit BSA form)

IMPORTANT: If this enhancement request is for $400,000 or more, you must also complete sections III, and IV. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

III. Draft Project Plan

Please complete this draft project plan to depict how the use of these requested funds would be managed. This will help demonstrate that the plan will enable the delivery of results before the end of the fiscal year. This will also help OBPM determine when full funding will be required for the full implementation of this initiative. Complete as best you can, with the understanding that this draft project plan may evolve if/once the enhancement is granted.

Project Owner: (Who is the single person who will be most responsible for this initiative?)

[If the project owner must be hired, specify who will own the project until that time]

Name: Erik Thompson

Title: Vice President, Capital Assets & Real Estate Services

Email: elthompson@udc.edu

Phone: 202.274.6919

Other Key Team members (Add more as needed):

Name: Cassandra Parker

Title: Capital Program Officer

Role in this project: Ms. Parker will be responsible for the day to day execution of the initiative.

What other agencies or stakeholders would be critical to this project's success, and what communication have you had with them?

Project Timeline: (Place expected milestones, by month. Some months may be blank.)

Preparation for project launch, end of prior Fiscal Year

June 2019:

July: Contract Renewal Negotiation

Aug: Procurement Planning

Sept: Procurement Planning

Fiscal Year starts, funds disbursed

Oct: Execution of Procurement

Nov: Vendor Award

Dec: Vendor Monitoring

Jan 2021: Start Hiring Process

Feb: Select New Hires

March: Assess success of Initiative and Vendor Monitoring/On-Boarding of new hires

April: Vendor Monitoring

May: Vendor Monitoring

June: Assess success of Initiative and Vendor Monitoring. Facilities Assessment

July: Maintenance projects

Aug:

Sept: Assess success of Initiative and Vendor Monitoring

IV. Draft Project Evaluation

Please complete this draft project evaluation to describe evidence that already supports the initiative, metrics that will demonstrate its success, and significant risk and success factors.

OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cited based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous and the study was well-implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

Have questions about the evidence? E-mail thelab@dc.gov. The Lab can pre-review the evidence agencies are thinking of citing, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer ideas on where to look for evidence, help agencies think through the evidence they've found.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement actually achieves the desired outcome for a randomly selected group of residents or neighborhoods?

- Yes, the University is willing to evaluate if the enhancement achieved the desired outcomes.
- No

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome? Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

Fundamental to establishing the model of urban student success is “The importance of School Facilities in Improving Student Outcomes.” UDC operates programs in 14 buildings, totaling approximately 2M square feet of space across six sites, five urban gardens, and a 150-acre farm. The campus includes open spaces, a plaza, amphitheater, and recreation/athletic fields. Nine of the Van Ness campus’s (VNC) 14 buildings and its 730-car parking garage were built in the 1970s and 1980s. Although some significant renovations have occurred, no new buildings were constructed on the campus until a new Student Center was opened in 2016. To heat and cool most campus buildings, the University operates a central power plant containing two chillers and two boilers. In addition to the VNC, the University operates and maintains multiple sites throughout the District. These include the Bertie Backus campus at 5171 South Dakota Avenue NE; the Old Congress Heights site at 3100 Martin Luther King, Jr. Ave SE; the 144-acre Firebird Farm in Beltsville, Maryland; and multiple food hub sites. UDC also leases an 88,000 square foot building at 801 North Capitol Street NE that serves as the command center for the Community College, as well as a hangar at Ronald Reagan National Airport. The University also hosts five academic food hubs in several locations in the District.

UDC's CIP is designed to ensure that all facility renewal and improvement projects are planned, organized, and coordinated in an effective manner that will adequately support the Equity Imperative strategic plan. There are five primary facets of school facilities: acoustics/noise, air quality, lighting, temperature, and space. This request focuses on maintenance of facilities. The University must offer nationally competitive programs that are affordable and accessible to District citizens seeking pathways to the middle class, whether in the form of professional certification or academic degrees.

As UDC continues to raise the quality of support provided to our students, faculty, staff, and District residents, a list of critical projects is developed based on historical information and discussions with key stakeholders. The built environment will play a critical role in allowing the institution to help pave a way to the middle class for many Washingtonians.

Significantly improved facilities will UDC to “create solutions to urban challenges, train and support an exemplary workforce at all levels and in all sectors, and develop transformative, ethical leaders, thus improving access to economic opportunity for all.”

The immediate focus of the facilities team will be to continue to implement critical life-safety and space quality projects, which are necessary to keep our buildings open, and our infrastructure operating in support of the University's mission. This enhancement will be supporting those efforts while long-term capital improvement moves forward through the University Capital Budget Request.

As the pinnacle of the District's public system of education, the University of the District of Columbia will support the District in its continuing effort to be the model of a sustainable, resilient, and equitable community. The University will create solutions to urban challenges, train and support an exemplary workforce at all levels and in all sectors, and develop transformative, ethical leaders, thus improving access to economic opportunity for all. Creating and maintaining adequate facilities are critical to achieving the goals of the Equity Imperative.

Extensive research over the past century has consistently found that school facilities impact teaching and learning in profound ways. Yet, state and local policymakers often overlook the impact facilities can have in improving outcomes for both teachers and students. While improving and maintaining facilities comes at a financial cost, the benefits of such investments often surpass the initial fiscal costs. It is therefore, important policymakers focus greater attention on the impacts of facilities, and adopt a long-term cost-benefit perspective on efforts to improve school facilities.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?

- Yes – the enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Below, indicate how you will make sure your agency will implement the model fully.

X No – the enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why:

The current situation of UDC differs in the age of the plant compared to Maryland. UDC’s current physical plant is 50 years old. Comparable institutions have newer plants with more funding. UDC has an older plant with less funding. The expense to operate the older UDC plant is higher than that of comparable universities.

List agency key performance indicators (KPIs) that will result from this enhancement.

List KPIs from most significant to least. If you are proposing a new KPI, write “NEW” in the columns for FY2018-FY2020 Actual.

	Key Performance Indicator	Directionality	FY2018 Actual	FY2019 Actual	FY2020 Actual	FY2021 Target
1.	Extend the useful life of capital assets		NEW
2.	Planned and schedule replacement of assets		NEW
3.	Reduction of downtime or unplanned maintain of facilities		NEW
4.	To track and report on the number of work orders receiving a response within 2 business days after the ticket is entered into the system.		NEW

V. Proposed Budget Swap

Agencies may be interested in a new program or approach to a problem because they believe it is more effective than what they are currently doing. Enhancements are more likely to be approved if they replace a corresponding, less effective reduction.

Reduction title (from Form 1): _____

Total amount reduced: _____

What evidence is there that this reduction is not achieving desired outcomes? Please describe outcomes from the proposed reduction in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

I. Enhancement Request Snapshot

Agency Name: The University of the District of Columbia
Agency Code: GG0
Enhancement title: Personnel Services Initiative
This request is priority # 3 out of 4 for this agency.
Agency Point of Contact: Troy LeMaile- Stovall
Date: November 8, 2019

What is the amount of Local funds requested?

Personal Services (PS) Funds	Non-Personal Services (NPS) Funds	Total Funds
$2,200,000		$2,200,000

Number of new FTEs requested: 6

What type of cost will this enhancement be? (select one)

One-time / Partially recurring / Recurring

If it is a recurring, or partially recurring cost, what do you estimate to be the costs in each of the following years?

FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024
$400,000	$1,825,000	$450,000

Please summarize this enhancement in two sentences, where the first sentence tells us what the enhancement is, and the second sentence tells us what the expected impact of the enhancement would be:

Investing in human capital is the most significant component of achieving the Equity Imperative and completing the pathway to the middle class. The University needs to focus on two areas: 1) providing competitive compensation for faculty and staff, and 2) acquiring, retaining and developing the talent needed to move the University forward.

Please detail here or in an attached spreadsheet what the requested funds would purchase (personnel, equipment, contracts, etc.). For each proposed FTE, list the proposed grade and position type/title.

Vice President of Marketing Grade 1, Step 1
 Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) for non-union employee $1.4M.
 Market Adjustment $460,000

II. Rationale

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?

The nation’s capital is home to some of the richest Americans, and some of the poorest. In order for the District to guarantee all residents a fair shot in life and better jobs, many more people must be educated and trained. UDC offers the best path to the middle class for many in District. It is the only public source of higher education in the District. It is affordable, accessible, and more times than not, the only place that financially challenged District residents can turn for college degrees and training consistent with the demand of the job market.

Faculty and staff are core to the University’s transformation, and critical to the University’s ability to achieve the goals of the Equity Imperative. The personnel services investment is the largest component of University’s operating budget. Over the last decade, the University has only been able to provide three COLAs to its non-union workforce. A talented workforce that is well-trained and appropriately compensated, will deliver the customer service and quality education the students of the University desire.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?

Over the last two decades, the District at large has rebuilt itself and recovered from the budgetary crises that ushered in a Control Board. Those efforts, however, were not focused on UDC. As a result, the physical plant, academic offerings, and other operational needs have not kept pace with peer institutions or market demands.

UDC has operated with limited resources, which has not allowed it to attract or retain the talented workforce needed to maintain and/or transform UDC into the university of the 21st century, as required by its students and the residents of the District.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying reasons?

In 2018, UDC launched its strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, comprised of three goals.

- Goal I: UDC aspires to be a public higher education model for urban student success;
- Goal II: Award more degrees and workforce credentials; and
- Goal III: Graduate passionate lifelong learners who will transform urban space.

UDC has been on a journey of renewal during the last four years, becoming stronger, more sharply focused, and wider-reaching, nurturing both resilience and equity in the District. The District government has financially backed UDC during those years with modest hikes in our budgetary funds, helping the University regain its balance in the District’s severe financial crises.

Today, UDC is more stable, with clean audits, accreditation reaffirmations, and a permanent footprint in key locations. It is time to start building the public institution of higher learning that the District require. The sooner UDC is able to reach the goals set forth in our strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, the sooner and better prepared we will be to produce transformative leaders, lifelong learners, and business-ready talent.

Building the appropriate workforce requires the acquisition of new talent, retention of the current talent and the repurposing of human capital as necessary. The District's continuing investment is critical to the accomplishment of these objectives. This enhancement will provide the resources to address the critical personnel services needs of UDC in a strategic manner.

Is this enhancement a change to an existing program/initiative or a completely new program/initiative?

- Change to an existing program/initiative (e.g., adding staff or resources, serving more or a different set of residents, making changes to the service model)
- Completely new program/initiative for DC

Cost-Benefit Analysis and/or Return on Investment: How does the amount invested relate to the anticipated/desired outputs and outcomes?

(if relevant, please also submit a supporting Excel sheet)

Please ensure responses address the following:

- Are there external costs that will be incurred by other parts of DC government or non-government entities?
- Have all ongoing operating, maintenance and/or equipment replacement costs been detailed in the analysis, including potential increases to space needs (if adding FTEs or new activities), utility costs, IT equipment, etc.?

Data shows that is expensive to hire new talents for all needs. There is risk in hiring. Organizations must leverage retention and retraining to build the required workforce. Regular Cola's and step increases are key to that effort. UDC has lost significant talent due to salary compression challenges. Keeping and developing staff outweighs the cost of hiring on a large scale.

Will legislative support be required? (Yes/No – If Yes, please submit BSA form)

IMPORTANT: If this enhancement request is for $400,000 or more, you must also complete sections III, and IV. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

III. Draft Project Plan

Please complete this draft project plan to depict how the use of these requested funds would be managed. This will help demonstrate that the plan will enable the delivery of results before the end of the fiscal year. This will also help OBPM determine when full funding will be required for the full implementation of this initiative. Complete as best you can, with the understanding that this draft project plan may evolve if/once the enhancement is granted.

IV. Draft Project Evaluation

Please complete this draft project evaluation to describe evidence that already supports the initiative, metrics that will demonstrate its success, and significant risk and success factors.

OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cited based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous and the study was well-implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

Have questions about the evidence? E-mail thelab@dc.gov. The Lab can pre-review the evidence agencies are thinking of citing, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer ideas on where to look for evidence, help agencies think through the evidence they've found.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement actually achieves the desired outcome for a randomly selected group of residents or neighborhoods?

Yes

No

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome? Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

The University requires an infusion of innovative, talented individuals who are critical thinkers, risk takers and innovators who will support the transformation to becoming a Public Higher Education Model of Urban Student Success, as set forth in the strategic plan, Equity Imperative. Research demonstrates that salaries alone do not motivate employee performance, however, salary issues are an absolute demotivator. Therefore, adopting market-based differentiated pay would attract critical talent, improve retention and, ultimately, support advanced teaching and learning of students.

Market-based compensation will improve retention and morale, and ultimately increase service to all students. The ability to offer differentiated pay provides an opportunity to adjust salaries for hard to fill positions, to reflect the market reality. The District has become a magnet for new residents with new cutting-edge talents. UDC needs to be able to successfully compete in the war for talent in the Washington metropolitan area against private and for-profit universities, the federal government, and the District government.

Moreover, improved employee retention, and employee morale, will facilitate the University's accomplishment of its Equity Imperative goals. Being able to attract and retain high quality talent that can support advanced teaching and learning will stem the tide of undesirable talent attrition.

The Office of Talent Management will lead UDC effort to review and adjust the compensation structure. The compensation structure will be influenced by the market, peer institutions, aspiring institutions, and several other factors. Moving toward a more competitive compensation is a 3-5-year process for most organizations. FY21 would represent the third year of commitment to investing in the human capital of the University.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?

Yes – the enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Below, indicate how you will make sure your agency will implement the model fully.

UDC does not differ from the model. Higher Education Price Index (HEPI) is a price index specifically related to higher education. UDC is experiencing cost increases in these same areas, and at a similar rate. It should be able to attract critical talent, and improve retention and service delivery, which will ultimately enable us to “aspire, accomplish, and take on the world!”

No – the enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why:

List agency key performance indicators (KPIs) that will result from this enhancement.

List KPIs from most significant to least. If you are proposing a new KPI, write “NEW” in the columns for FY2018-FY2020 Actual.

	Key Performance Indicator	Directionality	FY2018 Actual	FY2019 Actual	FY2020 Actual	FY2021 Target
1.	Time to hire: 45 days from date of posting to new employee orientation (excludes hard to fill and executive-level positions)		NEW
2.	Time to classify: 65 days for new positions classification, reclassification of existing position, or conduct a desk audit		NEW
3.	Increase in Employee Retention		NEW

V. Proposed Budget Swap

Agencies may be interested in a new program or approach to a problem because they believe it is more effective than what they are currently doing. Enhancements are more likely to be approved if they replace a corresponding, less effective reduction.

Reduction title (from Form 1): _____

Total amount reduced: _____

What evidence is there that this reduction is not achieving desired outcomes? Please describe outcomes from the proposed reduction in the District and/or in other cities. I. Enhancement Request Snapshot

Agency Name: The University of the District of Columbia (UDC)

Agency Code: GG0

Enhancement title: Academic Pathways

This request is priority #_4_ out of _4_ for this agency.

Agency Point of Contact: Troy LeMaile-Stovall

Date: November 8, 2019

What is the amount of Local funds requested?

Personal Services (PS) Funds	Non-Personal Services (NPS) Funds	Total Funds
$1,346,500	$153,500	$1,500,000

Number of new FTEs requested:

What type of cost will this enhancement be? (select one)

One-time / Partially recurring / Recurring

If it is a recurring, or partially recurring cost, what do you estimate to be the costs in each of the following years?

FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024
$2,902,667	$4,305,334	$5,708,000

Please summarize this enhancement in two sentences, where the first sentence tells us what the enhancement is, and the second sentence tells us what the expected impact of the enhancement would be:

UDC will develop three structured guided pathways to ensure that we are providing relevant and distinctive academic programs. These programs are designed to meet the workforce needs of the District and the region.

Please detail here or in an attached spreadsheet what the requested funds would purchase (personnel, equipment, contracts, etc.). For each proposed FTE, list the proposed grade and position type/title.

Faculty Positions (7-FTEs) – Range in rank from Instructor to Associate Professor

Initial equipment purchases for labs

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?

The nation’s capital is home to some of the richest Americans, and some of the poorest. In order for the District to guarantee all residents a fair shot in life and better jobs, many more people must be educated and trained. UDC offers the best path to the middle class for many in District. It is the only public source of higher education in the District. It is affordable, accessible, and more times than not, the only place that financially challenged District residents can turn for college degrees and training consistent with the demand of the job market.

It is becoming increasingly evident that equitable access to high quality learning environments is a critical social justice issue of our time. The educational equity imperative demands that schools and educators provide all students, regardless of color, creed, cultural or ethnic identity, community, family structure, gender identification and/or learning differences or interests, with appropriate access to instruction and support that will help them reach their full human potential, as well as meet or exceed common standards for achievement. Within the past few years there has been an increased emphasis on student development of college and career-ready skills.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?

Over the last two decades, the District at large has rebuilt itself and recovered from the budgetary crises that ushered in a Control Board. Those efforts, however, were not focused on UDC. As a result, the physical plant, academic offerings, and other operational needs have not kept pace with peer institutions or market demands.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying reasons?

In 2018, UDC launched its strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, comprised of three goals.

- Goal I: UDC aspires to be a public higher education model for urban student success;
- Goal II: Award more degrees and workforce credentials; and
- Goal III: Graduate passionate lifelong learners who will transform urban space.

UDC has been on a journey of renewal during the last four years, becoming stronger, more sharply focused, and wider-reaching, nurturing both resilience and equity in the District. The District government has financially backed UDC during those years with modest hikes in our budgetary funds, helping the University regain its balance in the District’s severe financial crises.

Today, UDC is more stable, with clean audits, accreditation reaffirmations, and a permanent footprint in key locations. It is time to start building the public institution of higher learning that the District require. The sooner UDC is able to reach the goals set forth in our strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, the sooner and better prepared we will be to produce transformative leaders, lifelong learners, and business-ready talent.

Based on recommendations from the EMSI study and the aspirational goals outlined in the Equity Imperative, UDC will develop structured guided pathways to ensure that we are providing relevant and distinctive academic programs designed to meet the workforce demands and needs of the District and the region. An efficient labor market requires a seamless flow of skilled workers between the educational institutions that train them and the employers that hire them. One factor behind workforce misalignment occurs when employer needs evolve differently than educational programs.

Healthcare Pipeline

UDC is able to supply a healthcare pipeline that travels from entry level care workers to those who earn Bachelor's of Science degrees in Nursing. Nursing continues to be one of the most in-demand professions as highlighted by a recently released Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) study indicating a change from previously projected job growth that placing registered nurses at the top of most lists.

In 2015, UDC-Community College's (UDC-CC) Applied Associate's Degree in Nursing (AAS) program lost its accreditation. For the past three years, the AAS Nursing program has been rebuilding the curriculum, clinical rotations, equipment, and faculty development.

As a result of such efforts, the UDC-CC AAS Nursing program received "Initial Approval" as a new program from the DC Board of Nursing in October 2019. That was followed by a peer-review site team visit by Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN) in October. All initial data indicates that the AAS Nursing program will be re-accredited in March 2020. In addition, in May 2019, 18 students completed and graduated with the AAS Nursing degree from UDC. Of the 18 graduates, 17 took the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) board exams between May and September 2019 and passed on the first time. UDC-CC's AAS Nursing program's NCLEX first-time pass rate is 94% and is the second-highest first-time nursing student pass rate (next to Georgetown University, with a 96% NCLEX first-time pass rate).

In anticipation of ACEN re-accreditation, UDC-CC's AAS Nursing and UDC's RN to BSN programs have begun the internal work necessary to build a guided pathway in nursing. UDC has a unique opportunity to build a pathway from the CNA (certificate) to the AAS (Associate's degree) to the RN to BSN (a bachelor's degree in nursing currently accredited by ACEN). The RN to BSN Nursing program is being converted to a completely online offering which will allow students who graduate from the AAS Nursing program to seek full-time employment while continuing their nursing education pathway to earn a bachelor's degree in nursing. Additionally, other students who have passed the NCLEX and hold an associate's degree in Nursing would be eligible to enroll in the RN to BSN online program.

That makes UDC-CC and UDC's RN to BSN Nursing programs attractive to aspiring healthcare professionals. With the enhancement funding, UDC-CC AAS Nursing and UDC RN to BSN Nursing programs will have capacity to enroll up to 40 students per year (20 in each program), based on the size of instructional space, student-to-faculty ratio, curricular innovations, and clinical rotation placements. Over the next four years, UDC nursing programs project graduating 160 new board-certified nurses for the District's workforce. The size and quality of nursing programs are dictated by the DC Board of Nursing and the accreditor (ACEN). The capacity will increase over time to meet critical needs as one pathway to the healthcare profession.

The pathway would require three FTE positions to meet the ACEN standards to deliver the seamless pathway curriculum, clinical rotations, and board certification prep at the associate's and bachelor's degree levels. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries, fringe benefits, and support for instructional materials (e.g., specialty software for curricular training and development). A total four-year investment of $1,395,000 will be required to complete the pipeline.

STEM Pipeline

UDC is able to supply a STEM workforce pipeline from coders to PhDs in Engineering and Computer Science. According to recent research a strong cradle to career STEM education prepares students for high-demand jobs, and contributes to the vitality of their families, communities, and local economies. Students in technology/engineering/STEM classes learn and practice skills that prepare them for diverse post-high school education and training opportunities, from apprenticeships and two-year college programs, to four-year colleges and graduate programs. UDC's ABET-accredited engineering and computer science programs and the newly approved associate's degree in Information Technology, provide opportunities to develop a high-demand seamless pathway.

STEM pathways are organically emerging across all UDC campuses including the Community College with external partners such as Amazon, DOD-Navy (Carderock), NASA, Penn State Applied Research Laboratory, Johns Hopkins Carey Business School (Big Data, Data Analytics, Business Analytics, Logistics) as well as many others. The partnerships underscore a major shift in the future of collaborative academic program models (interdisciplinary), which forces UDC to break away from "silo" offerings and create "meta-majors" which cut across academic disciplines and artificially imposed boundaries.

The need for automotive technicians is embedded in the broader technology workforce demands. The automotive dealers in the region are seeking to hire automotive technicians. Despite the high demand for technicians, there is not an active workforce or associate's degree in applied science automotive program in the District of Columbia. Automotive programs contain levels of STEM education that prepare students for high demand automotive technology industry placements.

Enhancement funding is needed to allow UDC STEM programs to have the capacity to offer more two-year degree programs leading directly to jobs, as well as stackable credentials embedded along the traditional four-year degree offerings. Funding will allow UDC to target at least 100 more STEM majors per year over the next four years, giving UDC the ability to graduate 300-400 new STEM graduates. The limitation will be outdated lab space, therefore funding is required to construct state-of-the-art lab spaces. Capacity will increase over time to meet the growing STEM and industry employment needs of the District and the region.

The pathway would require three FTE positions to deliver a seamless pathway curriculum, specialized workshops/trainings at the associate's-level, and competitive bachelor's and master's degree programs in homeland security, cybersecurity, applied intelligence, artificial intelligence. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries, fringe benefits, and support for instructional materials (e.g., specialty software for computing, engineering, and automotive technology). The total four-year investment required to complete the pipeline is $3,260,000.

Teacher Preparation

Currently, UDC is able to supply teachers from toddler care through adult education. Effective educators are developed, not born. Their preparation begins in colleges and universities and persists through professional development during their careers. As the needs of student learners evolve, so too must UDC's development of educators. This enhancement will support the expansion of teacher preparation options needed to address the shortage and quality of public-school teachers in the District of Columbia. UDC is committed to increasing the number of qualified lead teachers in public schools (DCPS and Public Charter), community-based schools, and Head Start Programs. With increasing state regulation and national accreditation standards, UDC will offer teacher preparation training for the associate's and master's degrees in education.

Borrowing from its historical legacy of providing quality educators of color for DC's public schools, UDC will design and launch UDC Teacher Pathway Inclusion Program (TPIP). TPIP will be dedicated to offering a solution to the teacher shortage, and addressing the need for more teachers from diverse backgrounds. TPIP will offer an urban community-focused approach to supporting future teachers through partnerships with DCPS/DCPCS, and paraprofessionals who aspire to be in K-12 classrooms. TPIP will develop and offer a streamlined educational pathway, scholarships, and other educational and financial support.

Initially, students and paraprofessionals in DCPS/DCPCS and UDC-CC will be identified as future teacher leaders and connected with UDC-TPIP. The program will be a collaboration between UDC's Division of Education, Health and Social Work (DEHS), UDC-CC, DCPS/DCPCS. It will include discounted tuition for participating UDC-CC students and DCPS/DCPCS, to encourage high school students and paraprofessionals to pursue teaching degrees. Through the program, students can earn their bachelor's degree and teaching credential, concurrently at UDC Van Ness.

Equally important is a need to reinvest in current education programs to ensure academic rigor and professional training. Also, Clinical, internships and training models should align with the standards for school counseling, rehabilitative counseling, and social work. Each of these existing disciplines in which we train professionals for the workforce, undergird and provide a range of professional services accessed by students and families within the educational sector. Connecting teacher training with professional services positions our graduates and future teachers to be better prepared at supporting the needs of urban students and families. Enhancement funding for teacher preparation and support services programs will provide the capacity to develop a cohort model teacher pathway inclusion program and dedicate efforts to enhancing current teacher and support service programs.

Using a cohort model pathway program for teacher inclusion, UDC can admit up to 30 students per cohort, and provide the intense hands-on preparation and development needed to build a District educators pipeline. This model will require dedicated personnel to coach, mentor, and follow students through various program levels. Additional and ongoing expertise will be needed to meet CAEP and OSSE accreditation requirements. The capacity to target at least 30 more education majors per year over the next four years will give UDC the ability to graduate 30 new teachers annually for DCPS/DCPCS. The capacity will increase over time to meet the teacher education shortage.

The pathway would require four FTE positions to deliver the seamless pathway curriculum, workshops and trainings at the associate’s level, and prepare students for Praxis I. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries, fringe benefits, and support for instructional materials. The total investment required to complete this pipeline is $1,053,000.

Is this enhancement a change to an existing program/initiative or a completely new program/initiative?

- Change to an existing program/initiative (e.g., adding staff or resources, serving more or a different set of residents, making changes to the service model)
- Completely new program/initiative for DC

Cost-Benefit Analysis and/or Return on Investment: How does the amount invested relate to the anticipated/desired outputs and outcomes?

There are no anticipated external costs by other District agencies or non-government entities.

IV. Draft Project Evaluation

Please complete this draft project evaluation to describe evidence that already supports the initiative, metrics that will demonstrate its success, and significant risk and success factors.

OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cited based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well-implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

Have questions about the evidence? E-mail thelab@dc.gov. The Lab can pre-review the evidence agencies are thinking of citing, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer ideas on where to look for evidence, help agencies think through the evidence they've found.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement actually achieves the desired outcome for a randomly selected group of residents or neighborhoods?

- Yes
 No

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome? Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

It is commonly accepted now that for students to be able to successfully compete and contribute in a global information-intensive economy and society after graduation, they must be fluent in new essential workplace skills including critical thinking, collaboration, creativity and communications. However, disparities in community or school resources, teacher quality, administrator leadership, and family and community engagement levels have too often resulted in an uneven patchwork of learning experiences or environments for children with longstanding implications.

A 2015 Gallup-Lumina Higher Education study indicated that Americans have high postsecondary aspirations, but barriers remain. Americans still believe that higher education is the key to better jobs and better lives, but challenges continue to make it difficult to realize a postsecondary credential or degree. This trend is even more pronounced for African American, Hispanic, and American Indian students – high aspirations, lower than average attainment rates.

Almost half of the adult population in the District identifies as Black, non-Hispanic. Of this group, half have a high school diploma level of education or less which is 106,900 Black, non-Hispanic adults in the District with a high school diploma or less. In addition, about 22,800 Hispanic adults in the District, which represent about half this group's adults, have a high school diploma level of education or less.¹ UDC should pay close attention to the educational needs of these population groups and implement strategies for their engagement with postsecondary higher education. According to the EMSI study, in order to close the employment opportunity gaps in the District, citizens of the District will need to be connected to intentional pathway structures that will provide an academic credential, which leads to direct employment.

Across higher education, institutions are searching for ways to help their students succeed. Definitions of success can vary—from on-time graduation to certificate completion to improved transfer rates—yet regardless of type or size, all institutions want their students to achieve the goals they enrolled with, accrue as little debt as possible, and gain the skills and knowledge they need to help them succeed in the workplace. Heightened scrutiny from policymakers, an increase in performance-based funding, the rising cost of education, and growing challenges in the job market add urgency to this essential responsibility. While some hurdles to student success are more easily cleared than others, most institutions have room for improvements in their program design, advising services, degree tracking, and student support resources.

Outcomes

The guided pathways model is designed to deliver several benefits to students and UDC:

- Increased retention: Clearly defined programs, combined with continuous progress tracking, help keep students on track.
- Improved student engagement: By guiding students toward majors that reflect their strengths and interests, UDC can help students stay motivated.
- Increased on-time graduation: Students who follow a structured path complete their degrees or certificates more quickly.
- Reduced debt: Students who take fewer courses unrelated to their goals spend less time in school, reducing their need for financial aid.
- Improved career prospects: Aligning critical, in-demand skills with program development means graduates have an edge in today's challenging job market.
- A model for success: A successful curriculum restructuring can point the way toward other institutional reforms that can improve retention and completion.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?

¹ EMSI study completed for UDC-CC in 2017.

Yes – the enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Below, indicate how you will make sure your agency will implement the model fully.

- No – the enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why:

List agency key performance indicators (KPIs) that will result from this enhancement.

List KPIs from most significant to least. If you are proposing a new KPI, write “NEW” in the columns for FY2018-FY2020 Actual.

V. Proposed Budget Swap

Agencies may be interested in a new program or approach to a problem because they believe it is more effective than what they are currently doing. Enhancements are more likely to be approved if they replace a corresponding, less effective reduction.

One-time / Partially recurring / Recurring

If it is a recurring, or partially recurring cost, what do you estimate to be the costs in each of the following years?

FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024

Please summarize this enhancement in two sentences, where the first sentence tells us what the enhancement is, and the second sentence tells us what the expected impact of the enhancement would be:

Ensure the District's two-year $9.4M IT investment is properly supported, with the necessary funds for the yearly licensing fees required to support the new infrastructure. The new infrastructure has led to significant increases in speed for wired and wireless access, increased security to limit breaches, and an uptime for primary applications approaching 99.99%.

Please detail here or in an attached spreadsheet what the requested funds would purchase (personnel, equipment, contracts, etc.). For each proposed FTE, list the proposed grade and position type/title.

The request would fund contract and equipment purchases - Cisco refresh ($500,000), Xerox upgrade ($410,000), Ellucian cloud (BANNER) support ($500,000) and Intra District MOU with OCTO ($90,000).

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?

The nation’s capital is home to some of the richest Americans, and some of the poorest. In order for the District to guarantee all residents a fair shot in life and better jobs, many more people must be educated and trained. UDC offers the best path to the middle class for many in District. It is the only public source of higher education in the District. It is affordable, accessible, and more times than not, the only place that financially challenged District residents can turn for college degrees and training consistent with the demand of the job market.

Foundational to meeting, the strategic plan Equity Imperative goal of creating a new model of urban higher education that produces transformative urban leaders for the District’s middle class is a state-of-the-art, secure, and reliable technology infrastructure. Until FY19, UDC’s technology infrastructure consisted of 20+-year servers, outdated security measures, and unreliable and slow internet access. The District’s continued investment is critical to the UDC’s technology plan.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?

Over the last two decades, the District at large has rebuilt itself and recovered from the budgetary crises that ushered in a Control Board. Those efforts, however, were not focused on UDC. As a result, the physical plant, academic offerings, and other operational needs have not kept pace with peer institutions or market demands.

Prior to FY19, UDC lacked adequate funding to invest in its core technology infrastructure. The cuts imposed by the Control Board were never restored and led to an IT infrastructure that until recently was unreliable and unable to support demands of our faculty, staff, and most importantly, students.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying reasons?

In 2018, UDC launched its strategic plan, the Equity Imperative , comprised of three goals.

- Goal I: UDC aspires to be a public higher education model for urban student success;
- Goal II: Award more degrees and workforce credentials; and
- Goal III: Graduate passionate lifelong learners who will transform urban space.

UDC has been on a journey of renewal during the last four years, becoming stronger, more sharply focused, and wider-reaching, nurturing both resilience and equity in the District. The District government has financially backed UDC during those years with modest hikes in our budgetary funds, helping the University regain its balance in the District’s severe financial crises.

Today, UDC is more stable, with clean audits, accreditation reaffirmations, and a permanent footprint in key locations. It is time to start building the public institution of higher learning that the District require. The sooner UDC is able to reach the goals set forth in our strategic plan, the Equity Imperative, the sooner and better prepared we will be to produce transformative leaders, lifelong learners, and business-ready talent.

The $1.5M in one-time IT funds is requested to ensure the District's $9.4M IT investment is properly supported with the necessary funds for the yearly licensing fees required to support the new infrastructure. The new infrastructure has led to significant increases in speed for wired and wireless access, increased security to limit breaches, and an uptime for primary applications approaching 99.99%.

Is this enhancement a change to an existing program/initiative or a completely new program/initiative?

to an existing program/initiative (e.g., adding staff or resources, serving more or a different set of residents, making changes to the service model)

Completely new program/initiative for DC

Cost-Benefit Analysis and/or Return on Investment: How does the amount invested relate to the anticipated/desired outputs and outcomes?

(if relevant, please also submit a supporting Excel sheet)

Please ensure responses address the following:

- Are there external costs that will be incurred by other parts of DC government or non-government entities?
- Have all ongoing operating, maintenance and/or equipment replacement costs been detailed in the analysis, including potential increases to space needs (if adding FTEs or new activities), utility costs, IT equipment, etc.?

The cost benefits in this request will fortify the investment from the District in FY19, $4.7M (One-Time) and the FY20, $4.7M (One-Time). Technology is irretrievably part of our society. Students expect UDC to provide enhanced technology services and integration.

Will legislative support be required? (Yes/No – If Yes, please submit BSA form)

IMPORTANT: If this enhancement request is for $400,000 or more, you must also complete sections III, and IV. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

III. Draft Project Plan

Please complete this draft project plan to depict how the use of these requested funds would be managed. This will help demonstrate that the plan will enable the delivery of results before the end of the fiscal year. This will also help OBPM determine when full funding will be required for the full implementation of this initiative. Complete as best you can, with the understanding that this draft project plan may evolve if/once the enhancement is granted.

IV. Draft Project Evaluation

Please complete this draft project evaluation to describe evidence that already supports the initiative, metrics that will demonstrate its success, and significant risk and success factors.

OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cited based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous and the study was well-implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

Have questions about the evidence? E-mail thelab@dc.gov. The Lab can pre-review the evidence agencies are thinking of citing, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer ideas on where to look for evidence, help agencies think through the evidence they've found.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement actually achieves the desired outcome for a randomly selected group of residents or neighborhoods?

- Yes
 No

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome? Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

UDC received information technology infrastructure enhancement funding in FY19 and FY20. Based on the FY19 funding of $4.7M (One-Time), UDC was able to accomplish the following:

- In FY 19, ISM closed a deal totaling $5.4 M for IT equipment and services necessary to modernize the entire UDC network ecosystem. This deal resulted in the upgrade of all core communication systems, wifi, and inter-site connectivity. Additionally, this deal has provided for a state of the art security system for all network and Internet traffic, enhanced monitoring capabilities, and improved security camera operations
- ISM upgraded 70% of all UDC computers to Windows 10, resulting in a more secure and robust operating environment for its end users
- ISM continued to implement its cloud first approach to operational computing by migrating the University's core application, Banner, to the cloud
- ISM implemented a cloud-based user portal which provides enhanced functionality, security, and ease of use through identity management and single sign-on capability
- ISM purchased more than 350 new computers for distribution across the campus for users who currently have machines that are not capable of supporting Windows 10

- ISM purchased 23 WebEx integrated interactive touchscreen whiteboards for distribution to conference rooms and classrooms across the University
- ISM purchased six new servers to improve data center operations
- In partnership with the Center for Applied Learning, ISM migrated the University's Learning Management System (Blackboard) into a SaaS-based cloud platform
- In partnership with CARES, ISM broke ground on the creation of a new, state of the art data center
- In partnership with CARES, ISM brought 2 new buildings online with wide area network, internet, and wifi capabilities
- ISM has begun implementing and modernizing the UDC telephone system by migrating to a state of the art, cloud-based VoIP platform

This is evidence that continued investment in the University's technology will yield a positive return on investment for the District residents.

Technology has an important impact on all aspects of higher education worldwide. Institutions of higher education are seeing technology trends in four areas 1) Video 2) Learning Management Systems (LMS), 3) Collaborative Platforms (for group and remote work), and 4) Data Visualization/Big Data.

UDC's strategic plan – The Equity Imperative -- sets forth in Goal 1, "Establish in the District of Columbia a Public Higher Education Model of Urban Student Success." Technology and the future of higher education are evolving every day. Institutions must be able to provide more content and information to university stakeholders on and off the campus at a rapid pace. Creating the bandwidth to assess effectiveness is a large challenge, and the investment required can appear unlimited for administrators and legislatures. The University of the District of Columbia is currently behind many universities in the area. This enhancement request will continue the needed investment to upgrade the University.

According to Rich DeMillo, Director of the Center for 21st Century Universities, Georgia Institute of Technology, "We shouldn't assume that students are going to wait for us to catch up to them. We need to reach out and meet them where they are now. And right now, they're online." The residents of the District would benefit greater from continued investment in technology at the University. Results will yield increased graduation rates and completion of certificate programs at the University.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?

X -Yes – the enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from, and the population served is similar. Below, indicate how you will make sure your agency will implement the model fully.

The FY21 enhancement request is similar to the evidence presented. The FY19 ($4.7M One-Time) funding provided by the District did yield positive results for students, faculty, and staff. UDC has started FY20 with a plan to yield positive results and sees no reason the FY20 results will not build on the impact of the FY19 funding. This enhancement will support the original two years of investment, totaling over $9M.

No – the enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why:

List agency key performance indicators (KPIs) that will result from this enhancement.

List KPIs from most significant to least. If you are proposing a new KPI, write “NEW” in the columns for FY2018-FY2020 Actual.

V. Proposed Budget Swap

Agencies may be interested in a new program or approach to a problem because they believe it is more effective than what they are currently doing. Enhancements are more likely to be approved if they replace a corresponding, less effective reduction.

Reduction title (from Form 1): _____

Total amount reduced: _____

What evidence is there that this reduction is not achieving desired outcomes? Please describe outcomes from the proposed reduction in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

I. Enhancement Request Snapshot

Agency Name: The University of the District of Columbia
Agency Code: GG0
Enhancement title: NEA Faculty COLA Initiative
This request is priority #_5_ out of _5_ for this agency.
Agency Point of Contact: Troy LeMaile- Stovall
Date: December 9, 2019

What is the amount of Local funds requested?

Personal Services (PS) Funds	Non-Personal Services (NPS) Funds	Total Funds
$1,503,037		$1,503,037

Number of new FTEs requested: 0

What type of cost will this enhancement be? (select one)

One-time / Partially recurring / Recurring

If it is a recurring, or partially recurring cost, what do you estimate to be the costs in each of the following years?

FY 2022	FY 2023	FY 2024
$981,133	$981,133	$981,133

Please summarize this enhancement in two sentences, where the first sentence tells us what the enhancement is, and the second sentence tells us what the expected impact of the enhancement would be:

In December 2019, the University successfully completed collective bargaining for faculty members represented by the Faculty Association (FA), National Education Association (NEA) for contract years FY16-22. The agreement requires the university administration to request funding from the City for a 3% COLA and a one-time payment for selected faculty in FY21. The university has identified funding to address the FY16-20 commitments in the new agreement.

Please detail here or in an attached spreadsheet what the requested funds would purchase (personnel, equipment, contracts, etc.). For each proposed FTE, list the proposed grade and position type/title.

See Attached

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?

Many D.C. residents fail to obtain the credentials required to earn enough income to claim membership in the middle class. The University of the District of Columbia (UDC) offers the best path to the middle class for many in D.C. It is the only public postsecondary institution in the District. It is affordable, accessible, and more times than not, the only place that financially challenged D.C. residents can turn for college degrees and training that match demand in the job market.

Faculty members are essential to the University’s transformation and critical to the University’s ability to achieve the goals of the Equity Imperative. A talented faculty that is well trained and appropriately compensated will deliver the quality of instruction demanded by our students. Market research has shown that many faculty in UDC’s colleges and schools are paid salaries below those offered at other public universities and that most of our faculty in the School of Business and Public Administration and the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences are being paid between 30%-40% below the market at their respective discipline and rank.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?

UDC operates with limited resources. These resources have limited the University’s ability to attract or retain the faculty needed to transform UDC into the 21st century institution required to meet needs of its students and the residents of the District.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying reasons?

Today, UDC is more stable than it has been in its recent past, experiencing clean audits, and accreditation reaffirmations, and has established a permanent footprint in key locations in the city.

But in every postsecondary institution, the faculty represents the core human resource essential to achieving its mission and attaining excellence. The critical factor in the institution’s ability to attract and retain faculty is compensation. The 8th Master Agreement increases salaries to a level at which UDC will be competitive with comparable public university’s regionally and nationally at least through FY 2020. Funding this request will maintain market competitive salaries for faculty in FY 2021. Is this enhancement a change to an existing program/initiative or a completely new program/initiative?

- Change to an existing program/initiative (e.g., adding staff or resources, serving more or a different set of residents, making changes to the service model)
- Completely new program/initiative for DC

Cost-Benefit Analysis and/or Return on Investment: How does the amount invested relate to the anticipated/desired outputs and outcomes?

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District and/or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies as well as lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to or cite your sources.

The Faculty in Higher Education Survey completed by The College and University Professional Association for Human Resources (CUPA-HR) annually collects data from approximately 850 higher education institutions on nearly 260,000 full-time faculty (tenure track and non-tenure track), as well as academic department heads and adjunct (pay-per-course) faculty. Data collected for full-time faculty include: base salary, supplemental salary and course relief (for department heads), discipline (by IPEDS CIP code), rank, highest degree attained, gender, race/ethnicity, age, and years in rank. The annual market-based compensation data was updated each year during the faculty negotiations to ensure the University remained focused on providing faculty with accurate market-based compensation based on discipline as well as the inclusion of a locality increase to ensure market salaries were competitive in the DMV as well.

The University is committed to market-competitive compensation that is disciplined based. The CUPA-HR compensation study confirmed UDC faculty members are compensated below salaries offered at other public universities and more egregious are salaries in the School of Business and Public Administration (SBPA) and the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences (SEAS) falling well below 30% - 40% of the market for those disciplines and rank. Finally, UDC faculty have not received a salary increase or Cost of Living Allowance (COLA) since 2014.

The CUPA-HR compensation study confirmed that UDC faculty members are compensated below salaries offered at other public universities and more egregious are salaries in the School of Business and Public Administration (SBPA) and the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences (SEAS) falling well below 30% - 40% of the market for those disciplines and rank. Finally, UDC faculty have not received a salary increase or Cost of Living Allowance (COLA) since 2014.

In the area of recruitment, over the past three years the University lost 10 critical faculty hires to other institutions due to University's inability to offer competitive salaries. Of the 10 offers extended, 50% were positions in SBPA and SEAS. Like most higher education institutions, UDC is also concerned with faculty retention. In this critical area, however, the University realizes the goal is not to merely retain all faculty but to focus on managing towards dynamic and planned retention and determine what is the reasonable and optimal turnover.

The University requires an infusion of innovative, talented faculty who are critical thinkers, risk takers and innovators who will support the transformation of the University becoming a Public Higher Education Model of Urban Student Success as set forth in the Equity Imperative. Research demonstrates that salaries alone do not motivate employee performance; however, salary issues are an absolute de-motivator. Therefore, providing COLA to faculty on a regular basis is part of the strategy to transform the University.

Market based compensation will improve retention and morale and ultimately improve the delivery of instruction to students. The ability to offer differentiated pay provides the University with the opportunity to adjust salaries for hard to fill positions so they reflect the market reality. The District has become a magnet for new residents with new cutting-edge talents. The University must successfully compete in the war for talent in the DMV with other universities (public, private and for-profit), the federal government and the District agencies.

Moreover, improved employee retention, and employee morale will facilitate the University's accomplishment of its Equity Imperative goals. Being able to attract and retain high quality talent that can support advanced teaching and learning will stem the tide of undesirable talent attrition.

The Office of Talent Management will lead the University's efforts to review and adjust the compensation structure. The compensation structure will be influenced by the market, peer institutions, aspirational institutions and several other factors

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?

- Yes – the enhancement is the result of an analysis similar to faculty compensation models used at other universities. Below, indicate how you will make sure your agency will implement the model fully.

The Office of Talent Management will update this compensation analysis at least every two year and always in advance of future collective bargaining sessions with the Faculty Association. 2: Affordable Learning, Increased Earnings: Building a Skilled, Diverse Nursing Workforce	D. Expand high-performing existing program/activity	Enhancement funds for software, equipment, and staff will help UDC build a skilled, diverse nursing workforce through its reinvigorated accredited nursing programs at the Associate's and Bachelor's levels, providing affordable, convenient high-quality nursing education and clinical experiences for 40 additional licensed registered nurses per cohort to work and serve in the District's healthcare facilities, public agencies, schools, and communities. The District's nursing shortage has drastically increased as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Enhancing UDC's accredited nursing programs will better equip the District to meet the healthcare needs of residents, as well as create an affordable, convenient, high-quality higher education option to train licensed registered nurses from underrepresented African American and Latino residents who will fill higher-income in-demand jobs and grow the District's middle-class.	$500,000	$306,000	$194,000	3.0	$500,000	$315,180	$324,635	2 of 4

AGENCIES: Please use Form 2 to provide additional details about enhancement requests in your FY 2022 budget submission. This information is an important part of the decision-making process. Well thought-out and reasoned requests are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

FY 2022 Enhancements

As always, we eagerly invite fresh, innovative, evidence-based ideas for improving the quality or efficiency of city services. This is especially true as we face unprecedented challenges resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic.

At the same time, we face significant resource constraints that will drastically limit our ability to fund new initiatives in the FY 2022 budget. Therefore, we are seeking your help in identifying thoughtful, viable cost-saving measures that will afford us the opportunity to continue improving the services we provide to our community.

Enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities, or to start completely new programs or activities should include in Section III a budget reduction that offsets the amount of the request in whole or in significant part. Offsetting reductions should be in addition to reductions to meet the agency's MARC. Requests accompanied by viable cost-saving options are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

SECTION II. RATIONALE

Required for ALL requests

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

To create a pipeline for District residents to become District teachers to address the District’s teacher shortage; increase the number of African American and Latino teachers in District schools to better reflect the student population; provide access to high-paying careers for low-income residents at low cost; and inspire children to give back to their communities.

Historically domestic citizens of color are underrepresented in this high-demand career, locally and nationally, and the proposed enhancement will provide a significant local response to this underrepresentation. The COVID-19 pandemic has resulted in at least one positive thing: a much greater appreciation for the importance of public schools and teachers. As parents struggle to work with their children at home due to school closures, public recognition of the essential caretaking role schools play in society has skyrocketed. As young people struggle to learn from home, parents’ gratitude for teachers, their skills, and their invaluable role in student well-being has risen. As communities struggle to take care of their vulnerable children and youth, decisionmakers are having to devise new mechanisms for delivering essential services from food to education to healthcare.

We believe it is also valuable to look at what may be possible for education on the other side of the COVID-19 pandemic. It is hard to imagine there will be another moment in history when the central role of education in the economic, social, and political prosperity and stability of nations is so obvious and well understood by the general population. Now is the time to chart a vision for how education can emerge stronger from this global crisis than ever before and propose a path for capitalizing on education’s newfound support in virtually every community across the globe.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

Low perception of the teaching field, lack of access to affordable higher education for students of color, lack of funding to support degree attainment, lack of preparation at the K-12 level, misperception of earning potential, etc.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

This enhancement will specifically target DCPS and charter school graduates and train them to teach in subject matter areas that continue to be persistent areas of challenge for District students: mathematics, science, and English Language Arts. To grow capacity and improve student success in STEM disciplines that will translate into workforce expansion and economic growth in the District, we must start with strengthening mathematics, science, and English language teaching and learning in our DCPS and DCPCS systems.

This enhancement would hire four professors in our CAEP-accredited Education program to prepare a cohort of Math, Science, and English Language Arts teachers to better educate K-12 students in these areas. UDC has already begun this effort through its collaborations with DC Talent Ready and Capital CoLAB for curricular alignment.

Also, UDC is pursuing a parallel effort with its Katherine G. Johnson Math Teacher Training Institute, partnering with DCPS leaders and teachers to strengthen mathematics curricula and to develop best practices among secondary and middle-school math teachers—practices aligned with teaching methods students will encounter when they arrive at UDC and that will help to advance them to degree completion promptly.

The second crucial focus area is English Language Arts. Oral and written communication skills are foundational to success in any discipline and critical to securing employment and professional advancement after graduation. Again, students who leave K-12 underprepared are at a disadvantage and often fall behind in achieving outcomes in foundational writing and

Form 2: Operating Budget Enhancement Requests

FY 2022 Agency Budget Submission

oral communication-based courses. UDC seeks to bolster its teacher training capacity in this area by adding two FTEs with expertise in English Language Arts to the Education program. Ideally, the Math Teacher Training Institute will serve as a model for developing a similar cooperative training program with DCPS focused on English Language Arts.

Based on recommendations from the EMSI study and the aspirational goals outlined in the Equity Imperative, UDC will develop structured guided pathways to ensure that we are providing relevant and distinctive academic programs designed to meet the workforce demands and needs of the District and the region, while at the same time recruiting that talent to remain in the District.

Using a cohort model pathway program for teacher inclusion, UDC can admit up to 30 students per cohort and provide the intense hands-on preparation and development needed to build a District educators pipeline. This model will require dedicated personnel to coach, mentor, and follow students through various program levels. Additional and ongoing expertise will be needed to meet the CAEP and OSSE accreditation requirements. The capacity to target at least 30 more education majors per year over the next four years will give UDC the ability to graduate 30 new teachers annually for DCPS/DCPCS. The capacity will increase over time to meet the teacher education shortage.

The pathway would require four FTE positions to deliver the seamless pathway curriculum, workshops, and training at the associate's level, and prepare students for Praxis I. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries and fringe benefits and support for instructional materials. The total investment required for over four years is approximately $1,800,000.

Will legislative support be required?*

If yes, please submit a proposed BSA subtitle using Attachment D.

<input type="checkbox"/> E. Completely new program or initiative with highly likely or proven positive outcomes for District residents	What will be the District's return on this investment, as measured by how many and/or which District residents are served, and/or relative social benefit?

Responses to Questions*

UDC can supply teachers for toddler care through adult education, and our current targeted teacher preparation program is doing very well. Last school year we began a new early childhood education program funded by the DC Council targeted towards increasing the number of early childhood multi-lingual teachers. The program quickly filled up with 100+ students, and more had to be turned away due to lack of available funding. This enhancement will support the creation of an additional targeted teacher preparation option needed to address the shortage and quality of public-school teachers in the District of Columbia. UDC is committed to increasing the number of qualified teachers in public schools (DCPS and Charter), community-based, and early childhood programs and dedicated to seeing that those teachers are homegrown. With increased regulated state and national accreditation standards, UDC will offer teacher preparation training from the associate's to a master's degree in education.

SECTION IV. EVALUATION & PERFORMANCE

Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome?*

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District or other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies and lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to cite your sources.

The teacher shortage is real, large, growing, and worse than we thought. When indicators of teacher quality (certification, relevant training, experience, etc.) are considered, the shortage is even more acute than currently estimated, with high-poverty schools suffering the most from the shortage of credentialed teachers.

A shortage of teachers harms students, teachers, and the public education system. Lack of sufficient, qualified teachers and staff instability threatens students' ability to learn and reduces teachers' effectiveness, and high teacher turnover consumes economic resources that could be better deployed elsewhere. The teacher shortage makes it more difficult to build a solid reputation for teaching and to professionalize it, which further contributes to perpetuating the shortage. Also, the fact that the shortage is distributed so unevenly among students of different socioeconomic backgrounds challenges the U.S. education system's goal of providing a sound education equitably to all children Without question, when most students in public schools are students of color and only 18 percent of our teachers are teachers of color, we have an urgent need to act. We have got to understand that all students benefit from teacher diversity. We have strong evidence that students of color benefit from having teachers and leaders who look like them as role models and benefit from the classroom dynamics that diversity creates. But it is also important for our white students to see teachers of color in leadership roles in their classrooms and communities.

Diversity decreases at multiple points across the teacher pipeline in which teachers progress through postsecondary education, teacher preparation programs, and retention. Like completion rates in other fields of study, bachelor degree

EVALUATING ENHANCEMENTS

As part of the budget formulation process, OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cite based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

THE LAB@DC TEAM IS HERE TO HELP!

Have questions about the evidence? Email thelab@dc.gov (and CC your budget analyst). The Lab can pre-review evidence, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer suggestions on where to look for evidence, and help you think through the evidence you've found.

completion rates for students who major in education are lower for black and Hispanic students than for white students. Seventy-three percent of bachelor degree students majoring in education completed their degree six years after beginning postsecondary education. Forty-two percent of black bachelor degree students majoring in education completed their degree six years after beginning postsecondary education. Forty-nine percent of Hispanic bachelor degree students majoring in education completed their degree six years after beginning postsecondary education.

Source: The figures are based on data from the U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics, 2003-04 Beginning Postsecondary Students Longitudinal Study, Second Follow-up (BPS:04/09).

Teacher retention rates are higher among white teachers than for black and Hispanic teachers. HBCUs and alternative routes to teacher certification tend to enroll a more racially diverse population of teacher candidates. Two percent of individuals who are preparing to be teachers are enrolled at HBCUs, but 16 percent of all black teacher candidates attend HBCUs. Alternative routes to teacher certification tend to enroll more racially diverse populations of candidates than traditional teacher preparation programs. Forty-two percent of teacher candidates enrolled in an alternative teacher preparation program not based in an IHE were individuals of color. Thirty-five percent of teacher candidates enrolled in an alternative teacher preparation program based in an IHE were individuals of color. Fewer teacher candidates enrolled in a traditional teacher preparation program (26 percent) were individuals of color.

Source: Values represent the sum of percentages for black or African American, Hispanic/Latino, Asian or Pacific Islander, American Indian or Alaska Native people, and people of Two or more races. The figures are based on data from the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Postsecondary Education (2015); Higher Education Act Title II Reporting System; U.S. Department of Education, National Center for Education Statistics (2015), and the Common Core of Data System (CCDS).

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?*

- YES. The enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Indicate below how you will ensure your agency implements the model fully.
- NO. The enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why.

Based on data from OSSE and DCPS, NCES, and US DoE, UDC will be able to identify gaps and respond to the needs of District schools and modify curriculum, activities, and assessments that yield changes in desired outcomes to GROW its program of teacher preparation from pre-K through secondary education.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement achieves the desired outcome? This could involve piloting the enhancement with District residents or neighborhoods. (The Lab @ DC can provide guidance on how to do this.)*

SECTION II. RATIONALE

Required for ALL requests

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

Washington, DC, faced a nursing shortage before the COVID-19 Pandemic, therefore the District’s recovery in this area should not focus on the recovery of jobs lost like in many other areas, but on the creation of the skilled workforce necessary to access critical jobs that are already available. UDC’s success rate on the national certification exam for registered nurses is well above the national average and second in the District only to Georgetown University and at a fraction of Georgetown’s cost. UDC is producing well trained, degreed, and registered nurses. We are the key to ending the District’s nurse shortage at little to no cost to individuals and families—an opportunity particularly advantageous for the District’s underserved poor African American and Latino residents.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

Obtaining college degrees in nursing can appear to be cost-prohibitive for many low-income families and an impossible challenge for academically underprepared high school graduates. Therefore, many who are interested in healthcare avoid exploring the field altogether or enroll in predatory non-degree-granting for-profit registered nurse related programs. Due to historical underfunding, the physical plant, academic offerings, and other operational needs at UDC have not kept pace with peer institutions or market demands. Without the appropriate levels of funding, UDC was not able to maintain accreditation standards required by health professions to keep the academic programs in place, thereby closing out a low-cost option for interested students. With modest investments over the past five years, UDC has been able to incrementally rebuild healthcare programs (nursing, respiratory therapy, mortuary science, speech-language pathology, mental health counseling), earning the requisite accreditations to operate healthcare and human services offerings. The demand requires that we hire additional professionals to meet faculty-student ratios per healthcare accreditation standards. Without the healthcare faculty lines, UDC cannot educate the number of students to meet these high-demand professions in the District.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

This enhancement will enable UDC to expand offerings to support 40 additional nursing students per cohort by funding three staff members, materials, and software to support virtual learning.

One of the FTE’s will be a “Nursing Program Director,” whose job will be an integration of the overarching nursing programs at UDC, providing strategic direction for the growth of pathways from the RN (associate degree) to the online BSN program at the Van Ness campus. Coordination of the programs is crucial to ensure curricular alignment and synchronization of ACEN accreditation standards across the full pathway. The Nursing Program Director is required by ACEN and the DC Board of Nursing.

The other two FTEs will be dedicated to the online RN-BSN program because that program will run year-round with multiple entry points to support student needs—particularly the needs of students currently working in the District as RNs. The nursing profession has shifted in the past decade to the point that the BSN is becoming seen as the more direct pathway to employment and potential advancement in the profession. According to NurseJournal.org, “An RN-to-BSN program provides a bridge between an associate degree or diploma and a bachelor’s degree. Also, “more states continue to push for the BSN to serve as the new required minimum degree.” The AACN reports that patient care provided by BSNs tends to lead to lower mortality and readmission rates. Those with BSNs may also receive higher salaries (NurseJournal.org: <https://nursejournal.org/bsn-degree/bsn-degree-rn-differences/#faq>). Because RNs attempting to obtain their BSN tend to be working adults, they need flexibility in terms of when they wish to enter a program of study; the online RN-to-BSN program at UDC is designed to provide that flexibility. This program is ideally suited for practicing nurses who wish to advance their careers after having earned their associate degree and RN license.

In addition to doing the internal work of strengthening our nursing programs and seeing results, UDC has been laying the groundwork with our partners to spread the good news. We have been engaging the DC Workforce Investment Council (WIC) as well as the Healthcare Workforce Partnership in conversations to ensure visibility of our programs and program alignment with projections of the District's workforce needs in healthcare. These conversations will also benefit another important accredited program at the associate level, Respiratory Therapy, which has implications for COVID-related care and any future respiratory-related pandemics.

UDC's RN-to-BSN program has been converted to fully online, and courses will be offered to begin January 2021. This was a barrier previously for AAS Nursing students who were graduating and looking to continue their education online. UDC has a unique opportunity to address the nursing shortage with its new pathway from the Workforce Development CNA (certificate) to the AAS (Associate's degree) to the online RN-to-BSN (a bachelor's degree in nursing currently accredited by ACEN).

With the enhancement funding, UDC-CC AAS Nursing and UDC Online RN-to-BSN Nursing programs will have the capacity to enroll up to 40 students per year (20 in each program), based on the size of instructional space, student-to-faculty ratio, curricular innovations, and clinical rotation placements. Over the next four years, UDC nursing programs project graduating 160 new board-certified nurses for the District's workforce. The size and quality of nursing programs are dictated by the DC Board of Nursing and the accreditor (ACEN). The capacity will increase over time to meet critical needs as one pathway to the healthcare profession.

The pathway would require three FTE positions to meet the ACEN standards to deliver the seamless pathway curriculum, clinical rotations, and board certification prep at the associate's and bachelor's degree levels. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries, fringe benefits, and support for instructional materials (e.g., specialty software for curricular training and development). The total investment required for over four years is approximately $1,475,000.

How does this enhancement support the policy priority or priorities identified above?*

The backbone of the healthcare pipeline is the registered nurse. UDC can supply the healthcare pipeline from entry-level care workers (CNA certifications and associate degree) through to a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing at little to no cost.

Responses to Questions*

UDC nursing programs are high performing. We have regained lost accreditations, building out new programs for accreditation, and we are producing RNs well above the national passing rate. The UDC-CC AAS Nursing program received "Initial Approval" as a new program from the DC Board of Nursing in October 2019. The AAS Nursing program was re-accredited in March 2020 just as COVID-19 was announced as a pandemic in the US. Also, in May 2019, 18 students completed and graduated with the AAS Nursing degree from UDC. Of the 18 graduates, 17 took the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) board exams (certification exam to become a registered nurse) between May and September 2019 and passed on the first time. UDC-CC's AAS Nursing program's NCLEX first-time pass rate is 94% and is the second-highest first-time nursing student pass rate (next to Georgetown University, with a 96% NCLEX first-time pass rate). In May 2020, 13 students completed and graduated with an AAS Nursing degree with a 90% pass rate on the NCLEX. This makes UDC-CC and UDC's RN-to-BSN Nursing programs attractive to aspiring healthcare professionals.

With the enhancement funding, UDC-CC AAS Nursing and UDC RN-to-BSN Nursing programs can enroll up to 40 students per year (20 in each program) based on the size of instructional space, student-to-faculty ratio, curricular innovations, and clinical rotation placements. Over the next 4 years, UDC nursing programs project graduating 160 new board-certified nurses for the District's workforce. The size and quality of nursing programs are dictated by the DC Board of Nursing and the accreditor (ACEN). The capacity will increase over time to meet the critical needs as one pathway to the healthcare profession.

SECTION IV. EVALUATION & PERFORMANCE

Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome?*

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies and lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to cite your sources.

According to Minority Nursing statistics, minority nurses self-identify/report as following: 9.9% of RNs are black or African American (non-Hispanic); 8.3% are Asian; 4.8% are Hispanic or Latino; 1.3% categorize themselves as two or more race; 0.4% are American Indian or Alaskan Native. The average annual salary for a full-time employed RN is $67,930. A nurse with a master’s or doctoral degree makes an average $87,363 a year (Data/Statistics, The Office of Minority Health, US Department of Health and Human Services, 2020). UDC’s recent graduates who are licensed are employed. We are still collecting salary data for 2019 and 2020 graduates (information is self-reported).

EVALUATING ENHANCEMENTS

As part of the budget formulation process, OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cite based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

THE LAB@DC TEAM IS HERE TO HELP!

Have questions about the evidence? Email thelab@dc.gov (and CC your budget analyst). The Lab can pre-review evidence, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer suggestions on where to look for evidence, and help you think through the evidence you’ve found.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?*

- YES. The enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Indicate below how you will ensure your agency implements the model fully.
- NO. The enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why.

Based on EMSI data, UDC will be able to identify gaps and respond to the District’s healthcare shortages and plan to increase student enrollments leading to degree completion/certifications in nursing.

If the enhancement is granted, is your agency willing to evaluate whether the enhancement achieves the desired outcome? This could involve piloting the enhancement with District residents or neighborhoods. (The Lab @ DC is able to provide guidance on how to do this.)*

AGENCIES: Please use Form 2 to provide additional details about enhancement requests in your FY 2022 budget submission. This information is an important part of the decision-making process. Well thought-out and reasoned requests are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

FY 2022 Enhancements

As always, we eagerly invite fresh, innovative, evidence-based ideas for improving the quality or efficiency of city services. This is especially true as we face unprecedented challenges resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic.

At the same time, we face significant resource constraints that will drastically limit our ability to fund new initiatives in the FY 2022 budget. Therefore, we are seeking your help in identifying thoughtful, viable cost-saving measures that will afford us the opportunity to continue improving the services we provide to our community.

Enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities, or to start completely new programs or activities should include in Section III a budget reduction that offsets the amount of the request in whole or in significant part. Offsetting reductions should be in addition to reductions to meet the agency's MARC. Requests accompanied by viable cost-saving options are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

SECTION II. RATIONALE

Required for ALL requests

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

Highly skilled jobs in STEM fields are in and around the Washington, DC area, and yet many Washingtonians are not prepared to enter these fields. UDC seeks to prepare residents for these fields, especially residents of color who are underrepresented. The proposed enhancement will provide a significant local response to producing a more diverse STEM/IT skilled and technical workforce. In an ever-changing, increasingly complex world, it is more important than ever that our nation's youth are prepared to bring knowledge and skills to solve problems, make sense of information, and have the know-how to gather and evaluate evidence to make decisions. These are the kinds of skills that students develop in science, technology, engineering, and math—disciplines collectively known as STEM. If we want a nation where our future leaders, neighbors, and workers can understand and solve some of the complex challenges of today and tomorrow, and meet the demands of the dynamic and evolving workforce, then building students' skills, content knowledge, and fluency in STEM fields is essential.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

Low educational attainment in STEM/IT majors is largely due to inequities along the lines of race, gender, socio-economic class, and historical barriers that have not promoted scientific discovery and fluency in historically underrepresented minority students. Without the same level of exposure to scientific inquiry, research opportunities, new culturally competent pedagogies to engender participation instead of isolation, and qualified teacher-mentors who reflect underrepresented minorities, there will always be a STEM/IT shortage of minorities who graduate from accredited degree programs to go into high-demand STEM/IT careers.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

UDC's ABET-accredited School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS) has just completed its ABET accreditation review process, and although the final report is pending, the exit briefing by the site visitors was very positive. UDC is one of only 15 ABET-accredited HBCU's, having met ABET's rigorous standards for accreditation in its undergraduate engineering programs: mechanical, civil, electrical, and biomedical engineering, in addition to information technology and computer science. Within SEAS, these programs are growing in popularity—and they need additional top-notch full-time faculty to maintain the high standards already achieved. UDC set an institutional record in securing research funding during FY20, having received some $45 million, including prestigious grants from the National Institute of Science and Technology, National Science Foundation, and NASA. Most of these grants are supporting research by SEAS faculty as well as graduate and undergraduate students. We seek to hire full-time faculty in (1) the relatively new biomedical engineering program and (2) IT/Computer Science. These faculty will allow UDC to continue to support a growing population of SEAS majors and graduate students—as we continually improve the seamless pathways from secondary school through associate, baccalaureate, and beyond.

The enhancement will allow for broadening minority student participation in the STEM/IT pipeline. With additional support, UDC can supply a STEM workforce pipeline from coders to PhDs in Engineering and Computer Science. According to recent research, a strong cradle-to-career STEM education prepares students for high-demand jobs and contributes to the vitality of their families, communities, and local economies. Students in technology/engineering/STEM classes learn and practice skills that prepare them for diverse post-high school education and training opportunities, from apprenticeships and two-year college programs to four-year colleges and graduate programs. science programs and the newly approved associate’s degree in Information Technology, provide opportunities to develop a high-demand seamless pathway.

STEM pathways are organically emerging across all UDC campuses including the Community College, with external partners such as Amazon, DOD-Navy (Carderock), NASA, Penn State Applied Research Laboratory, Johns Hopkins Carey Business School (Big Data, Data Analytics, Business Analytics, Logistics), as well as many others. The partnerships underscore a major shift in the future of collaborative academic program models (interdisciplinary), which forces UDC to break away from “silo” offerings and create “meta-majors” which cut across academic disciplines and artificially imposed boundaries.

Enhancement funding is needed to allow UDC STEM programs to have the capacity to offer more two-year degree programs leading directly to jobs, as well as stackable credentials embedded along with the traditional four-year degree offerings. Funding will allow UDC to target at least 100 more STEM majors per year over the next four years, giving UDC the ability to graduate 300 – 400 new STEM graduates.

The pathway would require three FTE positions to deliver a seamless pathway curriculum, specialized workshops/training at the associate’s-level, and competitive bachelor’s and master’s degree programs in homeland security, cybersecurity, applied intelligence, artificial intelligence. An initial enhancement investment of $500,000 would provide support for salaries, fringe benefits, and support for instructional materials (e.g., specialty software for computing, engineering, and automotive technology). The total investment required for over four years is approximately $1,760,000.

UDC can supply the STEM workforce pipeline from coders to PhDs in Engineering and Computer Science. The research is clear: a strong cradle to career STEM education prepares students for high-demand jobs and contributes to the vitality of their families, communities, and local economies. Students in technology/engineering/STEM classes learn and practice skills that prepare them for diverse post-high school education and training opportunities, from apprenticeships and two-year college programs to four-year college and graduate programs. Responses to Questions*

STEM pathways are organically emerging at UDC based on the increased partnering of Van Ness and Community College faculty with external agencies such as Amazon, DOD-Navy (Carderock), NASA, Penn State Applied Research Laboratory, Johns Hopkins Carey Business School (Big Data, Data Analytics, Business Analytics, Logistics) as well as many others. The partnerships underscore a major shift in the future of collaborative academic program models (interdisciplinary) which forces UDC to break away from “silo” offerings to creating meta-majors that cut across academic disciplines and artificially imposed boundaries.

Embedded within the broader technology workforce demands is a need for automotive technicians. The Automotive Dealers surrounding the District of Columbia are actively seeking to hire Automotive Technicians. While there is a high demand for technicians there is not an active workforce or associate in applied science automotive program within the District of Columbia. Automotive programs contain levels of STEM education that prepares students for high demand automotive technology industry placements.

With the enhancement funding, UDC STEM programs offer more two-year degree programs leading directly to jobs as well as stackable credentials embedded along with the traditional four-year degree offerings. The capacity of targeting at least 100 more STEM majors per year over the next four years gives us the ability to graduate 300-400 new STEM graduates in the District of Columbia.

SECTION IV. EVALUATION & PERFORMANCE

Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome?*

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District or other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies and lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to cite your sources.

As the U.S. has transformed rapidly into an information-based economy, employment in science, technology, engineering, and math occupations has grown—outpacing overall job growth. Since 1990, STEM employment has grown 79% (9.7 million to 17.3 million) and computer jobs have seen a whopping 338% increase over the same period.

Using a broad definition of the STEM workforce, women make up half (50%) of all U.S. workers in STEM occupations, though their presence varies widely across occupational clusters and educational levels. Women account for many healthcare practitioners and technicians, but are underrepresented in several other STEM occupational clusters, particularly in computer jobs and engineering.

While there has been significant progress for women in the life and physical sciences since 1990, the share of women has been roughly stable in other STEM occupational clusters and has gone down 7 percentage points in the area with the largest job growth over this period: computer occupations, a job cluster that includes computer scientists, systems analysts, software developers, information systems managers, and programmers.

Black and Hispanic workers continue to be underrepresented in the STEM workforce. Blacks make up 11% of the U.S. workforce overall, but represent 9% of STEM workers, while Hispanics comprise 16% of the U.S. workforce but only 7% of all STEM workers. And among employed adults with a bachelor’s degree or higher, blacks are just 7% and Hispanics are 6% of the STEM workforce.

Asians are overrepresented in the STEM workforce, relative to their overall share of the workforce, especially among college-educated workers: 17% of college-educated STEM workers are Asian, compared with 10% of all workers with a college degree.

Hispanics and blacks are underrepresented; Asians and whites are overrepresented in most STEM occupations. Most STEM workers in the U.S. are white (69%), followed by Asians (13%), blacks (9%), and Hispanics (7%). Compared with their shares in the overall workforce, whites and Asians are overrepresented; blacks and Hispanics are underrepresented in the STEM workforce-

Health technicians and nursing jobs have some of the largest shares of black or Hispanic workers. For example, 37% of licensed practical and licensed vocational nurses are either black or Hispanic, as are a quarter or more of health support technicians (27%), medical records and health information technicians (25%), and clinical laboratory technologists and technicians (25%). Among registered nurses, 17% are black or Hispanic. By comparison, other health-related jobs have smaller shares of workers who are black or Hispanic, including physicians and surgeons (11%), pharmacists (10%), dentists (9%), and physical therapists (9%). Just 5% of optometrists, veterinarians, and chiropractors are black or Hispanic.

In the physical sciences, blacks and Hispanics together comprise 22% of chemical technicians, but only 14% of chemists and materials scientists, 10% of atmospheric and space scientists, 7% of environmental scientists, and 6% of astronomers and physicists. Among mathematical workers, 19% of operations research analysts are black or Hispanic, compared with just 5% of actuaries.

Whites are overrepresented among STEM workers relative to their share in the total workforce. Asians (including both men and women) are also overrepresented among STEM workers compared with their share in the total workforce, particularly among STEM workers with a postgraduate degree.

Source: These figures are based on comparisons of the total number of employed adults holding these occupations over time. Some studies estimate job growth based on occupational requirements for STEM knowledge collected by the Occupation Information Network (O*NET) or estimate labor shortages based on job openings. The Bureau of Labor Statistics projects continued growth of jobs in almost all STEM occupations.

AGENCIES: Please use Form 2 to provide additional details about enhancement requests in your FY 2022 budget submission. This information is an important part of the decision-making process. Well thought-out and reasoned requests are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

FY 2022 Enhancements

As always, we eagerly invite fresh, innovative, evidence-based ideas for improving the quality or efficiency of city services. This is especially true as we face unprecedented challenges resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic.

At the same time, we face significant resource constraints that will drastically limit our ability to fund new initiatives in the FY 2022 budget. Therefore, we are seeking your help in identifying thoughtful, viable cost-saving measures that will afford us the opportunity to continue improving the services we provide to our community.

Enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities, or to start completely new programs or activities should include in Section III a budget reduction that offsets the amount of the request in whole or in significant part. Offsetting reductions should be in addition to reductions to meet the agency's MARC. Requests accompanied by viable cost-saving options are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

REQUIRED SECTIONS

- Sections I and II are required for ALL requests.
- Sections I-V are required for Type D and Type E requests.

SECTION II. RATIONALE

Required for ALL requests

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

With recent economic downturns prior to, during, and post-COVID-19, UDC’s Workforce Development must be the strategic educational partner with District agencies to assist youth and adults with barriers gain access to employment opportunities, including career and educational pathways in critical industry sectors identified within Washington DC. The ultimate goal of these strategies needs to support economic prosperity and income mobility.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

There has not been appropriated funding in UDC’s budget specific for Workforce Development efforts. As a result, the Workforce Development unit has not been integrally connected to UDC’s systems and platforms which would enable data collection for decision making purposes to develop metrics and a plan which focuses on workforce analysis and sector partnerships, career pathway programs (for youth and adults), service and resource alignment, employer work-based training, and continuous system performance review.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

This enhancement will support technology and technical support which will allow UDC’s Workforce Development unit to build an integrated system ensuring comprehensive recruitment, testing, onboard, support services and communications intended to improve customer engagement, the development of common, value added services designed to increase employability, and focus on skills development for high demand jobs. The added technology will expand access to employment, training, education and supportive services through the utilization data-informed service teams who can link District residents in a seamless fashion to receive initial assessment testing to determine next steps for employment referrals or career pathways.

Will legislative support be required?*

YES NO

If yes, please submit a proposed BSA subtitle using Attachment D.

How does this enhancement support the policy priority or priorities identified above?*

The enhancement provide UDC with the capability to test, track and advise/refer District residents to worker training programs, on-the-job training programs, customized training programs, industry and sector strategies, career pathways initiatives leading to increased credentials, utilization of effective business intermediaries and other District partners who are aligned with closing the employment and educational skills gaps with Washington DC.

<input type="checkbox"/> B. Increased cost to maintain existing program/activity	Why are costs increasing to maintain existing levels of service? What are the main cost drivers and what options has the agency already implemented or considered implementing to lower these costs?
<input type="checkbox"/> C. Operational improvement with a strong business case	How will this enhancement help the District save money in this or future fiscal years? How much will it save?
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> D. Expand high-performing existing program/activity	Why is this program or activity considered to be high performing? How do the outputs or outcomes compare to those of similar programs within or outside of District government?
<input type="checkbox"/> E. Completely new program or initiative with highly likely or proven positive outcomes for District residents	What will be the District’s return on this investment, as measured by how many and/or which District residents are served, and/or relative social benefit?

Responses to Questions*

The District of Columbia must make significant investment in skills development aligned to employment opportunities for job seekers with limited levels of educational attainment. Without this investment, these individuals will face significant risk of continued unemployment as they compete with an oversupply of educated workers.

SECTION IV. EVALUATION & PERFORMANCE

Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome?*

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies and lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to cite your sources.

It is commonly accepted and a proven fact that linked technology systems and dedicated staff expertise contribute to continuous improvement of services that can be provided to job seekers. As such, UDC’s Workforce Development unit will be able to advise District residents with comprehensive testing assessment and job credentialing based on in-demand employment needs of local employers. Continuous improvement and tracking eligible participants’ abilities on a consistent basis will enable UDC’s Workforce Development unit to advise and provide support to the number of job seekers successfully completing career pathway education and training programs in demand industry sectors and occupations. Continuous improvement is accomplished and measured by: 1) increasing the number of programs and credentials resulting in upward mobility/employment; 2) increasing the number District residents who become employed in high-demand, high-wage occupations; 3) fostering cooperation with District partners and employers who are intentionally hiring for new collar positions; 4) offering training-related subsidized employment opportunities to support classroom instruction and improve the marketability of graduates; 5) tracking, reporting and sharing outcome data on industry-recognized certificates/degrees completed, employment gained, job retention, and earnings increases between education, workforce, and human service and economic development systems; and 6) evaluating and publishing training provider outcomes, including credentials attained and employment outcomes.

EVALUATING ENHANCEMENTS

As part of the budget formulation process, OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cite based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

THE LAB@DC TEAM IS HERE TO HELP!

Have questions about the evidence? Email thelab@dc.gov (and CC your budget analyst). The Lab can pre-review evidence, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer suggestions on where to look for evidence, and help you think through the evidence you’ve found.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?*

- YES. The enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Indicate below how you will ensure your agency implements the model fully.
- NO. The enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why.

ENHANCEMENT SUMMARY*
 In 1-3 sentences, tell us what this enhancement is.

The goal of the Student Equity Program (SEP) is to further increase access to a quality higher education at University of the District of Columbia for traditional and non-traditional students entering bachelor’s degree programs from educationally at-risk (e.g., Pell eligible, 2.5 - 2.9 entering GPA) populations. ENHANCEMENT IMPACT*
 In 1-3 sentences, tell us what the expected positive impact is on District residents or government operations.

The Student Equity Program directly aligns with the District’s goal to increase the number of bachelor’s degree earners. The SEP will impact both traditional and non-traditional student populations at UDC. More than half of students enrolled in UDC are above the age of 24 and are classified as non-traditional students. SEP will complement both DC Futures and DCPS Persist Programs.

SECTION II. RATIONALE

Required for ALL requests

Responses below may include discussion of racial equity issues addressed by this enhancement request. Use Section III to expand on these ideas and share more about the racial equity work that has informed this request.

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

As part of the District of Columbia's economic recovery plan seeking to address the varying impacts to District residents as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the District has been particularly focused on targeting adult residents who have not yet obtained a bachelor's degree. This population, particularly those in low-income households and individuals of color, has been disproportionately negatively affected by the pandemic, experiencing higher rates of health challenges, job loss, and lack of holistic supports which has led to greater economic disadvantages. Through the Student Equity Program detailed in this enhancement request, the University is specifically working to target this population to ensure non-traditional, adult learners not only have access to postsecondary opportunities but also, through this program, are provided with wrap-around support services once they are enrolled at the University in order to ensure their educational success.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

Historically there have been barriers to low-income, educationally disadvantaged learners accessing postsecondary education and successfully earning a college credential. One reason is that students in this population may be underprepared. 1 in 5 students in DCPS have a documented disability and the rate is higher for black students. Additionally, nearly 75% of DCPS students are classified as economically disadvantaged and 42% as at-risk as defined by OSSE (DCPS at a Glance, www.dcps.dc.gov/page/dcps-glance-enrollment). The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated these challenges, requiring the University to seek ways to best address these issues and provide sufficient student supports. Our Student Equity Program will provide the requisite, holistic support students need from admission to degree completion.

Refers to students, identified by the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE), who possess one of the following characteristics at any point in the SY: Received Free or Reduced-Price Lunch (FRL); Received FRL through CEP (attending a school where the entire student population receives FRL); Eligible to receive TANF or SNAP benefits; Identified as homeless in available homeless data feeds; Under the care of CFSA.*

 Students who are at-risk are those who qualify for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), have been identified as homeless during the academic year, who are under the care of the Child and Family Services Agency (CFSA or Foster Care), and who are high school students at least one year older than the expected age for their grade.*

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

With this proposed program, the University is seeking to increase postsecondary matriculation and success for economically disadvantaged and non-traditional students of color, some of whom may have additional risk factors (e.g. low income, first generation, learning disabilities etc.). This program will focus on learners who will require additional support services to ensure their academic success. In particular, this program will seek to serve learners often overlooked at postsecondary institutions that are implementing academic support systems, focusing on those who fall squarely in the middle of the academic achievement landscape (e.g. 2.5-2.9 entering GPA). Previous and current initiatives have focused on increasing student access to higher education in targeting specific student cohorts (e.g. first-time-in-college (FTIC), transfer, stop-out). This program seeks to build on that work and ensure students not only can successfully enter the University but persist to completion.

Form 2: Operating Budget Enhancement Requests

Moreover, the SEP will complement both DC Futures and DCPS Persist Programs with college navigation support. The SEP expands this framework through our one-stop shop that will employ full-time onsite staff; provide internal/external resource referrals; support our first-year experience program; offer customized financial planning; assign peer advisors and tutoring; provide career services workshops and access to our internship and job network (Handshake); and provide ADA accommodation and wellness intervention support through our early alert system. Also, unlike DC Futures which is limited to high-demand majors and DCPS Persist which is limited to students coming directly from DCPS high schools, the SEP is available to students regardless of their program of study and age. Lastly, in conjunction with SEP we are launching a student-centric recruitment (www.2hobsons.com) and high touch appreciative advising models (www.appreiativeadvising.net) that will serve as a student success model for HBCU's.

QUESTIONS SPECIFIC TO ENHANCEMENT TYPE*

Mark the appropriate enhancement type and use the space below the table to answer the questions for that enhancement type.

IF YOUR ENHANCEMENT TYPE IS...	THEN ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS...
<input type="checkbox"/> A. Restore previous budget reduction/one-time funding	Why is the restoration of this reduction critical for the District at this time? What negative impact will result if this reduction is not restored?
<input type="checkbox"/> B. Increased cost to maintain existing program/activity	Why are costs increasing to maintain existing levels of service? What are the main cost drivers and what options has the agency already implemented or considered implementing to lower these costs?
<input type="checkbox"/> C. Operational improvement with a strong business case	How will this enhancement help the District save money in this or future fiscal years? How much will it save?
<input type="checkbox"/> D. Expand high-performing existing program/activity	Why is this program or activity considered to be high performing? How do the outputs or outcomes compare to those of similar programs within or outside of District government?
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> E. Completely new program or initiative with highly likely or proven positive outcomes for District residents	What will be the District's return on this investment, as measured by how many and/or which District residents are served, and/or relative social benefit?

Responses to Questions*

Higher education is the gateway to the middle class. The more residents who enter the middle class, the less inequality in areas of income, education, health, and exposure to violent crime there will be, thereby reducing the most powerful threats to social and long-term financial stability in the District. With this specific program, the University is seeking to initially serve 150 students.

How does this budget enhancement align with the goal of advancing racial equity in the District?*

Increasingly persons living in the District of Columbia need postsecondary education to be competitive in the local economy. However, while the District boasts one of the most educated populations in the United States, Black residents and other people of color lag behind their white and Asian neighbors in degree attainment and workforce readiness. The proposed Student Equity Program provides support to students transitioning into a postsecondary environment and myriad services to improve success outcomes for UDC students with specific focus on identifying and supporting low-income students of color.

Please indicate the racial, ethnic, and/or economic inequities experienced by District residents that could be addressed via specific portions of this enhancement request.*

Please cite the data or data source(s) that support this determination.

The proposed Student Equity Program addresses the historic and systemic barriers to higher education that are particularly endemic to low-income, educationally disadvantaged and marginalized communities of color. There is exhaustive research that touts the relevance and importance of the support services extended to these students which helps to ensure their success including direct financial and human services support for students to overcome the personal, economic, and familial challenges that often undermine the realization of their educational goals. Our Student Equity Program will provide students with the necessary wrap-around support services from beginning to completion.

As a standard practice, UDC will disaggregate student data along the lines of race, ethnicity, economic and regional demographics. The University monitors similar datapoints among its workforce to impart equity across all facets of the institution – for students as well as for employees. In accordance with its mission, the University routinely assesses the retention and progress of its more vulnerable students (e.g. SNAP & TANF recipients, individuals with disabilities, and veterans) to ensure they realize the promise of increased college access, course completion and degree attainment. The University's budget requests are driven by data and outcomes with increased investments sought for those strategies and approaches that deliver the greatest yield for student success.

Historically there have been barriers to low-income, educationally disadvantaged, first-generation college students' and adult learners accessing college. At the University of the District of Columbia (UDC), 80% of students are first-generation, 70% receive some form of financial aid assistance with 53% being Pell eligible and 8% have an identified disability with the accessibility resource center. The majority of students are historically underrepresented in higher education, with the student body comprised of 62% Black and 14% Hispanic.

In District of Columbia Public Schools 75% are classified as economically disadvantaged and 42% at risk. With 79% of UDC students coming from the District, and 34% of those students from Wards 7 and 8, the University continues to provide access to students in the District and to advance racial equity and economic mobility for District residents.

What additional disaggregated demographic data will your agency collect, track, design, implement, and/or evaluate to assess equity impacts in the community moving forward and inform future budget decisions?*

SECTION IV. EVALUATION & PERFORMANCE

Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

What evidence supports the likelihood that this enhancement will achieve the desired outcome?*

Please describe outcomes from similar efforts that have been undertaken before in the District or in other cities. If possible, include formal evaluation studies and lessons learned from both successes and failures in any similar attempts. Provide links to cite your sources.

The University has researched several models for how best to address the needs of students coming from socioeconomically disadvantaged populations. There are several models that have helped inform the University's design for the proposed Student Equity Program. Common to the models and core to the UDC Student Equity program proposed here:

1. The focus on non-traditional students who often have lower success outcomes (i.e. first-generation students, from low income families, of adult non-traditional status) and 2. The recognition of student needs and the intentional redesign of the student experience to provide integrated, seamless holistic supports to the students in the program. The program models referenced were One Million Degree Scholars program, the Accelerated Study in Associate Programs (ASAP), and the Intensive Educational Development/Student Support Services Program.

The One Million Degrees Scholars Program out of the University of Chicago Poverty Lab, can serve as a model for the UDC Student Equity Program. The One Million Degrees program is designed to address financial, academic, personal, and professional domains for student life by providing wrap-around services. The program is designed to support students with many of the same characteristics that the UDC Student Equity Program. Initial outcomes from University of Chicago Poverty Lab indicates that for students who participated in the program there was a 35 percent increase in persistence. Researchers concluded that the early findings suggest that comprehensive support programs can substantially and cost-effectively improve outcomes for students. https://www.povertyactionlab.org/sites/default/files/research-paper/Increasing-Academic-Progress-among-Low-Income-Community-College-Students_Early-Evidence-from-a-RCT_Bertrand-et-al_May2019.pdf

In the design of the Student Equity Program we also referenced the program design and outcomes of the Accelerated Study in Associate Programs (ASAP) out of City University of New York. Similar to the One Million Degrees Scholar Program referenced above, the ASAP program is also designed to provide academic, personal, and financial supports to low-income students. The program saw an 11 percentage point increase in college graduation rates. <https://evidencebasedprograms.org/document/cuny-asap-evidence-summary/>

The University also drew on the Intensive Educational Development and Student Support Services program model from the University of Maryland and the California State Northridge, EOP/Trio Student Support Services Program \(SSSP\) | California State University, Northridge \(csun.edu\). These programs are designed to support low-income, first-generation students in bachelor's degree programs. They provide wrap around support to students matriculating in 4-year degree programs. <https://aap.umd.edu/about-ied-sss.html>

As part of the budget formulation process, OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cite based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

THE LAB@DC TEAM IS HERE TO HELP!

Have questions about the evidence? Email thelab@dc.gov (and CC your budget analyst). The Lab can pre-review evidence, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer suggestions on where to look for evidence, and help you think through the evidence you've found.

The proposed Student Equity Program broadens support to include accessibility, technology, case management, and counseling. The inclusion of these supports was based on University, District and national data that indicates the target student demographic in the Student Equity program often demonstrate needs for these services. For example, the UDC New Student Survey has found that on average 26% of respondents identified accessibility services as necessary for them to successfully complete their college education. This percentage corresponds with national data on persons living with a disability in the U.S. Similarly, surveys conducted since the onset of the pandemic highlight the digital divide with a significant percentage of students not having access to high speed internet.

Impact of basic needs insecurity on college student outcomes:

The University of Chicago Poverty lab studied the impact of a One Million Degrees scholars program designed to address financial, academic, personal, and professional domains of student life by providing holistic, wrap-around services. The study found that enrollment in the scholars program resulted in higher college enrollment and had a statistically significant impact on both overall first-year persistence and full-time persistence. A similar program model, the Accelerated Study in Associate Programs out of City University of New York found an 11 percentage point increase in college graduation rates.

The UDC program will also be “high touch” and provide wrap around services with staff dedicated to supporting and monitoring the scholars in the program. The UDC program will also focus on addressing financial, academic, personal and professional barriers with a coordinated, multi-disciplinary team. The UDC program differs from the model in that we do not use an external organization, but the program is coordinated in-house. In addition, the UDC program will focus on bachelor’s degree seeking students.

ENHANCEMENT SUMMARY*
 In 1-3 sentences, tell us what this enhancement is.

This enhancement seeks to enhance the University’s personnel budget to enable the institution to be full partners in the recovery by retaining exemplary employees that support our teaching and learning and talent production efforts. This enhancement request proposes increasing employee retention by raising salaries to market-competitive rates and offering more regular cost-of-living adjustments (COLA) increases.

ENHANCEMENT IMPACT*
 In 1-3 sentences, tell us what the expected positive impact is on District residents or government operations.

Offering market-competitive salaries to faculty and staff ensures our employees, most of whom identify as individuals with racial and ethnic backgrounds, are recognized for their service and that the University is promoting racial equity via compensation to our workforce. Retaining high-performing talent ensures the University can maintain progress towards educating the District’s residents to achieve a more racially equitable city and drive inclusive job recovery.

AGENCIES: Please use Form 2 to provide additional details about enhancement requests in your FY 2023 budget submission. This information is an important part of the decision-making process. Well thought-out and reasoned requests are much more likely to receive favorable consideration.

NEW IN FY 2023: RACIAL EQUITY BUDGET TOOL
 The Office of Racial Equity (ORE) has developed the Racial Equity Budget Tool (REBT) to guide agencies toward assessing how their budgets benefit and/or negatively impact communities based on race, specifically Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) communities. Please use Section III of this form to share your agency’s work in considering racial equity in developing budget enhancements requests. Discussion of racial equity considerations may be shared in other sections of the form as well.

FY 2023 Agency Budget Submission

Does this enhancement specifically seek to mitigate racial equity gaps in the District?*

Regardless of yes/no, please complete Section III to share more information about this enhancement's impact on racial equity.

YES NO

SECTION II. RATIONALE Required for ALL requests

Responses below may include discussion of racial equity issues addressed by this enhancement request. Use Section III to expand on these ideas and share more about the racial equity work that has informed this request.

What problem for the District are you aiming to address?*

The University of the District of Columbia is committed, at all levels across employee groups, to providing equitable and supportive work environments, including competitive, market-based compensation and pay equity across all lines of race, gender, and economic disparities. Pay equity, in general, means compensating employees the same when they perform the same or similar jobs. While at the same time accounting for other factors such as experience level, job performance, and tenure with the employer. For several years, the University of the District of Columbia has been plagued with challenges of attracting and retaining top talent, as demonstrated by top recruits declining offers due to lower salary offers and current faculty and staff opting for higher-paying opportunities outside the University. Thus, it is incumbent on the University to prioritize equitable and competitive compensation and mitigate the talent drain when current employees opt for higher-paying roles in other organizations due to the lack of a fair, equitable, and competitive compensation structure.

Based on UDC’s current PeopleSoft data analytics, 41% of the University’s current workforce are District residents. Many of the barriers that keep university employees living where the city where they work is the affordability of housing, food, and healthcare which create a wage gap for many Black and Brown UDC employees. For example, UDC faculty who are hired by discipline are only at the 25th percentile of market-competitive salaries for their disciplines in comparison to the seven other institutions (Howard, George Washington, Georgetown, Gallaudet, American, Catholic, and Trinity) of higher learning within the District. Comparatively speaking, when you analyze two of the critical staff units (Information Technology and Campus Police/Public Safety) at UDC, these employee groups are the only two staff groups at the 25th percentile of market-competitiveness. This has a huge implication on racial equity as most of the employees across the University identify as racial or ethnic: 70% as Black, 9% as Asian, and 4% as Hispanic. (See Section III for additional details).

Additional disaggregation of UDC employee data gives a fuller picture of how non-competitive market-rate salaries can affect our employees.

	Fall 2021
Gender	Staff	Faculty	Total
Female	312	314	626
Male	215	293	508
Total	527	607	1134
Full/Part-Time	Staff	Faculty	Total
Full Time	514	229	743
Part Time	13	378	391
Total	527	607	1,134

Based on the PeopleSoft data, there are a total of 1,134 UDC employees, of which only 41% (or 464) are District residents. The other 59% (or 669) live outside the District of Columbia due to non-competitive market-rate salaries. Additionally, to have low wages with no consistent based-budgeted cost of living adjustments (COLAs) creates instability in retaining top talent and expertise necessary to advance a world-class university. The teaching and learning apparatus for any university is its employee base. When an institution cannot competitively retain the talent it hires as a result of not being able to provide annual cost of living adjustments, there is an increase in attrition rates and talent erosion. Currently, UDC’s attrition rate is at 11.8% (see table below).

Form 2: Operating Budget Enhancement Requests

FY 2023 Agency Budget Submission

Attrition	10/1/2020 to 9/30/2021
Employee Type	Count	Percentage
Faculty Full Time	20	23%
Staff Full Time	68	77%
Total	88	100%
% of Attrition FT Employees	88/743	11.80%

This rate is problematic for an institution. The revolving door of employees exiting to take positions at other area universities because of competitive market-rate salaries continues to disadvantage UDC. More importantly, it disadvantages one of the most racially and ethnically diverse workforces in the District thereby creating more racial equity pay gaps for local talent and expertise.

What are the reasons why this problem exists?*

There is a lack of dedicated, recurring funding to address increasing personnel costs and ensure current staff receive market-competitive compensation and regular cost-of-living adjustments.

How does this enhancement address this problem and its underlying causes?*

This enhancement request ensures that the University will receive sufficient annual funding allocations to cover personnel increases. Receipt of dedicated funding would allow the University to address concerns of salary compression, structural wage inequity, and employee morale.

Will legislative support be required?*

YES NO

If yes, please submit a proposed BSA subtitle using Attachment D.

What will be the District's return on this investment, as measured by how many and/or which District residents are served, and/or relative social benefit?

Responses to Questions*

The cost of living in and around the nation's capital increases. To address cost increases, the University is providing a 3% cost of living adjustment (COLA) to its non-union employees in FY22. This group has not received a COLA since 2018. Prior to 2019, the University of the District of Columbia's faculty had not received a raise since 2014. The lack of negotiating a successful collective bargaining agreement continued to expand the wage gaps across ranks and disciplines and the University was not able to retain high caliber faculty who were committed to educating District residents through their teaching, research and service. However, without the addition recurring annual funds to the University's base budget to enable regular salary adjustments, the University's existing compensation model cannot keep pace with current costs and market salary rates.

The rising costs of housing, food, and healthcare continue to create wage gaps for a workforce that is largely African Americans who are accomplished professionals in a diverse range of academic capabilities. Without having a solidified contract, non-union employees will continue to fall behind. The ability to maintain a Black-middle class in Washington will become increasingly more difficult without base-budgeting the projected cost of living allowances (COLAs). This is a racial equity matter that needs to be resolved based on current practice. D.C. real estate prices have soared as the city has started attracting wealthier residents. Homes in our nation's capital are no bargain. According to www.trulia.com, one-bedroom home carried an average price of $392,500 during the period of June-September, 2015. In the same period, two-bedroom homes averaged $599,277, three-bedroom homes averaged $620,000 and four-bedroom homes averaged $800,000. The average home price for all properties was $545,000. Back in 2010, the average home price for all properties was $400,000. That means there's been a 36% increase between 2010 and 2015. Combine this reality with the fact that many UDC non-union employees did not receive a COLA until 2018 or 2019, compounds salary issues on top of other day-to-day expenses.

Housing is a big part of the cost of living in Washington, D.C. but it's not the only factor. According to www.numbeo.com, a basic utilities package for a 915-square foot apartment in Washington, D.C. will cost you $120.37 per month. That includes electricity, heating, water and garbage, at a price that's 23% lower than the national average. If you want to add internet, you can expect your monthly bill to increase by around $51.28.

D.C.'s monthly transit pass is expensive. A 28-day Fast Pass with SmarTrip will cost a whopping $237. A one-day pass goes for $14.50 and a seven-day pass goes for $59.25, unless you go for the seven-day short-trip pass at $36. Why the difference? Because in D.C., unlike in New York, the fare for a ride on the subway isn't flat. You'll pay more the farther you go. If you don't buy a multi-day pass, your public transit costs will vary based on the length of your journeys.

According to Castlight Health, a preventive primary care visit in D.C. costs an average of $141 but prices range from $93 to $234. A lipid panel carries an average cost of just $24, a head/brain CT scan is $681 and a lower-back MRI is 1,391.

If UDC is going to be considered a pathway to the middle-class, then all its employees must be paid salary at the appropriate market-rate with annual increases budgeted accordingly. When UDC non-union employees are compensated fairly, they become more impactful and spend their earnings in the District.

Leveling the playing field and budgeting for COLAs illustrates an opportunity for DC government to reaffirm its commitment to racial equity, enhance policies and practices, and make UDC a destination place for educated and skilled-technical professionals to work. For every $1 paid to white men, Black men earn 88 cents and Black women receive 76 cents, according to a recent survey by PayScale, a U.S. compensation data and software company. Even when the data is adjusted to account for similar education and experience levels, Black men receive 98 cents and Black women receive 97 cents for every dollar paid to white men. Over a lifetime, these differences add up to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

PayScale's research into the racial wage gap shows us that "racial bias is alive and well in the U.S. workforce," wrote the authors of the PayScale report, The Racial Wage Gap Persists in 2020.

SECTION III. BUDGETING FOR RACIAL EQUITY Required for ALL requests

How does this budget enhancement align with the goal of advancing racial equity in the District?*

In the case of racial equity, we believe this enhancement request addresses the following tenets of addressing the District's recovery efforts through a racial equity lens:

- Budgeting fair and equitable compensation
- Funding fair employee compensation aligns with the District's efforts toward achieving racial equity in the workforce;
- Sustaining fair employee compensation—as both a process and outcome—demonstrates the District's commitment to supporting those who have been impacted by a structural inequality (lack of dedicated, recurring funding for fair compensation) and provides an opportunity to distribute resources for residents of the District, who are primarily from racial and ethnic backgrounds; and,
- Catalyzing equitable systems change in government and the education community.

Please indicate the racial, ethnic, and/or economic inequities experienced by District residents that could be addressed via specific portions of this enhancement request. (4-5 sentences)*

Please cite the data or data source(s) that support this determination.

Budgeting fair and equitable compensation ensures that the District is making progress toward becoming a more racially equitable city and will drive inclusive job recovery for District residents.

“Pay disparities reflect deeply rooted racism in U.S. society,” experts say. Even as the U.S. Census Bureau projects a minority majority by 2050, white males generally dominate the upper echelons of the pay scale, leaving workers of color behind. The Economic Policy Institute (EPI) studies show that “Black-white wage gaps are large and have gotten worse in the last 20 years,” EPI economist Elise Gould wrote in a blog post last year. “Even Black workers with an advanced degree experience a significant wage gap compared with their white counterparts.”

Black–white wage gaps widen across multiple measures

Black–white wages gaps at different points in the wage distribution, by education, and regression-based, 2000, 2007, and 2019.

Notes: Sample based on all workers ages 16 and older. The xth-percentile wage is the wage at which x% of wage earners earn less and (100-x)% earn more. Educational attainment is based on mutually exclusive categories: e.g., high school is high school only, etc. Similar results are found for those with less than high school or some college. The regression-adjusted black–white wage gap controls for education, age, gender, and region.

Did your agency conduct a racial equity impact assessment of this proposed enhancement? (4-5 sentences)* YES NO

If yes, please describe below. If not, please explain why not.

Did your agency utilize race and ethnicity data to inform this enhancement request? (4-5 sentences)* YES NO

If yes, please describe below. If not, please explain the origin of this enhancement.

See Economic Policy Institute table above.

It’s clear from the figure that education is not a panacea for closing these wage gaps. Again, this should not be shocking, as increased equality of educational access—as laudable a goal as it is—has been shown to have only small effects on class-based wage inequality (a study from the Brookings Institute) and racial wealth gaps have been almost entirely unremoved by a narrowing of the black–white college attainment gap, as demonstrated (a report on social equity from the Samuel Dubois Cook Institute at Duke) by William Darity Jr. and others.

As mentioned above, most of the employees across the University identify as racial or ethnic. The University tracks racial and ethnic identifications of staff and faculty, and a closer look at the University’s employees by racial and ethnic groups reveals the following:

Ethnicity	Count	Percentage
Black	789	69.6%
Asian	98	8.62%
American Indian/Alaskan	5	0.44%
Hispanic	39	3.44%
White	203	17.9%
Total	1134	100%

What additional disaggregated demographic data will your agency collect, track, design, implement, and/or evaluate to assess equity impacts in the community moving forward and inform future budget decisions? (4-5 sentences)*

The University will continue to track the racial and ethnic identifications of its workforce to ensure pay equity across all lines of race, gender, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status.

Form 2: Operating Budget Enhancement Requests

FY 2023 Agency Budget Submission

Is this enhancement in direct response to community engagement or requests? (4-5 sentences)*

YES NO

This request grows out of concern that fair compensation for all employees is an ongoing issue at UDC, and it is necessary for the University to have earmarked funds in the base budget if we are expected to have collective bargaining agreements successfully negotiated by the time we are scheduled for performance and budget hearings.

Is your enhancement identical to the model the evidence comes from?*

- YES. The enhancement is identical to the model the evidence comes from and the population served is similar. Indicate below how you will ensure your agency implements the model fully.
- NO. The enhancement differs from the model the evidence comes from, is just a part of that model, serves a different population, etc. Below, describe how it differs and why.

EVALUATING ENHANCEMENTS

As part of the budget formulation process, OBPM will categorize the research evidence you cite based on whether:

- the study design was rigorous, and the study was well implemented;
- the findings are positive and statistically significant; and
- the evidence is based on a model and population similar to the proposed enhancement.

THE LAB@DC TEAM IS HERE TO HELP!

Have questions about the evidence? Email thelab@dc.gov (and CC your budget analyst). The Lab can pre-review evidence, brainstorm future evaluation ideas, offer suggestions on where to look for evidence, and help you think through the evidence you've found.

SECTION V. PROJECT PLAN Required for Type D and E requests

Required for all enhancement requests to expand existing programs or activities or launch completely new programs or activities. Incomplete submissions will be returned.

Complete this draft project plan to show how the agency will deliver the intended results before the end of the fiscal year. This will also help OBPM determine when full funding will be required for implementation. Complete as best you can, knowing the plan might evolve.

PROJECT OWNER*

Who is the single person who will be most responsible for this initiative? If the project owner must be hired, specify who will own the project until that time.
