1 DEPARTMENT OF PARKS AND RECREATION

Mission: The mission of the Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) is to provide equitable access to Gold Standard recreational programs, services, and facilities - across all 8 Wards

Services: DPR provides a wide range of recreational activities to individuals and groups of all ages throughout the District of Columbia, including aquatics, athletics, fitness, urban camps, therapeutic recreation, environmental education and food and nutrition programs. To offer such diversified activities and services, DPR promotes recreation and leisure at over 851 acres of parkland, 80 recreation and community centers, 35 aquatic facilities, and several additional recreational facilities including playgrounds, athletic fields and play courts.

2 2024 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Accomplishment	Impact on Agency	Impact on Residents
DPR would like to highlight the creation of a new youth development certificate program. The agency worked collaboratively with George Washington University to create a professional certification which is designed to equip recreators with the skills necessary to serve youth. This is a nine-month program containing a robust and expansive curriculum for those interested in youth development. Participants will learn how to mentor and support youth in various educational and community settings, through specialized trainings, seminars, and practical real-world scenarios.	The agency will now benefit from professionals who have unique training in youth development. This will significantly change how we create a youth focused experience and program for our target audience. Our recreators can speak with authority and knowledge about the promising practices in youth development and lead the way.	Residents will have a new cohort of recreational professionals who have the skills and knowledge to engage with youth in a more purposeful and intentional way. The impact is ongoing and we anticipate seeing changes in programming and youth engagement.

PREAMBLE

This Agreement is entered into between the District of Columbia (hereinafter referred to as the Employer) and the American Federation of Government Employees, District of Columbia Locals (hereinafter referred to as the Union).

The Employer and the Union recognize the need to provide efficient service to the public and to maintain and increase the quality of service. Both parties further agree to the need for establishing and maintaining a sound labor-management relationship and mutually agree to continue working toward this goal. Each side has been afforded the opportunity to put forth all its proposals and to bargain in good faith. Both parties agree this Agreement expresses the results of their negotiations. Each party declares without reservation the contents of the Agreement. Therefore, to ensure the stability of the Agreement, no new provisions shall be proposed during the term of this Agreement, unless provided for elsewhere in this Agreement or such proposal is entertained by mutual agreement of the parties.

The Preamble is intended to provide the background and purpose of the collective bargaining agreement. Alleged violations of the Preamble per se will not be cited as contract violations.

ARTICLE 1
RECOGNITION

The District of Columbia Government (Metropolitan Police Department, Office of Planning, Office of Energy, Department of Administrative Services, Department of Recreation and Parks, and Department of Human Services), pursuant to the appropriate Employer recognition, certifications of the Public Employee Relations Board (PERB) and its predecessor, the Board of Labor Relations, hereby recognizes for the purposes of collective bargaining the following American Federation of Government Employees, District of Columbia Locals: 383, 2737, 2741, 3406, 3444 and 3871.

ARTICLE 2
GOVERNING LAWS AND REGULATIONS

SECTION 1:

In the event any D.C. Government-wide rule or regulation or Department rule, issuance or policy is in conflict with this Agreement, the terms of this Agreement shall prevail.

SECTION 2:

Except in emergency situations, the Department will consult with the Union prior to implementing any Department-wide rule, regulation or policy which is in conflict with this Agreement.

ARTICLE 3
UNION SECURITY AND DUES DEDUCTION

SECTION 1:

The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall apply to all employees in the bargaining unit without regard to Union membership. Employees covered by this Agreement have the right to join or refrain from joining the Union.

SECTION 2:

The Employer agrees to deduct Union dues from each employee's bi-weekly pay upon authorization of D.C. Form 277. Union dues withholding authorization may be canceled upon written notification to the Union and the Department thirty (30) days prior to each annual anniversary date (effective date) of this Agreement, regardless of the provisions of D.C. Form 277. When Union dues are canceled, the Department shall withhold a service fee in accordance with Section 3 of this Article. This provision shall supersede any other dues deduction agreement in effect prior to the effective date of this Agreement.

SECTION 3:

Because the Union is responsible for representing the interests of all bargaining unit employees without discrimination and without regard to Union membership, Management agrees to deduct a service fee from each non-Union member's bi-weekly pay, without written authorization. Upon the showing of the Local Union that sixty percent (60%) of the eligible employees in the bargaining unit for which it has certification, are Union members, the Department shall begin withholding, not later than the second pay period after this Agreement becomes effective and the showing of sixty percent (60%) is made, a service fee applicable to all employees in the bargaining unit(s) who are not Union members. The service fee and/or Union dues withheld shall be transmitted to the Union, minus a collection fee of five cents ($.05) per deduction per pay period. The service fee withholding shall continue for the duration of this Agreement. Payment of dues or service fees through wage deductions shall be implemented in accordance with procedures established by the Department and this Article. Employees who enter the bargaining unit where a service fee is in effect shall have the service fee or Union dues withheld by the appropriate Department after the sixty percent (60%) showing is made.

SECTION 4:

The service fee applicable to non-Union members shall not exceed the amount of the Union dues. Payment of dues or service fees shall not be a condition of employment.

SECTION 5:

When a service fee is not in effect, the Union may require that an employee who does not pay dues or service fee shall pay all reasonable costs incurred by the Union in representing such employee(s) in grievance, adverse actions or appeal proceedings in accordance with the provisions of the Comprehensive Merit Personnel Act (CMPA).

SECTION 6:

The Union shall indemnify, defend and otherwise hold the Department harmless for any good faith errors, or omissions in carrying out the provisions of this Article.

SECTION 7:

When an employee is permanently separated from the bargaining unit, he/she will submit a request to have Union dues or service fee deductions canceled. Upon request, on a quarterly basis, Management will provide the Union with a list of names of bargaining unit members.

ARTICLE 4
UNION RIGHTS

SECTION 1:

A. Officers, stewards, and all other official representatives are authorized to perform Union duties during duty hours and will suffer no loss of pay, no adversarial action, no retaliatory action or loss of any other benefits as a result thereof. A Union representative may be required to leave his/her assigned work area to transact permissible labor-management business. When it becomes necessary for an officer or steward to transact permissible labor-management business away from th assigned work area during work hours, the officer or steward must request and receive permission from his/her immediate supervisor. If the immediate supervisor is unavailable, permission shall be requested from the next level Management official.

Before entering a work area other than his/her own, a Union representative shall request from the appropriate supervisor of his/her desire to visit or meet and confer with an employee in that work area. If the supervisor is unable to grant the request, the representative will be advised of an appropriate time to meet with the employee.

SECTION 5:

The Union will be consulted prior to the organization of new shifts that would affect the members of the unit. The Union will have the right to select a steward for each newly organized shift. In the event a shop steward is detailed or reassigned, he/she will be given reasonable time to complete all pending matters in which he/she is involved.

SECTION 7:

Management agrees to inform all new or rehired employees to the Union's exclusive recognition and to have them introduced to their shop steward when they are assigned to a duty post. The shop steward will be given an opportunity to meet with the new employee.

SECTION 8:

During orientation of new employees or when new employees come on board, the Union president or his/her designee shall be granted up to one (1) hour for the purpose of informing employees of the Union's exclusive recognition, union benefits, and employee rights under the negotiated agreement as well as distribution of any Union related materials.

SECTION 9:

The Employer agrees, upon request, to notify the Union of new employees in the bargaining unit listed by organization unit with title and grade.

SECTION 10:

Upon request, the Employer agrees to provide the Union with a list in alphabetical order, of all employees in the Department. The list shall contain name, job title, grade, date of employment, job status, date of NTE for temporary/term employees, when applicable, and CBU codes.

Each Local shall notify the Office of Labor Relations and Collective Bargaining (OLRCB) in advance of Union sponsored training, with the names of the Union officials and stewards who are to attend. The Employer shall grant official time, up to forty (40) hours, for stewards and officers and up to eighty (80) hour each for the local president and one (1) designee from January 1 through December 31 of each year. It is understood that these hours pertain to the positions described and not individuals.

ARTICLE 5

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

SECTION 1 - PURPOSE:

A. The purpose of this grievance procedure is to establish an effective procedure for the fair, expeditious and orderly adjustment of grievances. Grievances may be settled informally at any step of the process. Therefore, the parties or their authorized representatives have the authority to settle a grievance at any stage of the grievance procedure.

B. Most grievances arise from misunderstandings or disputes which can be settled promptly and satisfactorily on an informal basis at the immediate supervisory level. The Employer and the Union agree that every effort will be made by Management and the aggrieved party(ies) to settle grievances at the lowest possible level. Inasmuch as dissatisfactions and disagreements arise occasionally among people in any work situation, the filing of a grievance shall not be construed as reflecting unfavorably on an employee's good standing, his/her performance, or his/her loyalty or desirability to the organization. Reasonable time during working hours will be allowed for employees and the Union representative to discuss, prepare for and present grievances, including attendance at meetings with Employer officials.

C. All time limits may be extended by mutual consent.

SECTION 2 - SCOPE:

A grievance is any alleged violation of this Agreement or applicable provision of the Compensation Agreement, or any misapplication or misinterpretation of Personnel rules, regulations or statutes that affect terms and conditions of employment. It is agreed that EEO complaints shall not be grievable.

SECTION 3 - PRESENTATION OF GRIEVANCES:

A. This procedure is designed to enable the parties to settle grievances at the lowest possible administrative level.

B. Grievances not responded to by Management in a timely manner may be advanced to the next level by the Union.

C. Categories of Grievances:

1. PERSONAL - A grievance of a personal nature requires the consent of the aggrieved employee at Step 2 of this procedure even if the Grievant is represented by his/her Union. In the case of an individual Grievant proceeding without Union representation, the Union must be given an opportunity to be present and offer its views at any meeting held to adjust the grievance.

2. GROUP - A grievance involving a number of employees in the unit may be filed at whatever step resolution is possible.

3. UNION/CLASS - A grievance involving employees in the bargaining unit may be filed and signed by the Union President or designee directly at Step 3 of the grievance procedure. Grievances so filed will be processed only if the issue raised is common to bargaining unit employees. A class grievance must contain all information specified in Section 4 of the grievance procedure and the Administrator or his/her designee shall respond in writing within twenty-one (21) working days of receipt.

SECTION 4 - PROCEDURAL STEPS/PERSONAL AND GROUP GRIEVANCES:

A. STEP 1:

Grievances (except Adverse Action and Union/Class) shall first be taken up orally or in writing by the concerned employee or Union representative with the appropriate Employer representative in an attempt to settle the matter. Grievances must be presented within twenty (20) work days from the date the employee or Union became aware of the grievance. The Union representative must be present if the employee so desires. However, if an employee(s) presents a grievance directly to the Employer for adjustment consistent with the term of this Agreement, the Union shall have an observer present. The Employer representative shall communicate the decision within ten (10) working days from the presentation of the grievance. The Employer shall present a written response when the grievance is presented in writing and an oral response when the case is presented orally.

B. STEP 2:

If the matter is not satisfactorily settled at Step 1 of the presentation of grievance, the employee(s) or the Union representative may, within ten (10) working days, submit the matter in writing to the next level Employer representative. The Employer representative will meet with the Union representative and the aggrieved employee(s) within five (5) working days after receipt of the grievance. The Employer representative shall give the employee(s) and the Union her/his written response within five (5) working days after the meeting.

The grievance at this and at every further step shall contain:

1. A statement of the specific provision(s) of the Agreement alleged to be violated.

2. The date(s) on which the alleged violation occurred.

3. A brief description of how the alleged violation occurred.

4. The specific remedy or adjustment sought.

5. Authorization by the employee if Union representation is desired.

Should the grievance not contain the required information, the Grievant or Union representative shall be so notified and given fifteen (15) working days from receipt of notification to resubmit the grievance. Failure to resubmit the grievance within the fifteen (15) day period shall void the grievance.

C. STEP 3:

If the grievance is not settled at Step 2, the employee(s) or the Union may within ten (10) working days forward the grievance to the Department Head for further consideration. The Department Head will review the grievance, consult with the employee(s) and the Union, and give the employee(s) and the Union his/her written answer within ten (10) working days after receipt of the grievance.

D. STEP 4:

If the grievance is not satisfactorily settled at Step 3, the Union may refer the matter to arbitration.

SECTION 5 - ADVERSE ACTION GRIEVANCES:

A. STEP 1:

A grievance which involves an adverse action, a removal or reduction in grade based on unacceptable performance shall be presented in writing by the concerned employee and the Union representative with the Agency Head within forty-five (45) calendar days of the final notice of action. The Employer will have fifteen (15) working days in which to answer the complaint in writing.

B. STEP 2:

If the matter is not satisfactorily settled at Step 4, the Union can invoke arbitration within twenty (20) working days of receipt of the Employer's decision at the Step 4 level.

The Union may, prior to the implementation of the penalty, request that the deciding official consider delay of the implementation of the decision pending the outcome of the arbitration. The Union and Management agree that such arbitrations will be scheduled and heard within 30 days after the Agency Head's decision to delay implementation. A withdrawal of the arbitration or delay in scheduling of such arbitration by the Union will result in the immediate implementation of the penalty. If the Agency Head denies the request to consider the delay of the implementation of the penalty, then Steps 1 and 2 of this Section shall apply.

SECTION 6 - UNION/CLASS GRIEVANCES:

STEP 1: The Employer and the Local President or his/her designee will meet within five (5) working days after receipt of the grievance to discuss the grievance.

STEP 2: The Department Head shall give the Local President his/her written response within ten (10) working days after the meeting. If the grievance is not settled by this method, the Union may refer the matter to arbitration. Nothing herein will preclude either party from attempting to settle such grievances informally at the appropriate level.

SECTION 7 - ARBITRATION:

A. SELECTION OF AN ARBITRATOR: The parties agree that a panel of arbitrators will be selected by the parties within thirty (30) working days of the signing of this Agreement to hear arbitrations. The panel will consist of seven (7) arbitrators who will be selected alternately to hear cases.

B. A committee of Union representatives and Management officials that are party to this agreement will meet quarterly to review the status of grievances, the selection of arbitrators and other issues related to this grievance procedure.

C. When mutually agreed by both parties, the following expedited arbitration procedures shall be used:

1. The arbitration will be held within thirty (30) working days of the request to arbitrate.

2. There shall be no stenographic record of the proceedings.

3. The hearing shall be conducted by the Arbitrator in whatever manner that will most expeditiously permit full presentation of the evidence and arguments of the parties. The Arbitrator shall make appropriate minutes of the proceedings. Normally, the hearing shall be completed within one (1) day. In unusual circumstances and for good cause shown, the Arbitrator may schedule an additional hearing to be held within seven (7) days.

4. There shall be no posthearing briefs.

5. Time of Award - The award shall be rendered promptly by the Arbitrator and unless otherwise agreed by the parties, no later than seven (7) days from the date of the closing of the hearing.

6. Form of Award - The award shall be in writing and shall be signed by the Arbitrator. If the Arbitrator determines that an opinion is necessary, it shall be in summary form.

D. The parties agree that arbitrations not heard under the expedited arbitration procedure will be scheduled and heard within ninety (90) days unless the parties mutually agree to extend the time limits.

SECTION 8 - GENERAL:

1. Witnesses shall be sequestered upon request of either party.

2. If either party desires a verbatim record of the proceedings, it may order such record. The party desiring the record shall make the record available to the other party and pay full costs of the transcript. Upon mutual agreement, the expenses may be shared.

3. The parties shall request that the arbitration award be in writing and set forth the Arbitrator's findings, reasoning and conclusions, within thirty (30) days after the conclusion of the hearing. Time limits may be extended by mutual agreement except in the case of expedited arbitrations.

4. The Arbitrator shall not have the power to add to, subtract from, or modify the provisions of this Agreement through the award.

5. The Arbitrator's award shall be binding upon both parties. Nothing in this Section prevents either party from appealing an award pursuant to the negotiated grievance procedure, in accordance with D.C. Code §1-605.2. Either party may submit the award for reconsideration by filing an Arbitration Review Request with the Public Employee Relations Board (PERB) within the time prescribed by law and regulation. Whenever an Arbitrator's decision is appealed, the decision shall remain in effect pending the outcome of the appeal process.

6. A statement of the Arbitrator's fee and expenses shall accompany the award. The fee and expense of the Arbitrator shall be born by the losing party. In cases where it is unclear whether or not a party has lost the case, the Arbitrator will make the determination.

7. Any dispute over the application of an Arbitrator's award, the Arbitrator shall retain jurisdiction.

SECTION 9 - APPEAL AND GRIEVANCE OPTIONS:

An aggrieved employee affected by a removal or reduction in grade based on unacceptable performance, or adverse action may at his/her option raise the matter under a statutory appellate procedure or the negotiated grievance procedure, but not both.

For the purpose of this Section and employee shall be deemed to have exercised his/her option under this Section when the employee files a notice of appeal under the appellate procedure or files a grievance in writing under the negotiated grievance procedure.

SECTION 10 - QUESTIONS OR GRIEVABILITY:

In the event either party should assert a grievance non-grievable or non-arbitrable, the original grievance shall be considered amended to include this issue. Any dispute of grievability or arbitrability shall be referred to arbitration as a threshold issue(s).

ARTICLE 4
ALTERNATIVE WORK SCHEDULES

Section 1 – Definitions:

A. Except as provided in this Article, the professional workday for full-time employees shall consist of eight (8) hours of work within a 24-hour period. The normal hours of work shall be consecutive except that they may be interrupted by a lunch period.

B. Professional Workweek:

Attorneys work a professional work week on a salaried basis consisting of a minimum of forty (40) hours. The normal workweek for full-time attorneys shall consist of five (5) consecutive days, at least eight (8) hours of work, Monday through Friday. Management may vary the workweek of attorneys in order to meet work load requirements or emergency situations and must provide the employees with at least a two (2) day advance notice, if possible. Attorneys are exempt from the overtime restrictions under the Fair Labor Standards Act. However, in the event an employee is asked to work more than 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week, management will attempt to give as much notice as possible and reasonably consider any request for compensatory time covered elsewhere in this agreement.

Section 2 Fair Labor Standards Act:

Attorneys are excluded from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and no overtime pay or compensatory time is authorized for work performed unless authorized elsewhere in this Agreement.

Section 3 Flexible/Alternative Work Schedules:

AWS may be combined, except that a Compressed Work Schedule may only be combined with Ad Hoc Telecommuting. The existing AWS policies of all agencies are hereby incorporated by reference into this Agreement provided that they include the three AWS described in this Section. In the event that any agency does not currently have an AWS policy that includes the three AWS described in this Section, the OAG Office Order # 2015-03 shall apply until such time as the agency establishes its policy. The normal work hours shall be adjusted, consistent with a supervisor's discretion set forth in the applicable Office Order or other governing policy, rule, regulation or law to allow for AWS schedules, with appropriate adjustments in affected leave. In deciding whether to grant an employee's request to use an alternative work schedule, the employee's supervisor shall consider, but is not limited to the following factors:

A. The demands of the requesting individual's work;

B. The need to maintain adequate staffing to handle unanticipated matters or cover matters that are handled by the Office, Unit, Section, or Division, even if that assignment is not assigned to the requesting employee;

(1) The needs of the work unit, including the need to ensure sufficient staffing levels during core hours and availability of office staff or government officials;

(2) Whether granting an AWS request results in the denial of annual or sick leave to other members of the Office, Unit, Section, or Division;

(3) The past performance of the requesting individual;

(4) Equitable sharing of Office functions;

a. Whether work assignments can be performed effectively and efficiently by an employee on the type of AWS being requested;

b. Whether the requested AWS places an undue burden on others covered by this Office Order within a particular Unit, Section, or Division; and

c. Any other factor that may affect the quality or quantity of work accomplished by the Office, Unit, Section or Division.

Such schedules maybe appropriate where:

1. It is cost effective;

2. It increases employee morale and productivity; or

3. It better serves the needs of the public.

The Union shall be given advance notice when flexible/alternative work schedules are proposed and shall be given the opportunity to consult. A flexible/alternative work schedule shall not affect the existing leave system. Leave will continue to be earned at the same number of hours per pay period as for employees on five (5) day, forty (40) hour schedules and will be charged on an hour-by-hour basis.

Section 4 Flexiplace/Telecommuting:

Supervisors may permit employees to use flexiplace/telecommuting plans. Employees participating in flexiplace/telecommuting plans must be accessible and available during their entire tour of duty and for recall to physically appear in the office. Employees should make every effort to report as soon as possible, generally within 2 hours. Employees are solely responsible for completing assigned work after appropriate management review and shall comply with management's requirements with regard to advance review of drafts prior to a final deadline.

Section 5 Supervisor's Authority:

An attorney's request for AWS shall not be unreasonably denied. An immediate supervisor must provide written justification for the denial of an AWS request. An attorney may seek review of the denial of an alternative work schedule to the manager of his/her immediate supervisor. OAG employees may appeal a manager's denial of his/her AWS request to the Attorney General. Agency employees may appeal a manager's denial of his/her AWS request to the Director of the MOLC. A supervisor may require AWS participants to provide additional information about conformance with their approved tours, such as the use of sign-in sheets, or other time accountability systems or methods.

Section 6 Impact and Effect Bargaining:

The Attorney General shall not change its existing AWS Office Order # 2015-03 without advance notice to the union and an opportunity to engage in impact and effects bargaining. Agencies shall not implement an alternate work schedule policy without advance notice to the union, an opportunity to engage in impact and effects bargaining and an opportunity to make substantive suggestions to any AWS policy before the policy's effective date.

If a Union official is not on the list of designated representatives and is needed prior to the two (2) days notice, the Union President shall notify the Employer's designated official(s) by phone and/or e-mail before the official will be recognized. The Employer shall recognize any Union official designated pursuant to this section.

C. The Employer will not recognize any Union official or representative who is not listed as required or for whom notification was not provided in accordance with this section.

D. Except where explicitly provided, this Agreement shall not be interpreted in any manner that interferes with the Union's right to designate representatives of its own choosing on any particular representational matter.

Employer recognizes that the Union may designate employee members, selected or appointed to a Union office or delegated to a Union function and agrees that, upon request, the employee may be granted annual leave or leave without pay for the period of time required to be away from his/her job. Such requests will be submitted as far in advance as possible, but not less than one (1) working day prior to the day the leave is to begin in the event the leave request is eight (8) hours or less, or five (5) working days in advance, in the event the leave request exceeds eight (8) hours. The Union shall be notified of a disapproval of leave in writing together with the Employer's justification. Leave contemplated under this article shall not be denied except for good cause.

Section 3 - Performance Appraisals:

A. No Union representative will be disadvantaged in the assessment of his/her performance based on his/her participation in Union activities and/or use of official time to conduct labor-management business authorized by this Agreement. However, performance problems unrelated to participation in Union activities and/or the use of official time may be addressed in accordance with other relevant provisions of this Agreement.

B. At the beginning of the rating year or when the Union representative is initially appointed, workload and performance expectations will be established that consider the actual use of official time and the impact on performance of the duties of the employee's position. Additionally, the designated supervisor and the Union representative will meet at least quarterly to discuss needed adjustments to workload and representational needs.

Section 4 - Official Time for Representational Activity:

A. Pursuant to the statutory right and responsibility of the Union to represent bargaining unit employees, representatives of the Union will be granted reasonable amounts of official time to investigate, prepare for, and conduct representational functions in accordance with the provisions of this Article as follows. No other Union members or officer will be assigned a reduced caseload. However, other Union members or officers shall be granted reasonable amounts of official time to investigate, prepare for, and conduct representational functions as needed, including necessary travel time. Employer will not be required to grant or approve official time for any Union shop steward, officer or other representative who has not complied with the Employer notification requirements of Section 2 of this Article.

B. For the purpose of this Article, "representational functions" means those authorized activities undertaken by employees on behalf of other employees or the Union pursuant to representational rights under the terms of this Agreement and District of Columbia law. Examples of activities for which reasonable amounts of official time will be authorized include:

(1) collective bargaining negotiations;

(2) discussions with Employer representatives concerning personnel policies, practices, and matters affecting working conditions;

(3) any proceeding in which the Union is representing an employee or the Union pursuant to its obligations under this Agreement;

Section 5 - Requesting Official Time:

A. All use of official time by any Union officer, official, steward or other representative must be recorded on the Employer-approved Official Time Report Form and submitted on a monthly basis to Employer's designee.

B. Official time for Union representatives should be requested on the approved "Official Time Report" form. The Union representative will request authorization for official time from his or her supervisor in advance and as is consistent with workload requirements except when circumstances do not allow for advance approval (e.g., unscheduled meetings called by management where the Union's attendance is requested; or representation of employees in investigatory interviews; or circumstances where the employee might be subject to discipline). Failure to properly request and obtain approval of official time may result in disciplinary action depending on the circumstances.

F. Management shall not prevent Union representatives from representing employees at reasonable times consistent with the provisions of this Agreement. The Union and employees recognize that workload and scheduling considerations will not always allow for the immediate release of employees from their assignments. However, the Employer agrees that such permission for release shall not be unreasonably delayed or denied. Workload needs will be balanced with official time needs prior to approval based on the following standard: official time requests shall be granted unless they hinder the accomplishment of essential workload requirements that cannot otherwise be accommodated.

G. All affected employees (e.g., grievants, representatives, witnesses, and appellants) whose presence has been determined to be necessary, by either the Union or the Employer, as the case may be, at relevant proceedings (including hearings, meetings, arbitrations, oral replies, or other labor-management business) will receive necessary official/duty time to participate in and travel to and from the proceedings.

B. In cases of alleged abuse of official time by the Union, or alleged improper restriction of official time or discrimination by the Employer, the parties shall endeavor to resolve the matter at the lowest possible level. If efforts to resolve the matter between the first line supervisor and the Union official or representative fail, then the party alleging the abuse or improper restriction shall bring the matter to the attention of the appropriate management and Union representatives. The parties agree that employees are allowed to use email on a limited basis for personal purposes, but such use should be limited to non-work time and should not interfere with the performance of the employee's duties, nor used to conduct outside employment or for discriminatory or harassing purposes or exchange of pornographic, discriminatory or harassing material.

Section 3 – Internet Access and Use:

The parties agree that Internet access through the Employer is considered D.C. Government property and must be used for the program needs of the OAG and the District of Columbia. Employees are expected to be familiar with the D.C. Government's Internet Access and Use Policy. The parties agree that employees are allowed to use the Internet on a limited basis for personal purposes, but that such use should not interfere with the performance of the employee's duties. Employees are expressly prohibited from visiting websites to conduct outside employment or that contain discriminatory, pornographic, bandwidth-consuming, or harassing material.

Section 4 – Telephone Use:

The Employer and Union agree that D.C. Government telephones must be used primarily in support of D.C. Government programs. The parties acknowledge that employees are permitted to use telephones on an occasional and selective basis for personal purposes. Such use is a privilege and not a right and may not be abused for the conduct of outside employment during the scheduled tour of duty of the employee or for discriminatory, pornographic, or harassing purposes.

Section 5 – Privacy:

Except as provided generally under current, written, and published D.C. Government policies, the Office of the Attorney General shall not monitor employee email, telephone, or internet use, unless it has good cause to believe that an employee has violated this Article or any applicable law or regulation. The Employer will share with the Union notices of any changes or modifications to said policies that it receives.

The Employer and Union mutually agree that the legal services provided by attorneys employed by OAG and other District agencies that employ District legal service attorneys will be enhanced by the opportunity for attorneys to engage in continuing legal education that is relevant to their work. Section 2 - Employee Rights:

A. All Union employees have the right, and shall be protected in the free exercise of that right without fear of penalty or reprisal:

(1) to organize a labor organization free from interference, restraint, or coercion;

(2) to form, join, or assist any labor organization;

(3) to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing; and

(4) to refrain from any or all such activities under subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this subsection, except to the extent that such right may be affected by an agreement requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment as authorized in D.C. Official Code § 1-617.11 (2012 Supp.) ("Employee Rights").

B. Employee Rights shall extend to participation in the management of the Union and acting for it in the capacity of a Union representative, including representation of its views to the officials of the Mayor, the Attorney General, D.C. Council and Congress.

Section 3 - Employee Grievances:

An individual employee may present a grievance at any time to the Employer without the intervention of the Union; provided, however, that the Union is afforded at least forty-eight (48) hours advance notice by the Employer to be present and to offer its view when requested by an employee at any meeting held to resolve the grievance. Any employee or group of employees who present a personal grievance to the Employer may not do so under the name, or by representation, of the Union. Resolutions of grievance must be consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

Section 4 – Conflicts of Interest:

This Agreement does not authorize participation in the management of or acting as a representative of a labor organization by any employee if the participation or activity would result in a conflict of interest, a breach of legal ethics, or otherwise be incompatible with applicable law or with the official duties of the employee.

Section 5 - Campaigns or Drives - Solicitation of Employees in the Bargaining Unit:

A. Definition: For the purpose of this Article, solicitation of employees in the bargaining unit means OAG or District government approved solicitations which have been announced in generally published OAG or D.C. government directives.

B. Participation: Contributions from employees in the bargaining unit and participation by employees in the unit to solicit contributions shall be voluntary. There shall be no discrimination against

Consistent with District government ethics rules, regulations and law, no management or supervisory employee shall participate in any direct solicitation of employees in the bargaining unit who are under his/her supervision except for occasional office functions.

ARTICLE 23
SABBATICAL/EXTENDED LEAVE

It is management policy to allow attorneys to apply for an extended time away from work for community service, education, travel or other outside interests in a non-pay status. To be eligible for a sabbatical, an attorney must have both: 1) been employed within the District legal service for seven years, and 2) received a performance evaluation of at least Successful, or an equivalent rating, in every category for the rating period which immediately precedes the application for sabbatical/extended leave. An attorney who receives a Needs Improvement or a Fails Expectation, or an equivalent rating, in any category is ineligible. At any time after completion of the attorney's seventh anniversary with the District legal service and each successive seven years after return from a sabbatical, the attorney may request up to one (1) year of leave as sabbatical. Attorneys who elect to take a sabbatical will return to a comparable position with the OAG or the District agency in which they worked prior to the sabbatical.

Section 1 – Process:

Application for sabbatical should be submitted to the attorney's immediate supervisor no later than 120 days before the proposed leave is to commence. The immediate supervisor shall review each application and send a recommendation to approve or disapprove the request to the Attorney General or agency director within 30 days of the submission of the request.

Section 2 – Supervisor's Authority:

Sabbaticals may be taken for any purpose. However, the reason for the request may be taken into consideration by the employee's supervisor in determining whether to approve the request. Final decision on request for sabbatical is in the sole discretion of the Mayor or Attorney General, as applicable, who, in his/her discretion, may set limits on the number of attorneys who shall be approved for a sabbatical in any one year. If an employee asks for the reason for the denial, a supervisor must provide a written justification for the denial. The denial of an application for sabbatical/extended leave is not grievable.

Section 3 – Potential Loss of Benefits and Insurance Premiums:

Attorneys understand that an extended leave of absence in a non -pay status may impact his or her retirement and other benefits with the District of Columbia. Attorneys also understand that they are required to pay their portion of any insurance premiums while in a non -pay status. Attorneys shall inform themselves of the District of Columbia rules and regulations applicable to an extended leave of absence in a non -pay status before submitting the request for sabbatical. Under no circumstances is the management required to allow attorneys to use leave intermittently to avoid the loss of benefits while the attorney is on sabbatical.

Section 4 – Grievance on Failure to Comply with Process:

Attorneys may not grieve a failure to obtain a promotion or failure to appear on a list of candidates recommended for promotion. The decision on whether to grant a promotion is within the sole and unreviewable discretion of the Attorney General or agency head, as applicable. However, attorneys may grieve management's alleged failure to comply with the process outlined in Office Order number 2007-36, later orders or section 2 above.

Section 5 – Filling Vacancies:

A. Whenever an attorney vacancy exists within OAG or at a subordinate agency, other than a temporary opening, in any existing job classification or as the result of the development or establishment of a new job classification, Employer shall provide a copy to the Union which shall post such vacancy notice on all Union bulletin boards. The Employer may also reject all candidates on the list and may request a new list.

Section 7 - Additional Duties:

Section 3 - Timely Receipt of Pay, Pay Increases, Bonuses and Reimbursements:

A. Section 5 – Audits:

In the event employee requests an audit of pay and benefit records because of errors made in their computation, Employer shall complete such audit and transmit the results to the requesting employee within ten (10) business days or shall provide the employee a reason why additional time is required and shall give a projected date of completion.

ARTICLE 26
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1 - Work Rules:

Employees will be advised of verbal and written work rules that they are required to follow. The Employer agrees that proposed new written work rules and the revision of existing written work rules shall be subject to notice and consultation with the Union.

Section 2 – Identification Device:

The Employer agrees that the employee has a right to participate and identify with the Union as his/her representative in collective bargaining matters. Therefore, the Employer agrees that such identification devices as emblems, buttons and pins supplied by the Union to the employees within the bargaining unit may be worn on their clothing except when appearing in court or before any administrative tribunal or other government agency on behalf of the Employer.

The Employer and the Union agree to electronically distribute the fully executed version of this contract to all management and covered employees upon execution of the contract by the parties.

Section 4 – Office Space:

Employer will consider the attorney client and other privileges in providing space. Office space will be identified by OAG, the Mayor, or their designees, and assigned by the Union. Employer determines space, division and section allocation, as well as what offices are available for bargaining unit employees. Employer will afford the Union the advance opportunity to consult over the design of new office space at each step of the design process. The parties acknowledge that this does not interfere with management's final authority to determine the final design.

ARTICLE 27
COMPUTATION OF TIME

All time frames referenced in this Agreement shall be interpreted as business days, unless otherwise specified.

ARTICLE 28
GRIEVANCE AND ARBITRATION PROCEDURES

Section 1 – Definitions:

A grievance under this section is an allegation that the other party has violated a provision of this Agreement. RIFs, furloughs, disciplinary actions and performance rating appeals are excluded from the definition of grievance under this section and such disciplinary actions and ratings are not subject to challenge, review or arbitration under the grievance and arbitration procedures of this section. The grievability of disciplinary actions and performance evaluations is governed by other parts of this Agreement and the Compensation Agreement.

Section 2 – Performance Ratings:

Any performance rating may be appealed within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt by the employee to a three-person committee established by the Attorney General or the Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel. The committee shall be empowered to review the basis for a direct supervisor's rating, conduct a hearing, receive written briefs, and issue a written decision which shall approve, modify, or reject a performance rating. Any decision by the Committee shall be appealable to the Attorney General or agency head, as applicable, within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt of the decision by the employee. The Attorney General's decision or agency head's decision, as applicable, shall be final and no further appeal shall be allowed under this Agreement. If the committee does not act within thirty (30) calendar days of the appeal, the evaluation may be appealed to the Attorney General or the agency head, as applicable who shall issue a decision within fifteen (15) calendar days thereafter. If the Attorney General or agency head, as applicable, does not act within fifteen (15) calendar days, unsatisfactory evaluations may be appealed under the provisions of this Article within fifteen (15) calendar days. The Attorney General and the Mayor's Office of Legal Counsel shall establish procedures for appeals under this Article to the committee and to the Attorney General and agency head, respectively.

Section 3 – General Provisions:

Any grievance that may arise between the parties involving an alleged violation of this Agreement shall be settled as described in this Article unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the Union President and the Attorney General or agency head, as applicable, or his/her designee.

Section 4 – Information Requests:

Both parties shall provide all information determined to be reasonable and needed by the other party for processing of a grievance after a request by the other party within a reasonable amount of time.

Section 5 – Procedure:

A. This procedure is designed to enable the parties to settle grievances at the lowest possible administrative level. Grievances must be filed at the lowest level where resolution is possible. Therefore, all grievances shall ordinarily be presented to the immediate supervisor unless it is clear that the immediate supervisor does not have authority to deal with the grievance and that it should be filed elsewhere. The Union may request a face-to-face meeting with the appropriate management representative who is delegated authority to deal with the grievance at each step. The parties agree to endeavor to engage in productive meetings to resolve a grievance.

B. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as precluding discussion between an employee, the Union and the appropriate supervisor over a matter of interest or concern to any of them prior to the initiation of a grievance. Once a matter has been made the subject of a grievance under this procedure, nothing herein shall preclude any party (the Union, the Employer or the Employee) from attempting to resolve the grievance informally at the appropriate level.

Step 1: The employee and/or the Union shall take up the grievance, in writing, with the employee's immediate supervisor within fifteen (15) business days from the date of the occurrence or when the employee or the Union knew or should have known of the occurrence. The written grievance shall be clearly identified as a grievance submitted under the provisions of this Article, and shall list the name of the grievant or grievants, the contract provisions allegedly violated, the basic facts, issues, or concerns giving rise to the grievance, the date or approximate date and location of the violation and the remedy sought. The supervisor shall address the matter and shall respond, in writing, to the Steward and/or the employee within fifteen (15) business days after the receipt of the grievance.

Step 2: If the grievance has not been settled, or the supervisor has failed to respond, it may be presented in writing by the Union to the second level supervisor within ten (10) business days after the Step 1 response is due or received, whichever is sooner. The second level supervisor shall respond to the Union in writing within ten (10) business days after receipt of the written grievance.

Step 3: If the grievance is still unresolved, or the supervisor has failed to respond, it may be presented in writing by the Union to the Attorney General or agency head, as applicable, or his/her designee, within twenty (20) working days after the Step 2 response is due or received, whichever is sooner. The Attorney General or agency head, as applicable, or his/her designee, shall respond in writing to the Union within twenty (20) business days after receipt of the written grievance.

Step 4: If the grievance is still unresolved, or the Attorney General, or agency head, as applicable, or his/her designee has failed to respond, the Union may by written notice request arbitration within twenty (20) business days after the reply at Step 3 is due or received whichever is sooner.

A grievance filed by the Union on a matter involving more than one division within OAG, may be filed with the Attorney General or his/her designee at Step 3. The grievance must be filed within fifteen (15) business days from the date of the occurrence giving rise to the grievance or when the Union knew or should have known of the occurrence.

When mutually agreed by the parties, grievances on the same matter on behalf of two (2) or more employees may be processed as a single grievance for the purpose of resolving all the grievances.

A grievance filed by the Union which does not seek personal relief for a particular employee or a group of employees, but rather expresses the Union's disagreement with management's interpretation or application of the Agreement and which seeks an institutional remedy shall be filed at Step 3 within fifteen (15) business days from the date of the occurrence or when the Union knew or should have known of the occurrence to the extent reasonably possible.

A grievance filed by the Employer should be filed directly with the Union President within fifteen(15) business days from the date of the occurrence or when the Employer knew or should have known of the occurrence giving rise to the grievance. The Union President shall have fifteen (15) business days to respond. If the Employer's grievance is still unresolved, or the Union President or his/her designee has failed to respond, the Employer may by written notice request arbitration within twenty (20) business days after the Union's reply is due or received whichever is sooner.

A grievance concerning a continuing violation of this Agreement may be filed at any time during the existence of the alleged violation of this Agreement.

Section 6 - Selection of the Arbitrator:

The arbitration proceeding shall be conducted by an arbitrator selected by the Employer and the Union. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS) shall be requested to provide a list of seven (7) arbitrators from which an arbitrator shall be selected within seven (7) calendar days after receipt of the list by both parties. Both the Employer and the Union may strike three (3) names from the list using the alternate strike method. The party requesting arbitration shall strike the first name. The arbitration hearing shall be conducted pursuant to the FMCS guidelines unless modified by this Agreement.

Section 7 – Authority of the Arbitrator:

The jurisdiction and authority of the arbitrator and his/her opinion and award shall be confined exclusively to the interpretation or application of the express provisions of this Agreement at issue between the Union and the Employer consistent with applicable law and regulation. He/she shall have no authority to add to, detract from, alter, amend, or modify any provision of this Agreement; or to impose on either party a limitation or obligation not explicitly provided for in this Agreement. The written award of the arbitrator on the merits of any grievance adjudicated within his jurisdiction and authority shall be final and binding on the aggrieved employee, the Union and the Employer, subject to either party's appeal rights to the Public Employee Relations Board and the Superior Court of the District of Columbia.

Section 8 - Decision of the Arbitrator:

The arbitrator shall be requested to render his/her decision in writing within thirty (30) calendar days after the conclusion of the arbitration hearing.

Section 9 - Expenses of the Arbitrator:

Expenses for the arbitrator's services and the proceeding shall be borne equally by the Employer and the Union. However, each party shall be responsible for compensating its own representatives and witnesses. If either party desires a record of the arbitration proceedings, it may cause such a recording to be made, providing it pays for the record and makes copies available without charge to the other party and the arbitrator.

Section 10 - Time Off For Grievance Hearings:

The employee, Union Steward and/or Union representative shall, upon request, be permitted to meet and discuss grievances with designated management officials at each step of the Grievance Procedure within the time specified consistent with Section 4 of Article 6 on Union Stewards.

Section 11 – Time Limits:

All time limits following the initiation of any grievance set forth in this Article may be extended by mutual consent, but if not so extended, must be strictly observed. If the matter in dispute is not resolved within the time period provided for in any step, the next step may be invoked. The appropriate representative of either party shall not unreasonably deny a request for an extension of time if the request is made in writing by the original deadline date. The parties may mutually agree in writing to waive Steps 1 and/or 2 of the procedure described in this Article.

Section 12 – Termination of Grievance:

A grievance shall terminate when either party terminates its own grievance, when both parties consent or for failure to meet contractual time limits. The termination of a grievance shall not prejudice either party from reinstituting a grievance at a later date.

Section 13 – Exclusions:

Matters not within the jurisdiction of the Employer will not be processed as a grievance under this Article unless the matter is specifically included in another provision of this Agreement or the Compensation Agreement.

ARTICLE 29
DISCIPLINE AND DISCHARGE

Section 1 -- Disciplinary Actions:

A. Assistant Attorneys General ("AAG") in the bargaining unit are appointed to serve the District of Columbia consistent with the provisions of the Legal Service Act. An AAG may be subject to disciplinary action, including reprimand, suspension (with or without pay), reduction in grade or step, or removal for unacceptable performance or for any reason that is not arbitrary or capricious. Disciplinary actions shall be processed in accordance with Section 3614, Chapter 36 of the D.C. Personnel Regulations. The Employer shall provide the Employee with ten (10) calendar days advance notice, consistent with the notice provisions of Chapter 36 of the D.C. Personnel Regulations, of any proposed discipline, with the exception of summary removal. The proposed notice of discipline will also be sent to the Union.

B. Notwithstanding Section 1A herein, the Attorney General or an agency head, may summarily suspend or remove a bargaining unit member, in accordance with Sections 1616 and 1617 of the DPM, when the employee's conduct:

1. Threatens the integrity of government operations;

2. Constitutes an immediate hazard to the agency, to other District employees, or to the employee; or

3. Is detrimental to public health, safety, or welfare.

C. Upon request, an employee subject to any disciplinary action shall be allowed access to his or her office, at a mutually agreeable time, to retrieve personal items.

D. If there is no appeal pursuant to the provisions herein, the Attorney General's decision or agency head's decision, as applicable, shall be the final agency decision.

Section 2 -- Appeal Procedures:

After the Attorney General or agency head issues an administrative decision in accordance with §3614, Chapter 36 of the D.C. Personnel Regulations, the Union, on behalf of the Employee, may appeal the Attorney General's or agency head's suspensions of ten days or more, including demotions and terminations, within ten (10) business days of the Attorney General's or agency head's decision. This time limit may be extended by mutual consent of the parties, but if not so extended, must be strictly observed. An appeal to the nonbinding arbitrator shall stay the time limits for invoking a review by the Mayor under Section 3614, Chapter 36 of the D.C. Personnel Regulations. The Attorney General's or the agency head's decision in connection with a suspension of less than ten days or any other corrective action is final and not subject to appeal.

Section 3 -- Stay of Disciplinary Action:

The filing of an appeal shall not serve to stay or delay the effective date of the Attorney General's or agency head's final administrative decision.

Section 4 -- Standard of Review and Authority of the Arbitrator:

A. The arbitrator's jurisdiction and authority and opinion shall be confined exclusively to suspensions of ten days or more, and shall be an advisory, nonbinding decision concerning whether the Employer's decision to discipline is: (1) a result of the Employee's unacceptable performance, (2) for any reason that is not arbitrary or capricious in accordance with § 106.56(a) of the Legal Service Act, or (3) both.

B. The arbitrator does not have authority to modify, amend, or rescind any disciplinary action or to impose any back-pay or other financial obligation on the Employer resulting from the disciplinary action.

Section 5 -- Time Limits:

All time limits set forth, in this Article must be strictly observed. If the Union fails to pursue any step within the time limit then it shall have no further right to continue the appeal.

Section 6 -- Extension of Time Limits:

All time limits set forth in this Article may be extended by mutual consent, but if not so extended, must be strictly observed. If the matter in dispute is not resolved within the time period provided for in any step, the next step may be invoked. However, if a party fails to pursue any step within the time limit, then he/she shall have no further right to continue the grievance. The appropriate representative of either party shall not unreasonably deny a request for an extension of time if such request is made in writing by the original deadline date. The parties may mutually agree in writing to waive Steps 1 and or 2 of the procedure described in this Article.

Section 7 -- Substitution of Binding Arbitration Procedures:

In the event that the Council of the District of Columbia legislatively establishes a binding arbitration process concerning discipline and discharge for any unit employees in the Legal Service, the parties agree to reopen negotiations solely to rescind this Article to the extent of any conflict and incorporate the binding arbitration process into this Agreement to the maximum extent possible.

ARTICLE 30
SAVINGS CLAUSE

SECTION 1:

In the event any article, section or portion of this Agreement is held to be invalid and unenforceable by any court or other authority of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall apply only to the specific article, section, or portion thereof specified in the decision; and upon issuance of such a decision, the Employer and the Union agree to immediately negotiate a substitute for the invalidated article, section or portion thereof to the extent possible.

SECTION 2:

The terms of this Agreement supersede any subsequently enacted D.C. laws, District Personnel Manual (DPM) regulations, or departmental rules concerning non-compensation covered herein for the term of this agreement.

ARTICLE 31
INCORPORATION OF COMPENSATION AGREEMENT TERMS

The terms and conditions of the Compensation Agreement between the District of Columbia and the American Federation of Government Employees, Local 1403, AFL-CIO, effective October 1, 2017, through September 30, 2020 (Compensation Agreement), are incorporated by reference into this Agreement. DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA PARKS AND RECREATION MASTER PLAN 2023

READY2PLAY District of Columbia Parks and Recreation Master Plan

DPR

GOVERNMENT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
MURIEL BOWSER, MAYOR

Muriel Bowser
Mayor

Fellow Washingtonians,

As Mayor of Washington, DC, I am proud to present Ready2Play, the District's master plan for our parks and recreation facilities/activities. This plan reflects our shared priorities and showcases the importance of parks and recreation as we plan for our future.

According to the Trust for Public Land, the District has the #1 rated park system in the country for four out of the past five years. We are already doing many things correctly in the field of parks and recreation, but that doesn't mean we will rest on our laurels and not strive for even better. Rather we will continue to push the field forward and innovate with new programs and unique, state-of-the-art facilities. Our Parks and public spaces are critical to DC's Comeback as we look to reinvigorate once vibrant downtown corridors and provide safe opportunities for recreation and leisure in areas of the city that face disproportionate amounts of crime and violence.

This master plan is a blueprint for us as a government to guide the growth of our parks and recreation facilities. It takes a holistic approach to our park system and includes numerous strategies and recommendations for enhancing our partnership, acquisition, and investment in National Park Service spaces; for growing our network of partnerships with community-based organizations, nonprofits, and BIDs; and for increasing our efforts to engage with philanthropists to develop a parks trust. Centered throughout this plan is a focus on equity and ensuring that everyone in the District feels welcome and can access great parks and recreational facilities in and close to their neighborhoods.

Since the start of my Administration, I have always prioritized parks and recreation. I was one of the first Mayors in the country to sign on to the national "10-Minute Walk" campaign and the District has consistently ranked in the top echelon of the Trust for Public Land's ParkScore index. In addition, my annual budget submissions have included significant investments in our recreational centers, aquatic facilities, playgrounds, fields, courts, and additional outdoor spaces, with this year's budget setting a historic high mark for investment in parks and recreation.

This planning effort was able to reach thousands of Washingtonians in novel ways and engage them in innovative activities to gather feedback. I am proud to present the goals, strategies, actions, and recommendations laid out in this plan and look forward to continuing the work of providing excellent parks and recreational opportunities across every corner and in all eight wards of the District.

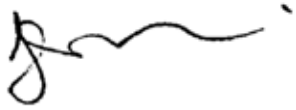
Sincerely,

Muriel Bowser
Mayor

Thennie Freeman

Director DC Department of Parks and Recreation

Fellow Washingtonians,



I am proud and excited to present Ready2Play to the residents of the District. This plan is a statement about how we intend to grow and diversify our offerings and amenities to meet the needs of all DC residents. We've seen tremendous investment by Mayor Bowser in recent years in parks and recreation and have been able to introduce new and innovative programming for all ages. We've reopened and activated Camp Riverview all summer, hired our first ever paddle-sport instructor, hosted nationally recognized all night activations through our Late Night Hype and Late Night Drip series and so much more.

No matter what division a DPR employee works in, they will be able to see themselves in this plan and have a role in carrying out its goals, strategies, and actions. As we work to provide positive recreational and leadership opportunities for our youth, healthy social activities for older adults, and fun, desirable events for all – our goal is to constantly be looking to improve our operations and build upon the national leadership recognitions we've received to provide the best parks and recreational system for the residents of the District.

We are always on the lookout for new opportunities to grow, especially to deepen our partnerships with our federal government partners, specifically the National Park Service, so that optimal programming and recreational opportunities will be equitably available throughout the District. We also want to bring the private sector along as a partner to help generate new plazas and spaces that will enhance our great network of public open and green spaces.

Thank you to all who have engaged in this planning effort. Let's get to work!

Sincerely,

Thennie M. Freeman
Director

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Thank you to all of the community-based organizations, nonprofits, civic and citizens associations, government agency staff, ANC members, councilmember offices, and members of the public who attended meetings, helped spread the word, engaged online, completed our survey, hosted us for listening sessions, reviewed public drafts of the plan, sent letters, and provided comments. The feedback we received from all of you along the way was critical to arriving at the final product we have now. It is our hope that you see yourself and your guidance reflected in this plan. The journey is not over, now comes the time for implementation. Please do not stop engaging and holding us accountable for the ambitious aims set out in this document. Thank you for shepherding us along this journey.

“Ready2Play sets the roadmap for us as an agency, guiding us as to how we will grow and adapt to meet changing recreational needs and demands. It is our North Star.”

-Delano Hunter,
Director of DC Department of General Services (former Director of DC Department of Parks and Recreation)

A INTRODUCTION

The value of parks and recreational facilities as vital social infrastructure for cities has never been higher. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, we saw recreation centers become testing sites, vaccination sites, and meal delivery hubs. We also saw record-numbers of residents flock to the outdoors and use parks and other public spaces for exercise, social gathering, protest, and quiet contemplation. The pandemic has highlighted how integral parks and recreational facilities are to the quality of life, physical and mental health, civic assembly, resilience, and fabric of communities. It has also laid bare our country's stained history of systemic racism and the continuing inequity in access to and quality of parks and recreational amenities in different neighborhoods.

Ready2Play is an ambitious, people-centered proposal for the District of Columbia (DC) parks and recreation system that charts a bold path forward for planning, design, programming, and operations over the next 20 years. It is focused on addressing existing inequities in the park system through future investment and operations and in meeting the needs of residents in every neighborhood now and into the future.

This plan will guide DC Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) planning, programming, operations, and investments in the years to come. It will be a roadmap forward for how to maintain, enhance and grow the parks system in DC and a living document, updated at regular intervals, that will track and report on metrics to measure progress toward its goals.

The plan provides goals, strategies and actions as well as site-based investment recommendations that DPR intends to pursue over the course of the next two decades. New tools and frameworks are also presented within these pages to help guide future decision-making through data.

Feedback from DC residents informed the strategies and investment priorities depicted in this plan and will continue to inform future iterations of this plan in the years ahead. Residents can continue to engage with DPR through the implementation of this plan and follow progress at the plan's webpage, www.ready2playdc.com.

DC'S PARK SYSTEM

Park System in the US according to the Trust for Public Land's ParkScore® index in 2019, 2021, 2022, and 2023[1]

18%

Share of city land dedicated to parks and recreation

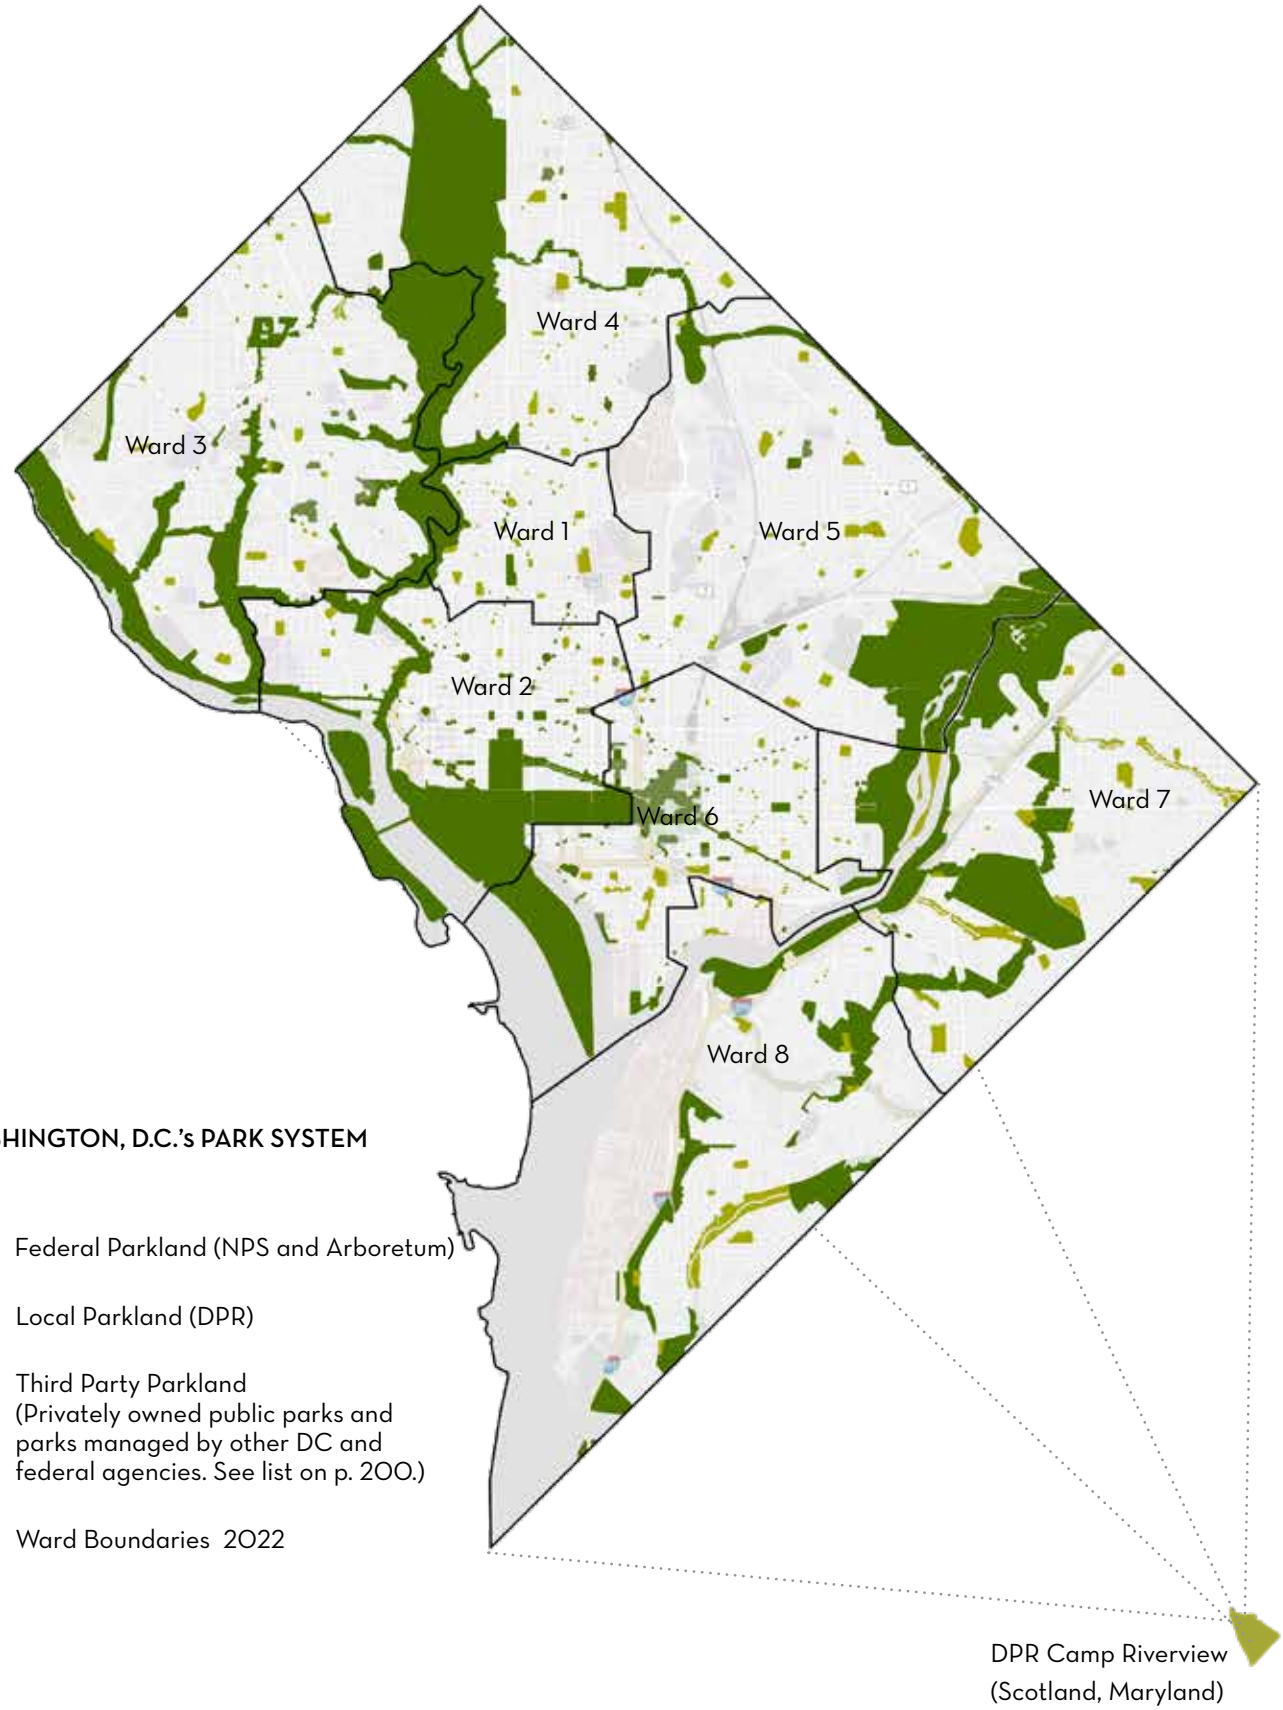
of residents live within a 10-minute walk of a park[1]

DC's Park system plays a critical role in mitigating the impacts of a changing climate by increasing the air quality, reducing the heat island effect, and providing safe places for our residents to recreate. The abundant and diverse green spaces and recreational assets in the District are the responsibility of a constellation of sister agencies and partners working in tandem with DPR, within the context of a larger, District-wide system of open spaces and amenities.



Partnerships allow DPR to increase public access, enhance operational efficiency, and combine resources to help close gaps in terms of outstanding capital and operating needs. These collaborations have certainly contributed to the District's ranking as the number one park system in the US.

Deanwood Recreation Center is an example of a co-located site that includes a recreation center, early childhood education (ECE) center, and public library. | Perkins Eastman DC

DC's park system integrates both federal parks, under the management of the National Park Service (NPS), and local parks under the management of DPR. Particularly unique to DC is the significant share of parkland under NPS management. The federal agency operates over 6,500 acres of District parkland—nearly 90 percent of DC's park system—across four open-space networks: the Monumental Core (e.g., National Mall); Rock Creek Park; Anacostia and Potomac waterfronts; and the Fort Circle parks. Much of DPR's inventory was formerly under NPS jurisdiction and was transferred to the District's jurisdiction for recreational purposes. Additionally, ongoing partnership agreements and recently approved cooperative management agreements (CMAs) between NPS and DPR have allowed the District to invest capital funds to help program and maintain NPS parkland.

DC Public Schools (DCPS) is another essential provider of outdoor recreational space with playgrounds, fields, and tennis and basketball courts. Mayor Muriel Bowser and the DC Council have championed legislation to improve access to school facilities in recent years. In 2019, legislation was passed mandating a unified permitting system for fields and other recreational amenities, RecTrac, managed by DPR. DCPS and DPR also operate over a dozen co-located sites that involve shared outdoor and indoor facility use and management. Both agencies continue to work together to enhance community access to recreational school spaces after school hours.

RECENT MODERNIZATION & EXPANSION PROJECTS

Recent capital projects that were completed since the beginning of the Ready2Play planning process include important projects that helped expand the park system and park access, bringing quality green space to different neighborhoods. This includes the addition of the new Alethia Tanner Park into DPR's inventory and the complete renovation of Franklin Park, under a CMA with NPS and the DowntownDC Business Improvement District (BID). Other marquee projects recently delivered that provided new amenities and reinvigorated design were Eastern Market Metro Park, Lafayette-Pointer Recreation Center, and Woody Ward Recreation Center (previously known as Benning Park Community Center).

Alethia Tanner Park | Summer 2020
After robust community input, DPR and the NoMa Parks Foundation opened a new, two-acre park in the NoMa neighborhood named after Alethia Tanner, a leader in DC's African American community in the early 1800s. The park's design reflects the energy of the site's past uses, and showcases the best sustainability practices while providing environmental education opportunities around native gardens and soil remediation and stormwater management. The key recreational spaces offered by the park include a large lawn for the summer movies, a picnic area and café, a modern playground, and a dog park.

Woody Ward Recreation Center | Spring 2021
The modernization project included interior improvements that expanded the programmatic capabilities and sustainability of the building, as well as exterior upgrades to the building envelope and roof, landscaping, and pool. In collaboration with the Department of Energy and Environment (DOEE), new stormwater facilities were created to naturally manage stormwater on the site. Overall, the upgrades benefit the community and the environment.

Eastern Market Metro Park | Summer 2021
Led by the Department of General Services (DGS) and DPR, the project improved the Eastern Market Metro's surrounding public space. This project resulted from a community-led Master Park Plan commissioned by Barracks Row Main St., in 2013. The first phase included a playground for children 2-5 and 5-12 years old, splash pad, open green lawn, landscaped areas, shade, and tables and seating. The second phase delivered additional amenities such as a performance pavilion, artwork, and pedestrian and streetscape improvements.

Lafayette-Pointer Recreation Center: Along with the 2021 renovation, the name "Pointer" was added to the center and adjacent park in honor of Captain George Pointer. Born into slavery in 1773, Pointer purchased his freedom at age 19, and his family and other Black families later settled on the land where the new recreation center and park stands. | Shinberg Levinas Architects

ONGOING MODERNIZATION & EXPANSION PROJECTS

Over 100 small and large capital projects are currently funded to improve DPR's inventory. Many of these will provide new state-of-the-art facilities for recreation and expanded access to urban nature. Three exemplary projects, expected to be delivered in 2024 - 2025, are described below.

Joy Evans Therapeutic Recreation Center Rendering | DLR Group

Joy Evans Therapeutic Recreation Center | Winter 2024
DPR worked with the community to develop a program for both a new therapeutic facility and campus based on biophilic design principles. The Joy Evans Therapeutic Recreation Center will be an all- inclusive facility serving residents along the full spectrum of physical and cognitive abilities, a model of recreational therapy, and an exceptional example of biophilic design for the District and the region. The new center will provide a connection to nature throughout the site, a sensory garden, a playground and splash pad, sports facilities, as well as pavilions and open spaces for community gatherings.

Anacostia Recreation Center at Ketcham Rendering | DLR Group

Anacostia Recreation Center at Ketcham | Summer 2024
A brand new 15,000-square-foot (sq. ft.) recreation center is being constructed on the site of Ketcham Elementary School. This project will include a gym, fitness center, tech lounge, playground, field, walking path and an on-site generator to provide 72 hours of continuous full-capacity backup power.

New Fort Lincoln Recreation Center Rendering | Studios Architecture

New Fort Lincoln Recreation Center | Summer 2025
This completely new facility will include new community spaces, a fitness center, a full-size gymnasium, and an Early Childhood Education (ECE) center. The park improvements will include a new playground for all ages, outdoor fitness areas, and accessibility improvements.

OTHER PARKS AND RECREATION PROVIDERS

A host of additional agencies and institutions provide DC residents with open space and recreational access. Each of these providers contributes their own resources to support the broader parks and recreation ecosystem. DPR's additional operational partners include:

1. Local and Federal Government Agencies:
   - National Park Service (NPS): NPS operates 25 national parks and 74 national historic landmarks. Sites range from large natural areas like Rock Creek Park to small museum houses like the Mary McCleod Bethune Council House; hundreds of circles, squares, and triangles; and large recreational areas like Anacostia Park. Amenities include picnic areas, playgrounds, courts, fields, performance venues, large open spaces, and recreational trails. NPS also offers several education and interpretation programs.
   - DC Public Schools (DCPS): DCPS-operated spaces tend to be available to the public on a school-by-school basis. With support from the DCPS central office, but no citywide public access policy currently in place, DPR and DCPS are actively working to address the valid safety and maintenance concerns of principals and school administrators to allow for use of additional spaces outside of school hours.
   - DC Department of Energy and Environment (DOEE): DOEE manages Kingman and Heritage Islands, the Aquatic Resources Education Center in Anacostia Park, and the former Washington Gas site near Boathouse Row. They provide numerous programs focused on environmental education and nature- based outdoor recreation.
   - DC Housing Authority (DCHA): DCHA operates numerous playgrounds, recreational amenities, and community centers in their housing developments available to residents.
   - DC Public Charter Schools (DCPCS): Like traditional public schools, many charter schools also offer on-campus recreational amenities that may be available to the public after school hours on a school-by-school basis.
   - District Department of Transportation (DDOT): DDOT operates small open spaces such as triangles and plazas and issues public space permits for temporary events, organized activities, and conversion of pedestrian and road space into sidewalk cafés, parklets, and streateries. DDOT also manages and maintains the local trails network throughout DC and executes annual Open Streets events, temporarily closing off streets to vehicular traffic for enhanced recreational use.
   - National Arboretum: A sizable share—446 acres—of open space is not under the management of NPS, but rather the U.S. Department of Agriculture, at the National Arboretum in the northeast part of the District.

2. Public and Private Institutions:
   - Churches and Cemeteries: Many of the religious institutions and cemeteries in the District, grant public access to their open spaces for passive recreation and quiet contemplation.
   - Community-Based Organizations: Groups such as YMCAs, Boys and Girls Clubs, and childcare centers offer recreational space and programming to organization members.
   - Independent Schools: Of the more than 50 private schools (including religiously affiliated entities), located in the District, many also offer their own recreational facilities.[2]
   - Private Property Owners: The private sector plays an increasingly important role in providing and maintaining open space in the District. Large private developments approved through the Planned Unit Development process must adhere to certain negotiated community benefits, many of which incorporate some form of public space.
   - Universities: Many of the 20 higher education institutions in the District grant public access to their sports and recreational facilities and open space under specific regulations, schedules, and permit systems.[3]

DPR PROGRAMMING, PLANNING, AND OPERATIONAL PARTNERS

DPR manages year-round and seasonal activities ranging from sports, aquatics, fitness classes, and therapeutic programs to kids' camps, teen clubs, art lessons, gardening workshops, nature walks, game nights, and social events for seniors. The department also hosts annual events, including the DC Senior Games, Doggie Day Swim, Fit DC Fresh Start 5K, Mayor's Boxing Cup, Blacks in Wax, Chuck Brown Day, and Black History Invitational Swim Meet. Additionally, DPR executes the ongoing #FITDC3 campaign launched by Mayor Bowser and powered by Aetna, to empower residents to take control of their health and promote wellness and true fitness for every body, mind, and community in the District.[4] DPR's programming, planning, and operational partners include:

1. Local and Federal Government Partners:

- DC Department of General Services (DGS): DGS is responsible for managing construction of all DPR capital projects and for regular maintenance and upkeep of the parks and recreational facilities in DPR's portfolio.
- DC Department of Human Services (DHS): DPR partners with DHS to utilize sites as cooling centers and hypothermia shelters, particularly serving residents experiencing homelessness.
- DC Health: Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, DPR partnered with DC Health to utilize recreation centers as testing and vaccination sites.
- DC Office of Planning (OP): DPR worked closely with OP to update the Parks, Recreation, and Open Space Element of the District's Comprehensive Plan. The two agencies also partner regularly on neighborhood-level Small Area Plans.
- DC Public Library (DCPL): In addition to offering wide-ranging public programming, DCPL has partnered with DPR to co-locate several facilities and co-host initiatives such as DC Learning Hubs.[5]
- Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency (HSEMA): HSEMA works with DPR to promote resiliency efforts across the District and to establish emergency overnight shelters at select DPR facilities. In recent years, HSEMA and DPR have begun partnering on Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) grant funding to pursue hazard mitigation and resilience grants for DPR sites.
- National Capital Planning Commission (NCPC): NCPC is the federal agency responsible for long-range planning across DC and the rest of the National Capital Region. It oversees updates to the Federal Elements of the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital, including the Parks and Open Space Element.

2. Community Partners:

- Adopt-a-Park Partners: Local residents and community groups who oversee clean-up and maintenance of small parks and management of community gardens.
- Business Improvement Districts (BIDs): DPR operates several highly successful open spaces with the support of the Capital Riverfront, Golden Triangle, NoMa, Southwest, and DowntownDC BIDs.
- Community Programmatic Partners: Programmatic partners are organizations that support DPR's mission by providing high-quality programs at no cost to DPR or District residents at DPR facilities. Programmatic partners implement these programs with approved staff and volunteers, provide program reports quarterly, and evaluate programs annually.
- 'Friends of' Groups: Nonprofit organizations with 501 (c)3 status and a stated mission to support a DPR park or facility. Designated groups steward, advocate, conduct restoration and environmental education activities, and host fundraising events for the site to help maintain the grounds/buildings. These groups hold quarterly public engagement meetings, encourage voluntary membership, and submit quarterly reports to share outcomes from activities and events.

- Parks, nature, and environment-focused nonprofit organizations: There are a number of nonprofit partners who offer nature-based programming, environmental education, park advocacy and stewardship. DPR collaborates regularly with these partners and seeks to support the great work they are doing.

HOW WE GOT HERE

Rooted in the History of the District

Since the District's inception, parks and open space have played an important role in the social, economic, and environmental health of the city. The location, design, and development of parks and open spaces throughout DC has a rich and diverse history of collaboration between federal and local governments. For much of the District's history, the municipal government's role lay squarely on the planning and management of facilities, while federal entities oversaw open space. Local authority progressively expanded during the 20th Century, particularly after the District achieved Home Rule and gained greater control of parkland through transfers from federal jurisdiction. Today, stewardship of open space is integral to DPR's mission, and coordination between local and federal government over parkland planning and management is stronger and more vital than ever.

We must also acknowledge the immense role that historic segregation and racism have played, whether directly through policies or indirectly through attitudes, on DC residents by means of the District's parks and recreation system. As we invest in DC's parks and recreation facilities and seek to rectify inequitable conditions, we recognize past events that have contributed to where we are today.

The L'Enfant Plan inspired in Europe, becomes the foundation of DC's parks system, using open space to frame landmarks and civic institutions and link areas within the city.

RECENT PLANNING EFFORTS

Ready2Play builds on an extensive list of strategic and long-range District plans, produced over the past decade at local and federal levels, with implications for open space, sustainability, and quality of life in the District.

Overview

Ready2Play is closely linked with DC's Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP), published by DPR in September 2020. Although the SCORP focuses exclusively on outdoor recreation, per the federal requirements of the Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) it corresponds to, its engagement efforts and findings were critical to informing Ready2Play and setting a platform for future community involvement in the Ready2Play planning process. Additionally, the following eight key priorities from the SCORP were the starting point to identify Ready2Play's goals, strategies, and actions to guide DPR for the next 20 years.

1. Resilience and Sustainability: Build a park system that helps the District adapt to climate change by using parks to capture rainwater, reduce flooding, provide shade and cooling, and be part of the community network that builds social resilience.
2. Access, Connectivity, and Diversity of Recreational Experiences: Ensure that every resident has a safe access to a quality park or green space within 1/2 mile of their home. Work to build a system of green spaces, corridors, and trails across the city that connect residents to nature. Meet different recreational needs by providing diverse amenities and programs across the city.
3. Accessibility and Inclusion: Work to adopt universal design principles at all playgrounds and facilities and go beyond the minimum requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) in all new construction. Provide a safe and welcoming environment for all persons at DC parks.
4. Health and Equity: Promote an approach to investment and policy that addresses the historical inequities and racism that communities of color have faced. Ensure that the design of our parks and programs reflects a focus on the social determinants of health, with overarching goals to decrease health inequities and improve health outcomes for communities suffering from long-standing, systemic inequities.
5. Technology, Innovation, and Education: Integrate and utilize new technology in our parks, promote educational and entrepreneurship programming opportunities, and continue to innovate by designing new spaces and programs to address the concerns of our time.
6. Identity and Culture: Increase performance space and arts and cultural programming in our parks and create programming, events, and designs that celebrate the rich diversity, culture, and identity inherent in our city.
7. Enhancement and Maintenance: Work to equitably invest in capital improvement projects at sites facing the greatest need. Ensure regular upkeep and repair of our parks and facilities across every neighborhood.
8. Collaboration and Administration: Seek out partners to expand public access to recreational space and programs whether through co-location, joint-use agreements, contracts, or partnerships agreements. Work with partner agencies, community groups, and nonprofits to identify and apply for new LWCF projects. Increase the amount of public engagement in the annual selection of LWCF projects.

Alongside its key priorities, the Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan reviewed and incorporated strategies from different Districtwide and Federal planning efforts including the DC Wetland Conservation Plan, the DC Cultural Plan, the Federal Parks and Open Space Element, Resilient DC, Sustainable DC 2.0, Age-Friendly DC, the Health Equity Report for the District of Columbia, Clean Energy DC, DC's Economic Strategy, Climate Ready DC, the DC Healthy People Framework, A Safer, Stronger DC, DC Wildlife Action Plan, and Zero Waste DC. This preliminary step secured the integration of these plans into the future park planning of DC.

Another strong base of policy for Ready2Play was DC's amended Comprehensive Plan, passed by the DC Council in May 2021. The Comprehensive Plan is the District's overarching policy document for land use that provides a framework for the city's future land use, zoning code, and development review process. DPR collaborated closely with OP throughout the amendment process, particularly on all changes incorporated into the Parks, Recreation, and Open Space Element to ensure that everything within that element and within Ready2Play would be aligned and reinforce one another. Additional alignment exists with the Urban Design Element and the Arts and Culture Element, especially regarding connections between public spaces and streets to create continuous park-like experiences. Ready2Play also considered the basis of the District's Commemorative Works Location Strategy led by OP, which includes some DPR sites as potential locations for future commemorative works.

Previous park planning initiatives, such as DPR's PlayDC Vision and Implementation Framework (2014) and CapitalSpace Plan (2010), were also essential resources that provided a historic context to DC's park system planning at the federal and District level. Many of the goals and policies called for in these documents are still relevant today and, where applicable, have been integrated into this plan.

READY2PLAY PLANNING PROCESS

The Ready2Play planning process integrated extensive background research on local demographic trends and national and international recreational trends with robust community engagement to determine key needs, interests, and priorities. The Ready2Play planning team also created new tools—including park and facility classifications, level of service standards, and an Equity Framework decision-making matrix—that provided guidance and justification for how and where to prioritize funds centered around equity, as defined in DPR's Equity Statement below.

DPR EQUITY STATEMENT

The DC Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) is committed to providing all people in the District of Columbia, regardless of their race, ethnicity, language proficiency, financial status, abilities, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or age, the highest quality of recreational amenities, programs, and access to parks and healthy nature across the District.

In practice, Park Equity means tailoring and targeting interventions and engagement to address and redress the injustices experienced by various communities and populations caused by institutional racism, disinvestment, and lack of representation. Pursuing equity is both a process and an outcome. It must focus on meeting people where they are and working alongside them to ensure they have the access, resources, and opportunities needed for a healthier, enjoyable, and more resilient lifestyle.

To this aim, every community and individual in DC shall:

- Have access to parks, recreation centers, aquatic facilities, and other recreational amenities of the highest quality and design excellence across the city.
- Be able to easily receive services and access the operational systems of DPR to utilize the park system.
- Be engaged and be heard in park planning, design, and programmatic decisions.
- Be empowered to advocate for parks in one's neighborhood.
- Have access to high-quality programming that meets the needs and desires of the population served.
- Have access to facilities, landscapes, and natural areas properly maintained.
- Feel safe, comfortable, and welcome at all parks in all neighborhoods.
- Be able to receive language assistance services at all DPR facilities, programs, and events.

DPR as an agency commits to being transparent and accountable for how decisions are made. DPR also commits to being representative of the populations it serves and will promote equity training to staff.

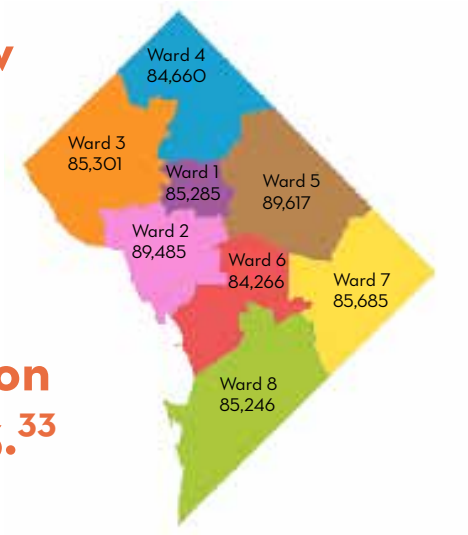
DC DEMOGRAPHIC TRENDS

Demographic and development changes influence recreational and open space preferences and needs. Looking at DC's demographic trends during the planning process was critical to understanding how DC's population has changed in recent years as well as where it is headed. As Ready2Play advanced, a slight population decline was observed, which could be simply a blip in time compounded by the COVID-19 pandemic, but should be tracked closely over the coming years. The forecast data from the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments and OP's development pipeline both point to strong and continued growth. Additionally, toward the end of the planning process, DC's new political boundaries were approved by the DC Council, realigning DC's eight wards to distribute population more evenly. A number of neighborhoods, and thus the parks and recreational facilities within them, changed wards through this realignment process. Given the very recent nature of this change, any references to wards throughout this document will refer to the 2012 boundaries, unless otherwise stated, as that was the political reality throughout the plan's engagement and data analysis.

DC's 2020 population of 689,545 represents 14.6% growth since 2010.[32]



The District's population has grown over the last decade, but growth slowed in 2019 and has declined by 3.9% since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Data source: US Census Bureau

New DC ward boundaries, based on the 2020 Census, were approved by the DC Council and signed into law by Mayor Bowser in December 2021. They took effect in January 2022.

DC's new wards have an average population of 86,193.[33]

Data source: Open Data DC, wards from 2022 data set

DC's racial and ethnic composition has changed between 2010 and 2020, with an influx of white, Asian, and Hispanic residents.[34]

The District's population is aging.

In 2020, the adult share of the population in the District of Columbia was higher than any other state - 83.4% of DC residents were over 18 years old,[35] while the percentage of residents aged 65 or older increased from 11.4% to 12.2% between 2016-2020.[36]

Data source: US Census Bureau, American Community Survey (ACS) 2016-2020

Disability is higher among older adults and in wards 7 and 8.

Of all DC residents, 11.3% are living with a disability, including nearly a quarter of residents aged 65-74 and almost half aged 75 or older. Wards 7 and 8 have a higher percentage of persons with disabilities than other wards, 18.6% and 16.7%, respectively.[38]

Data source: US Census Bureau, American Community Survey (ACS) 2016-2020

Wards 7 and 8 have the highest percentage of residents under 18 years old.[37]

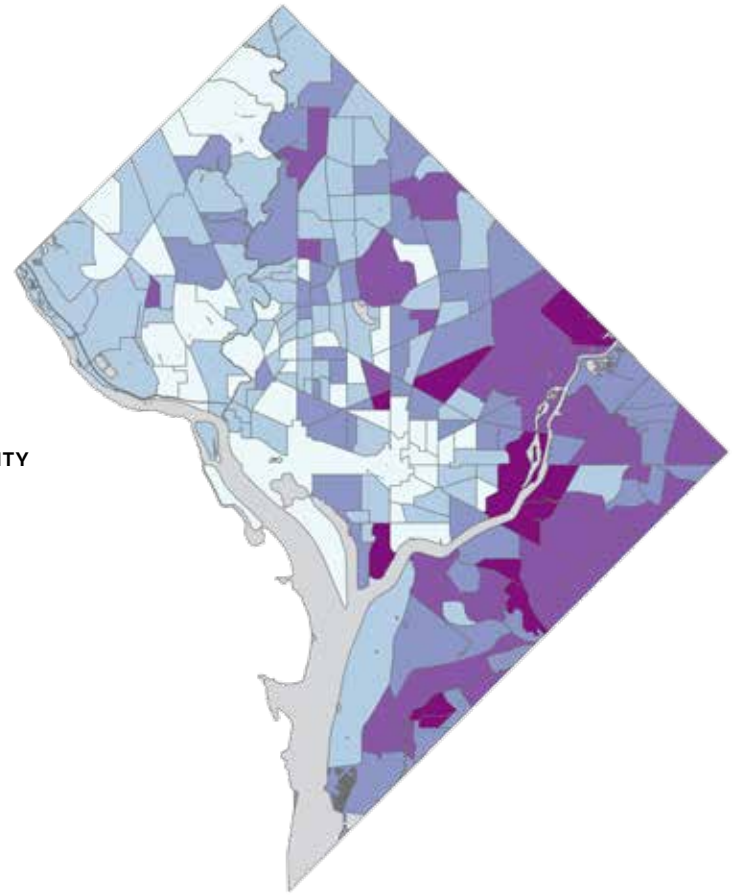
The District median income has increased by about 55% since 2010, but not across all wards.[39]



In 2021, only 13.5% of families lived below the poverty level. However, wards 7 and 8 presented a higher poverty rate, 26.3% and 32.9%, respectively.[40]

RECREATION TRENDS

The COVID-19 pandemic has shown the vital importance of parks and recreation facilities. It has accelerated certain trends in the field, disrupted others, and is creating new ones altogether.

While the long-term future is uncertain as society continues to adapt to a changing climate and post-COVID-19 world, studying recent national and worldwide trends in parks and recreation is particularly relevant when embarking on a planning effort of this magnitude. The following list of trends is based on a review of the relevant literature and was used to help guide the policies and actions of this plan.

1. Innovative parks and recreation areas everywhere
   a. Rooftop parks and farms.
   b. Underground parks in unused tunnels and below-ground transportation infrastructure.
   c. Deck parks built above highways/railroads.
   d. Linear parks along right of way or unused railways.
   e. Park piers in rivers.
   f. Conversion of mall garages and big-box stores.
   g. Utilizing small parks, triangles, and parklets to activate neighborhoods and provide critical environmental benefits.
2. Nature-based parks that provide immersive natural experience and act as important wildlife habitat and corridors.
3. Parks and recreation centers supporting cities' sustainability and adaptation to climate change.
   a. Floodable parks that provide recreational benefits while also supporting city infrastructure to reduce flooding risks.
   b. Parks as renewable energy sources.
   c. Water parks and spray pads in parks.
   d. Innovative lighting solutions such as glow-in-the-dark stones and plants charged with sunlight, which can light trails and park pathways all night, reducing energy costs and the need for lighting infrastructure.
4. Urban river recreation/natural pools—such as river/pond pools.
5. Waterfront destination and themed parks.
6. Pop-up parks in vacant lots —Activation of unused space through temporary park infrastructure and potential partnerships with small businesses, BIDs, and community groups.
7. Instagram-worthy parks featuring art and commemoration.
8. Increasing demand for outdoor recreation, health and fitness, and connection to nature—This includes additional outdoor fitness, nature-play spaces, outdoor amenities, urban forests for forest bathing, biophilic design, and healing spaces.
9. Parks and recreation centers supporting social and health services of communities—such as wellness and resilience hubs, business incubation centers, etc.
10. Extended hours of operation to enjoy outdoor amenities and activities when heat is not so extreme.
11. Partnerships between government agencies, community groups, and private developers.
12. Park planning and design focused on equity, diversity, and inclusion.
13. Data systems integration into parks and recreation centers' operations and planning.
14. Technology to expand programming, access, and accessibility— Esports and augmented reality may appeal to hard-to-reach audiences and users with physical disabilities.
15. Streets and public right of way as temporary or permanent recreational space.
16. Sports and activities growing in popularity such as pickleball.

ENGAGEMENT

To inform Ready2Play, DPR gathered input from staff, stakeholders, and thousands of community members through various engagement opportunities. The process began early in 2020 with initial engagement focused around the Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan, which set the stage for the internal discussions with DPR staff and other DC agency partners.

Engagement Process

The official Ready2Play public engagement kickoff was delayed until summer 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic and immediately transitioned into a virtual environment that kept the community involved in the planning process through a dedicated project website and virtual meetings.

At the end of 2020, DPR launched the Ready2Play Citywide Survey, followed, at the beginning of 2021, by a series of ward-specific virtual meetings where communities were able to discuss specific park needs and recreational improvements desired in each ward. DPR also provided a formalized way for civic and community organizations to request separate meetings focused on their specific areas of interest, offered a 24/7 phone line for additional comments, and provided continuous opportunities to engage online at its Ready2Play project web page.

In the summer of 2021, DPR released the draft goals and strategies of its Strategic Plan and took on additional outreach efforts, through summer tabling and events, with a focus on reaching additional youth and older adults. DPR staff attended dozens of community events throughout the summer to spread awareness about the draft policies and planning process.

This engagement process was invaluable and resulted in a better understanding of community needs and desires. As this plan is implemented, DPR will continue to communicate and engage with residents regularly.

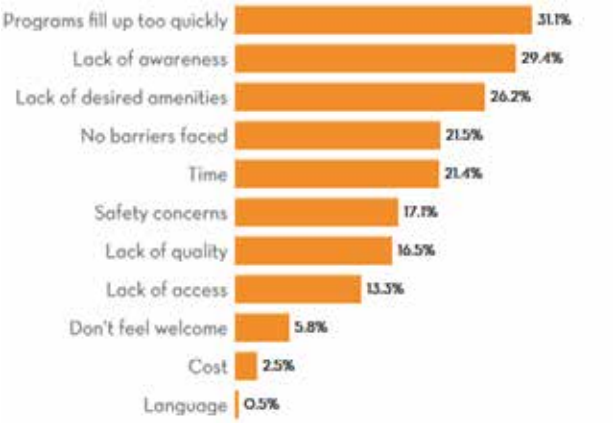
WHAT WE HEARD



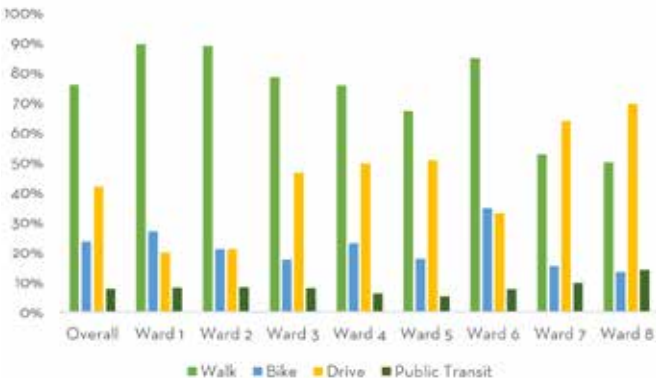
What We Heard

DPR received feedback that helped identify priorities for investment, barriers to access or program utilization, desired amenities, desired programs, preferences by ward, mode of transportation to parks, most frequented parks, and suggestions for improvement (both general and specific to individual parks).

Throughout the engagement process, a desire to see more focus on continued maintenance and upkeep of our existing parks and recreation facilities was a consistent theme. There was also a strong desire to see more investment in outdoor spaces and to add new and more diverse amenities, programs, and functions into both our parks and recreation centers.

Regarding participation, engagement highlighted that the top three barriers to participation or use of DPR parks, facilities, and programming across the District were:

1. Programs fill up too quickly
2. Lack of program awareness
3. Lack of desired amenities



Barriers to participation in recreational programming at parks and recreation centers. Graphic shows the percentage of overall responses to question #16 from the Ready2Play Citywide Survey. A complete Citywide Survey report was released in summer 2021 and is available on ready2playdc.com.

Wards 5, 7, and 8 also noted safety concerns as an additional barrier. We also heard complaints about how challenging it can be to register for these programs through the existing online system.

In general, through our online Ready2Play Citywide Survey, residents expressed a strong desire for:

- Aquatic programs, especially learn-to-swim programs for various youth age groups and lap-lane swimming
- Summer camps
- Tennis, both for youth and adults
- Yoga
- Extended hours of operation at our recreation centers and additional programming, especially in the evening and on weekends
- Accessible restrooms, especially at sites with a significant number of outdoor amenities
- Equitable access to recreation
- Multi-generational amenities
- More arts and cultural programming
- Culinary and business development opportunities
- Responsive programming, centered around the needs and desires of the community and recreation users

Primary mode of transport to favorite park. There was an overwhelming use of walking as respondents' primary mode of transport, well over 80 percent in most wards. However, in Wards 7 and 8, the primary mode of transport reported was driving.

PARK CLASSIFICATION

Although every DPR site is unique, a classification is relevant to establish a clear criterion around park and facility types and the potential amenities, programs, and services that each category might include. The park and facility classification can be aspirational at the planning and design levels, as it can push future enhancements and additional amenities. Operationally, it can help to set expectations about improvement budgets, functions, and capacity of different spaces. Additionally, the level of access, population served, staff, and funding might vary accordingly.

As part of the Ready2Play planning process, existing DPR assets were classified according to their total acreage and existing amenities into a new six-tiered park and eight-tiered facilities classification system described as follows. These classifications will be revisited during future Ready2Play updates.

Lorenzo Allen Park | DPR

SMALL PARK

Less than an acre in size, this typology includes triangles, circles, plazas, and landscaped medians. Small parks provide opportunities for beautification, commemorative works of importance to neighborhoods, public art, and small-scale nature experiences.
They are perfect settings for passive recreation and socialization or active recreation with amenities such as playgrounds, dog parks, walkways, and multi-purpose turf areas. Additionally, they may provide infrastructure to address environmental challenges such as stormwater management, biological diversity, and ecological and habitat restoration.

Carolina Park | Kramer Consulting

NEIGHBORHOOD PARK

A park with 1–10 acres, which might include a field house (under 2,000 sq. ft.) or a neighborhood center (under 18,000 sq. ft.), and 3–7 amenities on average.
These parks primarily serve the basic active/passive recreational, social, cultural, and environmental needs of the surrounding neighborhood. Typical amenities include outdoor pools, playgrounds, splash parks, dog parks, athletic fields and courts, open lawn areas for unstructured play, seating and picnic areas, commemorative works of importance to neighborhoods, pollinator, and community gardens.

Friendship Recreation Center | DPR

COMMUNITY PARK

A 10- to 30-acres park that may include a community or aquatic center (over 18,000 sq. ft.) and 7–15 recreational amenities on average. Depending on the location, these parks may serve the active and passive recreational, social, cultural, and environmental needs of multiple surrounding communities. Typical amenities include those found in neighborhood parks as well as additional amenities such as trails, multiple fields, and natural areas.

Yards Park | Capitol Riverfront

DESTINATION PARK

Iconic urban park located in highly visible and transited areas that can draw residents from the District and DC-Maryland (MD)-Virginia (VA) metropolitan area. They vary in size and recreational opportunities offered, but may include amenities such as cafés or concessions, performance spaces, open lawn, landscaped areas, fixed and movable furniture, commemorative works of importance to District residents, art installations, interactive waterand lighting features, and play structures. Maintenance and programming will often be supported by a private community organization, typically a BID or Community Improvement District.

Oxon Run Park | DPR

DISTRICT PARK

Park over 30 acres offering a unique amenity in the District. These parks serve citywide recreational needs beyond adjacent neighborhoods. Typically, they offer a diverse array of active and passive recreational opportunities such as a recreation specialty or aquatic center, extensive open space areas, athletic fields and courts, play areas, outdoor fitness, community gardens or urban farms, picnic areas, trails, performance areas, commemorative works of importance to District residents, natural areas, large-scale native plantings and trees, restoration areas, and connections to water.

Pope Branch | DPR

NATURE/CONSERVATION AREA

Created to protect historical assets and natural resources of different sizes in the city. Minimal infrastructure and low-impact use like hiking and environmental education/ interpretation are strongly recommended. If open and level, some natural areas might include play areas/ nature-play equipment. Other typical amenities include forests, meadows, wetlands, education/ research centers, non-motorized aquatic sports and docks, environmental signages, and picnic areas.

FACILITY CLASSIFICATION

FIELD HOUSE

Size: 2,000 sq. ft. or under

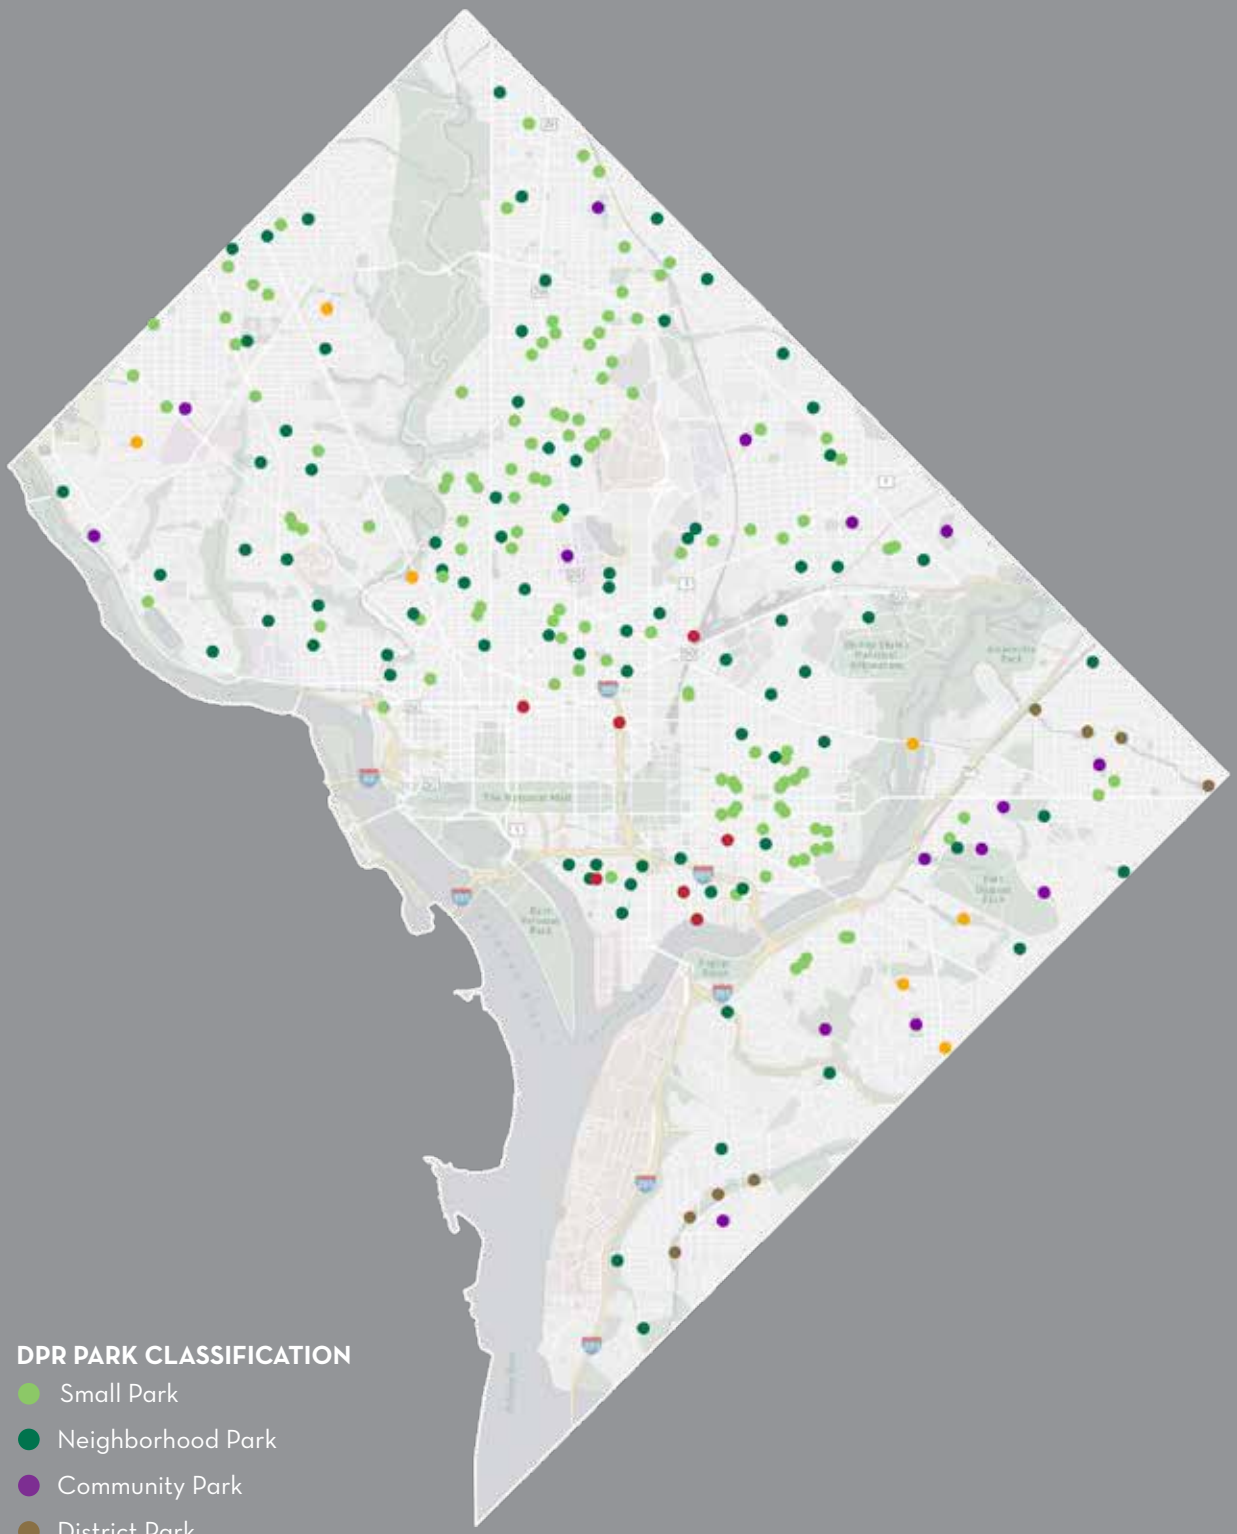
Size: Typically over 40,000 sq. ft.
Typical Amenities: Full gym, pool, fitness center, specialty rooms, specialty-use amenities.
Anticipated Use: District-wide use. Open year-round and well-staffed. Lots of programs. May specialize in specific program or particular type of recreation.

AQUATIC CENTER



Stand-alone or co-located facility that might serve neighborhood, community, or District residents according to the size and programs offered. Provides recreational and therapeutic aquatic amenities and aquatic support facilities.

OUTDOOR POOL FACILITY

While many of our outdoor pools are accompanied by a recreation center, other sites include only a stand-alone outdoor pool facility including a pool house, shower, changing rooms, and pool.

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION CENTER

Stand-alone facility, usually located within a Nature or District Park or connected to a natural trail and designed to support or offer programs to educate about nature and the environment. Sizes and operations may vary. While nature centers usually include exhibitions open to the public, environmental education centers might offer more specialized programming such as gardening. Currently the sites in DPR's inventory highlight gardening as their primary programming focus.

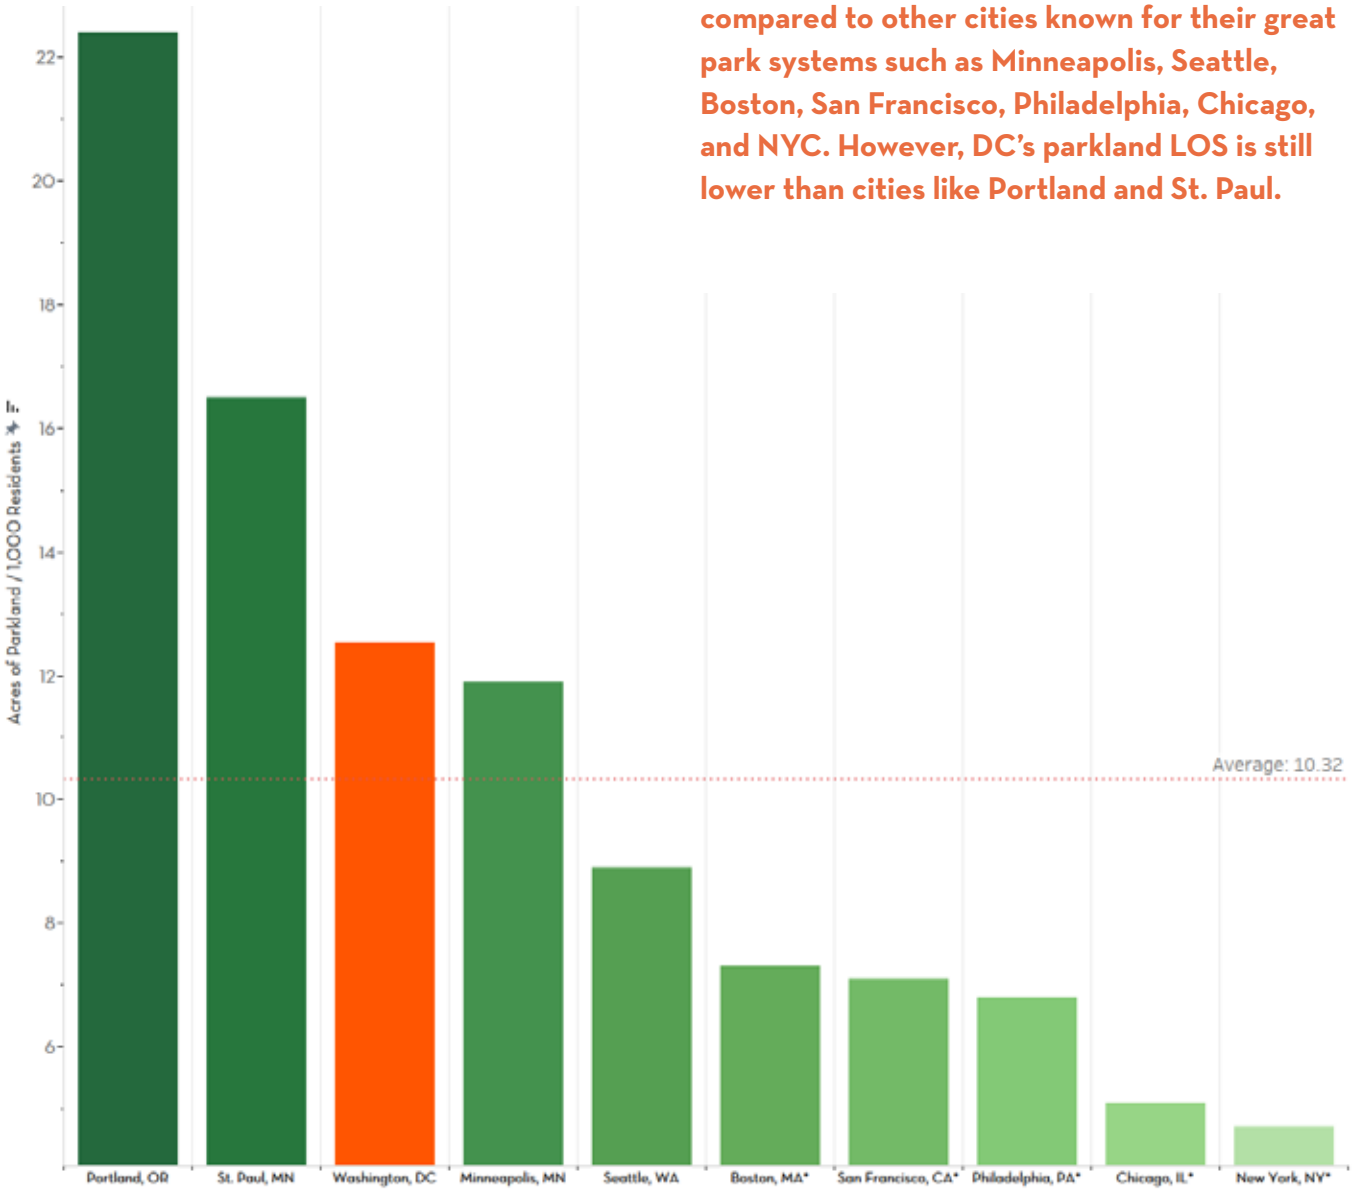
LEVELS OF SERVICE

The level of service (LOS) is the ratio of parkland and recreational amenities to population and the time citizens are willing to spend traveling to these amenities. Generally, there are two types of LOS standards: access-based, which indicates the travel time (usually walking) to parks and recreational amenities, and population-based standards, which suggests the parkland or recreational amenities per number of people. LOS standards are instrumental in calculating the amount of open space and recreational facilities or amenities needed to meet the recreational demands of a specific community and its location. LOS is also helpful to anticipate the number of amenities necessary to serve a projected population.

Currently, parks and recreational amenities do not have universal LOS standards like other outdoor infrastructure elements. In 1996, the NRPA published the Park, Open Space, and Greenway Guidelines, which recognized that using universal LOS standards to evaluate and compare the sufficiency and quality of services across all park agencies was not the best approach.[41] Instead, LOS was considered the expression of what is acceptable by each community and a helpful planning guide, together with other tools. Nowadays, rather than releasing national standards, the NRPA provides an online database, which contains a set of national park metrics to help parks and recreation departments create benchmarking reports as a starting point for formulating their own LOS standards.

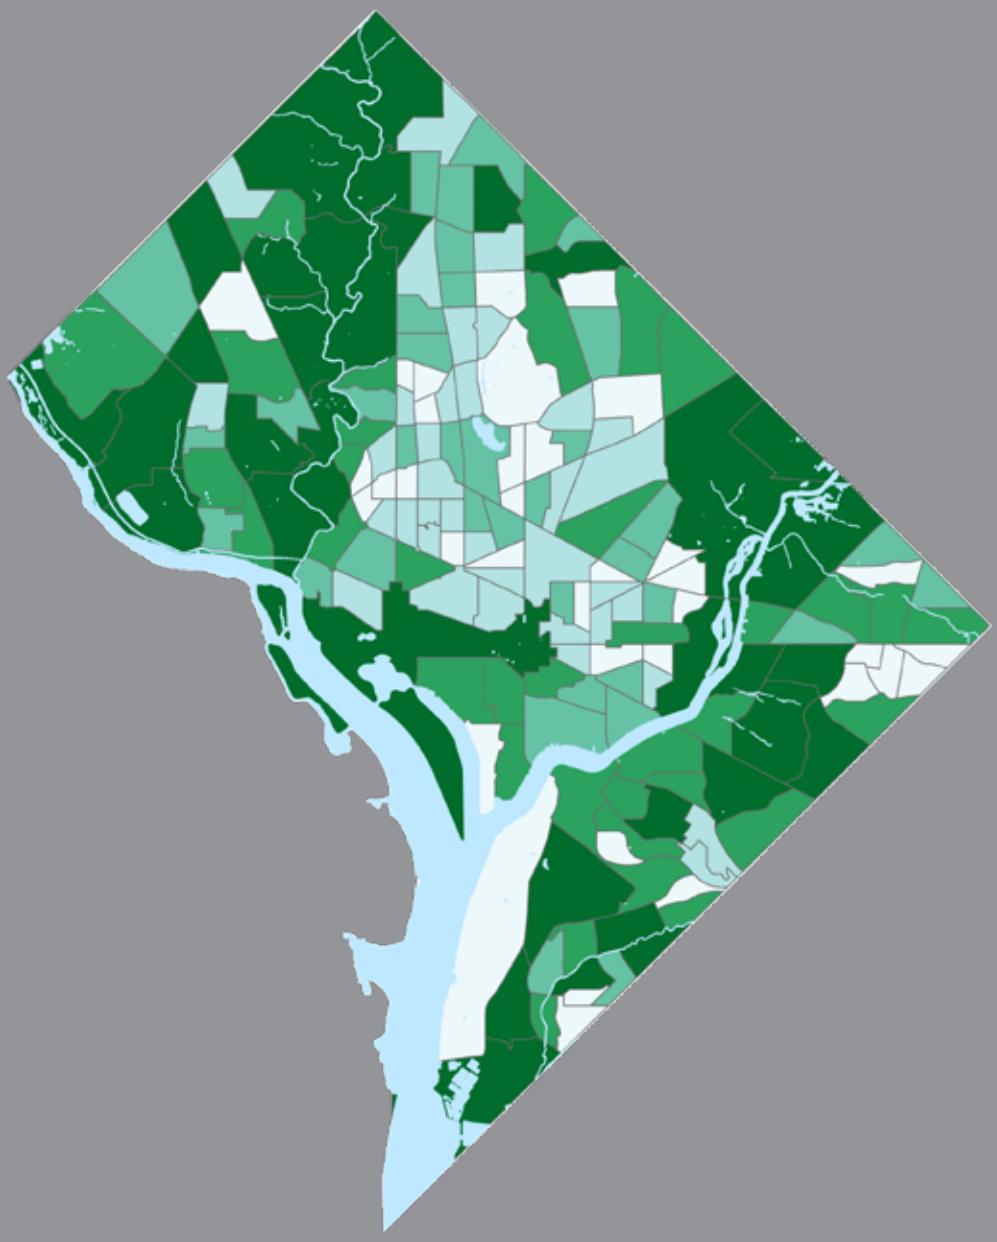
The Trust for Public Land (TPL), through its annually updated ParkScore® Index, is a standard used to compare parks systems across 100 cities. Using data across five categories (access, investment, amenities, acreage, and equity), the index informs the level of access to parks and recreational amenities of each participant city. When coming to the creation or updating of LOS for planning, the ParkScore® Index is a great database to obtain updated data from peer cities, rather than only parks and recreation departments.



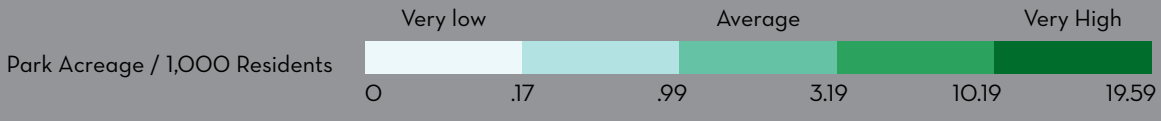
Ready2Play adopts the nationwide goal of every resident having a park within a 10-minute walk, which equates to a half-mile distance. Given that the user experience of access to an amenity does not change based on that type of amenity, Ready2Play uses the 10-minute walkshed to measure access to all types of amenities. To identify need more accurately, Ready2Play introduces new population-based LOS standards. These population-based standards can identify the amount of new parkland, recreation center square footage, or other amenities needed to meet growing population demand. They can be calculated and analyzed across the city or broken down to smaller geographies to analyze neighborhood- level access or assess the potential impact of new development. Together with other tools, these standards guide decisions on the amount and location of new facilities and amenities.

LOS Methodology:
DPR used a benchmarking approach to formulate its new LOS standards, including the data listed below:

1. National standards including the median LOS of peer cities, based on TPL's ParkScore® 2022 data. DPR revised the median LOS of six peer cities with comparable demographic characteristics and total park system acreage. The six cities included were: Boston, MA; Chicago, IL; Miami, FL; New York, NY; Philadelphia, PA, and San Francisco, CA
2. Existing DC inventory of parkland.
3. 2020 DC population from decennial census.
4. 2020 parkland and recreation center square footage LOS (current inventory divided by the 2020 population).
5. 2040 projected DC population. This projection was calculated using DC's 2020 Census population as the starting point. The forecasted percent growth between decades from the most up to date Washington Metro Council of Governments Cooperative Forecast (9.1A) was then applied.
6. 2040 estimated LOS (current inventory divided by the 2040 projected population).



12.52 ACRES OF PARKLAND PER 1,000 RESIDENTS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA



DC provides residents with one of the highest Level of Service (LOS) ratios in the nation for parkland acreage per 1,000 residents, when compared to other cities known for their great park systems such as Minneapolis, Seattle, Boston, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Chicago, and NYC. However, DC's parkland LOS is still lower than cities like Portland and St. Paul.

EQUITY FRAMEWORK

The Equity Framework is a data-driven tool centered around equity that is intended to guide decision-making on future capital investments. It was used in conjunction with the strategies and actions of the Strategic Plan to identify the budget recommendations provided later on. A significant amount of research, data collection, and analysis went into the various categories of data listed in the graphic below. DPR will update the racial equity framework tool frequently as new data becomes available so that it stays relevant and up-to-date. The various data categories and analysis which make up this tool are presented in the subsequent pages and a detailed methodology for the framework is provided in the Appendix.

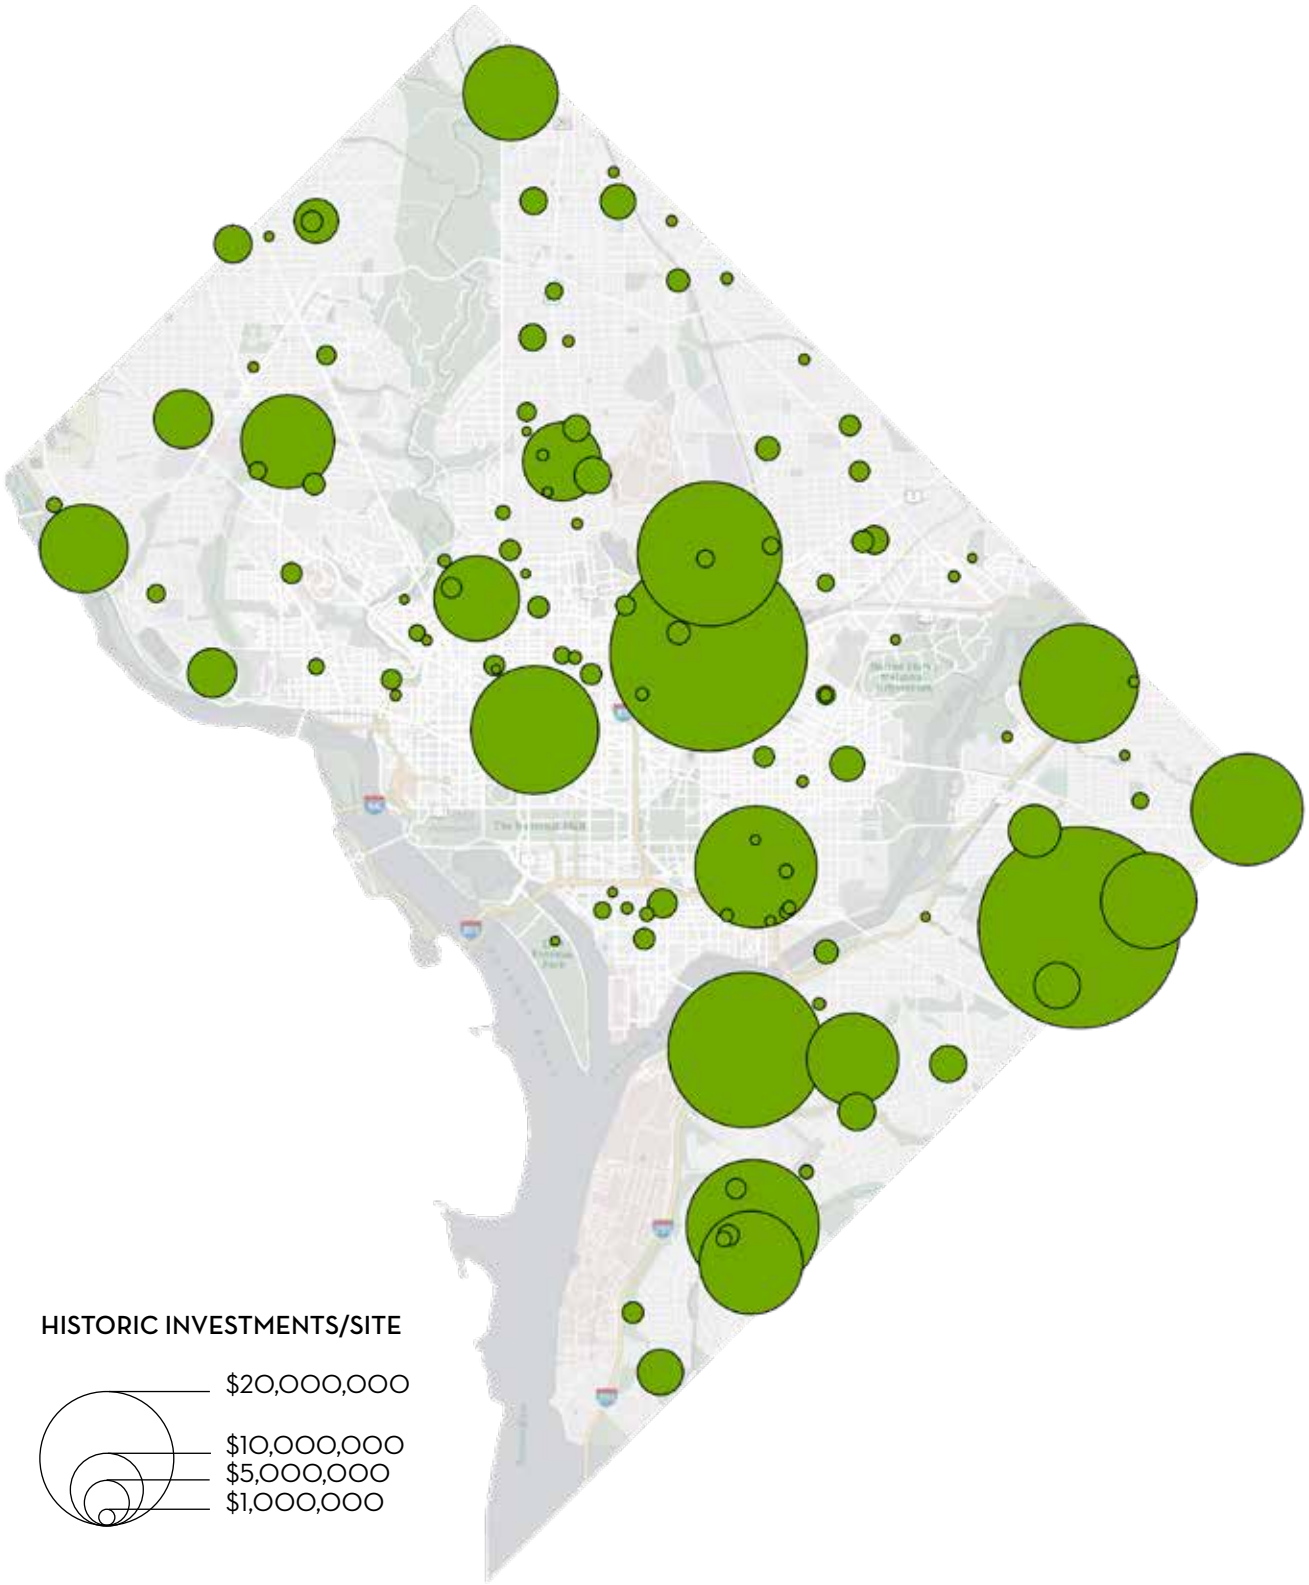
HISTORIC INVESTMENT AND FACILITY CONDITION

Historic Investments
DPR staff researched past budget books and expenditure records and developed a comprehensive list of previous capital expenditures across DPR's inventory since 2013. This information was used to highlight sites where there has not been significant investment over the past decade to help assess and prioritize need. The historic budget information was also helpful in determining an average and range of costs for various types of projects.

Facility Condition Assessments
DPR works with its partner agency DGS to conduct FCAs on all recreational buildings. The Strategic Plan calls for these assessments to be completed for each site once every five years.

These assessments are conducted by industry experts who assess a building's systems and infrastructure to rate its current state of repair and to catalog any deferred maintenance or capital replacement needs. These assessments also project out the remaining useful life of the building's various systems and infrastructural elements. While these assessments provide a good overview of the current and future maintenance and replacement needs of an asset, they do not address programmatic or functional changes desired and the facility improvements needed to make these changes.



While FCAs do a good job of providing condition data on any structural facilities—such as recreation centers, pools, and aquatic centers—they are not as useful and often don't account for a number of the smaller park assets and outdoor amenities of parks. For this, we have relied on two additional sources of information to gather data on asset quality.

The first is a park audit system that DPR began piloting as part of the Ready2Play process. DPR staff visited over 100 of our smaller parks and assessed the quality and condition of the park site and any existing outdoor amenities. DPR, in partnership with community groups, plans to continue conducting park audits regularly to proactively determine maintenance needs and ensure quality across its parks and outdoor amenities

The second source of information useful in assessing site condition is the number of maintenance tickets accumulated by each site. While this is not a perfect metric, as maintenance issues can vary greatly in severity, and sites with more use tend to have more tickets reported regularly, it does provide a decent gauge for comparison, when considered alongside additional factors like site size and use.

PROGRAMMING ASSESSMENT

Canoeing at Camp Riverview | DPR

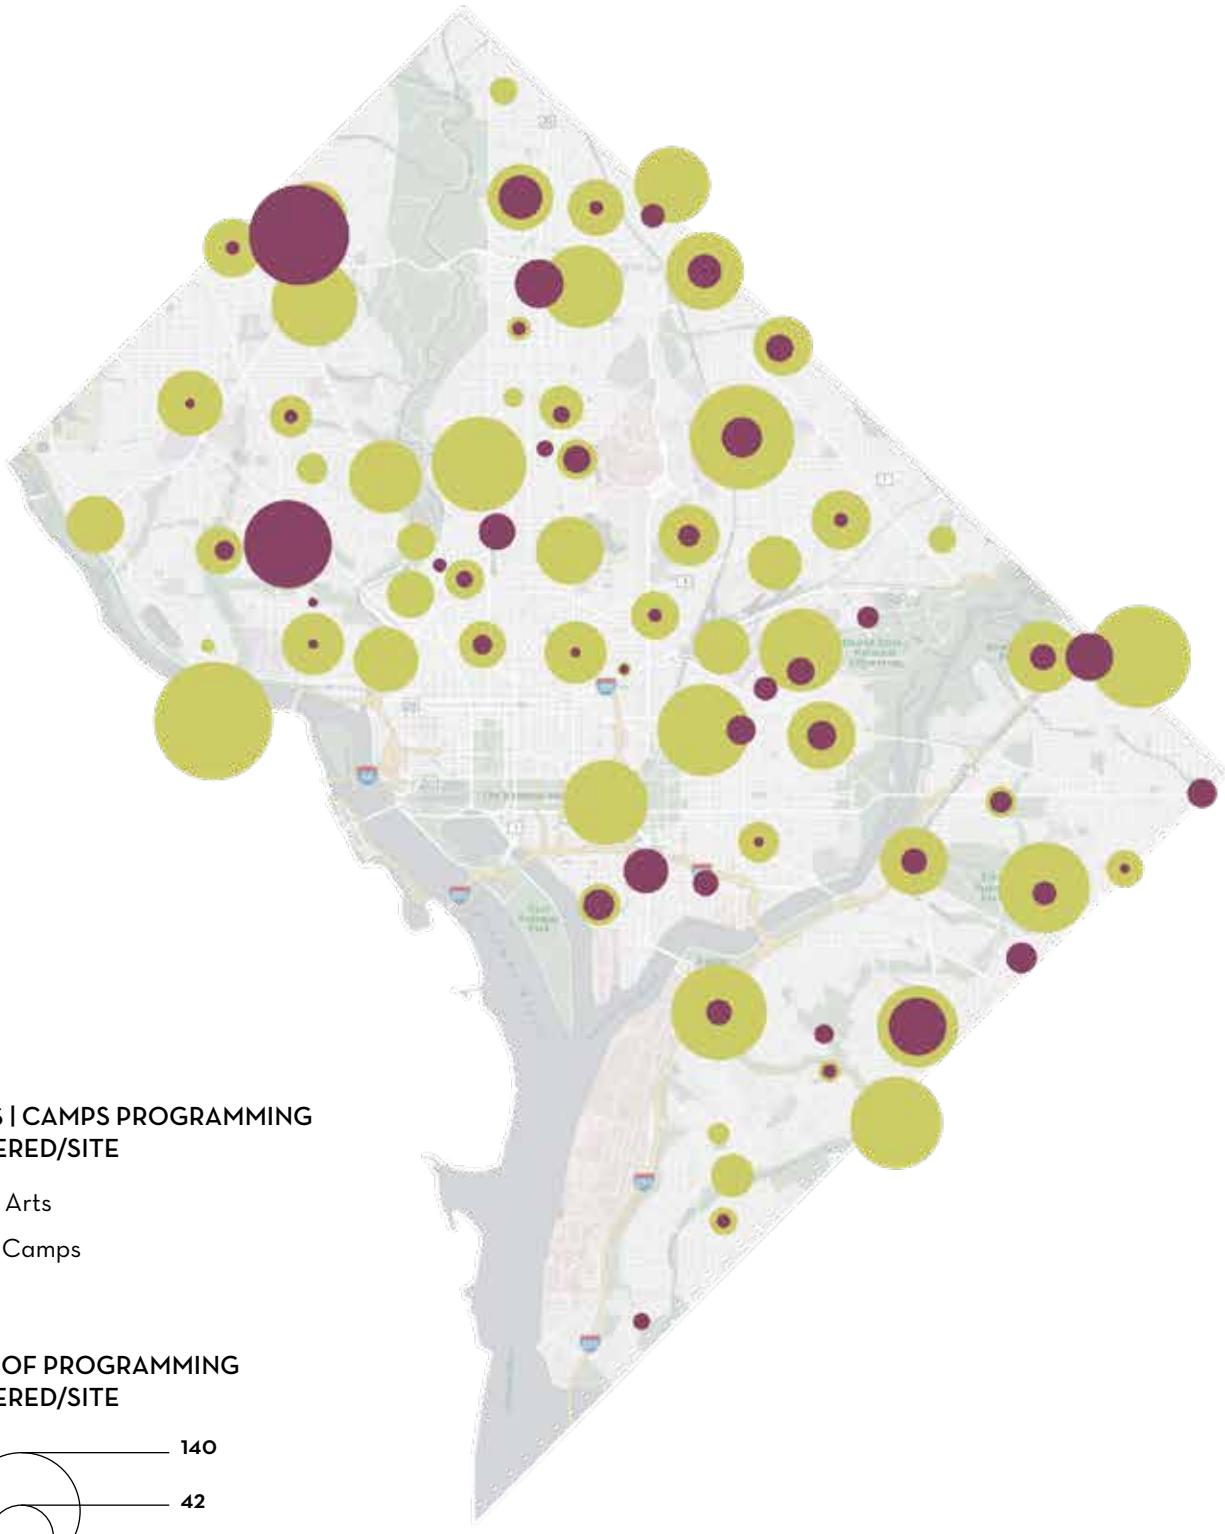
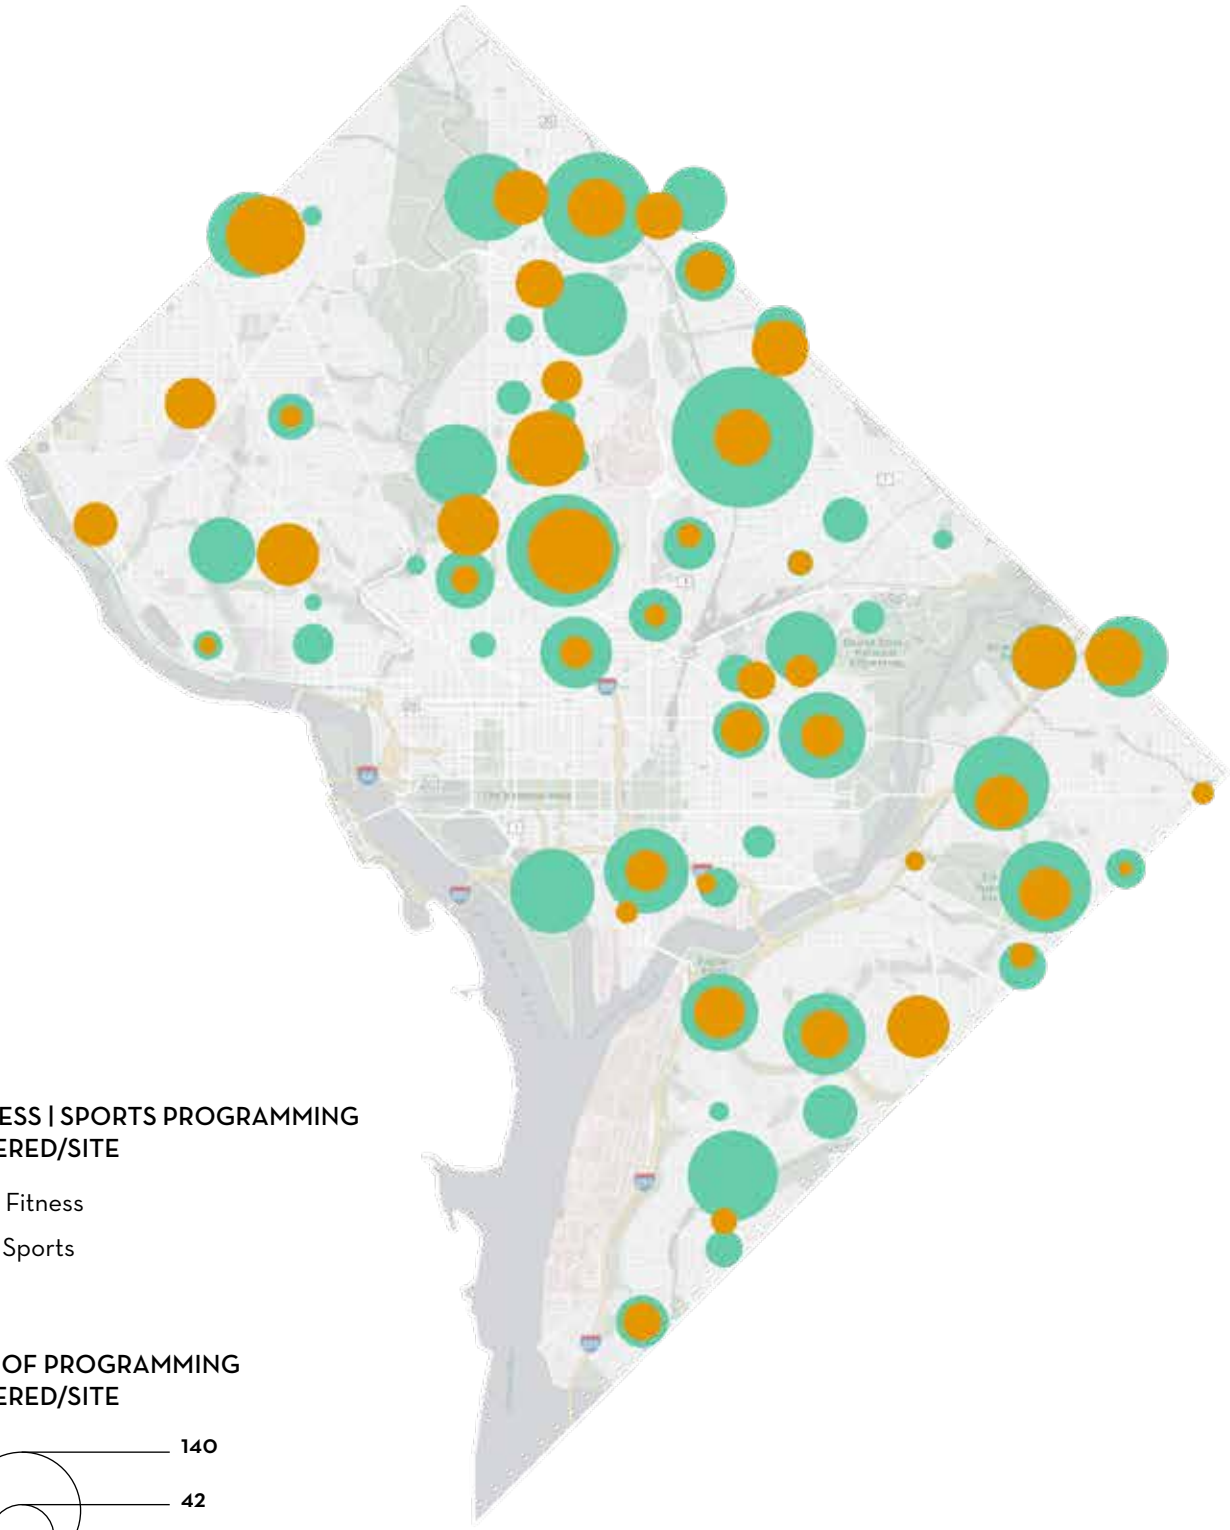
While DPR offers a diverse array of programming, we heard from many residents during our engagement that certain programs were not available in the recreation center or at the park closest to them. We analyzed how and where different types of programming have been offered. Grounding our future recommendations for programming investments in program data will ensure that we will better meet the needs of individual neighborhoods.



Data was gathered on program offerings and enrollment across all sites from July 2017 through September 2021, totaling over 18,000 unique programs to assess.



Key Findings:

- Aquatics is the most offered program yet is still in overwhelming demand.
- Aquatic Centers in wards 1, 7, 8 and the southern portion of ward 4 offer much less programming than Wilson, Takoma, and Rumsey.
- Arts programming is heavily focused in Ward 3, primarily at Guy Mason and Chevy Chase Community Centers.
- Sports programming is heavily concentrated in wards 4 and 5.
- There are fewer summer camp offerings in the southern portion of Ward 8, even though Ward 8 is the Ward with the highest percentage of youth.
- Lots of fitness programming is taking place at Raymond Recreation Center and Banneker and Chevy Chase Community Centers. Less fitness programming is taking place in wards 7 and 8, where there is a lack of private fitness studios.
- Gardening and nature-based programming, while highly desired, are provided far less than other types of programming.

SITE USE ASSESSMENT

For site-use data, we looked at a number of factors. Unfortunately, this data is somewhat incomplete across our inventory as DPR does not have a standard mechanism in place to capture regular use of our outdoor amenities. While this plan calls for new strategies to capture outdoor-amenity use, such as strategic sensors or counters and park audit user count observations, the information currently available largely limited the universe of use assessment to recreation centers, aquatic centers, and pools. We were also able to pull in permit data to capture the permitted use of some of our outdoor space. However, we know that, especially for certain sites and types of amenities (such as playgrounds), there is regular use of our facilities not captured through permits.

The different data sources collected as part of our use assessment included site permits/reservations, programs offered, program attendance, and sign-in attendance at recreation centers and aquatic centers.

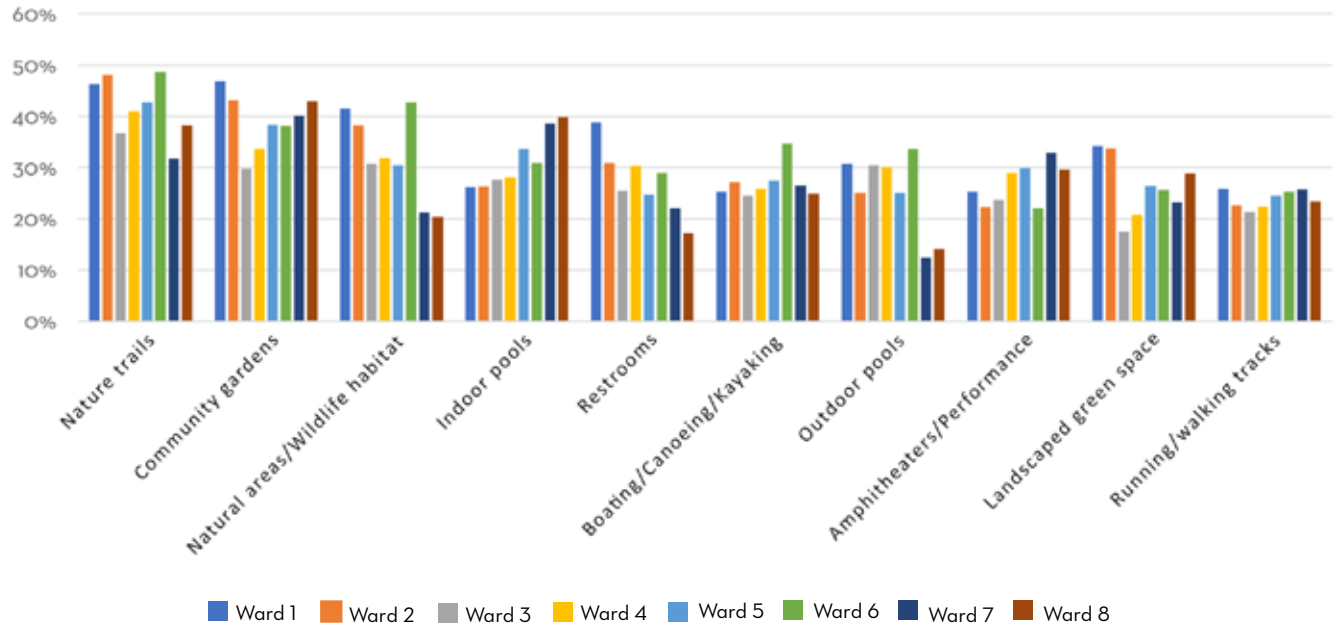
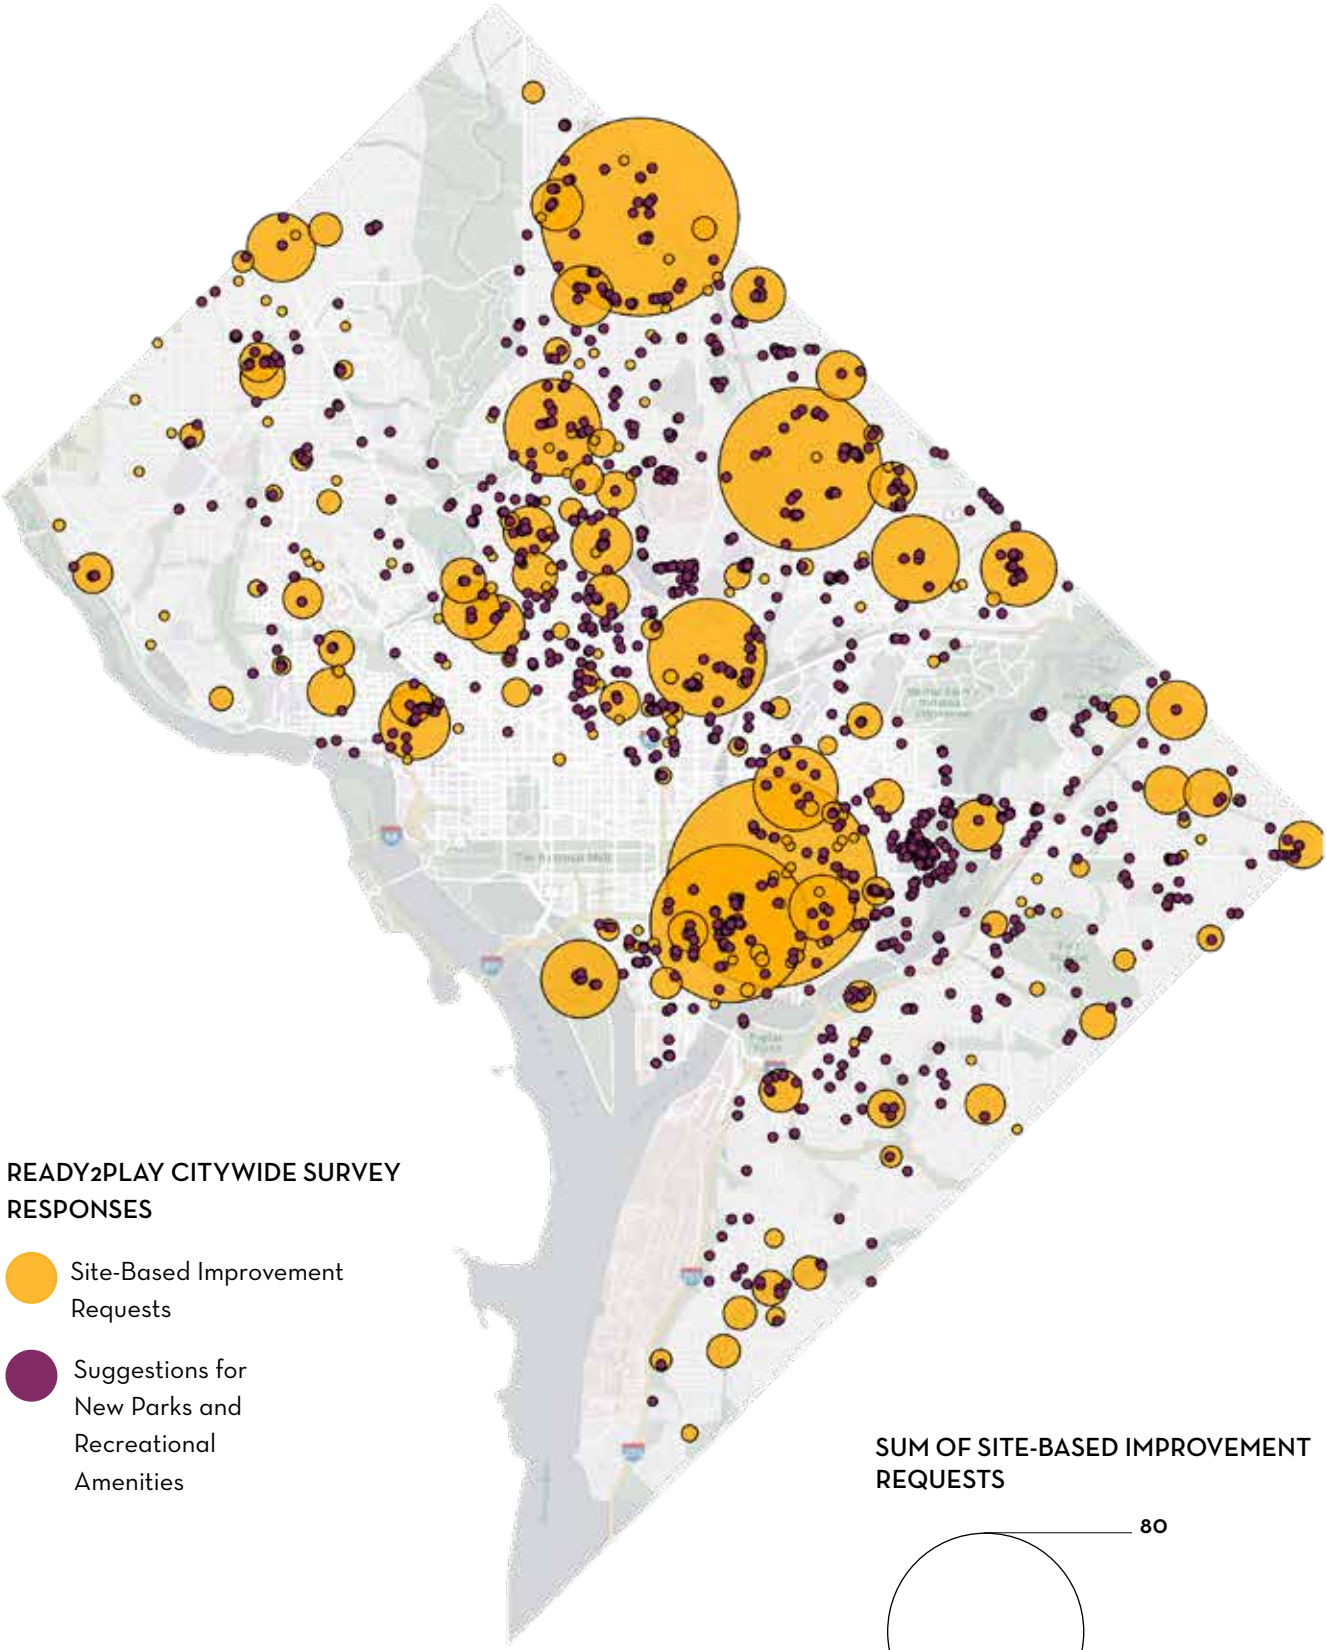
ENGAGEMENT DATA

Ready2Play Pop-up Engagement at 2020 Mayor's Budget Engagement Forum, Edgewood Recreation Center | DPR

Engagement



We utilized engagement data to inform both our community-level and site-specific analysis. Engagement data came primarily from the Ready2Play Citywide Survey, Ward-by-Ward meetings, online engagement, and DPR's 2020 Program Request and Feedback Survey. Responses were mapped and assessed on both the 2012 Ward and zip code level. Location-specific data from the Ready2Play Citywide Survey and online mapping requests were also used to guide the development of specific site recommendations.



Contextual Information

Finally, while we were strategic and intentional about this plan and these recommendations being driven by data, the data does not exist inside a vacuum and there are contextual factors in the real-world that are unavoidable. Timelines for various projects, estimated funding availability, and avoiding concentration of concurrent proposed construction in the same neighborhood, were all factors that were considered as one-off on a site-by-site and project-by-project basis.

EQUITY INDEX AND GROWTH INDEX

Equity Index

The Equity Index is a guiding factor in our site selection and a critical strategy to ensure that equity is infused throughout this plan and these investment recommendations. The Equity Index looked at nine different categories of demographic data, both by individual site walkshed and census tract. To compute the walkshed data, Geographic Information System analysis was run against census tract information to determine the overlap of the boundaries and summarize the data within. All data categories were normalized on a zero-to-one scale with zero being the least prioritized from an equity perspective, and one being the most prioritized. This allowed each site in our inventory to be compared against one another to help with prioritization. Data categories that were included in the Equity Index included percentage of Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) racial concentration, poverty, age cohorts of under 18 and 65+, disability status, violent crime per resident, households with no vehicle access, individuals who speak English less than very well, and rate of obesity. Demographic data came from the 2015–2019 American Community Survey (ACS) Five-Year Estimates by Census tract. Obesity data came from PLACES health data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), which is provided at the census-tract level. This index can be updated annually with new census data and can be reapplied from one budget cycle to the next.

Growth Index

The Growth Index provides an overview of where population is anticipated to expand the most in the coming decades. It was computed in a similar way to the Equity Index. It utilized two different sources of existing data, the Washington Metropolitan Council of Government's (COG) extended cooperative forecast (Round 9.1a, the most recently updated forecast for DC at the time of plan publication) and the DC OP's Development Pipeline Data (in particular, the number of new units and number of affordable new units coming to a location). Once again, this data was assessed across the half-mile buffer boundaries of each DPR site as well as applied to each individual census tract as is depicted in the map below. The Growth Index can be updated regularly as new data and information becomes available from the COG and DC OP and acts—in the same way as the Equity Index—as a tool that can be updated and applied annually to future budget cycles.

The Strategic Plan is a comprehensive, forward-thinking, and attainable set of goals, strategies, and actions for DPR to undertake over the next two decades to address the priorities identified through the Ready2Play planning process and further the agency's mission.

C STRATEGIC PLAN

The Strategic Plan reflects four overarching goals that are organized to address each of DPR's core functions: 1. Planning; 2. Design; 3. Programming; and 4. Operations.

Each of the four goals contains three to four corresponding strategies to guide subsequent actions. In turn, every strategy contains four to five actions for DPR to focus its efforts on. Indicators of progress and corresponding metrics tied to individual actions will be used to track progress on the plan's implementation via a publicly available dashboard.

The four goals are as follows:

Goal 1: A Unified and Equitable Park System
Plan for a cohesive and unified park system that addresses gaps and meets future needs.

Goal 2: Inclusive, Resilient, Sustainable Design and Stewardship
Promote climate-resilient and environmentally sustainable parks and recreational facilities that provide safe, accessible, and inclusive connection to nature and recreational opportunities.

Goal 3: Responsive, Diverse Programming
Increase the capacity, quality, and diversity of programs, events, and services to promote a healthy lifestyle, enhance local economic development, support the arts, and celebrate the cultural diversity and history of the District.

Goal 4: Transparent, Efficient, Engaged Operations
Provide financially sustainable, efficient, and innovative operations, maintenance, and customer care that is transparent and responsive to residents' needs.

The following pages describe each goal, provide context for each strategy, and specify future agency actions.

“Parkland is not a luxury or a nicety, but a necessity—on a par with public libraries, clean drinking water, and quality schools.”[42]

-Bill Lee,
Senior Vice President of Policy, Advocacy, and Government Relations, The Trust for Public Land

GOAL 1:
A Unified and Equitable Park System

Plan for a cohesive and unified park system that addresses gaps and meets future needs.

DPR strives to be the gold standard for parks and recreation agencies by providing every resident access to high-quality parks and recreational facilities in their neighborhoods. DC residents living within walking distance of an outdoor park or recreational facility can go outside to gather with friends safely, connect with nature, and recreate. And while 99 percent of DC residents live within walking distance of a park according to the TPL, inequities remain across DC.[43]

While residents may live within a 10-minute walk (what is considered walking distance of a park), all routes do not provide the same level of access, due to safety or connectivity issues. Nor do all parks offer the same quality of amenities or types of features desired by a given community. Like many local jurisdictions across the US, DC must balance an ever-increasing list of capital projects to support a growing population and maintain and update existing infrastructure with finite financial resources to meet such demands, while also accounting for changing development patterns and competing interests for scarce land. Given these challenges, DPR must be intentional and strategic in allocating resources effectively to fulfill its responsibilities as an essential provider of parks and recreation.

Goal 1 outlines strategies for harnessing accurate and precise data, exploring innovative partnership models, and improving physical connections. By tracking metrics and identifying creative solutions and efficiencies, DPR can maximize its financial investments while ensuring equitable access to high-quality parks and recreational facilities across the District.

STRATEGY 1A

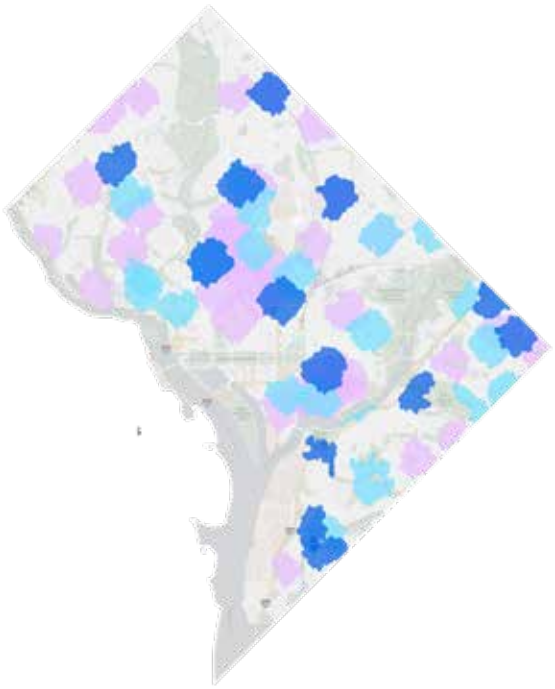
Use a data-driven planning approach to target investments to meet community needs and promote equity.

ACTIONS

1A.1 Utilize the Equity Framework and tools to inform budget decisions and prioritize investments.

1A.2 Report annually on how well we are providing access to all types of recreational amenities and facilities across the city, based on current and projected population.

1A.3 Conduct statistically significant survey to assess community need for various recreational amenities and programming at least every 5 years.



1A.4 Update SCORP and Master Plan every five years to integrate changing recreational trends and updated community engagement findings and report annually on plan implementation.

1A.5 Develop amenity-based plans; neighborhood-level plans for parks, open spaces, and recreation; feasibility studies; and park-specific master plans for larger parks.

1A.6 Utilize technology and park audits to capture additional usage and condition data, especially of outdoor spaces.

1A.7 Conduct a courts study with focus on identifying new locations for pickleball courts, but taking into account the needs of all court users.

STRATEGY 1B

Seek innovative approaches and partnerships to address amenity gaps and expand recreational opportunities.

ACTIONS

1B.1 Pursue new cooperative management agreements (CMA) or transfers of jurisdiction (TOJ) with NPS to expand access to recreational amenities and meet the needs of District residents.

1B.2 Seek new opportunities to expand recreational access through co-location and work with schools, DC agencies, and other providers of parks and recreational facilities to identify priority sites that address existing recreational gaps and resolve concerns/barriers to allow public access to recreational amenities on those grounds.

1B.3 Pursue acquisition of land for new parks in areas lacking access.

1B.4 Partner to create innovative recreational installations, programs, and activations in everyday spaces such as the public right of way, streets, commercial corridors, parking spaces, alleys, and vacant lots.

1B.5 Explore creative ways to achieve new parks —rooftop parks with public access, decked parks over streets and freeways, linear parks using right of way.

1B.6 Integrate new and unique amenities into DPR's inventory, such as:
- Pump tracks and skateparks
- Destination splash park/waterpark
- Ropes course/challenge course and climbing wall
- Indoor playgrounds
- Digital fabrication laboratories (FabLabs)

1B.7 Seek additional public recreational benefits through the zoning, development review, and regulatory processes.

1B.8 Develop design and use guidelines for plazas and other types of small parks and public space, whether publicly or privately owned.

1B.9 Identify, map, and publicize privately owned public space to spread awareness that the space is open to the public.

STRATEGY 1C

Provide accessible and safe connections to and through parks and unify the park system with trails, signage, and greenways.

SAFE ROUTES TO PARKS

On the Path to Safe Routes to Parks: This infographic highlights features and steps to creating safe routes to parks | Safe Routes Partnerships

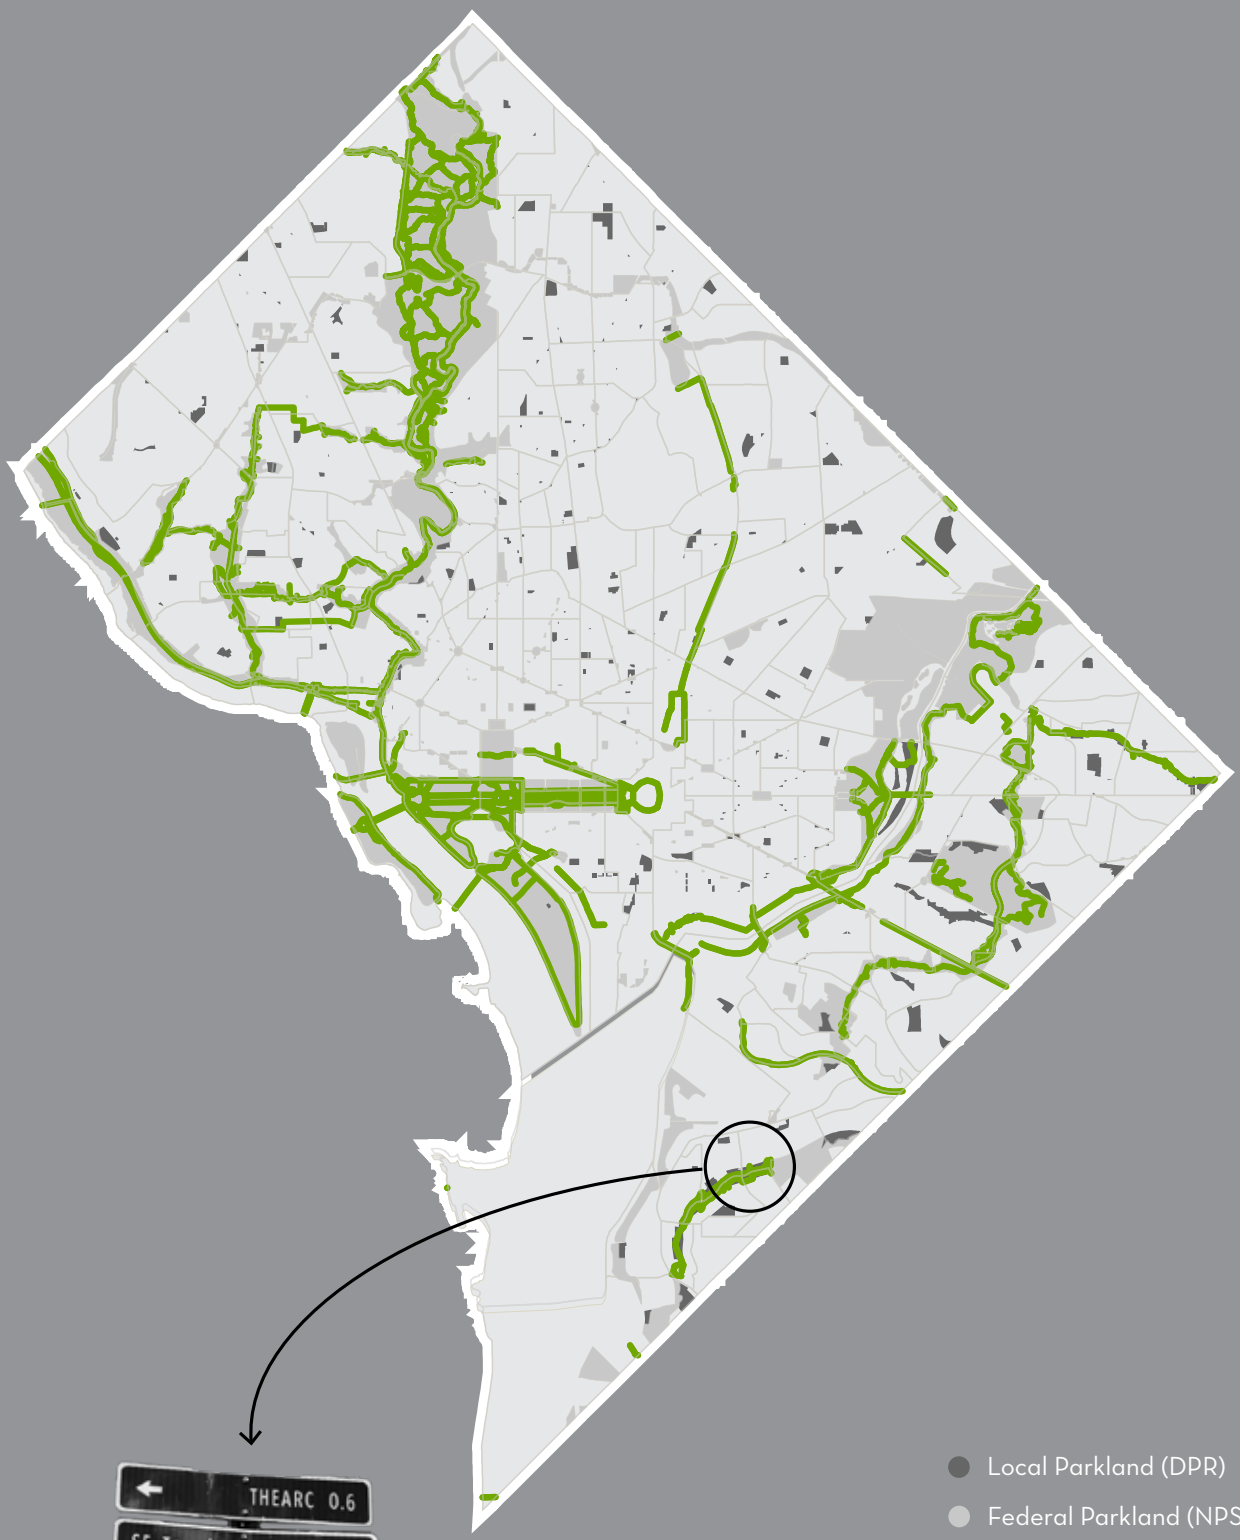
"Too often, communities that have experienced historical disinvestment, high levels of traffic incidences, crime and public safety challenges, and high rates of weight-related chronic disease have the least safe access to local public parks. Over the long-term, with increased safety and accessibility, Safe Routes to Parks seeks to increase park usage and improve health for people of all ages, races, abilities, and income levels."

Source: Safe Routes Partnerships

ACTIONS

1C.1 Identify sites to add multi-use trails that connect to the citywide trail system and provide maps and signage to direct park users to nearby trails.

1C.2 Develop criteria to assess the quality, safety, and comfort of multi-modal access to and through DPR sites that prioritizes safe, cool and shaded walking and biking routes to parks and recreation centers.



1C.3 Pursue additional shade, benches, and water stations on prioritized park access routes for comfortable access to parks on hot summer days.

1C.4 Work with DDOT to invest in recreational amenities alongside existing and planned trails.

1C.5 Develop new and expand existing nature trails.

1C.6 Create trail management and maintenance plan.

“Sustainability is about balancing the environmental, economic, and social needs of the District of Columbia today as well as the needs of the next generation, and the one after that.”

-Mayor Bowser,
Sustainable DC 2.0

GOAL 2:

Inclusive, Resilient, Sustainable Design, and Stewardship

Promote climate-resilient and environmentally sustainable parks and recreational facilities that provide safe, accessible, and inclusive connections to nature and recreational opportunities.

As a proactive steward of more than 850 acres of green space and hundreds of recreational facilities and amenities, DPR must ensure its portfolio meets high design standards as part of DC's ongoing mission to become the "healthiest, greenest, most livable city for all District residents."[44]

Parks and recreational facilities must be safe spaces where everyone feels welcome and that everyone can access regardless of age or ability. This plan aims to achieve this through specific design interventions to create inclusive spaces that are accessible to all through the concept of universal design and targeted innovative programming and community outreach to promote safe spaces.

As the world's first Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Platinum city, DC is a recognized leader in sustainability. The Sustainable DC 2.0 Plan calls for reaching carbon neutrality by 2050.[45] In order to achieve this, DPR is now aiming to reach net zero design in new recreation centers and designing park spaces that can meet the intensifying climate demands of increased heat and flooding events. If designed with climate considerations such as extreme heat, water quality, and flooding in mind, parks can help provide shade, cooling, stormwater management, and water storage without compromising their recreational components. A big part of addressing the climate crisis through our parks is ensuring the protection and stewardship of our natural spaces. DPR intends to work with partners to expand the amount of focus on our natural spaces and building up additional protections for natural land and practices for proper maintenance and care.

STRATEGY 2A

Provide accessible, and inclusive spaces where all users feel welcome regardless of age, race, income, gender, sexual orientation, or disability status.

ACTIONS

2A.1 Develop an Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) transition plan that prioritizes sites for future ADA compliance work on a five-year cycle to correspond with Master Plan updates. This plan should address non-building park space and amenities and push for universal design whenever feasible.

2A.2 Incorporate universal design principles into parks and new facilities to provide spaces for all ages and abilities that offer opportunities for therapeutic and inclusive recreation across the District.

2A.3 Increase inventory of sensory play and adaptive equipment for all abilities.

2A.4 Integrate single stall, gender-neutral, ADA-accessible restrooms, showers, and changing facilities into every center to provide more inclusive access. Restrooms should be accessible from the outside and open during normal park hours even when the rec center building is closed.

2A.5 Pursue stand-alone single-stall, gender-neutral, ADA-accessible restrooms at large playgrounds, highly used fields, and neighborhood, community, and District parks without access to a recreation center.

2A.6 Design parks to have spaces for quiet contemplation and passive social recreation by including design elements such as ADA-accessible paved walking paths, native landscaping, benches at regular intervals, picnic areas, and game tables.

2A.7 Expand therapeutic programming across DPR's inventory so that residents across the city can participate in therapeutic programs closer to home.

2A.8 Ensure language access is provided in communication around DPR's programs and facilities.

2A.9 Provide training to staff on the rights guaranteed to all through the ADA and on the sensory specific needs of residents with emotional and cognitive disabilities.

PRINCIPLES OF UNIVERSAL DESIGN

1. Equitable Use: The design is useful and marketable to people with diverse abilities.

2. Flexibility in Use: The design accommodates a wide range of individual preferences and abilities.

3. Simple and Intuitive Use: Use of the design is easy to understand, regardless of the user's experience, knowledge, language skills, or current concentration level.

4. Perceptible Information: The design communicates necessary information effectively to the user, regardless of ambient conditions or the user's sensory abilities.

5. Tolerance for Error: The design minimizes hazards and the adverse consequences of accidental or unintended actions.

6. Low Physical Effort: The design can be used efficiently and comfortably and with a minimum of fatigue.

7. Size and Space for Approach and Use: Appropriate size and space is provided for approach, reach, manipulation, and use regardless of user's body size, posture, or mobility.

STRATEGY 2B

Provide safe opportunities for recreation.

LATE NIGHT HYPE

Since 2021, the DC Department of Parks and Recreation (DC DPR) developed a dynamic event for non-traditional hours, including late-night and overnight activations becoming one of the most popular programs. Through Late Night Hype, DC DPR has engaged hundreds of youth ages 12-17 in the most vulnerable communities of our city.

In addition to being a creative recreation and leisure program, the Late Night Hype program model contributes to improved outcomes in community building and violence prevention for entire communities.

ACTIONS

2B.1 Work with community leaders in areas of high crime to determine safe passageways to existing recreational facilities.

2B.2 Adopt soft-scale design interventions to help deter crime instead of hard-security infrastructure whenever possible.

2B.3 Continue to host events and programs outside of regular operating hours, such as Late Night Hype at recreation centers and Late Night Drip at pools, to provide positive reinforcement for youth and deter crime.

2B.4 Offer summits and events that promote positive mental health outcomes and offer positive strategies for healing.

2B.5 Offer trauma-informed and de-escalation training to front line staff to deter violence and promote positive coping mechanisms.

2B.6 Bring mobile recreation opportunities targeting youth, teens and young adults to communities lacking regular access to recreation.

STRATEGY 2C

Advance sustainability and regenerative design on DPR properties.

ACTIONS

2C.1 Design all new recreation centers to be net zero and seek to achieve net-positive recreation centers when feasible.

2C.2 Incorporate sustainable features (i.e., use of renewable energy sources, low embodied carbon materials, water and energy efficiency, biophilic design, stormwater management) in the design of all new or renovated parks and recreation centers.

2C.3 Develop material selection guidelines and design standards for capital improvement projects that weigh functional use, aesthetics, architectural and construction quality, durability, environmental sustainability, accessibility, circularity of materials, health impacts, upfront capital costs and ongoing maintenance costs.

2C.4 Seek to reduce impervious surface cover across DPR sites.

2C.5 Promote operational sustainability by reducing waste generated at DPR sites and events, optimizing recycling and composting opportunities, replacing fossil fuel-run maintenance equipment, using nontoxic cleaning products, and using plant- and animal-friendly lawn treatment products.

2C.6 Develop a lighting conversion roadmap to replace all lighting that is not in compliance with new standards.

2C.7 Adopt bird-friendly design standards for the design of new recreation centers, and pursue bird-friendly design alterations for existing centers which are unsafe for birds.

HEAT SENSITIVITY EXPOSURE INDEX

The Heat Sensitivity Exposure Index (HSEI) is a geographic information system (GIS) dataset that combines a Heat Sensitivity Index (HSI) and a Heat Exposure Index (HEI) allowing users to visualize which census tracts in the District of Columbia are most sensitive and/or exposed to extreme heat. This index will be extremely valuable in prioritizing areas to address through action 2D.2.

The HSI is made up of variables that influence an individual's ability to adapt to, cope with, or recover from extreme heat and includes six socio-economic and demographic variables and three health variables. The HEI includes ambient air temperature as the heat exposure variable and two physical variables that contributes to heat retention.

Source: DC DOEE, 2022

ACTIONS

2D.1 Develop and adopt resilience hub standards for the design and retrofit of recreation centers, including resilient and renewable-based backup power to support properly sized heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC), backup communications, and space for preparing or storing meals and medications.

2D.2 Ensure that park spaces provide users with protection from extreme heat by enhancing tree canopy, selecting cooler colors and materials, and providing shade structures, water and cooling features, and drinking fountains.

2D.3 Integrate floodable infrastructure and amenities into parks and small open spaces, including triangle parks and linear parks along roadways, to better store, manage, and convey floodwater.

2D.4 Consider flexible design to accommodate for multiple or changing uses of space. This could include any portion of a site and/or site furnishings.

2D.5 Expand access to fast and reliable public Wi-Fi in recreation centers and parks.

STRATEGY 2E

Implement natural land management, conservation, and stewardship practices.

ACTIONS

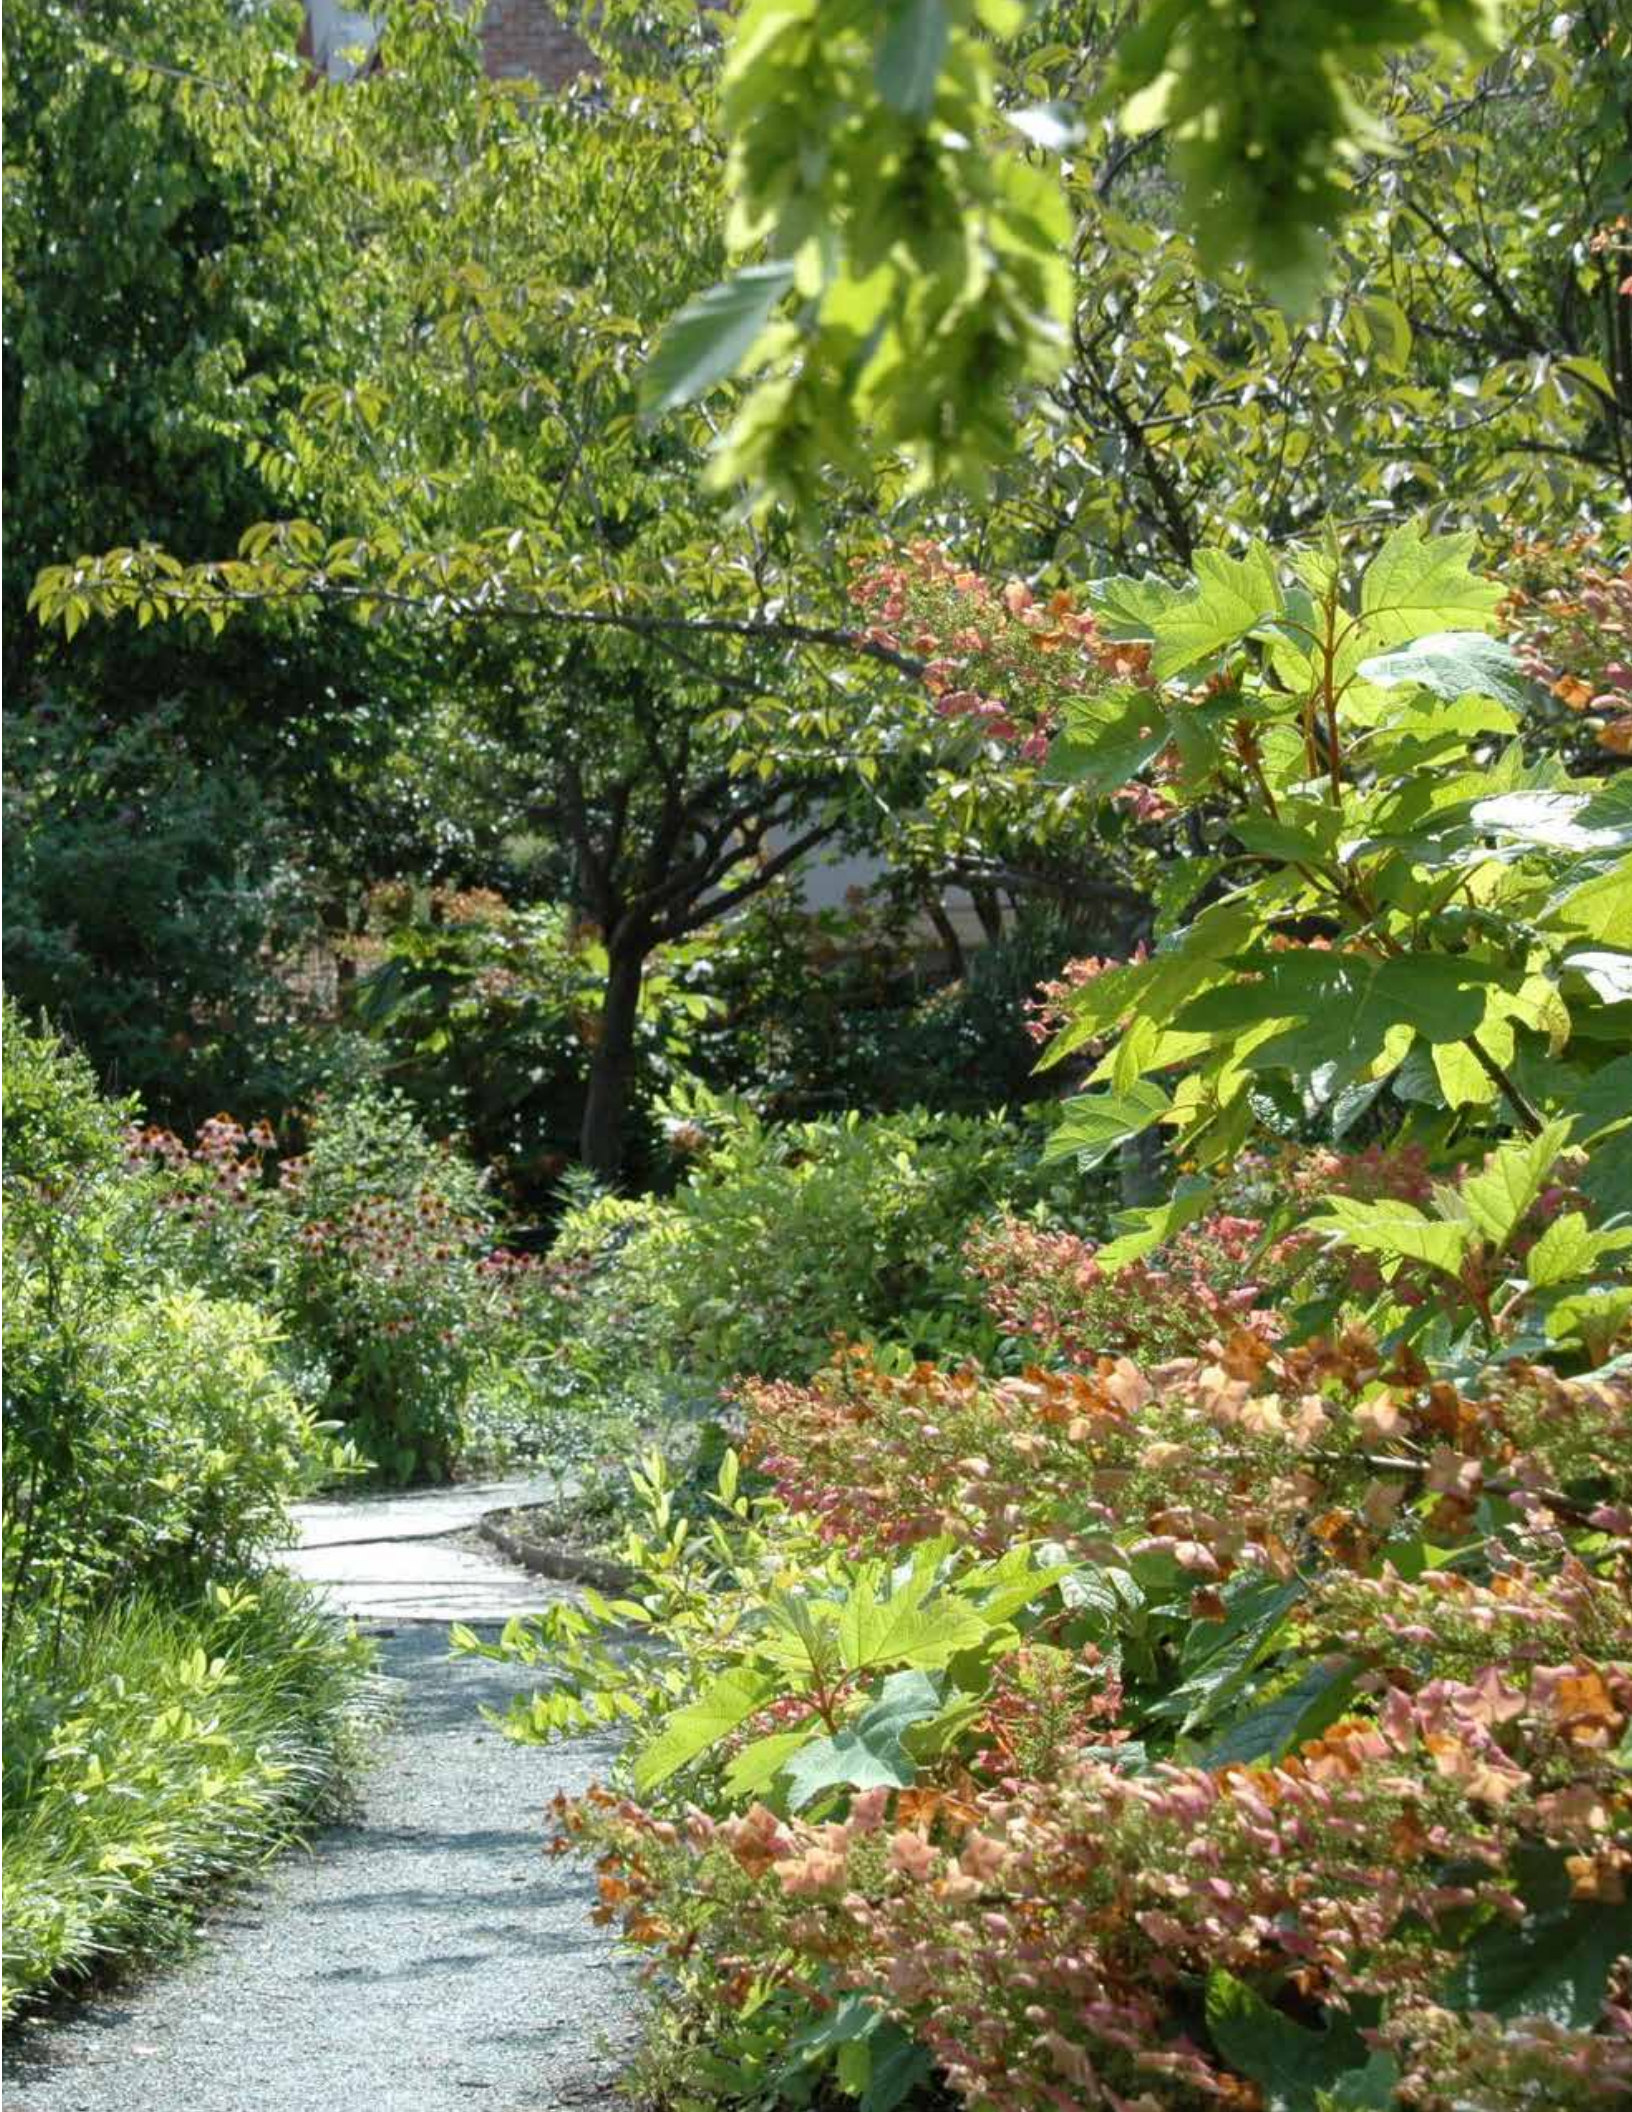
2E.1 Plan for the development of new marquee waterfront parks at Poplar Point and Kenilworth Park North, that will enhance public connectivity to the river while protecting and restoring natural habitats and ecosystems.

2E.2 Work with DOEE to further explore the creation of a natural river pool in the Anacostia River.

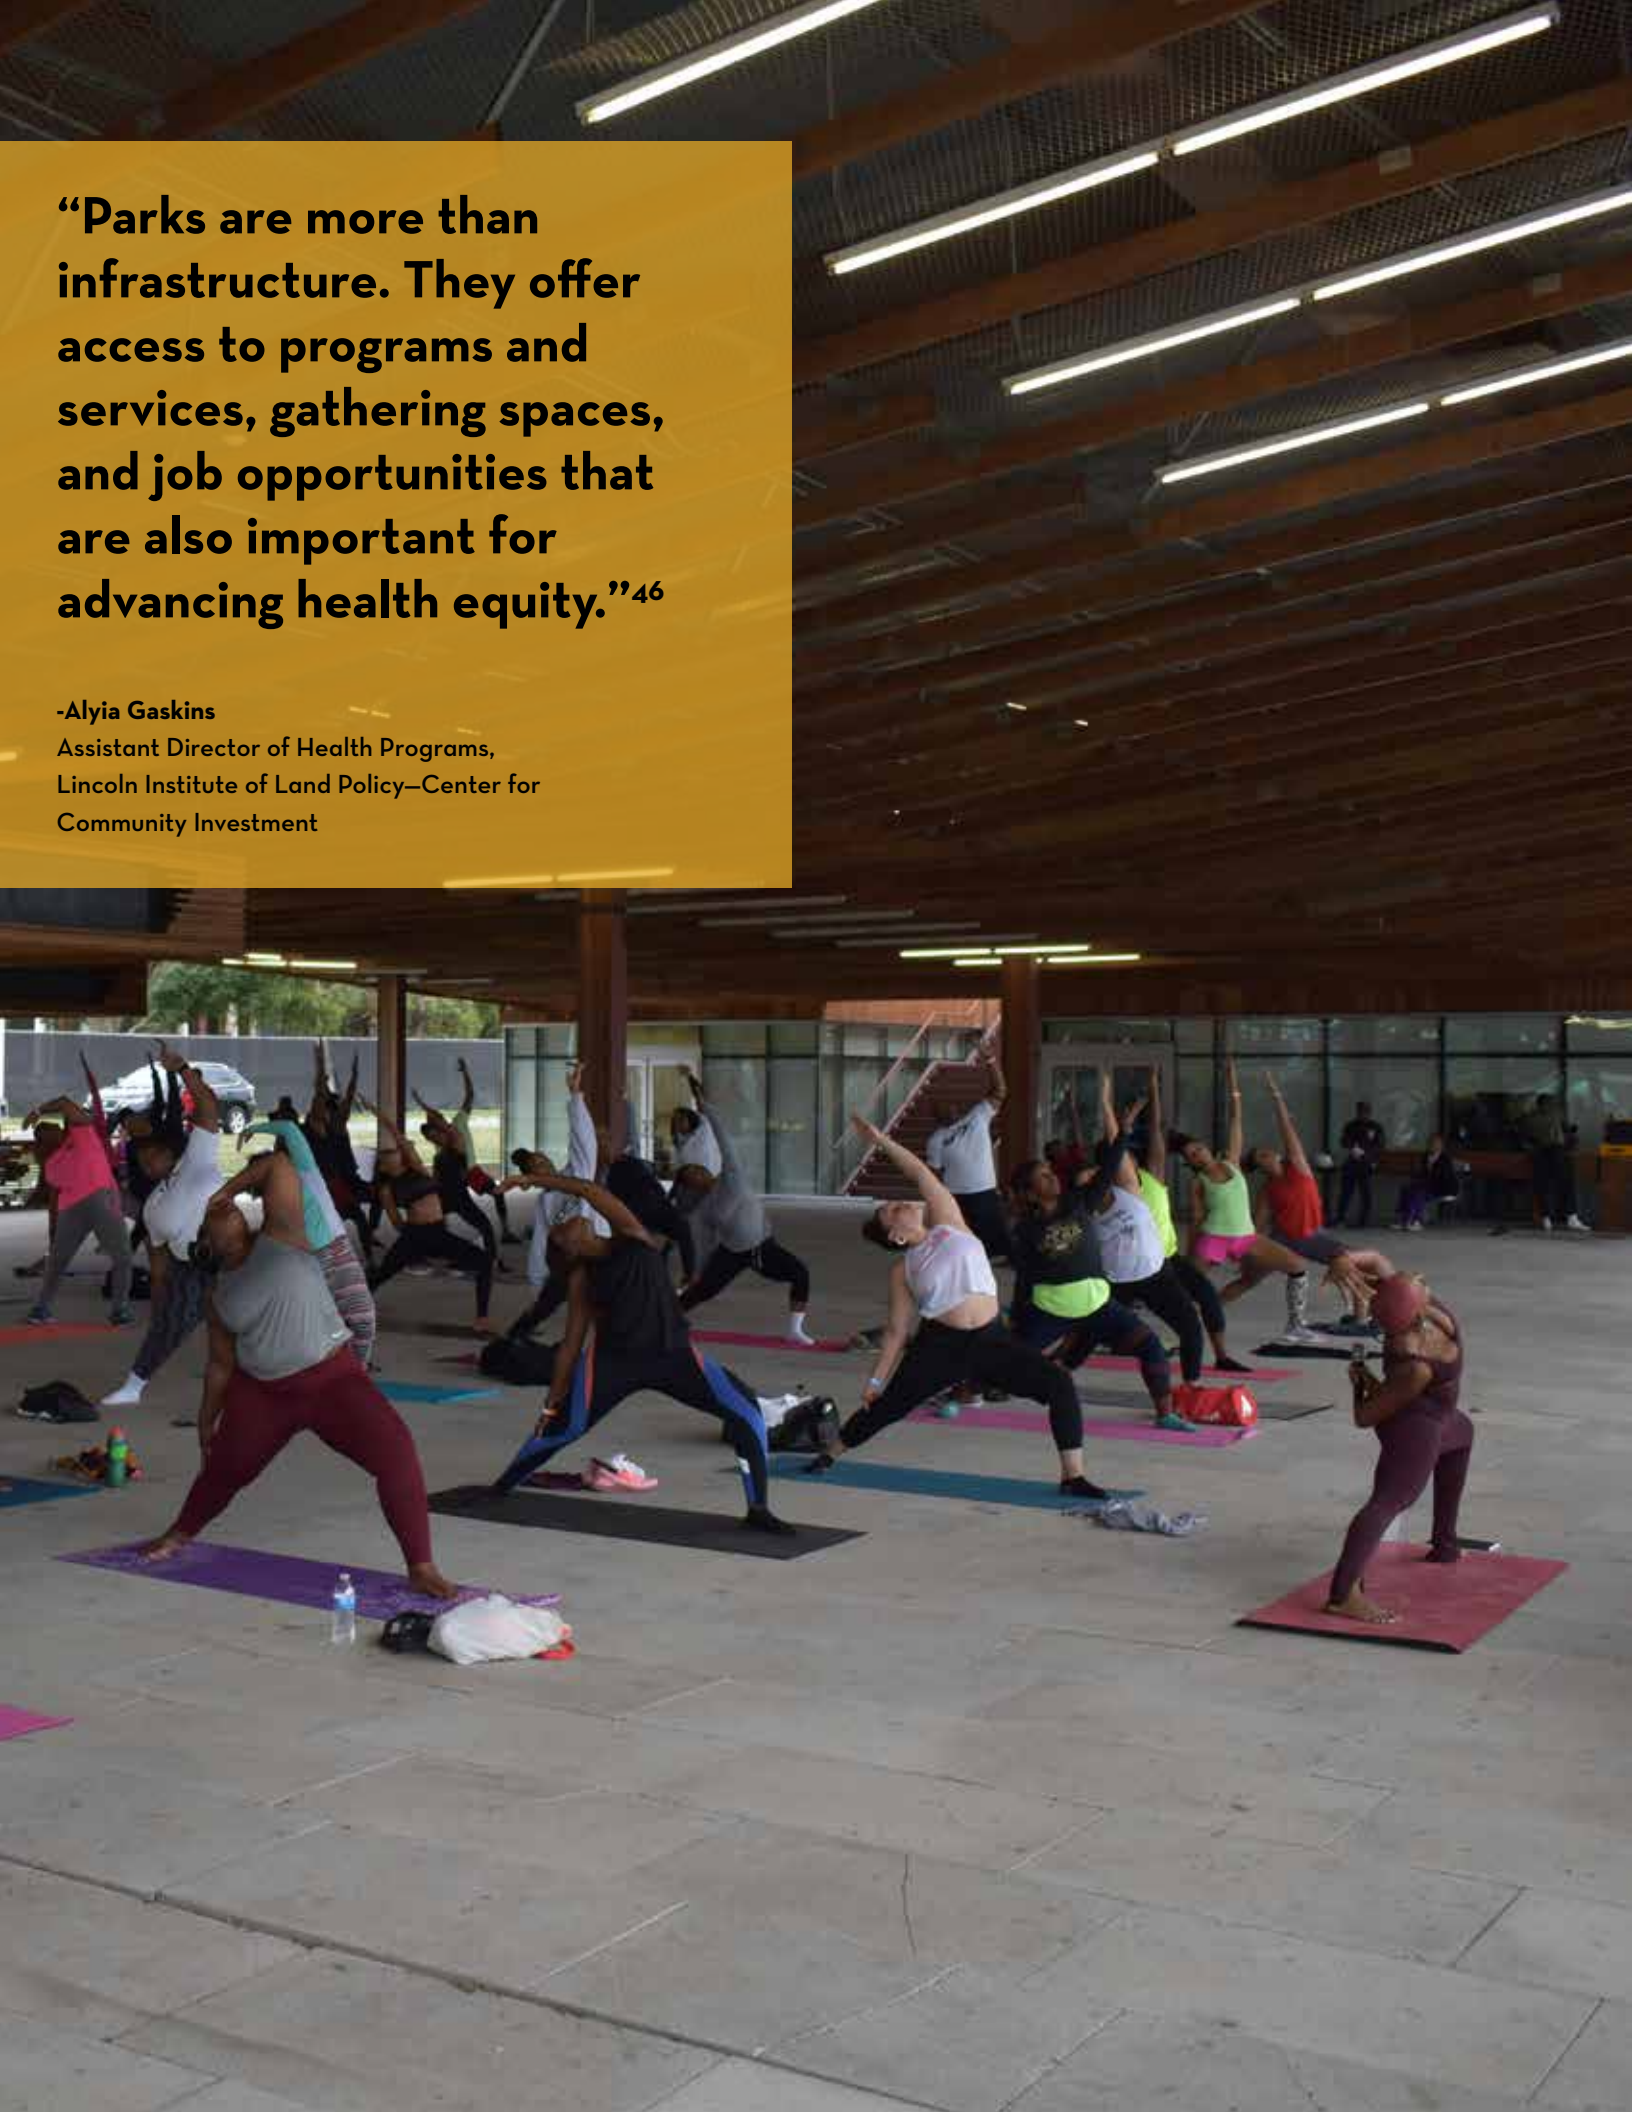
2E.3 Lead efforts alongside other relevant government agencies to develop a citywide natural resources management plan that lays out strategies to protect, maintain, and enhance our natural lands.

2E.4 Develop mini-gardens initiative to create small pollinator gardens and other landscaping with interpretive signage that includes plants native to the region and improves the biodiversity of our small parks.

2E.5 Host trainings and partner with community groups and non-profits to perform native landscaping and invasive species removal.



2E.6 Develop a new office within DC government to manage the maintenance of natural spaces including regular clearing of invasive species.



2E.7 Conduct on-the-ground assessments of existing natural lands in DPR's inventory and identify opportunities for new meadows and forest patches.

2E.8 Protect existing natural and open green space in parks for unstructured outdoor play, picnics, spaces for nature contemplation and meditation and ensure that healthy natural areas on any new land obtained by DPR are protected.

2E.9 Pursue conservation easements either directly or through partnerships with landowners or third-parties to protect natural lands.

GOAL 3:
Responsive, Diverse Programming

Increase the capacity, quality, and diversity of programs, events, and services to promote a healthy lifestyle, enhance local economic development, support the arts, and celebrate the cultural diversity and history of the District.

Central to DPR's impact are the over 400 types of events and programmed activities it offers District residents, ranging from fitness to therapeutic recreation to arts and enrichment. Despite the breadth of options, many Ready2Play survey respondents cited barriers to program participation including programs' capacity. In addition to providing equitable access and availability, DPR must maintain the excellence of core and high-demand programming and enhance capacity to meet current and future needs, especially those programs that respondents indicated interest in expanding, such as aquatics, summer camps, and tennis.

Like many parks and recreation departments nationwide, DPR has experienced heightened demand for a greater number and variety of programs and services stemming from COVID-19. Facility restrictions and closures generated interest in virtual programming and online reservations, accelerating the adoption of new technologies. Programs such as e-Sports and culinary classes, repeatedly seen as recreational trends nationwide in recent years, became even more popular. Meanwhile, the previously trending preference for indoor recreation reversed, as the use of outdoor amenities was more conducive to social distancing and provided an outlet from so much time in our homes.

The pandemic also exacerbated economic hardships and underscored the importance of food distribution, healthcare services, and career training opportunities. DPR responded through program expansions and innovations including bringing mobile outdoor programming; partnering with healthcare and fitness providers to hold 5K races; organizing pop-up fitness classes; providing virtual wellness programming; distributing produce from DPR's rooftop gardens; and expanding youth and family initiatives like Feed the Fridge.[47]

Building on the success of DPR's core programming and the continued pursuit of its improvement, this goal recommends the expansion of high-demand programs and new programming elements that are responsive to residents' diverse needs and desires, promote healthy lifestyles, support entrepreneurship, and celebrate arts and culture.

GOAL 4:

Transparent, efficient, engaged operations

Provide financially sustainable, efficient, and innovative operations, maintenance and customer care that is transparent and responsive to residents' needs.

The District has once again been ranked #1 in the nation by the TPL's 2023 ParkScore® Index[48], reflective of the agency's vision to be America's gold standard for parks and recreation agencies. While DPR's employees work diligently to provide excellent operational and administrative support, the agency is always striving to reevaluate its allocation of staff and financial resources and to improve its external communications and public messaging.

DPR must continually pursue judicious management of capital and operating funds not only to meet immediate agency needs, but also to ensure long-term financial viability. Systematic oversight of facility conditions remains especially critical to allocating capital investments efficiently and avoiding the escalating costs of deferred maintenance. DPR is also committed to working closely with our partner agency, the Department of General Services to meet the day to day maintenance needs of our assets. Maintenance was the #1 concern heard from this plan engagement, both the maintenance of our built assets and of our green space and natural lands. This plan aims to be more proactive to identify maintenance needs before they become glaring issues and to develop novel processes and practices to ensure that these maintenance needs are followed up on.

This plan also aims to identify and implement new methods and tools to enhance the customer experience, integrating regular community involvement, investing in human capital, and engaging creatively with partners, volunteers, and sponsors to pursue additional revenue sources.

Goal 4 provides the strategic framework to achieve financial sustainability, efficiency and innovation in operations, maintenance enhancement, and best-in-class-level customer service to the community and its partners.

NoMa PARKS FOUNDATION

Swampoodle Park | NoMa Parks Foundation/Sam Kittner

The NoMa Parks Foundation was created in 2012 as a public-private partnership between the District Government, the NoMa BID, private landowners in NoMa, residents, and other stakeholders. The Foundation works to address the absence of publicly owned parks in NoMa by acquiring land and establishing urban parks that are welcoming and sustainable for people to play and connect. Since 2018, the NoMa Parks Foundation has completed the Swampoodle Park, Alethia Tanner Park, and Swampoodle Terrace Park.

IMPLEMENTATION

The implementation section lays out an action-by-action guide on how the success of each action will be measured. For some actions, there are relevant metrics that will be tracked and reported on annually. For others, there are implementation outputs or deliverables that will be an initial measure of success for that action. Every action is also assigned a projected timeframe for when its achievement seems most possible and practical. Some actions are ongoing, while others are categorized into short-, medium- or long-term timeframes. Short-term actions are anticipated to be completed by the end of FY26, medium-term actions are anticipated to be completed by the end of FY30, and long-term actions are anticipated to be completed in the years following FY30. Each of the actions also has a corresponding funding value that estimates the range of funding that implementing the action will require. If the funding value is listed as N/A, it is anticipated that DPR can complete this task in-house or with the resources already available within current operating or capital budget funding levels.

CAPITAL BLUEPRINT

The Capital Blueprint includes a series of place-based recommendations informed by data, gaps and opportunities analyses, and engagement priorities. These recommendations include: potential focus areas for future planning efforts, potential sites to pursue partnerships with NPS, and potential site-based and amenity improvements.

These place-based recommendations aim to promote physical and mental health and well-being, increase access to and protection of natural areas, provide new opportunities for water-based recreation (both through our natural waterways and by enhancing our existing network of neighborhood and competition-sized pools) and invest in resilient design, shade, net-zero/net-positive energy and floodable park spaces to combat the impacts of climate change. These recommendations aim to enhance our network of competition-level facilities and provide premier parks and recreation centers that are also cultural spaces to celebrate history and the arts, civic facilities to meet the needs particular to the neighborhoods they serve, and centers of fun and innovation, offering creative and diverse programming, new amenities, and opportunities for technological learning and entrepreneurship. The new and improved recreational system created through these recommendations will be grounded in a focus on equity, well maintained, safe, and inclusive, meeting the physical and sensory needs of all and providing every DC resident with access to amazing parks and recreational facilities.

These recommendations add specificity and geography to the goals, strategies, and actions of the Strategic Plan. They identify potential place-based interventions and investments that will be tracked and measured by the act of their implementation. These recommendations will be pursued through future DPR budget requests as well as through the exploration of new partnerships and collaborations.

DPR'S BUDGET PROCESS

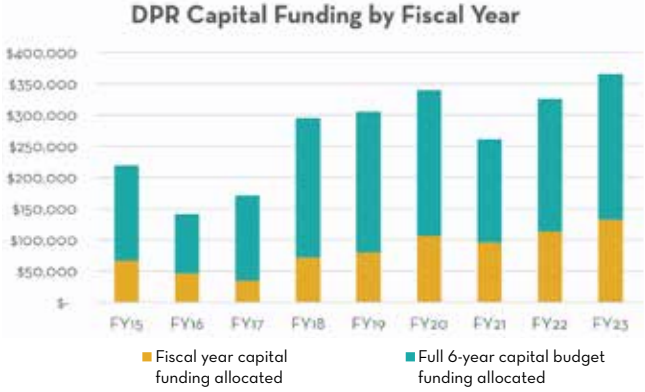
DPR has the fourth-largest six-year capital budget of any agency within DC Government. In its fiscal year 2023-2028 capital budget, the six-year total investment was $365.4M. This investment is quite high by national standards, receiving a full 100 out of 100 points from the Trust for Public Land in its annual ParkScore® for park spending per resident.[46]

DPR gets funding from three primary sources: local tax revenue, permitting fees and agency revenue, and municipal bonds for capital expenditures. There are also some select federal grants that DPR receives, as well as donations, which are typically received as in-kind.

Capital v. Operating Budget

DPR's capital budget is much larger than its operating budget. Capital budgets are for facilities and infrastructure that typically have a multi-decade lifespan. Much of this funding comes from bonds and includes spending authority that is available across fiscal years. Operating funds are used for personnel expenses and programming. They tend to come from the District's general revenue and have more flexibility in how they can be spent, but the legislative authority to spend them expires at the end of each fiscal year.

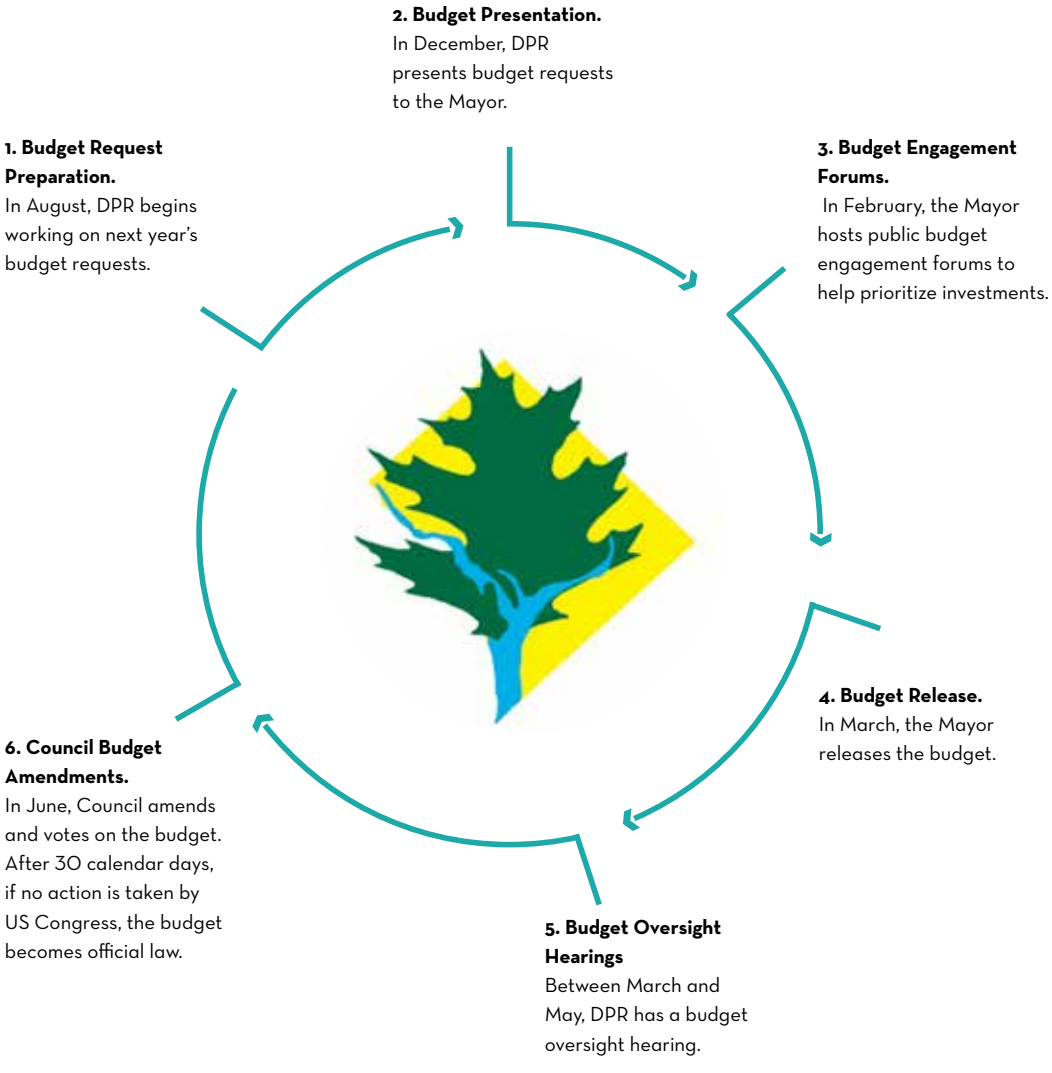
In FY23, DPR's Capital Budget was $132.4M and its operating budget was $85.2M. Many parks and recreation agencies across the country would manage maintenance out of their operating funds; however, in DC, DPR does not manage its own maintenance, as the Department of General Services handles all maintenance duties. DGS receives operating funds annually in its budget to manage all government facilities, including schools, parks, and other facilities. A portion of these funds are dedicated to DPR projects, but DC does not have maintenance budgets allocated by site.



Over the past several years, DPR has made significant investments in parks and recreational facilities across the city. Just a few of the marquee investments are highlighted in more detail below. However, for a full list of DPR's investments over the years, please see the historic investment table provided in the Appendix as well as an online map of these investments at ready2play.dc.com.

Pooled Projects

Every year DPR has a number of projects that are funded through citywide pools of funding. These pooled funds are in the following categories:



1. ADA Compliance
2. Access and Security Infrastructure
3. IT
4. Small Parks Improvements
5. Playground Equipment
6. Field and Park Improvements
7. HVAC Replacement
8. Swimming Pool Replacement
9. Roof Replacements
10. General Improvements

This is important information to understand to contextualize the structure of DPR's budget and how the recommendations in the Capital Blueprint are structured.

DPR's Capital Budget has increased significantly in recent years, going from under $150 Million in FY2016 to over $350 Million in FY2023.

The DC Government fiscal year (FY) runs from October 1 to September 30. Planning begins for new budget requests over a year before those projects appear in DPR's budget. For example, planning for projects to be included in DPR's budget request for FY25 (October 2024-September 2025) will begin in late summer 2023.

While DPR's parks and recreational investments have been funded in the past mainly through local capital funds from the DC budget, that does not mean that this is the only way to achieve the goals and recommendations called for in this plan. In fact, there are a myriad of policy tools and funding mechanisms that jurisdictions across the country use to help fund parks and recreational investments. Some of these tools are already in use in DC but could be tweaked or strengthened to better integrate parks and recreational investments, while others that are not currently used have tremendous potential to expand the availability and quality of DC's parks and recreational amenities. To see brief descriptions of various policy tools that could be pursued or enhanced, see the Appendix.

NEEDS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Central to envisioning a future for what DC's park system could look and function like in 2040 is ensuring that the park system expands in a way that keeps pace with the continued anticipated growth in DC. DC's existing LOS metric of park acreage per 1,000 residents is 12.52. By 2040, DC's population has been estimated to increase to 787,144. That means that to maintain DC's existing LOS, park acreage would need to increase by 1,224 acres by 2040. This plan recognizes the impracticality of achieving this level of park expansion and notes that as cities grow, their LOS of park acreage per resident trends downward. The recently released 2023 NRPA Agency Performance Review key findings indicates that the typical park and recreation agency manages 10.8 acres of parkland per 1,000 residents[47]. As the #1 rated park system in the country[48] and a current leader in park access and acreage per resident, DC should continue providing a LOS that exceeds its peers' average and seek to expand its parkland as much as is feasible to keep up with population growth. With this in mind, DPR has identified and mapped 27 acres of new parkland already in the development pipeline and anticipated to open to the public over the next decade (see Appendix). These 27 acres include both privately and publicly owned land. To maintain this level of parkland expansion as the District continues to grow, this plan recommends the development of an additional 83 acres of new parkland on top of that already in the pipeline to achieve a total growth of 100 new acres of parkland by 2040. This ambitious yet achievable goal would result in a 2040 LOS of 11.1 acres per 1,000 residents. Noting that population projections are likely to be adjusted in the years ahead, DPR will review and update this LOS standard to correspond to these changes but will remain focused on helping to incentivize and create 100 new acres of parkland by 2040.

This future will not be achieved through the recommendations of this plan alone. There are a number of players outside of DPR who will help shape the future of the parks and recreational system in DC, not least of which will be the private sector and the new parks and open spaces that will be created alongside new developments. There are a number of major projects already planned that will deliver enhancements to the existing park system and there are many more that will surely come over the next 20 years.

Major park opportunities underway or upcoming (note that some of the sites listed below are not necessarily new park spaces and already count as part of the existing park acreage; however, the opportunity to re-envision and redesign these spaces to create new experiences provides exciting possibilities for the future):

New planned park sites:

- 11th and Bark Dog Park
- 11th Street Bridge Park
- Amigos Park
- Anacostia Recreation Center at Ketcham
- Barney Circle
- Barry Farm Central Park
- Bruce Monroe Park
- Bryant Street Edgewood
- Burnham Place
- Dave Thomas Circle
- Frederick Douglass Ovals
- Friendship Heights Redevelopment
- Hill East Waterfront (Reservation 13)
- McMillan Recreation Center and Park
- River Terrace Recreation Center
- Walter Reed Pool
- Washington Gas Site
- West Virginia Avenue Public Works Campus

Existing park sites:

- Anacostia Park Section D Redesign
- Carter Barron Amphitheater Restoration
- Kenilworth Park North
- Lewis Crowe Park
- Oxon Cove
- Poplar Point
- Shepherd Parkway Planning

BOLD IDEAS:

Even as we are focused on the practical and achievable plans articulated in this report, we continue to dream big at DPR. The future could be helped along by a number of bold ideas. DPR acknowledges that these bold ideas will require the collaboration of multiple stakeholders and significant community engagement. Our bold ideas include:

- Pursue innovative design solutions to reconnect communities on both sides of I-295 with Anacostia Park and the river.
- Create linear parks through downtown and in areas with low land-acquisition potential and high density by using portions of the public right of way.
- Create world-class waterfront parks and public spaces that connect residents to DC's rivers and provide opportunities for river recreation, environmental education, and restoration.
- Incorporate green space and parklet design around DC government buildings and provide publicly accessible rooftop parks.
- Build a rail-trail along the old CSX track that runs adjacent to Fairlawn Ave SE.
- Study feasibility of air rights development over rail yard between New York Ave and Metropolitan Branch Trail (MBT) to create new park space and provide better connections between communities.

WHAT WE HEARD

From the various engagement forums hosted by DPR as part of the Ready2Play process, we heard a general consensus on the following order of priority:

ENHANCE THE MAINTENANCE QUALITY OF EXISTING DPR PARKS AND RECREATION CENTERS

INTEGRATE NEW AMENITIES INTO THE EXISTING INVENTORY TO FILL GAPS AND EXPAND CAPACITY WHERE NEEDED

ACQUIRE NEW TERRITORY AND/ OR ESTABLISH NEW PARTNERSHIPS WITH OTHER LAND OPERATORS TO MEET DEMAND

Arboretum Recreation Center | IStudio Architects

DPR has invested significant capital dollars in recent years in neighborhoods with high Equity Index scores. However, we heard from residents of these communities that the maintenance, upkeep, process of engagement, and sense of community ownership over project scope and design have been some of the biggest concerns that have led to perpetuated inequity. Lack of redundant inventory in these areas also exacerbates the impact and concerns around poor quality/lack of maintenance.

Besides improved maintenance, we saw an overwhelming interest across the District in nature-based recreation, nature trails, water recreation, pools, new and diverse amenities, restrooms, shade, and responsive programming that meets the community needs. Additionally, residents in wards 7 and 8 were noticeably more interested in indoor recreation, particularly arts and cultural areas and culinary spaces.

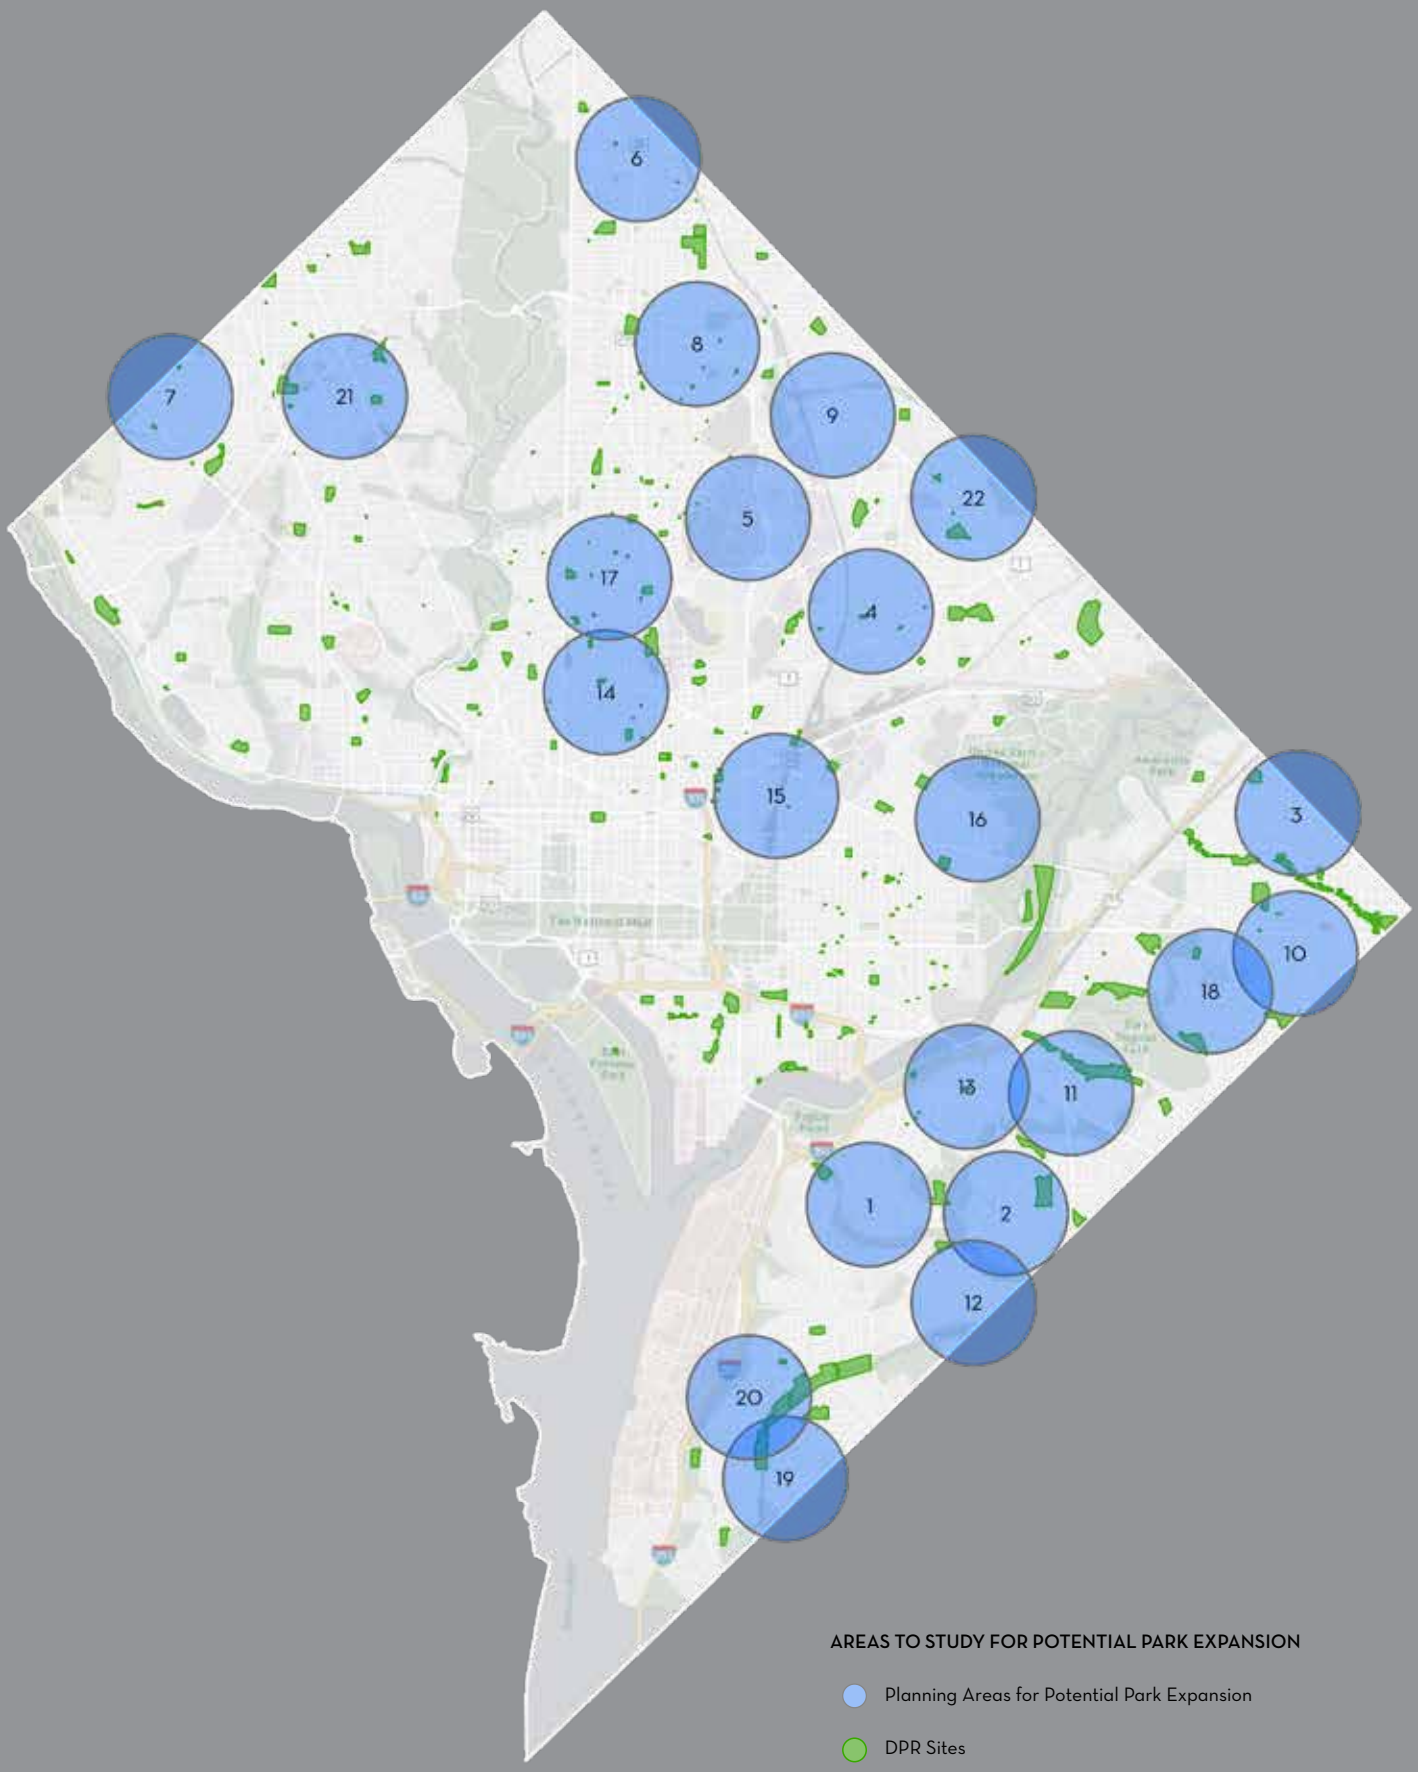
POTENTIAL PLANNING EFFORTS

Ready2Play's engagement and data analysis highlighted the need for additional planning efforts and studies. These lists are not exhaustive but detail some of the types of future planning efforts recommended for DPR to undertake in the coming years. Areas to study for potential park expansion were determined through an analysis of gaps in geographic walkshed and population-based LOS at the ward level. This was evaluated alongside findings from Ready2Play's ward-based meetings and survey results.

Amenity-based plans, studies, and park master plans:



- Amenity-Based Plans (Aquatics, Athletic Courts, Dog Parks, Fields, Playgrounds, Skate Parks)
- District Parks Master Plans (Oxon Run Park, Kenilworth Park North, Marvin Gaye, Poplar Point

- Environmental Recreation Plans (Trail facilities, River Recreation Access, Natural Resources Management)

POTENTIAL SITE-BASED IMPROVEMENTS

The following maps show recommended sites for various new amenities. On each map, existing DPR and NPS walksheds are shown for the respective amenity as well as areas of high LOS need and high demand for that amenity. The green priority zone is any area where high LOS need and high demand overlap. High LOS need was calculated based on the level of service for that amenity by ward population using 2012 ward boundaries. High demand was calculated by comparative interest in that amenity from Ready2Play Citywide Survey responses broken down by zip code.

 Projects Funded represents DPR projects that are currently funded or have funding allocated in DPR's FY24-FY30 Capital Improvement Plan. This funding is a snapshot in time and it is contingent upon implementation realities, including the availability of funding and project timing. Furthermore, the complete list of these potential improvements represents DPR's current understanding of future needs. As this understanding changes with time, the Plan will evolve to reflect those changes.

POTENTIAL SITE-BASED IMPROVEMENTS

The map below shows sites identified for enhanced adaptive recreation and programming as well as sites for resilient floodable design and sites to focus on safety and inclusive design interventions. A safety and inclusive space highlights areas where there will be an enhanced security upgrade to protect the safety of users of the facility. This could include new cameras, security staff, lighting or other site improvements to enhance the safety of site users.

Enhanced adaptive recreation means these sites would be accomodated to provide above and beyond minimal ADA standards. These would be sites focused on inclusive therapeutic recreation that would offer universally designed spaces and amenities, expanding the reach of the existing therapeutic programs and camps offerred out of Joy Evans Therapeutic Recreation Center. Aquatic facilities at these sites would offer a thereaputic pool space for aquatic programs and therapeutic recovery.

POLICY TOOLS

Tools already utilized in DC that could be strengthened to include a more specific parks and recreation focus:

Open Space Requirements: Many jurisdictions require open space to be included on site, and sometimes design, accessibility, and usability requirements are also imposed. In DC, Green Area Ratio and Setback Requirements are tools that are used to enhance open space but do not always require that space to be publicly accessible. DC's open space requirements currently prioritize aesthetic and environmental benefits but could be reframed to provide recreational opportunities as well.

Community Benefits Agreements: These are project- or development-specific agreements between a developer and a community group that detail the project's contributions to the community in exchange for community support. These agreements are a requirement of the Planned Unit Development process in DC, but that process does not contain any specific guidance on how the agreements are structured or whether they address parks and open space. DPR can collaborate with communities to ensure the agreements target desired amenities.

Cooperative Management Agreements/Transfers of Jurisdiction: Cooperative Management Agreements (CMAs) are a new mechanism available for shared use and management of national parks by the District government. Recently DPR, NPS, and the DowntownDC BID signed a CMA for the capital investment and management of Franklin Park. These agreements provide a simpler mechanism allowing the DC government to invest in the capital needs and operation of federal parks. Transfers of Jurisdiction are the historic mechanisms that allow the District to spend local dollars and manage federal parkland. This process requires additional approval from the National Capital Planning Commission and DC Council and must be reported to Congress, so it is a somewhat more complex process.

Grants: Land and Water Conservation Funds (LWCF) are some of the most relevant grant funding available for park and recreational improvements. DPR receives LWCF funds annually that can be applied to any project investing in outdoor recreation with a 1:1 match in local funds. Other federal grants that have been used for park improvements recently include FEMA Hazard Mitigation grants, in particular the Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities grant, and Environmental Protection Agency Clean Water State Revolving Fund grants.

Partnerships/Sponsorships/Donations: DPR has the authority to accept donations and sponsorships and enter into partnership agreements. These mechanisms can be used to supplement unfunded needs in DPR's capital inventory and programming.

Tools that could be further studied to determine their practicality in DC:

Parks Trust Funds: Often referred to as a park's conservancy, these are funding organizations, often non-profits, that function as stewards of parks and work alongside community members, local government, and private partners to organize and fundraise for the improvement and maintenance of parks. While DC has several "Friends of" groups that support DC's parks in diverse ways, there is no conservancy with a broad focus encompassing all of DC's parks that could leverage philanthropic funding interest through an equitable lens.

Overlay Zones: Overlay zones are applied over the established zoning to protect existing assets and special features by enacting stricter standards. Park overlay zones are typically used for conservation purposes rather than increasing open space. They work to minimize the impact of adjacent developments on existing open space.

EQUITY FRAMEWORK METHODOLOGY

Mural at Rumsey Aquatic Center | DPR

How to use the Equity Framework

The Equity Framework was created as a decision-making tool to help guide DPR's future capital investments, operations, programming, and maintenance. It provides a means to compare all sites across DPR's inventory to assess a variety of factors when making decisions. While the tool was used to help inform the sites recommended for prioritized investment in this plan, it was intentionally created to be flexible, so that it can adapt to the type of decision being made and can be updated as new data becomes available. There are eight categories that make up the Equity Framework; four of these make up a community score component and four are site-specific. Users of the Framework can look at individual data components or view collective scores by site. An important point to note is that all data from the Equity Framework were calculated on the site or park level, not the facility level.*

How the Equity Framework was calculated

The Equity Framework incorporates several different data indicators and normalizes them on a 0–1 scale. For indexed scores that incorporate multiple indicators, the normalized scores from the various indicators are averaged and then those collective averages are normalized.

The Equity Framework includes both a community score and a site-based score. The community score includes the two indexes described earlier in the plan, the Equity Index and the Growth Index, as well as a community engagement score and a community need score. The site-based component of the framework includes use data, facility condition data, a separate site engagement score, and a site need score. The data included in each of these categories are described below.

* DPR's two District Parks, Oxon Run Park and Marvin Gaye Park, were split up into different sections to better capture community data and demographics around different portions of the park. Oxon Run Park was split into four sections and Marvin Gaye was split into three sections. These are depicted in the final Equity Framework table.

Community Score

Equity Index

The equity index is an aggregated score of nine demographic and community factors, calculated for a half-mile walkshed around all the existing sites in DPR's inventory. This analysis was performed through ArcGIS, using the "Summarize Within" tool. Data were then normalized on a 0–1 scale for each of the nine data sets, with the sites receiving the score prioritized as most in need, such as the highest rate of poverty or highest rate of violent crime, receiving a score closer to 1. The various sets of data integrated into the Equity Index are listed below. All demographic data were taken from the American Community Survey five-year estimates from 2015 to 2019, which were the most current data at the time of analysis that were broken down to the level of the Census tract. Levels of obesity were taken from the 2021 CDC PLACES database, which provides percentage estimates for various health statistics by Census tract.

- Percent of individuals living in poverty (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Percent of individuals identifying as Black, Indigenous, or People of Color (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Percent of individuals living with a disability (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Rate of violent crime per resident
- Percent of individuals under age 18 (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Percent of individuals aged 65 or older (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Percentage of individuals who are obese (2021 CDC PLACES)
- Percentage of individuals over 5 who speak English "less than very well" (2015–2019 ACS Census)
- Percentage of households with no vehicle access divided by the number of metro entrances within a half-mile walkshed plus 1 (i.e., if a site had no metro entrances, it would maintain the full percentage of no vehicle access. If it had 1, that percentage would be divided in half, etc.) (2015–2019 ACS Census).

Growth Index

The growth index is an aggregated score of four data points, taken from two data sources. The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments' (COG) Cooperative Population Forecast and the Office of Planning's Development Pipeline data. COG's Round 9.1a Population Forecast was completed in March 2020, and the Office of Planning's development pipeline data were provided to DPR in August 2021. The COG Forecast provides population estimates by transportation analysis zones, which this plan used to project growth out to 2040. Once again, analysis was done in ArcGIS to provide site- specific population forecast figures within the half-mile walkshed of each site using the "Summarize Within" tool. The OP Development Pipeline data were provided to DPR as a geospatial data set of polygons, showing the projected units of new development. This too was calculated by the half-mile walkshed of each site using ArcGIS.

The data points which make up the Growth Index include:

- Total population within walkshed (ACS Census 2015–2019)
- Forecasted increase in population from 2020-2040 (COG Forecast, 2020)
- Sum of total new units projected (OP Development Pipeline data, 2021)
- Sum of new affordable units projected (OP Development Pipeline data, 2021).

EQUITY FRAMEWORK METHODOLOGY

Community Engagement
Community engagement was determined by the overall number of additional parks and recreational improvements suggested within a half-mile walkshed of the site on the Ready2Play Citywide Survey (Question 19).

Community Need
Community need was determined by two factors. The first factor was the total number of amenities within the half-mile walkshed of the site being assessed. This included both DPR amenities and NPS amenities. The overall number included amenities both on the site in question and on any other site within the walkshed. The second factor was the total park acreage/1,000 residents within the site half-mile walkshed. This included both DPR and NPS acreage, divided by the population data for that walkshed.

Site Score
Site Use
Site use score is an index of four different data sets. The first is the number of permits on a site. The second is program attendance. The third is recreation center visitation and the fourth is aquatic center visitation. The normalized totals for each data set were averaged and then those aggregated totals were normalized to determine the final score. Permit data was the total number of permits on site from summer 2017 through March 2020. Program attendance data was data gathered through DPR's program registrations system, RecTrac, from summer 2017 through summer 2021. Visitation data was annual averages of recorded daily attendance for fiscal years 2017-2019 for all recreation and aquatic centers.

Facility Condition
Facility condition score took two factors into account. The Requirements Index score of any recent facility condition assessment on the site (since 2019) and the number of maintenance tickets received from 2018-2021. The Requirements Index is a tool of facility condition assessments that looks to the projected costs of all required repairs and regulatory modifications, divided by the total projected cost of facility replacement.

Site Engagement
Site engagement score used the weighted suggestions for improvements from the Ready2Play Citywide Survey. These responses were weighted by Ward to account for disproportional representation in survey responses so that all wards were proportionally represented based on their overall population. Wards used for this survey were 2012 wards.

Site Need
Site need was determined by geographic service gaps, using a half-mile walkshed, assessed across 11 amenities. These amenities included recreation centers, pools, spray parks, gardens, playgrounds, fields, dog parks, tennis courts, basketball courts, skateparks, and outdoor fitness equipment. Every site was assessed across each one of these service gaps to determine how many of the 11 service gaps that site fell in. The higher the number of service gaps, the higher the score.

Finally, historic investments were considered to ensure that sites that have not received significant investment recently were prioritized. DPR staff reviewed recent budget history dating back nearly a decade. Significant investments were determined by considering the budget size and scope of any previously funded work and comparing it with the scale of the site. (e.g., whether the budget was sufficient for a major renovation versus just light repairs). Any sites that have not received a significant investment since 2014 were categorized as having a lack of recent investment.

To compute overall score for each site, only those indicators where data were available for the site were averaged.

DEFINITIONS

Biophilic design: Biophilic design is designing for people as a biological organism, respecting the mind-body systems as indicators of health and well-being in the context of what is locally appropriate and responsive. Good biophilic design draws from influential perspectives – health conditions, socio-cultural norms and expectations, past experiences, frequency and duration of the user experience, the many speeds at which it may be encountered, and user perception and processing of the experience – to create spaces that are inspirational, restorative, healthy, as well as integrative with the functionality of the place and the (urban) ecosystem to which it is applied. Above all, biophilic design must nurture a love of place. (Terrapin)

Business Improvement District: A Business Improvement District (BID) is a self-taxing district established by property owners to enhance the economic vitality of a specific commercial area. The tax is a surcharge to the real property tax liability. (DSLBD)

Carbon Neutrality: Achieving a state in which the net amount of carbon dioxide or other carbon compounds emitted into the atmosphere is reduced to zero because it is balanced by actions to reduce or offset these emissions. (DOEE)

Climate adaptation: Taking action to prepare for and adjust to both the current and projected impacts of climate change on people. (EPA)

Green infrastructure: A range of measures that use plant or soil systems, permeable pavement or other permeable surfaces or substrates, stormwater harvest and reuse, or landscaping to store, infiltrate, or evapotranspirate stormwater and reduce flows to sewer systems or to surface waters. (EPA)

Esports: Esports are video games played in a highly organized competitive environment. These games can range from popular, team-oriented multiplayer online battle arenas (MOBAs), to single player first person shooters, to survival battle royales, to virtual reconstructions of physical sports. Esports have increased its popularity since the early 2000s. (Harvard International Review)

Extreme Heat: Extreme heat is a period of high heat and humidity with temperatures above 90 degrees for at least two to three days. In extreme heat your body works extra hard to maintain a normal temperature, which can lead to death. (Ready.gov)

Incubator: A space to support newly formed businesses often including affordable work space, shared services, trainings, marketing support, and sometimes access to financing. (DOEE)

Kitchen Incubator: Are shared kitchen facilities that can be rented for hourly or monthly rates. The concept is evolving to what is being known as culinary or food incubators that also provide additional services like business development training, and access to services such as legal aid, packaging, label printing, and distribution.

Level-of-service (LOS): Is the ratio of parkland and recreational amenities to population and the time citizens are willing to spend traveling to these amenities.

Native plants: Plant species that occurs naturally in a particular region, state, ecosystem, or habitat without human introduction. (The National Wildlife Federation)

Net-Positive buildings: Buildings that on average over the year produces more energy from renewable energy sources than it imports from external sources. (EC)

Net-Zero energy buildings: These buildings combine energy efficiency and renewable energy generation to consume only as much energy as can be produced onsite through renewable resources over a specified time period. (DOEE)

ParkScore® index: The Trust for Public Land ParkScore® index compares park systems of the 100 largest U.S. cities using five criteria: access, acreage, investment, amenities, and equity. In the District, the score accounts for parks controlled by DPR, the National Arboretum, and the National Park Service, as well as recreational space managed by schools as part of a local joint-use agreement and open space privately owned and managed for public use. (TPL)

Policy: A set of ideas or plan agreed or approved by a group of people, organization, or government, which guides the course of action and decisions in front on a particular situation. (Oxford Languages)

Right-of-way (ROW): The right of way (ROW) consists of the travel lanes, on-street parking, sidewalk area, and other public space situated between the property lines on either side of a street. (DDOT)

Walking distance: A distance convenient to reach on foot (typically one quarter mile to a half mile). (Webster Dictionary)

Wetland: Wetlands are areas where water covers the soil, or is present either at or near the surface of the soil all year or for varying periods of time during the year, including during the growing season. (EPA)

System	Description	Age of System	Public Use
RecTrac	DPR's online registration system is used to manage the following: -Customer enrollment and payment acceptance for fee-based classes; -Program attendance; -Reservations (permitting) and payment acceptance for DPR facilities for both resident and government use; and -Sales of DPR Fitness Center memberships and aquatic passes.	DPR began using RecTrac in FY 2017.	DPR began using RecTrac in FY 2017.
QuickBase Application - Internal Operations	DPR's internal request management system used to track the following: - Internal DPR requests for the Communications Division - Internal DPR requests for the Finance Division - Internal DPR requests for the Information Technology Division - Internal DPR requests for Agency Approvals - Internal DPR requests for the Warehouse Division - Internal DPR requests for the Transportation & Stage Craft Division - Internal DPR p-card purchases	DPR developed this application and has been using it since FY 2011.	This is an internal system used by DPR. Members of the public do not have access.

1 DEPARTMENT OF PARKS AND RECREATION

Mission: The mission of the Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) is to provide equitable access to Gold Standard recreational programs, services, and facilities - across all 8 Wards

Services: DPR provides a wide range of recreational activities to individuals and groups of all ages throughout the District of Columbia, including aquatics, athletics, fitness, urban camps, therapeutic recreation, environmental education and food and nutrition programs. To offer such diversified activities and services, DPR promotes recreation and leisure at over 851 acres of parkland, 80 recreation and community centers, 35 aquatic facilities, and several additional recreational facilities including playgrounds, athletic fields and play courts.

2 2024 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Accomplishment	Impact on Agency	Impact on Residents
DPR would like to highlight the creation of a new youth development certificate program. The agency worked collaboratively with George Washington University to create a professional certification which is designed to equip recreators with the skills necessary to serve youth. This is a nine-month program containing a robust and expansive curriculum for those interested in youth development. Participants will learn how to mentor and support youth in various educational and community settings, through specialized trainings, seminars, and practical real-world scenarios.	The agency will now benefit from professionals who have unique training in youth development. This will significantly change how we create a youth focused experience and program for our target audience. Our recreators can speak with authority and knowledge about the promising practices in youth development and lead the way.	Residents will have a new cohort of recreational professionals who have the skills and knowledge to engage with youth in a more purposeful and intentional way. The impact is ongoing and we anticipate seeing changes in programming and youth engagement.
